WINCHESTER GIRL AWARDED CARNegie SCHOLARSHIP

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace announced in New York on June 5 the award of a $500 scholarship to Miss Marjorie Rash of Wheaton College for study at the summer school of the Universidad Mayor de San Marcos, Lima, Peru.

Miss Rash, who is the daughter of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. R. M. Rash of 6 Woodside road has just completed her junior year at Wheaton where she has compiled a distinguished scholastic record and been outstanding in numerous campus activities.

The University of San Marcos is the oldest university in the western hemisphere, having been founded in 1531. It has organized the summer school for the benefit of American teachers and students in collaboration with the Catholic University of Peru, the Peruvian-American Cultural Institute of Lima and the Institute of International Education. Distinguished professors will read courses in international and intercultural relations and in Hispanic-American history, literature and art. Outstanding personalities in the official, professional, industrial and artistic groups of Peru will lecture on themes related to their specialties. Side trips to Peruvian artistic and historic shrines including one over the Andes to Cuzco, the archeological capital of South America, are scheduled.

Members of the school will sail from New York in the "Santa Barbara" of the Grace Line June 27 with ports of call at Kingston, Panama, Buenaventura, and Guayaquil returning in the "Santa Maria" arriving at New York Sept. 2.

BUSY DAY FOR FIREMEN

Wednesday proved a busy day for the Fire Department, the first of several calls coming in at 11:17, asking the men to admit residents of a house on Church street to their home. At 11:25 the Department was called to Revere's Pharmacy which had filled with smoke. A cause of fire was found to be the cause of the trouble.

At 1:18 p. m. a Chevrolet truck, owned and driven by Fred Rennehaue of 110 Dartmouth street, Manchester, N. H., was damaged by a slight fire while going north on Main street and while stopped for the traffic lights in the square. A canvas cover caught the fire when it came in contact with the exhaust of the truck and did some little damage to the truck and its contents before it was put out by the Fire Department, called by Officer John Dolan.

Tel. Box 56 came in at 3:22 for a slight fire at the home of Mr. John P. Bush, 46 Salisbury street and at 5:01 the Department was called to the home of Mrs. Edward H. Stone at 100 Cambridge street, where lightning tore a section of gutter from the roof. At 6:45 the Department went to the home of Mr. Philip W. Lynch, 4 Parkview terrace, where lightning caused trouble with electric light fixtures.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Laurits Larson of High street, Wolcott, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mabel Lorraine, to Mr. James Pierce of this town.

All to-nights employees eligible for membership in the Contributory Retirement Pension System are reminded that June 20 is the final date after which no one can join this system. Plans for the new developments in Meriden road and North Gateway in the Symmes Center district were approved by the Board of Survey.

MASONIC OILING JUNE 12

The annual golf outing and dinner of William Parkman Lodge of Masons is to be held this year on Wednesday, June 13, at the Hotel Lincoln, Boston. The golf course will be the Union Golf and Country Club at Stoneham. Similar outings in the past have proven exceptionally enjoyable, and Master W. Allan Wilde is making every effort to have this year's event the best ever.

There will be prizes for golf, golfers and golfers in between, with play opening at any time during the afternoon. The dinner will be served at 7 p. m. Members and their guests are requested to call W. Allan Wilde, Win. 1100, or Leslie J. Scott, Win. 1320, for reservations.

DAMAGE AT PALMER BEACH

Supt. Thomas McGowan of the Police Department reported to the Police yesterday morning that some time after closing time the night previous considerable damage had been done at the Palmer street beach. The rope which is attached to buoys to define the swimming area was pulled ashore and cut in several places, the life preservers thrown into the water and the life-saving boat submerged. Early in the week the life preservers erected near the water as a protection from the sea, was tipped over and smashed.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

John Michael Nestor of 20 Water street, Medford and Theresa Margaret Lynch of 33 Grove place, Medford.

Mario Lentine of 42 Swanton street and Mary Nancy Cannoli of 21 Lowell street, Reading.

APPOINTED TO BOARD OF PUBLIC WELFARE STAFF

The Board of Public Welfare has appointed Rudolph W. Jordan, Des Moines, Iowa, to a position in the Winchester welfare office at the town hall.

Mr. Jordan, who is 38 years old, has already commenced his duties here. He has had experience in social service and welfare work in various parts of the country and comes to Winchester highly recommended.

Holding the degree of Bachelor of Science in Social Service from Drake University, he has studied at George Williams College in Chicago and at the University of Louisville. Though a native of Worcester, he has been working for the Louisville and Jefferson County Children's Home and for two years with the Washington State Department of Public Welfare.

Mr. Jordan is a member of the American Association of Social Workers. He is married and has one child.

NEWELL-JOHNSON

Miss Mildred Sprague Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Win. C. Johnson of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., became the bride of Mr. Roger Duane Newell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Newell of Mann street on Saturday afternoon, June 1.

The wedding ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of the immediate families by the Rev. Paul H. Hadley of the Church of the Epiphany. A small reception for the close friends of the bride couple followed. Miss Caroline Mowser was Miss Johnson's only attendant. Mr. Gardner Walker served as best man. After a motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Newell will make their home in Acton.

DOWNES HEADS FINANCE COMMITTEE

John W. Downes of Dartmouth street was elected chairman of the Finance Committee at the organization meeting of the group held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Richardson of Kenyon road. Elected vice chairman and Fredrick S. Hatch of Jefferson road, secretary. Joseph W. Butler of Langdon street was again appointed permanent clerk.

Members of the committee include George K. Byford, John C. Burdette, Donald G. Crowell, William C. Cusack, Lake P. Glendon, Ralph W. Hath, Charles N. Ladd, Clarence G. McDevitt, Jr., Theodore W. Monroe, James O. Murray, John F. Sullivan and Joseph S. Wilson.

FINED $200

It cost a local businessman $200 yesterday court yesterday to offer a sum of money to one of Winchester's Police officers in an attempt to fix a friend who had gotten into trouble by violating the motor vehicle laws. The officer reported the matter and turned over the money to Police Chief William H. Rogers, who summoned the man into the District Court at Wolcott.

The District Court refused jurisdiction and the man was indicted for appearance before the Grand Jury. He was found guilty and fined.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Nine members were absent from the meeting of June 6, one of whom has already made up for his absence. District Governor Reed Beach's monthly letter for May, was distributed at the current meeting. A large portion of this letter is given over to a stenographic report of the Panel Discussion of Juvenile Delinquency as presented at the district assembly in Southham last April. It is to be hoped that all district Rotarians will carefully read this report, which gives the ideas of men who know whereof they speak.

Again in his letter Governor "Bill" presents a thought which we can best emphasize by quoting his words as follows:

"We have among our members men to whom Rotary is nothing but a pleasant association of congenial men once a week. We also have men who are not satisfied with Rotary as merely a luncheon club but who are willing to give time and effort to a worthy cause or to a worthy personal sacrifice. To such men I am sure in the hope that they will use their influence to inspire their community service or boys' work committees to put these suggestions into practice. One might comment upon the above by declaring that a successful luncheon club or a worthy association of congenial men is indeed an accomplishment of great social value and significance. As a matter of fact Rotary as of basic importance in the promotion of the various ideals to which it aspires. However we must also be alive to the need of a foundation for good works, while contentment is not the whole structure. We can continue to carry us across the river, but we must build a bridge to get us across it efficiently. Shall we not try to do this? Shall we not remain completely and joyfully in status quo? Hon. Charles P. Howard, Treasurer of Middlesex County and member of Rotary Club of Reading was guest speaker at the meeting of June 6. His topic was "Should the Third Term Be Abolished?"

Mr. Howard, a very able speaker, told us the story of the successive terms of American Presidents from George Washington to the present. Presidents in regard to renewed elections to the Chief Magistracy of the nation. His conclusion was that, in respect to the individual candidate or the circumstances surrounding the election, no President could serve more than two successive terms without creating that governmental dictatorship. The speaker commanded the closest attention from his listeners and received many congratulations at the close of his address.

Next week, June 13, we shall listen to an address by Mr. Raymond J. Keane, Commissioner of Conservation for the Commonwealth. Father Malone was the son of Joseph and Mary (Dempsey) Malone. He was born in 1878 in Brooklyn, N. Y., but went as a boy with his parents to Lowell and received his early education in the Lowell schools. He attended St. Mary's College in Emmitsburg, Md., and studied for the Roman Catholic priesthood at St. Mary's Seminary, where, being ordained by the late Cardinal Gibbons in June, 1909. He celebrated his first solemn mass July 2, 1909, in the Holyhood church, the Immaculate Conception, in Lowell.

At Father Malone's first assignment was as curate at St. Charles Church in Arlington, where he remained for six years. Later he served as curate at All Saints Church in Roxbury, Mass., and then at Holy Trinity Church in Newton, where he remained for three years.

In January, 1922, he was assigned to St. Catherine's Church in Lowell, where he remained for two years, during the pasting of the parish of 1920, many of whom were converts. He made his home in the parish, which is one of the most beautiful in the state, and is one of the most beautiful in the state, and is one of the most beautiful in the state, and is one of the most beautiful in the state.

At April 16, 1934, Father Malone came to Winchester to become pastor of St. Mary's Parish in this town. He was caused by the death of Rev. E. J. Merritt who had been pastor of that town. He succeeded Rev. James Lynch, who served as acting pastor of the parish following the death of Father Merritt.

Father Malone's first big triumph after coming to Winchester was the re-organization of the 6th ward of St. Mary's Parish in March of 1935. He had not been in his new post long when he was stricken with a serious illness, which left him permanently impaired. Only a high degree of courage and fortitude enabled him to attend to many of his parish duties and his excellent health made it necessary for him to leave much of parish routine to his staff of curates who were devoted to him.

Though he of necessity had to leave much of his work to others, he was at all times in closest touch with parish affairs, exercising personal supervision over his staff and displaying marked organizing and executive ability.

ELKS STAGED MOCK TRIAL

With a number of guests including many ladies, Winchester Lodge of Elks staged a highly successful Mock Trial, "One Fred Erg and a Punch" at the conclusion of their regular meeting in Lyceum Hall Tuesday evening.

For some time has the lodge had anything more amusing than the trial, the members of the cast acquiring themselves nimbly in their various roles without exception.

After lengthy and acrimonious arguments, pro and con, by the verbose lawyers, the Judge ordered the star witness shot and threw the case out of court. Special mention should be made of "Charlie" Meek's handling of the case, and of "Lizzie" Fish and of "Deadwood" Hamilton's performance as the hapless witness, Judge Ramsdell's breaking of the gravel was another highlight.

After the trial refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. The affair was staged by the lodge's committee, headed by Frank W. Harley, E. L. K., as chairman. Following is the complete cast: Judge Ramsdell, William E. Hamlett; Lawyer Fish, Charles W. Hamlett; Lawyer Lizzie, Frank W. Harley; Lawyer Deadwood, Frank W. Harley; Lawyer Charlie, William E. Queen of the Water Follies, lovely Adele Hamman, center, and her court, will lead the Water Follies to the beach at the Red Cross Fund. The Water Follies will climax an entire afternoon of swimming, diving, canoe and sailboat racing and other water activities featuring the finest talent available in Winchester and surrounding towns. The entire proceeds of the Carnival will be donated as a contribution to swell the Red Cross Fund.

The Winchester Boat Club which has always been a popular social and recreational center offers an ideal natural setting for the Water Follies. Its attractive club house is set down in a sheltered cove of the upper Mystic Lake with ample lawn and veranda space to accommodate a capacity crowd. The club docks and pier form a perfect natural pool in which the beautiful ballet numbers of the Water Follies will show off to best advantage. Special diving equipment is being provided for the stunt and comedy features of the diving stars.

Champion Aquatic Stars

Most of the headliners of the Water Follies have no introduction to water sports. During the past few years they have performed before more than 500,000 people including huge audiences at the Cleveland Arena and the Chicago Stadium. Joe Peterson of San Francisco, who is regarded as the outstanding trick diving champion of the world, contributes a breath-taking series of difficult and dangerous stunts.

Winchester Chapter of American Red Cross has not reached its quota in its drive to raise funds for the stricken women and children in war-torn Europe and is calling on 1000 citizens of Winchester to contribute $1 each to meet the local chapter's obligation in this drive.

Contributions may be sent or left at any Winchester Bank or call Mrs. George A. Dunn, chapter chairman, Win. 2191, who will be glad to call and receive your contribution. There will be no house to house solicitation in this drive. Winchester must so over the top!

Observed 70th Birthday

Mrs. Charity A. White, proprietor of White's Employment Agency, observed her 70th birthday on last Sunday with an open house at her home, 644 Main street. Her guests were present from outside Winchester, some from as far distant as New York and New Jersey. Gifts, flowers and many greetings came from the community in which she is held by her large circle of friends.

During the afternoon a musical program was presented by members of the choir of Zion Church in Boston, and by a stringed quartet. Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

GERMAN TROOPS LAST IN NETH- ERLANDS 22 YEARS AGO

Although the Netherlands succeeded in remaining neutral throughout the World War, its boundaries were nevertheless crossed by German troops, points out a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. Retreating from Belgium in November, 1918, the Germans found themselves cut off from Germany by the "panhandle" province of the Netherlands, Limburg, from five to 15 miles in width but about 25 miles long. To avoid a detour among this narrow strip, they asked and received permission to cross it, and made good their escape from pursuing Allied forces. As a result of this incident, Belgium later presented an unsuccessful claim to have Limburg panhandle transferred from Netherlands to Belgian sovereignty.

The last actual invasion of the Netherlands took place during the Napoleonic Wars. Both British and French troops swept into the country in 1795. The French routed the British under the Duke of York, and remained to make the region a part of the Napoleonic Empire until Dutch troops joined forces against Napoleon at Waterloo, in territory then considered still a part of the Netherlands.

COMMITTEAL SERVICE FOR MRS. EMMA F. RADLEY

Committeal services for Mrs. Emma (Punchard) Radley, wife of Alfred D. Radley of 80 Church street, were held Wednesday afternoon at Woodland Cemetery in Everett with Rev. William S. Packer, Episcopal clergyman, of this town, officiating.

Mrs. Radley died April 24 in Clearwater, Fla., where she and Mr. Radley were spending the winter. She was widely known in Winchester through an active interest in many projects of a community nature and had a host of friends.

The following tribute was received by the Star this week:
"In loving memory of a beautiful woman, Mrs. Alfred Radley, who has passed from our midst to a higher life.

We who knew her shall miss her loving greeting and presence as she rises to her home above."
Mary S. Hawley

MRS. AGNES MORELAND

Mrs. Agnes M. (Smith) Moreland, wife of William E. Moreland and a former resident of Winchester, died Tuesday, June 4, at her home, 56 Frost street, Cambridge. Mrs. Moreland made her home in Winchester for some years with her husband and son, Donald, on Cutting street, her husband having been at one time active in local politics.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the A. E. Long Memorial Chapel in North Cambridge. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery in this town.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE, FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The last meeting of the year of the Women's League of the First Baptist Church, will be held Thursday, June 13 at the home of Mrs. Francis R. Henderson on Ridge street.

BETTER HOMES GARDEN CLUB

The warm June day brought out many of the Better Homes Garden Club members, and their friends to enjoy the flower arrangements in the quaint colonial homes of Mrs. William Neagle and Mrs. Ambrose Reasoner. Exquisite arrangements were in all the rooms. Bouquets for small and large tables, buffet and mantles, all helped to give a hospitable air, even to the table set for tea with its old fashioned posies. Those exhibiting were Mrs. Norman Mitchell, Mrs. Harold Blanchard, Mrs. William Goodhue, Mrs. Torr Harmer, Mrs. Clarence Whorf, Mrs. John Maddocks, Mrs. George French, Mrs. Chester Wolfe, Mrs. John Burchard, Mrs. Waldo Lyon, Mrs. Howard Bennett, Mrs. M. H. Hintland, Mrs. George Marks, Mrs. E. W. Pratt, Mrs. Addison Pike, Mrs. Virgil Girardin, Mrs. Herbert West, Mrs. Stewart Cole, Mrs. John Wills, Mrs. Harold Twombly, Mrs. Morrell Gaines, Mrs. Willard Hudson. The grounds surrounding the homes with their spacious lawns and old trees formed a picturesque setting for the colorful scene. Old costumes greeted the eyes of the visitors. Delicious refreshments were served under Mrs. Elliott's able guidance, those assisting her were Mrs. Donald Davis, Mrs. Fred Chamberlain, Mrs. Marshall Phil, Mrs. Anna May Douds.

In another shady nook plants were for sale. Mrs. John Gilbert and her committee, Mrs. George French, Mrs. Clifford Williams, Mrs. Chester Wolfe seemed to have just the very plant you were looking for.

The heavy shower in the latter part of the afternoon failed to dampen the spirit of the people and a pleasant social visit was had inside where they all flocked during the downpour.

The hostess at the houses were Mrs. Roger Burzyne, Mrs. Torr Harmer, Mrs. John Burchard, Mrs. John Wills, Mrs. Harold Twombly, Mrs. Howard Bennett, Mrs. William Goodhue, Mrs. Herbert West and Mrs. Willard Hudson.

The club was more than pleased to welcome Mrs. Henry H. Richards, president of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts and Mrs. Eno, as their guests.

HAVERTY-JOYCE

Wearing a full skirted white tulle gown with a bolero jacket and tulle veil, and carrying a white prayer book, Miss Lillian V. Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Joyce of Richardson street, became the bride of Thomas L. Haverly of Woburn, at a marriage ceremony performed Sunday afternoon, June 2, at 4:30 o'clock in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Joseph E. McGoldrick.

Miss Joyce was given in marriage by her father and was attended by Miss Katherine Doherty of this town. Miss Doherty wore an old fashioned gown of pink silk organdie, trimmed with blue ribbons, and in place of a hat, a shoulder length pink tulle veil. She carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Paul Haverly of Woburn was his brother's best man, and another brother of the bridegroom, Edmund Haverly of Woburn, served as usher with George Joyce of Malden, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Upon their return from a wedding trip through the White Mountains, Mr. Haverly and his bride will make their home at 41 Trull street, Somerville.

The bride attended St. Mary's Grammar and High Schools. Mr. Haverly, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Haverly of Ellis street, Woburn, attended Woburn High School.

PROIA-CROPPER

Miss Mary J. Cropper, daughter of the late Mr. Carl Cropper of Upland road, and James Proia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loretto Proia of Quirk court, Woburn, were married Sunday afternoon, June 2, at the Immaculate Conception Church in an attractive setting of early summer flowers, ferns and palms. The pastor, Rev. Fr. James Fitzsimons, performed the ceremony at 3 o'clock, and a largely attended reception was held at Columbus House, Woburn.

Miss Cropper was given in marriage by her brother, Joseph Cropper, and attended by Miss Roxalena Walsh of Woburn. Miss Frances Ann Bruno of Winchester and Miss Ann Cropper of Revere, small nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Mr. Proia had for his best man, Charles DeAngelis of Newton. Music for the entrance of the bride party was played by Mrs. Gordon Brennan of Medford, organist.

The bride wore a gown of white marquisette and lace over satin, made with long puffed lace sleeves and a full skirt. Her veil of tulle was held in place with a rhinestone coronet and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies. Miss Walsh wore a white net and lace over satin of the same shade, her gown being similar in style to that of the bride. In place of a hat she wore a tulle veil to match her gown and her flowers were premier roses.

The two small flower girls were dressed alike in Kate Greenway frocks of mist rose net and lace over rose satin with matching sweetheart hats. They carried small old fashioned bouquets.

Mr. Proia and his bride are spending their honeymoon in New York City, visiting the World's Fair. Upon their return they will live in Newton.

CHADWICK-LARSON

The marriage of Miss Ida Carlene Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Larson of Main street, to Boyd Chadwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chadwick of Washington street, Woburn, took place Sunday afternoon, June 2, at 6 o'clock, in the Church of the Epiphany with Rev. William S. Packer officiating.

Miss Larson was attended by her aunt, Miss Evelyn Larson of this town, and Arthur Chadwick of Woburn was her brother's best man.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle and lace with a veil of tulle and orange blossoms, and carried shower bouquets of bride's roses, sweet peas and baby's breath. The honor maid wore a dress of powder blue tulle with matching hat and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Upon their return from a wedding journey Mr. Chadwick and his bride will make their home in East Woburn at 31 Montvale road.

Special: 72 single sheets of paper, 50 envelopes in Vellum or Parchment for 50¢ at Wilson's Stationer.

WED TO WINCHESTER MAN BEFORE RECEIVING COLLEGE DEGREE

Receiving her marriage certificate before receiving her sheepskin, the first member of the graduating class of Boston University's Sargent College of Physical Education, pretty Geraldine Jennings of Randolph, Vt., was married last Saturday in Randolph to Donald B. Badger of this town, at a ceremony attended by students and faculty of the Cambridge institution.

Miss Jennings, selected junior prom queen from Boston University in 1939, has been active in student activities at the college where she is majoring in physical education. A member of the B. U. Girls' Glee Club and chairman of college dances, Miss Jennings was recently presented with a blue ribbon for the best posture in the college and was named the best looking member of the graduating class.

A large number of Sargent students and faculty drove to Randolph from the Sargent camps in Peterboro, N. H., where they are studying. Dean Ernst Hermann and Miss Eleanor Kitchen, student adviser, were among the faculty to attend the wedding.

CALDWELL-FIRTH

In Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church Saturday afternoon, June 1, Miss Edith Victoria Firth of Cambridge, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Firth, became the bride of Wellington Lord Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Caldwell of Central street. Only members of the immediate families attended the simple ceremony which was performed at 4 o'clock by the pastor of the church, Rev. Howard J. Chubb, D. D.

Miss Firth, who was unattended, wore a turquoise blue chiffon gown with a large horsehair hat and carried a bouquet of Brazilia roses and lavender stock.

John E. Caldwell of Auburndale was her brother's best man and the ushers, Curtis H. Caldwell of Sunapee, N. H., and Richard K. Caldwell of this town, were also brothers of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the social hall of the church, the parents of the bridegroom assisting in receiving. Mrs. Caldwell, the bridegroom's mother, wore a grey chiffon dress with a navy blue hat and a corsage of orchids.

Upon their return from a motor honeymoon which will include stops at their Hillsborough, N. H., summer farm and at the Caldwell cottage and his bride will live in Winchester.

Mr. Caldwell, who is associated with the John P. Squire Company, is a graduate of Dartmouth, class of 1922, and is a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

FLAG MISSING FROM LEGION HOUSE

A large silk National Flag with gold eagle and gold fringe is missing from the Post Headquarters of the American Legion on Washington street, and a reward of $10 will be paid for its return, or information concerning its whereabouts.

The missing flag is the property of the Auxiliary to Post 97, A. L. P., and the Past Colors were loaned to the Boy Scouts at the time of their Jamboree in Melford.

The flags were returned by the Scouts, but in taking them apart to put them in the carrying cases the staffs were mixed, so that the staff which the Legionnaires found in the case with their Colors does not fit, belonging as it does to the missing Auxiliary flag. Whoever took the Auxiliary flag took along with it in the case the lower staff of the Legion flag.

It would seem that any one had little to do to take a National Flag from the Legion Post. Legionnaires say that they can identify the flag and are bending every effort toward its recovery.

SOCRATES SAYS—

SO, WHAT

President Roosevelt violently objected to 9 to 1 decisions of the Supreme Court while campaigning to pack it.

Therefore, he probably feels that the 5 to 4 7-8 decision of the Senate to keep the Hatch Amendment and the Treaty theory, shows that the country does not believe in it.

IS HE A "HOLD OUT"?

President Roosevelt has played eight seasons but way below the promised batting average.

His "hold-out" with the New Deal office-holders on signing up for a third term causes great amusement—for what more can they offer him. He has used up billions more cash each season than his team has taken in. Those that bet on his ability to lead the Depression and win the pennant have been left holding the bag in left field—50 cents on the dollar.

If he is "holding out" simply to keep Congress spending and in line that's one thing. If he is a "hold out," demanding a guaranty that he can play every position on the team, it will be the longest "hold out" on record.

"TWO PICTURES" IN EVERY POT

Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, the former New Deal Ambassador to Poland, is the chap who said that the German planes tried deliberately to bomb him personally when they raided Warsaw. (Probably every citizen in Warsaw felt the same way.)

Now he has sent a bill to Congress for $245,000.00, for farm-houses and pictures that he bought out of his own pocket to equip his "shack" in Warsaw.

These ill-housed, ill-clothed, and ill-fed New Dealers!

These underprivileged, poor, down-trodden New Dealers!

Of course Congress should reimburse him. Every man is entitled to "abundant life" and $245,000.00 for pictures is a necessity of life.

Take a few more out of the W. P. A. and pay him!

THE PEOPLE SAY

There is a school in Washington, conducted by the Women's Division of the Democratic National Committee. The women will be instructed in governmental tactics and stratagems. The instructions will be given by government officials, paid a salary by the taxes collected from all the people. Postmaster Farley, Secretary of War Woodring, Attorney General Cummings, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Secretary of Labor Perkins, Secretary of Interior Ickes, and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau are to instruct them according to a news dispatch. That is going some!

As a suggestion would it not be wise if the Women's Division of the National Republican Committee did the same thing?

It would be unthinkable should these teachers of the American people's payroll refuse a similar request from a body similarly organized?

The Republican women could then, first-hand, get the low down, the technique, and the stratagems that have left this country where it is today.

We paid for and we want to know. It is very valuable to know what those who do and to learn it from not so good know is an opportunity too good to pass up.

Democratic women can take a post-graduate course in 1941.

POLITICAL RELIGION OF TODAY

Look over much of the world. The philosophy seems to be that material life, "Abundant Life," is the creed. Little if any thought is given to the great spiritual teachings of the ages. The strong subjugate the weak. The majority trample all minorities. But the masses are confused and the minorities without strength or power are trampled by ruthless minorities in control of government.

Nothing is listening to teachings exactly opposed to the Christian beliefs—that nothing matters save "abundant life," material well-being. And that same can be used to the complete overthrow of any or all Christian virtues.

"So what" is the sophistication of the day. Let your charity, sympathy, pity, family life, morals, nothing matters—nothing counts here or hereafter. "Shout it out" or "Shout it out." Struggle, misery, depression, war, attack, apoplexy—the end justifies the means. Ordinary procedure, orderly government, tolerant behavior, all these are effed.

Now, though, in fact anything new, is right. What has been said is new. What is new, is right. Do what you want to, do it.

Any opposition to New Thought is labeled as a crime by New Society. The Golden Rule can be changed or enforced by law with or without legislation.

Thus have all civilizations ended and thus will our civilization end, if our spiritual life does not overcome the tidal wave of material or "abundant life" that is engulfing the whole world.

—Socrates

WINCHESTER AQUA - CARNIVAL

somersaults, twists, and lay-outs. He holds the amazing record of having performed 210 consecutive and distinctly different dives, a feat that required eight hours to accomplish.

Jimmy Rice of Hollywood holds a number of high diving championships but is best known as a stunt diver and water comedian. He has been featured in a number of hit movies including the Joe E. Brown-Martha Raye production, "Show a Tumbler." Rice has the distinction of being the only living diver to do a 250-meter dive in the air before completing his dive. He is performing a water-skiing stunt as part of his routine at the Carnival.

Charlie Diehl of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., is credited with being the greatest swimming and diving star of his weight in the world. Although he tips the scales at 255 pounds and has won a reputation as a collegiate and pro football player, he possesses enough class on the board and in the pool to hold many National and Olympic honors. He holds on his belt the Metropolitan diving championship, the National backstroke swimming crown, National Intercollegiate swimming, and diving titles and the world's heavyweight diving crown.

Bobby Smith of Miami who keeps the crowds howling with his comedy antics is generally rated on a par with a water comedian with Stubby Krueger of Billy Rose's Aquacade.

Adelle Hannibal and the Aquabelles. By no means the least attraction of the Water Folies show is justifying Adelle Hannibal, lovely Hungarian swimming star and beauty winner. Adelle not only copied every swimming title in her native country but was crowned the outstanding feminine personality in Hungary before coming to America to join the Folies as a prelude to Hollywood. Miss Hannibal is supported by a cast of 12 water ballerinas and girl swimmers, each a star performer in her own right.

The water ballet numbers are outstanding, not only for the beauty and perfection of the routines, but for the skill which the girls employ in executing the intricate maneuvers. The ballet includes such charming personalities as Betty Seward, Cleveland; Patricia Wendlaw, Cleveland; Mildred Verbiok, Cleveland; Edith Ingman, Los Angeles; Ann Gleissner, New York; Irma Gleissner, New York; Billy Rogers, New York; Adelle Hannibal, Hungary; Betty Kaplan, Rochester; Gretchen Galley, Niagara; Nancy Abern, New Haven; and Lydia Bobka, Boston.

Local Stars to Share Spotlight

The Winchester Club has in its midst the cream of the high school, college and swimming and boating club stars of greater Boston to take part in the Carnival. The elaborate program of sports arranged for the entire afternoon even includes a yacht race which will be staged by the Boat Club's trim fleet of 20 sailboats. Special arrangements are being made to start and finish the race in full view of the audience.

Radio Stars and Legion Band to Entertain

The Junior Mixed Band of the Cambridge Post American Legion will play throughout the afternoon and a number of top-ranking radio stars will be featured. The band is made up of sons and daughters of Legionnaires and holds the 1940 State Championship of the Winchester Legion Post will be represented by a Color Guard and will open and close the Carnival with an appropriate ceremony.

Through the cooperation of Town and Park Department officials, bleachers will be erected on the Club lawn flanking the swimming pool so that a capacity crowd can be comfortably seated while watching the activities.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Artie Johnson, Winchester boy left-handing for Hartford in the Eastern League, pitched his Red's Farm team to a five hit win over Birmingham, second place club in the league last night, Tuesday afternoon, getting seven batters on strikes.

Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany and Mrs. Hadley spent Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in Waterbury, Conn., attending the commencement exercises at St. Margaret's School and at the graduation of their daughter, Miss Martha Hadley, who graduated with the class of 1940. Miss Hadley has completed the four year course at Margaret's and will enter Bradford's Union College in the fall. She will spend the summer with her parents at their summer home in Devon.

Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who has been there several weeks at the New England Baptist Convention, will be in operation there on Monday. His condition was reported yesterday to be as good as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Watkins have returned from summer home at Farnwood, Gloucester.

Moderator Raymond S. Wilkins has announced the membership of the committee to be in charge of the annual picnic for town employees as June 14-15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31.

The Fire Department was called to a fire at the farm of an owner of a farm from Box 324 to put out an incipient fire on a barn.

The City Club next Wednesday evening at 8:15 on Leonard Field.

WINCHESTER GROWING

Priminary census figures as of April 1, 1940, which are subject to final revision, show Winchester's population as 14,599. April 1, 1930, the town's inhabitants numbered 12,475, and the State census figures of 1935 were 13,711.

REV. FR. ALOYSIUS S. MALONE

he set about improving the physical property of the parish, and during his pastorate the church was remodeled and refurnished and both the rectory and convent, renovated. Especially concerned with the welfare of the poor of the parish, he organized soon after his arrival in Winchester a branch of the St. Vincent de Paul Society to work in this important field, maintaining an active interest in its efforts. He also organized the Tabernacle Society of representative women of the parish to make altar and other linens for the service of the church. His courageous fight with ill health and pain won him the admiration of all with whom he came in contact, his parish brought him the respect of the town-people generally and he was genuinely beloved by those who in coming to know him well, experienced his kindness and other sterling qualities.

Father Malone left no immediate family, a brother having died several years ago while visiting him at the rectory in Winchester.

A mass for the children of the parish was celebrated Thursday morning at 8 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Joseph P. McGoldrick, brother curate. Rev. Fr. Joseph P. Maloney and Rev. Fr. Francis J. Sullivan serving respectively as deacon and sub-deacon. The children's song sung with Miss Florence Fisher Rattall as organist.

A solemn requiem high mass was sung at 10 o'clock, the church being taxed to its capacity, with many priests being in attendance.

Others of the mass included Rev. James H. Doyle, pastor of the Church of Lourdes Church, Jamaica Plain, former curate with Father Malone at St. Mary's, sub-deacon; Rev. Joseph P. Maloney of St. Mary's, master of ceremonies; Rev. Fr. Francis J. Sullivan of St. Mary's, tertiary; and Rev. Fr. John J. Connolly, pastor of the Catholic Guild of the Blind, Boston, and Rev. Fr. William Long of St. William's Church, Dorchester, acolytes. Rev. Fr. Dennis O'Brien, pastor of St. Raphael's Church, West Abington, delivered the eulogy. Music for the mass was sung by the Priests' Choir, under the direction of Rev. Fr. William Foley of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston. Rev. Fr. O'Gorman of St. Ambrose Church, Dorchester, was organist.

Scated in the sanctuary were Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing, Auxiliary Bishop of Boston, and his chaplains, Rev. Mer. Charles A. Finn, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Medford, and Rev. Mer. Robert L. Barry, director of Catholic Charitable Bureau of Boston.

Among the many priests at the mass were Rev. Charles Donahue, East Boston; Rev. Michael J. Madigan, Braintree; Rev. Francis J. Harkin, Neponset; Rev. Edmund D. Daly, Lawrence; Rev. John R. McLeod, Peabody; Rev. Charles J. Gallagher, Lowell; Rev. James F. Harty, Belmont; Rev. Patrick J. Duncan, Forest Hills; Rev. Thomas J. Golding, Medford; Rev. Maurice J. ## STAR OFFICE

TO ATTEND SNAVELEY COACHING SCHOOL

Two former Winchester gridiron stars, "Hennie" Knowlton and "Andy" Lentine, are among those who have registered for the football coaching school to be conducted by Cornell's famous football mentor, Carl Snavely, at St. Lawrence University June 24-25.

Knowlton, one of Winchester High's all time backfield stars has been coaching three sports for the past five years at Plymouth High School where he also holds the position of director of Physical Education. He is a former Springfield College football captain and before going to Plymouth coached for two years at New Hampton Preparatory School and assisted Coach Wendell Mansfield at Winchester. Lentine, graduated from Boston College a year ago, winning his letter for two years as a member of the Eagles' sturdy line, in which he played guard, tackle and center. He is one of Winchester High's great centers, and before transferring to B. C. played center on and captained the New Hampshire University freshman eleven. Last fall he voluntarily assisted Coach George Lauer with the linemen at Winchester High, and is gunning for a coaching berth with some college or high school this fall.

WINCHESTER IN OLD COLONY AGAIN

Winchester Tennis Association will once again be represented in the Old Colony Tennis League, and with several new young players available to assist or replace some of the veterans it is hoped that the locals will make a good showing.

RED CROSS

Free Instruction in Life Saving

Following out its policy of many years, the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross will offer to all Winchester residents free instruction in Junior and Senior Life Saving given at both Wedge Pond and the new Leonard Field beach swimming area. Swimming instruction for all ages will be included in this program. The instructor, Mr. Alfred R. Pennell, is planning to emphasize particularly the development of swimmers among the younger boys and girls. Instruction goes on from 10 a. m. to 12 noon. Mr. Pennell will be Wedge Pond on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and at Leonard Beach, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The perennial question concerning the danger of some infection from swimming in either of both of these areas is answered by the statement that in water tests by private physicians and the state board of health, our beaches have purer water than most of the swimming areas on the coast in the vicinity of Boston, all of which are okayed by this same board of health. There is no better place to learn to swim than in fresh water and there is no better place in Massachusetts than Leonard Beach for competitive swimming.

The Park Commission has taken great pains to make it rank among the state's best, with the new 25 and 100 meter course, perfect swimming conditions with water pumped from an artesian well, and a new bath house soon to be completed. Enrollment for the various courses to be given will be taken at the beaches for the children. If any adults are eager to improve their swimming on pass of requirements for life saving, please enroll by calling Mrs. Harry Goodwin, tel. 2624.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT AGAIN RAINED OUT

The Massachusetts Invitation Inter-scholastic Tennis Tournament was once again rained out last week-end, and Ray Hadden, Winchester High's efficient faculty manager of athletics, was slightly downcast. Saturday about noon when he was wending his way home from Palmer street where he had been since 6:30 a. m. warning all and sundry by phone of the cancellation.

The sun did come out in earnest during the forenoon and it would have been possible to play the matches after a fashion, but the courts were in very poor shape and unmarked, having been literally inundated Friday night. It would have been no judgment to run so important a tournament under the prevailing conditions.

Ray now opines that the tournament will be held come Saturday; that is, if rain doesn't come along too. If the matches aren't held this week-end, the eagerly can not be held at all as many schools will be getting into final examinations by the following week.

One thing more! If you are a friend of Ray, you naturally won't mention the tournament to him at least until play is actually over. It is a subject on which he holds strong views!

STONEHAM WON FROM WINCHESTER

A triple from the bat of "Art" Rich, burly backstop, led to three runs in the 9th and a 4-2 win for Stoneham High over Winchester in a Middlesex League baseball game on Leonard Field Tuesday afternoon. Previous to this setback the locals had been burning up the league and playing the best ball on the circuit. This defeat just about puts the quietus on any mathematical chance they may have had for another league championship. The summary:

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Troop 2 held their final meeting this week Thursday at the Girl Scout Cabin on the Brooks estate. A nature talk and games was followed by a supper cooked out of doors. Commissioner Heath awarded many badges earned during the winter. A nature class badges were presented to Joan Robinson and Margaret Schneider, 5 gold star and 10 silver stars were also given out. Barbara Vincent and Shirley Fellows received their five year stripes.

NORWAY'S SHORELINE WOULD HALF GIRLDE THE WORLD

When Norway recently became the scene of warfare, its deeply indented rocky coast proved to be a setting of peculiar difficulty for warlike operations.

The first problem was that of length, for although Norway's coast is roughly 1,500 miles long, it is so irregular because of fjords and islands that it has a shoreline of some 12,000 miles, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. If it could be unraveled from its rugged cliffs and inlets, Norway's shoreline would halfway girdle the world. It is 75 per cent as long as that of Africa. This ragged shoreline, frayed and torn by North Atlantic surf and Arctic gales, gives the seafaring Norse an average of 10 miles of waterfront for every inhabited square mile.

Island Inland Sea Corridor
This easy access to the sea, since the days when the first hardy Vikings sailed into the pages of medieval history, has given Norway a pre-eminent maritime activity. It is one of the leading shipping nations of the world, and Europe's outstanding fishing of electric rocky islands, almost shielded from the full fury of the North Atlantic by the picturesque Skjargard, an almost continuous string of islands, almost a wall of shore. Between this protective wall of "skerries" (rocky islets) and the shore, threads a narrow sea corridor along which the Norway's length. This the Skjargard, or "skerri-guard," presents the country with an inland passageway 1,500 miles long for belated shipping and commerce, and calm seas, lakes. The friendly Gulf Stream swings across Norway and usually keeps the sea corridor ice-free.

Because of this aid in adapting themselves to the sea, the people of Norway have built their principal cities along the coast. Oslo, the capital, is also the leading port. Stavanger, Bergen, and the northern towns of Narvik and Tromso owe their growth to seaborne commerce. One Fjord Reaches 100 Miles Inland Norway has no true inland cities of any size. Oslo, some 60 miles from the open sea, is nevertheless a seaport because of the deep sea arm reaching into Oslo Fjord.

The typical Norwegian fjord is a long, gorge-like mountain valley carved in the type of granite, salt water and sea depths inland. The fjord's gray walls are steep under water as well as above, and drop far below a river's depth. Near the mouth, the fjord generally becomes shallower. Norway's fjord giant, Sogne Fjord, on the western coast north of Bergen, bites 100 miles into the land, and halfway in, it still has a depth of nearly 4,000 feet.

Mountainside farms and highland pastures border the fjord, and on many of them there is salmon fishing. So deep is the fjord on which Flaam is situated that for ten weeks during the winter, the village receives no direct sunlight. Most of Norway's people live near the fjord-fringed perimeter.

BLITZKRIEG DETAILS FORECAST 22 YEAR AGO

The uncanny accuracy with which a German lieutenant prophesied 22 years ago the type of warfare waged by his country on the Western Front today, is shown in the following account which was reprinted in the National Geographic Magazine for January, 1918. The article quotes a Lieutenant Bothe of Berlin who addressed a meeting of the Deutscher Fliegerbund (German Aerial League) in the winter of 1914-1915. His foretold that on the cessation of the present hostilities all the nations would at once proceed to build up an impregnable series of modern defensive works, extending several miles behind their frontiers, and which it would be beyond the power of human beings to break through, except by the aerial arm.

Prophesied Mass Bombing by Airplanes—Frightfulness Behind Lines
"In future wars it would be necessary to invade the enemy's territories by means of tens of thousands of aeroplanes, which by dropping hundreds of tons of explosives would destroy all industrial works, transport routes, etc., and thus delay the advance of the troops and impede preparations for offense or defense.

"The war would be won within the first few days of the declaration of hostilities by the Power, or Powers, which were thus able to throw in the largest weight of aerial 'frightfulness,' and thereby paralyze the fighting efficiency of their opponents, before even a battle had been fought or a campaign opened.

"Where, it may be asked, are to be found the pilots to man these tens of thousands of aeroplanes? This would be one of the chief duties of the German Aerial League, an institution which was daily growing in importance and influence.

"By suitable courses of training at aerodromes and in the workshops, the youth of the country would be prepared for later service in the Flying Corps.

"The speaker urged every one interested in this subject to give the League all the support possible by joining a local branch and by making its objects more widely known.

DECEASED WOBURN OFFICER WELL KNOWN HERE

Sergeant John F. McCarthy, 47, of the Woburn Police Department, who died suddenly Sunday, June 2, on Waltham street, Lexington, while driving back to Woburn from Newton where he had been on a police assignment, was well known in this town.

Sergeant McCarthy had gone to Newton with Arthur A. Veno to recover a truck stolen Saturday night from Mr. Veno's garage in North Woburn. He was driving Mr. Veno's car back to Woburn, following the truck, driven by Mr. Veno, when the latter noticed that he was no longer being followed.

Looking back, he saw his machine at the side of the road, and returning, found Sergeant McCarthy unconscious behind the wheel. All attempts to revive him failed and Dr. James J. Walsh of Lexington, who attended him, pronounced death due to an embolism.

Sergeant McCarthy, a native of Woburn, had served for 20 years in the Woburn Police Department and was a popular officer. During the World War he served for 18 months in the aviation corps of the United States Army, was a member of George A. Campbell Post, 101, American Legion, Woburn Lodge of Elks and the Massachusetts Police Association. He leaves his wife, four sisters and two brothers, one of whom, Neil McCarthy, is a former resident of this town and widely known here as a trustee of Winchester Lodge of Elks.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the late residence, 35 Porter street, Woburn, with high mass of requiem in St. Charles Church. Burial was at Calvary Cemetery.

WINCHESTER MAN AMONG WINNERS

A Winchester auto salesman is among the 794 winners in a nationwide question and answer contest sponsored by Fisher Body and the five General Motors passenger car divisions, William S. McLean, director of advertising for the body-building organization disclosed today in announcing the results of the competition. He is Charles Pernokas, of Luckenbach Motor Sales, Inc., 632 Main street, who won a third zone award and will receive $15 in cash as a result of his efforts. He was entered in the Pontiac division of the contest.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S ACTIVITIES

The church service on Sunday morning, May 26, was in charge of the Young People's Group. The president, William Palsen, presided. Paul Butterworth, the treasurer, read the scripture. The prayer was offered by Pauline Lindsay, vice president. A children's story was offered by Carlotta Garrison, secretary. Miss Ruth Ormsby preached a fine sermon worthy of the praise awarded her by the audience. Miss Ormsby has completed another successful year as director of the youth group. The church as a whole including the young people extends its thanks and best wishes to this talented leader for a pleasant summer vacation and is looking forward to another happy year aided by her inspiring co-operation.

On Sunday evening the final youth service was held in the chapel. William Palsen conducted the meeting, Ralph Reynolds provided the music, and Rev. George A. Butters of the Arlington Methodist Church spoke on "Broken Lullabies." Before closing the officers for the ensuing year were installed.

President—Ralph Jury
Vice President—Myrtle Wombolt
Secretary—Hein Urlick
Treasurer—Philip Ewell
Several other important committees were elected. Social committee in charge of Shirley Palsen; program, Pauline Lindsay; membership, Richard Palsen; music, Betty Ann Elliott and Grace Ulrick; refreshment, Ann Downer; transportation, Ralph Reynolds.

The officers are a splendid group of young people who are welcoming the coming term with open hearts, who are anticipating the outings and various activities of the group, and above all are prepared for the new year, to go marching forward with Christ as their leader, with the aim—learning to love and live as followers of the Lord Jesus.

A Cape Cod regional planning meeting, sponsored by local planning groups in cooperation with the Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards, will be held Monday, June 24, with headquarters at East Bay Lodge, Osterville.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE HOME FOR AGED PEOPLE

May 13, 1940

We have examined the accounts of the Treasurer of The Home for Aged People in Winchester, for the Fiscal Year Ended April 30th, 1940, and submit herewith:

Exhibit A—Statement of Income, Expenditures and Net Worth for the Fiscal Year Ended April 30th, 1940. Our audit consisted of an examination of all securities and Bank Books, a verification of the bank statements, and a sufficient test-check of the Books of the Treasurer to satisfy us that they have been carefully and accurately kept. Based upon this examination, it is our opinion that Exhibit A, attached to this Report, fairly sets forth the Income and Expenditures of The Home for Aged People in Winchester, for the Fiscal Year Ended April 30th, 1940, and the financial condition of the corporation as at that date.

FISHER SCHOOL HAS NEW TYPE SUMMER SESSION

Parents will be glad to know of the unusual opportunity which their high school boys and girls will have this summer to go to school.

When a student fails in some subject in high school, he can make it up by passing an examination in September provided he does some systematic study during the summer. But no matter how earnest the student is, it is difficult for him to study consistently and alone. Many outside interests take his time. He needs the instruction and supervision of well-trained teachers to help him pursue his review intelligently and economically.

The Fisher School in Somerville, which has been training successfully young men and women for 36 years, will conduct this summer, five days a week from July 1 to August 16.

The faculty will be composed of experienced and well-known high school teachers from the surrounding cities, and make-up work will be offered in all subjects. The tuition rates are within the reach of all.

Every opportunity will be given to each student to do his best to succeed.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT NOTICE

Age of Admission

Any child who is five years of age on or before November 1 following the opening of school may be admitted to the kindergarten during the month of September. Any child who is 6 years of age on or before November 1 following the opening of schools in September may be admitted to the first grade during the month of September. Any child whose age is less than the required age and who is at least 4½ years of age on September 1 but whose mental age, as determined by means of a standard mental test, is of the required age and whose physical condition is satisfactory, may be admitted to the kindergarten if the Superintendent of Schools believes it to be for the best interest of the child. Under similar conditions, a child who is at least 5½ years of age may be admitted to the first grade.

Special: 72 single sheets of paper, 50 envelopes in Vellum or Parchment for 50c at Wilson the Stationer.

THIS IS BUICK'S BIGGEST YEAR

Imagine you—in our all-time best-seller!

YES sir, what you're looking at is the biggest-selling Buick of all time—which, in times like these, is certain proof that here's the best-built Buick of all time.

But why just look at it? Why not try it?

Why not go find out what this car's got that has made more people buy Buick this year than even back in the easy-money days of the twenties?

See what there is about that big, hundred-plus horsepower Dynaflex straight-eight that gets people—what it's like to have plenty-room all around and style that has the highway eyeing you.

You ought to know about the Buick Coil Springing ride—it's not only gentle and easy, but these soft steel coils eliminate a lot of fuss and care about lubrication.

And you ought to have the straight dope about prices—prices that make this Buick the yardstick of up-to-the-minute car values.

This much will give you an idea: Current prices† begin at $895 for the business coupe, delivered at Flint, Mich.

*Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories are to be added.

What the total amounts to is a surprisingly low figure—one your local Buick dealer will be tickled to show you.

†Prices subject to change without notice.

SOME THINGS YOU CAN'T GET ANYWHERE EXCEPT IN BUICK

SWIFT AND THRIFTY DYNAFLEX VALVE-IN-HEAD STRAIGHT-EIGHT ENGINES • POWER PLANTS ELECTRICALLY BALANCED AFTER ASSEMBLY • COIL SPRINGS ALL AROUND PLUS TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE • ORIGINAL SUPER-STREAMED STYLING • PRESSURE-SEALED COOLING SYSTEM • FORE-N-AFT DIRECTION SIGNAL WITH AUTOMATIC CUT-OFF • BUICK SKID, BUICK CRAFTSMANSHIP, BUICK VALUE

TO RECEIVE DEGREE AT SPRINGFIELD

George A. Abbott, son of Mrs. T. G. Abbott of 63 Washington street, is among the 39 people from Massachusetts to receive degrees at the 54th annual commencement at Springfield College next Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Abbott was graduated from Winchester High School in 1936. At Springfield he has been active in student affairs, and during his junior year he studied in England at the University of London. He is a candidate for the degree of bachelor of science in social science.

Mr. Abbott has accepted a position with the Miami, Fla., Y. M. C. A. as assistant boys' work secretary there.

INJURED IN FALL

Shortly after 11 o'clock Monday forenoon John Lang, 61, of 15 Park avenue, an employee of the Park Department, was painfully injured when he fell while crossing Washington street from Oak street to Hancock street.

The police were notified and Mr. Lang was taken to the Winchester Hospital in the police ambulance by Sgt. Thomas Cassidy. Patrolman Clarence Dunbar and Motorcycle Officer Irving Reardon.

Dr. Angelo Maetta attended him and it was at first thought he had been seriously injured. Later examinations and diagnosis disclosed nothing alarming and Mr. Lang was discharged from the hospital in the evening.

SENTENCED FOR WINCHESTER THEFT

William W. Miller of Boston, charged with the theft of a considerable amount of jewelry and silverware from the home of Town Counsel Addison Pike on Stratford road during last February, was found guilty of that, and of three additional counts of larceny pressed by the Arlington Police, in Superior Court at East Cambridge last week.

Miller, who was picked up in East Orange, N. J., as a suspicious person, and returned to Boston to stand trial by Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy of the local police and a member of the Arlington Department, was sentenced by Judge Fosdick to serve five to six years in State Prison on each count, the sentence to run concurrently.

Notepaper from 25c up at Wilson the Stationer.

TO RECEIVE DEGREES MONDAY

Nancy Virginia Snyder, daughter of Lieut. Commander and Mrs. Rony Snyder, of 59 Highland avenue, and Harriet Lee Pilkington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pilkington, of 5 Wilson street, will receive the degree of bachelor science at the Simmons College Commencement exercises in Symphony Hall on Monday.

Miss Snyder studied in the school of English at Simmons and has been a member of the Dramatic and English clubs. Miss Pilkington attended the school of home economics and is a member of the Home Economics and Dramatic clubs. Both graduated from Winchester High School in 1936.

WALKER—HARRIS

Announcement is made of the marriage on Saturday June 1, of Mrs. Isabel Fitch Harris of Newton Center to Aavid Longley Walker of this town. The ceremony was performed in Newton Center by Rev. Charles N. Arbuckle, pastor of the First Baptist Church there. Mr. and Mrs. Walker will make their home at 218 Parker street, Newton Center.

HELP THE SCOUTS

Spick and span from stem to stern, the S.S. Steel Pier, big South American ship, started its daily 100 mile round trips to Provincetown, Friday, June 7. The ship left Foster's Wharf at 10 a. m. and return at 8 p. m. after a two hour stop-over in the Cape Cod town.

Aboard the 1750 ton vessel were several groups whose numbers totaled nearly 1000, who have made the all day outing a part of their yearly entertainment program. Among those groups were the Merrimac, Walpole, and St. John High Schools, Hampton Academy, from New Hampshire and Burlett College.

The 26th year of the Cape Cod Steamship Co., which operates the S.S. Steel Pier, shows that the company's ships have carried more than 2,250,000 passengers on this popular one day vacation, according to Paul E. Thurlow president of the company.

Dancing to the smooth strains of the Steel Pier orchestra, dining in the large cool cafeteria, deck games, harbor lectures, the marine cocktail lounge, all go far to make the trip one of interest and entertainment.

Besides the regular daily trips to Provincetown, the Steel Pier sails on a Moonlight Cruise two nights each week. Wednesday and Friday nights the ship leaves the wharf at 9 p. m. for a three hour harbor cruise that has fast grown into a New England tradition. A large number of groups have already booked their dates for exclusive charters.

Instead of making the regular Provincetown run, Sunday, June 9, the Steel Pier will participate in Boston's Maritime Day celebration. The Steel Pier will embark passengers at Commonwealth Pier at 12:30 p. m. that Sunday for a five hour harbor cruise. The ship will sail in and around all the events of the day, so that the passengers will have an opportunity to see all that goes on.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

Requiescat in Pace

Sadness filled the hearts of our members on Monday when news of the death of Rev. Fr. Aloysius S. Malone of St. Mary's Church was received. Although ill health restricted his activities among us, his good will was felt by the Chapter at all times.

It is urged that all who are planning to attend the luncheon bridge at Filene's on Wednesday, June 12 obtain their reservations at the earliest possible date. Now that warm weather is with us, the air-conditioning of the dining room makes this an ideal place for comfort as well as pleasure.

Anniversary Arrangements
The committee to have charge of the arrangements for the anniversary celebration at the Charles River Country Club in October will consist of past presidents and vice presidents who have served during the Chapter's ten years activities. Those composing the committee are: Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, Mrs. Michael Hintlian, Mrs. Ralph Sexton, Mrs. James Gaffney and Mrs. James Carr.

VACATION PRIVILEGES AT THE WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Readers are already taking advantage of the vacation privileges for summer reading at the Winchester Public Library. This privilege extends from June to Labor Day and allows the taking of any number of books except those currently popular ones which are in constant demand. Winchester people who plan to be out of town all summer appreciate the opportunity of taking with them large numbers of books of their own choice which they may read leisurely.

A new service of mailing books to vacationists will be started this summer. To cover the charges of parcel post, a deposit of one dollar will be collected from each borrower, the balance of which will be returned at the end of the summer. If any person wishes to leave a specific list with the Library, books from their list will be sent whenever possible.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department had only two runs over the past week-end, the first coming at 5:47 Saturday afternoon when Box 31 was pulled for a fire in a Dodge sedan, owned by Albert Lynne of 32 Irving street and at the filling station near Washington and Swanton streets.

At 4:21 Sunday afternoon the department was called to put out a grass fire on Valley road.

Last week-end the Chief of Police was given some 60-odd unpaid dog licenses, on which to issue warnings of court action unless immediate payment was made. In approximately half the cases it was found by the Police the residents named had no dogs, and many never had any. There was evidently some error in assessing the town's large canine population this year. Perhaps those charged with the task just took it for granted that everyone in Winchester has a dog. It often seems that way.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB READY FOR GALA AQUA-CARNIVAL

Capacity Crowd Expected at Big Red Cross Benefit Show

If the weather man will only do his part by providing a pleasant day, Winchester should enjoy a spectacular tomorrow such as few have ever witnessed before.

Certainly the members of the Winchester Boat Club who are sponsoring the show, the Winchester Chapter of the Red Cross, Town and Park Department officials and the entire town have done their best to make it an outstanding success.

Bleachers have been erected on the Boat Club grounds to accommodate a capacity crowd, a new diving stand with a big-time, regulation diving board has been put up to furnish the best in equipment for the champion diving stars and the entire Winchester Boat Club has been turned inside out to supply facilities for the brilliant array of talent that will take part in the show.

In the accompanying cartoon, "Say," will known Boston newspaper artist, has attempted to depict a preview of the whirl of activity that will captivate the crowd starting at 4 p.m. His pictures can only hint at the excitement.

TEA GIVEN FOR MISS WILBUR

Miss Nancy Wilbur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wilbur of Swan road, one of the 120 young women who made their first appearance as debutantes of the 1940-41 season at the Empire Junior Dance at the Hotel Vendome on May 4, was honored at a tea given by her aunt, Mrs. Arthur C. Raymond of Bass Rocks and Deland, Fla., at the Algonquin Club in Boston, Monday afternoon.

Miss Wilbur wore a printed frock of blue, pale yellow and deep red, her bouquet of light blue larkspur, purple bell heave and yellow snapdragon complimenting the shades of her dress. Mrs. Raymond received with her debutante niece, wearing a long gown of oyster white lace with a hat of sapphire blue and an orchid corsage.

Heading the pourers was Mrs. Dudley Bradley, 2nd, the former Sally Wilbur, sister of the honoree. Other women who made their first appearance as debutantes of the 1940-41 season at the Empire Junior Dance at the Hotel Vendome on May 4, were: Mrs. Arthur C. Raymond of Bass Rocks and Deland, Fla., at the Algonquin Club in Boston, Monday afternoon.

Miss Elizabeth Benson, Miss Nancy Bernard, Miss Nancy Wyeth, Miss Mary Collinson, Miss Virginia Grant and Miss Cynthia Vose.

Besides Monday's party given by her aunt, Miss Wilbur will be honored today at a tea given by her sister, Mrs. Bradley.

RETIRED TEACHER HONORED AT TEA

Mrs. John Pennington, retiring president of the Wyman School Mothers' Association opened her home on Everett avenue Wednesday, June 3, for a tea honoring Miss Edith Woolbury, a member of the teaching staff at the Wyman School, who is retiring this year. Invited guests included Miss Woolbury's sister teachers at the Wyman and members of the incoming and outgoing board of the Mothers' Association.

Miss Woolbury was presented with flowers as a token of appreciation of her service felt by the mothers of a large number of young people whom she has started so successfully in their school careers. A delightful social hour was enjoyed and tea was served with Mr. Robert Kennedy and Mrs. Warren S. Smeaker pouring.

MISS LITTLE ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. William Morton Little announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha, to Mr. Edward Herbert Porter of Peabody, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ross Porter. Mr. Porter is a member of the class of 1938 of Harvard and studied at the University of London, England.

Following sequence of swimming and diving contests, canoe races, tilting matches, sailboat races and other novelties that will surround the professional water ballet, bathing beauty fashion show and stunt and comedy diving and swimming exhibition.

It isn't necessary to urge Winchester residents to attend this Winchester attraction for the benefit of the Winchester Red Cross. The problem will be to find room for the hundreds of out-of-towners who will want to share the fun of a show that promises to rival the hit of the New York World's Fair.

Although the entire proceeds of the ticket sale will be contributed to the Winchester Red Cross Fund—a cause which is both deserving and needy in this present emergency—admission charges have been kept very low. Club house and grandstand tickets are 75 cents. General admission to the club grounds is only 50 cents and children are to be admitted for half price.

Tickets are now being sold by volunteer Red Cross workers and will also be on sale at the Boat Club before the carnival starts tomorrow afternoon.

Red Cross Committee: Mrs. William Cusack and Mr. Walter S. Dickson, co-chairmen; Mrs. Nathaniel Nichols.

Workers: Mrs. Francis Bickel, Mrs. Percy Hughes, Mrs. Stanley Barnes.

Mrs. Preston Corey, big winner at Iris show

Mrs. Preston Corey of Cliff street dominated the American Iris Society's Exhibition in Horticultural Hall, Boston, last Friday and Saturday, winning 21 places in 24 entries, including 14 first places and seven second places. There were five classes or divisions in the exhibition.

In addition to her first and second places Mrs. Corey was awarded the American Iris Society's silver medal for the greatest number of first prizes in the show, and the silver medal of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society for the finest stalk in the entire show. For having the highest total point score Mrs. Corey was awarded the coveted silver cup of the New England division of the American Iris Society.

Mrs. Corey has been growing Iris for about eight years and has some 200 varieties with between 1500 and 1800 seedlings coming along. When in full bloom her gardens present a sight of rare beauty.

MISS CHIDLEY ENGAGED TO MR. J. N. MITCHELL

At a small tea held at "Grey Rocks" last Sunday afternoon, Dr. and Mrs. Chidley announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to Mr. Jonathan Nesbitt Mitchell, of Middle-town, Ohio.

Miss Chidley is a graduate of Winsor School and Vassar College, and Mr. Mitchell graduates from the Harvard School of Business Administration this week. He will be an assistant at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology next year, in the year. Many people have watched him closely believe he should do well in these track competitions.

WINCHESTER BOY WON HARVARD CLUB SCHOLARSHIP

Too late for announcement at Tuesday evening's graduation came the news that a member of this year's senior class at Winchester High School, William Paulson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Paulson of Myrtle terrace had won one of four full scholarships to Harvard University awarded by the Harvard Club.

Paulson has made a good scholastic record at Winchester. He has been one of the school's outstanding track performers, capturing both the cross country and track teams this year. Many people have watched him closely believe he should do well in these track competitions.

INTER-SCHOOL TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Winchester's Jimmy Coon survived the quarter-final round of the Massachusetts Invitation Inter-School Tennis Tournament, played Tuesday afternoon at Palmer street and yesterday afternoon played George Laffer of Belmont for the right to meet Phil Scanlon of Newton in the championship bracket.

Coon won his quarter-final match from Ash of Haverhill, 6-2, 6-2, while Laffer won a "deeper" victory over the favored Jack Lynch of Newton conqueror of Winchester's Lane McGovern in a well played fourth round match last Saturday.

John Penman was another Winchester player to reach the semi-finals, losing in that round to Dave Richardson of Roxbury Memorial, 2-6, 3-6. Ruderman in turn lost to Scanlon in the semi-final bracket, which the Newton boy, seeded number 1, achieved by defeating Herb Kaplan of Brookline in the quarters.

Winchester had four players in the fourth round, Coon, Penman, McGovern and Bob Kitchin. Coon and Penman winning respectively from D. Rodgers of Melrose and John-son of Lexington.

Besides the boys mentioned above Smith and Captain Blanchard represented Winchester in the tournament. Smith carrying on the tradition of the three sets before yielding in the second round matches and Captain Blanchard giving Belmont's Laffer plenty of trouble before dropping his third round match.

After being rained out for two successive week-ends the tournament, the 14th in the series, got underway last Saturday when preliminary rounds were played at Palmer street, Ginn Field and Loring avenue. Occasional rain fell through the day, but the players worked between showers and cleaned up the preliminary rounds. Despite the threatening weather there was a good sized gallery all day and some excellent tennis was offered.

CUB NOTES, PACK 1

Pack 1 held their field day Saturday, June 8 at the Sheep Fold in Middlesex Fells. Arranged by Mr. E. M. Atkinson and Mr. E. C. Miller and assisted by Cubmaster Cooper and Mr. R. W. Kummer the events of the day got away to a good start with a medicine ball race between the Cubs and their parents. Other events for the Cubs included a shoe scramble, 40 yard dash, potato race, baseball throw and a scavenger hunt. Anchovy and darts were available to all who cared to try them. A baseball game between two teams each composed half of Cubs and half of Dads provided much enjoyment and entertainment.

During lunch ice cream and tonic was served courtesy of the Dads. Winners of prizes were as follows: first prize, George McCarthy; David Eldridge; Richard Somesby; second prizes: Thomas Barrett, Robert Hutchins, Walter Gallagher; third prizes: Robert Atkinson, Marshall Jones, Roy O'Neill. Winner of the scavenger hunt, John Filler.

Many thanks goes to the mothers and dads for their co-operation and support.

A $5,000,000 long-range planning program for Brookline was submitted to the Board of Selectmen on May 29 by a special five-man committee appointed last December 4 to report on advanced programming and budgeting.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS HAD CLASS NIGHT

Members of the Winchester High School Class of 1940 held their class night exercises last Saturday evening in the school building, the program being divided into two parts, the first of which was held in the auditorium.

Class President Stephen Holmes introduced Wallace Howard, chairman of the class night committee, who acted as master of ceremonies, and in turn introduced the readers of the history, prophecy, class will and statistics.

Katherine Shinnick read the class history, and Barbara Haley, the prophecy, prepared by herself and Richard Yardley. Robert Kitchin read the class will in the making of which he had been assisted by Jane Cahane; and the class statistics were read by their compilers, William McEwen and Helen Sawyer.

Leaving the auditorium, the seniors gathered in the gymnasium, one half of which had been transformed into a midway where everyone indulged in games of "chance and skill." The other side was given over to dancing. Randall's entered.

The honor guest of the class was Mr. Dana Cotton, director of guidance, who is resigning from the faculty this year. Other guests were Principal and Mrs. Wade L. Grindle, Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. James J. Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Lybeck, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey C. Neiley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, Miss Florence A. Parker, senior class advisor on the faculty and Miss Verne Hall, also a faculty member.

Mr. John Stevens was faculty advisor to the class night committee, the members of which, besides the chairman, included Michael Gilberti, Paul Butterworth, Ruth O'Connell, David Schneider and Priscilla Tapley.

TWO NEW PICTURES PRESENTED TO LIBRARY

The Winchester Public Library has been presented by one of its Trustees, Mr. Ralph T. Hale, two pictures for its new Parents' Room. "An Invitation to Fairyland" by Margaret Tarrant, well known English water color painter, is indeed a fantasy with its two children surrounded by delicately tinted fairies, gnomes and flowers. The smaller of the children, a plump light-haired little fellow, was painted from a photograph of Mr. Hale's grandson, "Dickie" and is an extremely accurate likeness.

The other picture, "A Little Dutch Girl" by Terborch, is best described as " quaint," the tiny tot having a most unusual and appealing little face, paradoxically framed by the prim headpiece and collar of her native costume.

NORWEGIAN RELIEF

Many Winchester lovers of Norway will be interested in the following announcement in the June 2 bulletin of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in Boston:

"All who have sympathy with the Norwegian victims of Nazi aggression will welcome the news that the Norwegian Relief Committee is to use one of the Cathedral Rooms this summer for the making of garments to be sent to suffering men, women and children in Norway."

Used clothing which may be repaired or made over will be gratefully received and forwarded to the work rooms by Mrs. R. K. Miller, Win. 0763-J or Mrs. A. F. Woodside, Win. 0119.

MRS. EMILY M. HARNEY

Mrs. Emily M. Harney, widow of Charles H. Harney, who had been making her home in Winchester with her sister, Mrs. Charles F. Stacey, at 5 Chestnut street, died Friday, June 7, after a short illness, in her 80th year.

Mrs. Harney, a native of Newburyport, had been living in Winchester for the past 16 years, and was a member of the Church of the Epiphany. She lived for a time after her marriage in Lynn, and later before coming to Winchester was a resident of Bradford. Mrs. Stacey is her only immediate survivor.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Church of the Epiphany, 150 State street, with Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Interment was in Pine Grove Cemetery, Lynn.

MRS. AUGUSTUS W. COFFIN

Mrs. Caroline Emelyn (Emma) Coffin, wife of Mr. Augustus W. Coffin, of Fairmount street, died at a Miami hospital last Saturday. She had left Winchester with her husband last October and they had spent the winter at the Dreamland Trailer Park, Miami, where she was taken sick.

Mrs. Coffin was born in Winchester, the daughter of Lafayette and 15th Maria (Brown) Swan. She attended the Winchester schools and for a number of years was a well known member and teacher of the town. In addition to her husband she is survived by a sister and two brothers: Mrs. John A. McLean (Maybelle Swan) of this town, Rev. E. F. Swan of Detroit and Alfred M. Swan at the Veterans' Hospital in North Hampton.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock following cremation, the ashes will be interred in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

Bates List Finders, that popular telephone index, is on sale at Wilson the Stationer.

ALBERT ALONZO BROWNELL

Albert Alonzo Brownell, a well known resident of Winchester for 30 years, died Tuesday afternoon, June 11 at his home, 43 Vine street, after a short illness that followed several years of failing health.

Mr. Brownell was 74 and a native of Point Du Lac, Brunswick, Canada. He came as a youth to this country, and before coming to Winchester made his home in Melrose. As a young man he learned the carpenter's trade and followed it during his active years in this town. He was a member of the Winchester Grange and a former member of Waterfield Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Mr. Brownell was a widower, his wife, the former Isabel MacCharles having died May 27, 1938. He leaves two daughters, Miss Helen Brownell and Mrs. Grace Patten; and two sons, Howard A., exalted ruler of Winchester Lodge of Elks; and Frank G. Brownell, all of Winchester. There are also surviving two granddaughters, Miss Beatrice Patten of this town, Mrs. Wilbur Otis (Marjorie Brownell) of Stoneham, and a brother, Jeremiah Brownell of Waltham.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with Rev. Roger Makepeace of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church officiating. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

HENRY GAINES WINDER

Henry Gaines Winder, formerly for many years a resident of this town, died Friday, June 7, at "Resthaven," 120 Fisher avenue, Roxbury, after a long illness.

Mr. Winder was the son of Levin and Mathilda (Gaines) Winder. He was born at Upper Hill, Somerset County, Maryland, April 7, 1859 came to Massachusetts in 1881, and during the nearly 60 years he spent in the North, lived in Woburn, Lowell and Winchester. During much of the time he made his home in Winchester, being known as a good citizen and a pious Christian gentleman. He was a charter member of the Nazarene Church in Lowell, and later became affiliated with the Nazarene Pentecostal Church in Malden.

Mr. Winder leaves two sisters, Mrs. Lattie A. White of Woburn, Mrs. Martha Winston of Upper Hill, Md., and two brothers, Rev. Charles W. Winder of Clayton, Del., and Rev. Samuel J. Winder of Eldridge, Md.

His wife, Mrs. Lina Winder, died five years ago in this town.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Nazarene Church on Ferry street in Malden. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

EN KA ANNUAL MEETING
Street Fair Profits Exceeded Last Year

En Ka Society held its annual luncheon and business meeting on Tuesday of this week at the Winchester Country Club. Seventy-two members were seated at tables attractively decorated in yellow and blue. Unusual nut baskets in the shape of palettes, designed by Mrs. Carl H. Bolter, carried out the motif of the Street Fair.

At the conclusion of a very delicious luncheon Mrs. Charles H. Woolley, president of the Society called the meeting to order and welcomed the provisional members into active membership in the Society.

The chair was sorry to say that since the last meeting the Society had lost a beloved and valued friend in Mrs. Alfred O. Badley. She then asked Miss Barbara Fernald to read a resolution as written by Mrs. Frederick H. Albert, Mrs. Gardner D. Pond and Miss Barbara Fernald.

During the reading of this resolution the Society stood in loving tribute to Emma Fernald Badley, one of its charter members, one of its most enthusiastic workers and at all times a valued and esteemed member.

Miss Eleanor Dow, chairman of the civic committee was called upon and told of the weekly drives and entertainments at the Home, the knitting society doing for the Red Cross and of the volunteer driving for the Visiting Nurse Association.

The finance committee under the capable direction of Mrs. Harold B. Richmond gave an accounting of disbursements made from proceeds of the 1939 Street Fair. A gift of $87.10 to the Winchester Hospital, which included a delivery table and equipment for the maternity ward; $83.41 to the Home for the Aged for miscellaneous items; two new iron stoves, linoleum and new linen closet. A gift of $100 to the District Nursing Association; $215 to the Recreation Center; $275 to the New Hope Baptist Church for hymnals; and two gifts of $50 and $35 to the Red Cross.

Mrs. Edwin Zimmerman and Mrs. Vaughn Harmon, the hospital chairmen, told of the busy year just concluded at the hospital and announced that hostess work done by En Ka Society was discontinued as of May meeting. Mrs. Harmon said that En Ka has enjoyed this association for the past six years and as announced by the hospital committee to stand ready to take up this work when again needed.

The highlight of the meeting was the report of the 1940 Street Fair. Chairman, Mrs. Alan P. Lindblad, who once again thanked the members and all the townspeople who gave so generously of their time and money, was chairman of the fair. Upon to give a report of her work and at the conclusion Mrs. Lindblad rose and gave the financial report of the Fair. The following receipts were reported: $7,555.67 (gross receipts of the day); net profit, $3,214.33. In closing her speech Mrs. Lindblad read a very humorous article apropos of the Fair, entitled "The Forgotten Man" written by Mr. Price Wilson.

Mrs. Woolley then called upon Mrs. Clark W. Collins, chairman of the nominating committee who read the 1940-41 ballot as follows: Mrs. Charles H. Woolley, president; Mrs. Harold B. Meyer, vice president; Mrs. Vincent P. Clarke, secretary; Mrs. Harold F. Dover, treasurer; Mrs. Chandler W. Symmes, ways and means committee; Mrs. Harold B. Richmond, finance committee; Mrs. E. Ober Prude, civic committee; Mrs. Francis Millett, meetings committee; Mrs. Frank H. Bolter, chairman; Mrs. Carl H. Bolter, Mrs. Vaughn Harmon, Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, membership committee; Mrs. Charles C. Clark, entertainment committee; Mrs. Theodore Cunningham, publicity committee; Mrs. Alvin M. Lathfield, chairman; Mrs. Percy Bugbee, Mrs. E. George Pierce, Jr., nominating committee.

Mrs. Woolley concluded the meeting by thanking the members of the Society for their cordial cooperation in the past year and expressed the hope that all would return from their summer vacations full of zest and eager to take up the work of the coming year.

TO RETURN FOR MASTERS' DEGREE
Miss Jeanne Phelps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Phelps of Grassmere avenue will be graduated Wednesday from Wellesley. Miss Phelps, a graduate of Winchester High School in 1936, and of Edgewood Park, Braintree, Mass., is in the class of Miss Wellesley as a junior. She has been accepted for graduate work leading to her Master's degree in Physical Education at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. This summer Miss Phelps will be head instructor in riding at Camp Chatham Woods, South Chatham, N. H.

ORDAINED TO DIACONATE
Rev. Carlton N. Jones of Newton, former pastor of the First Congregational Church, was one of 12 ordained to the Episcopal diaconate by Bishop Sherrill at ceremonies held Wednesday at St. John's Episcopal Church on Brattle street in Cambridge.

MUSE-WILSON
The marriage of Miss Mary Josephine Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Bessie Wilson of Elmwood avenue, to Frank Joseph Muse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexis Muse of Vinson street, Dorchester took place Saturday morning, June 8, at St. Mary's Church, Rev. Henry T. Martin, S.J., professor of Theology at Weston College and a cousin of the bride, performed the marriage ceremony at 9 o'clock and also acted as the officiating priest. The bride wore a gown of white tulle which followed. The altar was attractively decorated with white gladiolus, carnations and snapdragons. Miss Corinne Rinehart, organist played during the seating of the guests and for the entrance of the bride and party.

Miss Wilson as given in marriage by her uncle, Patrick M. McHugh of West Medford. She was attended by her sister, Miss Constance Ann Wilson, return from a wedding journey, and Miss Therese Muse of Dorchester, small sister of the bridegroom, who was flower girl, and Master Donald McHugh of West Medford, nephew of the bride, who was ring bearer.

Alexis Muse, Jr., of Dorchester was his brother's best man and the ushers were William Muse of Dorchester, and another brother of the bridegroom; Rodney McGuigan of Medford, cousin of the bride; William Driscoll of Medford and Daniel Noonan of Winchester.

The bride wore a princess gown of deep ivory satin, having lace of mutton sleeves with Chantilly lace insert, a long basque and full skirt which extended into a rounded train. Her veil of tulle was arranged with a simple cap, trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies. Around her neck she wore a string of tosea pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

The honor maid wore a dress of hyacinth blue grosgrain taffeta with a coronet of roses and a short tulle veil of coral pink. Her flowers were Talsman roses. The flower girl wore a Kate Greenaway frock of Quaker blue grosgrain taffeta with a pink colonial flowered hat and carried a coronet bouquet tied with long streamers. The ring bearer wore a Lord Fauntleroy suit.

After the mass a reception was held at Association Hall. The bride and bridegroom being assisted in receiving by the bride's mother and the parents of the bridegroom. Upon their return from a wedding journey, through the Catskill Mountains to the World's Fair in New York, Niagara Falls and Canada, Mr. Muse and his bride will make their home in this town.

The bride attended St. Mary's School. Mr. Muse attended Brighton Mechanical Institute and is associated with the Brookline Cadillac Co.

Free Life Saving Courses Begin Monday, June 24

Saturday, June 22, the Park Board is planning a swimming meet for all Junior and Senior High School boys and girls. There will be preliminary races in the morning and the finals in the afternoon. Two days later the summer program sponsored by the Red Cross at the two swimming areas will get underway. This is only an eight weeks program, so don't delay in enrolling for what-ever water work you wish. The closing date of this program will be Aug. 12, Saturday.

During the summer, a swimming meet is planned for every week with a swimming carnival to be held at the end of the season. The daily schedule which may be subject to change depending upon enrollments, is as follows:
Monday, Wednesday, Friday—10 a. m., beginners swimming; 10:15 a. m., intermediate swimming; 10:30 a. m., junior life saving and adv. swim; 11:15 a. m., adult swim; 11:30 a. m., senior life saving and adv. swim.
Leonard Field Saturday—10 a. m., beginner swimming; 10:15 a. m., intermediate swimming; 10:30 a. m., junior life saving and adv. swim; 11:15 a. m., adult swim; 11:30 a. m., senior life saving and adv. swimming.

COUNTY TAX CONTINUES LOW

The Star is indebted to Mr. Charles P. Howard, County Treasurer, for the following statement of information concerning the expenditures of Middlesex County:

The County Tax for 1939 was at the lowest point in over 10 years, that is, since 1928. The tax for 1940 is the same as for 1939 and thus continues its excellent record.
During 1939 the County debt was decreased by $12 per cent, to $750,000. At the end of 1940 it will be $177,000.00. The debt of the Middlesex County Tuberculosis Hospital District is also being decreased rapidly. In 1939 the Temporary Loan of $1,500,000 was sold at the surprisingly low rate of one tenth of 1 per cent. This year it was sold for six one-hundredths of one cent, plus a premium of 77 received by the County, which made the actual rate 0.0538 per cent. This was the lowest rate, which any government unit has paid in recent years for money borrowed for 10 months. In the same week that the County borrowed this money, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts paid a higher rate, seven one-hundredths of 1 per cent, for money borrowed for the same period. This makes 77 annual per cent of the County's debt, the credit of the County of Middlesex is even better than that of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The June luncheon meeting of the board of directors of the Winchester District Nursing Association was held at the home of the chairman of the finance committee, Mrs. Henry K. Spencer at 1 Central green. Mrs. O'Leary, the nursing supervisor and the following board members attended the meeting: Miss Homer and Mesdames Bradlee, Clarke, Greiner, Jackson, Jope, Nichols, Parkhurst, Pearson, Pomeroy, Russell, Slocum, Willing and Spencer. The District Nurse, Miss Alice Peterson, joined the group for luncheon and Mr. William Mann of the U. S. Social Security Board was the after-luncheon speaker.

Mrs. Slocum of the nursing committee reported the purchase of a new car for the use of the nurses. The date of the September meeting was set for Friday, the 12th. Mrs. Harlow Russell of the nursing committee reported on the White Cross group medicine plan favored by Dr. Cabot. A democracy should give good, rather than merely adequate medical care, as the White Cross plan appears to be one solution of this problem. It also provides the physician, especially the young one just entering the field of medical practice, with a reasonably well assured financial support without the undesirable practice of "fee splitting." The details of cost and benefit will be commensurate, showing that the White Cross offers good medical care, including preventive medicine, at a nominal fee.

The vice president, Mrs. Richard Parkhurst, gave a summary of the Metropolitan Conference for Social Planning. The importance of co-ordination of public and private agencies for effective public planning was a point which seemed to be particularly applicable to Winchester. Mrs. Sophie Nichols of the John Hancock Life Insurance Co. pointed out at the panel discussion that the private agency is necessary for experimental work and to take care of each group as are not covered by the work of the public agencies. The details of cost and benefit will be commensurate, showing that the White Cross offers good medical care, including preventive medicine, at a nominal fee.

A summary of the recent Winchester Social Service Council meeting was given by Mrs. Spaulding, one of the W. D. N. A. delegates to the Council.
Mrs. O'Leary gave a very enthusiastic account of the biennial conference of the national organization of public health nurses which she attended in Philadelphia from May 12 to 18. The theme, "Nursing in a Democracy" was a particularly timely and inspiring one. It attracted about 1000 nurses and many lay members from every state and many of the territories of the United States.

Following luncheon on the terrace overlooking the beautiful Central green gardens, Mr. Mann spoke on the new amendment to the Social Security Act. This amendment is of particular interest as it includes employees of non-profit agencies; such as the Winchester Nursing Association. Under the old act provisions of the Social Security Act, Miss Homer, the president, suggested that all favoring the amendment be announced in Congress (Bill S. 3579) by Congress should make their interest known to Mr. Robert L. Doughton, chairman of the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives in Washington.

GOT BIG FISH IN RESERVOIR

Special Officer Jim Halwartz of the Water & Sewer Department finally got the big Gorman Carp that he and Capt. George Hovey had been looking for so long in the South Reservoir. Carp are said to eat the eggs of other fish and to be generally undesirable in the killing of fish. The fish was taken from the water he was found to measure 33 inches and weigh 164 pounds. Fishermen and near fishermen are urged to report any such fish where the consensus of opinion was that he "wasn't fit to eat."

Officer Halwartz said him basking in the sun on the shore of the Rumpus Cove of the South Reservoir. A shot from the Halwartz revolver struck the fish just at the base of the dorsal fin, killing it instantly. When taken from the water he was found to measure 33 inches and weigh 164 pounds. Fishermen and near fishermen are urged to report any such fish where the consensus of opinion was that he "wasn't fit to eat."

MILLIONAIRES WIN THREE

The Winchester Millionaires won two over the week-end, defeating the Wakefield Town Team at Wakefield 9 to 2 on Friday evening and the Allston Clives at Allston Sunday 5 to 2. Wednesday evening on Leonard Field the Millionaires edged the Melrose City Club 5 to 4 with Tom Donaghy on the mound.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Eleven members were absent from the meeting of June 1. What a record! Some of these good fellows care very much; some care less; some are simply careless. Make-up days—June 17, 18, 19.

Psst! The Lord High Executioner in charge of fines is napping a bit. Or, is he? Don't be careless now.

Further Purr has been laid down in Maine with his attention divided between business and recreation. You can tell us all about it at the next meeting. Lather.

Angelo Maletta is with us once again, looking as fit as ever. We trust that his next appearance at the hospital will be the last of his hospitalization. His remarks after that which kept him from our last three meetings.

Not a single one of Harry Winn's extraordinary powers of persuasion could induce his gas car to take him to the Rotary Club meeting last week. Our commiserations, Harry!

Jim McGrath assures us that in all probability it was warmer in Havana than hereabouts the first of the week and somewhat cooler today. Can it be possible that we made a mistake in foregoing attendance at the Convention of Rotary International?

Help! Several of us have not yet paid our dues and that big bill due July 1 will soon make its appearance. Now is the time to convert intention into action. Start shooting!

Incoming President George Carter is highly appreciative of the fact that so many of our members are actively at work in aiding the American Red Cross and George ought to know for he is one of the most ardent supporters of this organization. His remarks after luncheon were very illuminating and we are reminded that much more of this work remains to be done.

Our guest speaker at the current meeting was Raymond J. Kenney, Commissioner of Conservation for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Mr. Kenney informed us that the average citizen is poorly informed as to the aims of the State Department of Conservation and is to much inclined to underestimate the importance of the fundamentals of any effective program of conservation consist in maintaining and, if necessary, restoring fertility to the soil, and in providing for growth and conditions favorable to the existence of wild life. In support of the assertion that the average citizen is poorly informed as to the aims of the State Department of Conservation, when his attention is actually fixed on the necessity of solving our conservation problems, Mr. Kenney called notice to the amazing fact that there were less than a dozen forest fires during the period of great hazard subsequent to the ravages of the 1925 hurricane while, during a similar period this year when public attention was diverted to other matters, over 1400 such fires were reported.

We believe Mr. Kenney's hope that as a result of his address, our members will be encouraged to give more effective support to the work of his department, will be measurably fulfilled.

Do any members need to be reminded that our next meeting falls on Thursday, June 20?

Percentage of Attendance, June 6, 1940—82.05 per cent.

NOTICE FROM PUPILS OF THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

We, the graduating class wish to thank all the teachers of the Junior High School for the cooperation they have given us the past two years. We also wish to thank Mr. Liedman and Miss Hatch. We all agree that Junior High is the best school we have attended. Our special thanks go to Miss Montgomery, our Latin teacher, who was voted our favorite teacher.

RECI-TAL
The pupils of Miss Hattie E. Snow will hold their recital Thursday evening, June 20 at 8 o'clock in Fortnightly Hall. The public is cordially invited.

MRS. FRANCES MURCH STILSON

Mrs. Frances March Stilson, widow of Dr. William C. Stilson who practiced medicine in Winchester for several years commencing in 1905, died early Thursday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dana C. Pickering, 14 Homing street after a long period of failing health.
Mrs. Stilson, who was in her 92nd year, was born in Palmyra, Me., daughter of Stephen and Contenta (Webster) Murch. Her mother was a cousin of Daniel Webster. She spent much of her life in Bucksport, Me., coming to Winchester 35 years ago. She was a member of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church and of its Ladies' Aid Society.
Mrs. Stilson has been married for some years deceased. Her only survivor is her daughter, Mrs. Pickering. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon, June 15, at 2 o'clock at the Kelley & Hayes Chapel on Elmwood avenue. Rev. Roger E. Makepeace, pastor of the Crawford Memorial church, will officiate. It is requested that no flowers be sent. Interment will be in Forest Dale Cemetery, Malden.

MR. CRANDALL RECEIVED DIPLOMA

Mr. Rex T. Crandall of this town, affiliated with the Workingmen's Co-operative Bank in Boston was one of those receiving three year diplomas at the ninth graduation evening, Chapter 59, of the American Savings and Loan Institute at the Boston City Club last Friday. Mr. Christopher L. Hillman, also of this town, president of the Workingmen's Co-operative, was among a number of leading Co-operative Bank and Savings and Loan executives who attended the graduation.

MILLIONAIRES PLAY COLORED TEAM

The Winchester Millionaires will play the Boston colored Wolverines baseball team on Wednesday evening, June 19, at 6:15 on Leonard Field.
The Wolverines are rated a strong outfit, well able to extend the Millionaires to the limit. All who remember the colored teams who have played in Winchester in past seasons know that a good club of colored boys can really travel. Lee or Farrell will pitch for the locals with either Collins or Rusty Donaghy behind the bat.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON MUSICAL

A musical by the pupils of Mrs. Mabel E. Chason was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles P. Dow on Main street. Among the large group of pupils taking part were:
Julia Flanders, Doris Maxson, Deborah Symmes, Doris Zimmerman, Sally Jackson, Doris Brand, Nancy Jenney, Patricia Symmes, Nancy Johnson, Dorothy Brand, Edward Winslow, Jr., Nancy Moore, Nancy Weston, Virginia Symmes, Augusta Seale, Ellen Kennerly, Robert French, Joan Zimmerman, Martha Jackson, Ellen Jackson, and other children.

A CHANNEL TUNNEL AS DEFENSE FACTOR

The war in Europe has brought up an old question: to tunnel or not to tunnel the English Channel. England has been divided into two camps for more than half a century over the project. It is not a matter that could affect the present hostilities for such a tunnel would probably require five or six years to complete.

A tunnel beneath the Channel, connecting Calais and Dover, was suggested as far back as Napoleon's time, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Tunnel Began
In 1875, a Channel tunnel company was chartered in England and a mile of tunnel was eventually constructed on either side of the Channel. The British Parliament decided against the project in 1882, and work was summarily halted. The machine shops erected near the mouth of the tunnel remained reminders of the project for many years.

Sir James Knowles, architect, critic and publisher of an English periodical, was always pointed out by Gladstone as the man who killed the Channel tunnel. The proposal was revived in 1907 and again in 1913. After the first World War, Marshal Foch was quoted as having said that the war would not have taken place had the Channel tunnel existed in 1914. The British Committee of 1936, the Defense vetted the project in 1924 and the House of Commons voted it down in 1930.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Executive Board of the Mothers' Association was held Friday, June 7, at the home of Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff. The meeting was attended by more than 75 members and took the form of a garden party.

Reports of the year's activities of the various elementary schools, as well as the Junior High School, were given by the respective presidents. The recommendation adopted by the board at its last meeting relative to the organization of a parent group similar to that of the Junior High School Associates was presented at this time and unanimously accepted by the mothers. Under the capable supervision of Mrs. Lucius Smith, there is no question in the minds of the mothers but that this organization, like all the work Mrs. Smith is capable of undertaking, will flourish as the Junior High School Associates have this year.

The scholarship chairman, Mrs. Warren Schenck, Mother, then reported that eight scholarships are to be given to deserving students of the graduating class this year. This year to which the town of Winchester gave the Lowell Thoma-lecture held in the town hall last October.

Mrs. Melvin Enrie, chairman of the Nominating Committee, then presented the names of the new board members for next year, for which the secretary cast one ballot. Mrs. Stanley Barnes, President of the Executive Board, then presented co-responses to the retiring officers. The following mothers were chosen as the new officers for next year:

President, Mrs. Stanley Barnes, George Washington School.
First Vice President, Mrs. William Wymon, Wymon School.
Second Vice President, Mrs. James Sullivan, Lincoln School.
Secretary, Mrs. John Chittman, Middle School.
Treasurer, Mrs. Harris Nutter, Junior High School.
Social Chairman, Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff, Middle School.
Special Chairman, Mrs. John Blackham, Wymon School.
Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Marshall R. Phil Wymon School.
Member-at-large, Mrs. John Rutherford, Junior High School.
Chairman, Nominating Committee, Mrs. John West, Wymon School.

AMENDMENT TO TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

VOTED: That Article IV of the traffic regulations adopted by this Board on July 27, 1936 is hereby amended in paragraph (a) of Section 5 entitled "Parking time limited in designated places" by adding to the item entitled "WATERFIELD ROAD" the words "subject to the further restriction of paragraph (d)"; and by inserting after paragraph (c) of said Section the following: (d) No person shall park any vehicle for more than fifteen (15) minutes between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. in any of the following streets or parts of streets: Waterfield Road north side between the westerly side of Waterfield Bridge and Thompson Street.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of a vote taken at a regular meeting of the Board of Selectmen held on the 20th day of May 1940 and that the regulation embodied therein was approved by the Department of Public Works on May 28, 1940, permit No. 1458.

WILLIAM PARKMAN GOLF TOURNEY

The annual spring golf tournament of William Parkman Lodge of Masons were held Wednesday afternoon at the Unicorn Golf Club in Stoneham. While the weather held the attendance down somewhat, there were enough of the low hundreds boys on hand to ensure keen competition and some exceptional golf.

A handicap golf tournament was staged with top honors going to Thomas M. Richter, John H. McGill won; low gross, W. Allan Wilde, master of the lodge, had most 28; G. Dwight Cabot, the ex-hadminton champ, most 55; Alfred D. Elliott, most 65; and George W. Franklin, the "Squire of Fairmont Hill" most 85. Jerome Bailey Foster captured the booty prize.

Dinner was held after the golf, at which prizes were presented with appropriate remarks by Mr. Wilde. Especially apropos were the words which he presented Squire Franklin with the trophy, but in all fairness they hardly exceeded the neatness of the Squire's speech of acceptance, during which he stressed his belief that golf was only was not a Taunton River herding.

Messrs. Wilde and Leslie J. Scott were the committee in charge of arrangements for the tournament which he insisted will be repeated next year!

Special, 72 single sheets of paper, 10 envelopes in vellum or parchment, 30c at Wilson, the Stationer.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 7, 8, 9 a group of boys from Troop 1 took a trip to the White Mountains. This group under the leadership of Scoutmaster Stafford Rogers was composed of the following boys: Nils Anderson, William Breen, Dante DeTosco, Norman Doucette, Roger Latham, Christopher Morris, John Pietrantonio and Nicholas Zamanakos.

Leaving Winchester Friday afternoon the party proceeded to Waterville Valley, N. H., in time to make camp before dark at the Waterville Valley camp ground. Leaving camp early Saturday morning the group drove to the beginning of the trail to Mt. Tripyramid. This trail is many miles from the nearest town and passes through some very wild country. Although no wild life was seen, many deer tracks were observed. The climb up the North Slide of Tripyramid was marked by a light shower which made it necessary to wait for 15 minutes for the rocks to dry. The trip across the three peaks was uneventful, as was the descent down the South Slide. The boys returned to camp late in the afternoon after enjoying a swim in the frigid water of Avalanch Brook, tired and hungry but none the worse for the long 11 mile hike.

After breaking camp on Sunday, some of the boys felt ambitious enough to make the ascent of Mt. Lafayette and with their Scoutmaster made the trip with little difficulty. Although the summit was cloud-capped, some interesting views were obtained on the trail up the mountain, and also the trip down.

After cooking a meal at Lafayette Place, and a ride up to see the Old Man of the Mountains the party returned to Winchester. All reported in good health the following day. The boys enjoyed the trip greatly and all are ready to start on another trip at the first opportunity.

MILK CHART FOR JANUARY, FEBRUARY, MARCH, 1940

Published by the Winchester Board of Health

The bacteria count in this chart gives the number of bacteria found in one c. c. taken from the center of the sample after it had been well shaken. It should be remembered that another c. c. taken from the same sample might give a somewhat different count, but the difference would rarely, if ever, exceed 10 per cent.

BOYS DOING DAMAGE ABOUT TOWN

With the closing of school last week the Police were kept busy investigating damage done property about town by boys.

Last Friday forenoon Motorcycle Officer Irving Reardon rounded up five young boys who had spoiled a ceiling in a house under process of construction at the corner of Highland avenue and Everett road. Their parents were notified and agreed to make good the damage done.

The same afternoon Officer William Cassidy investigated damage done a home on Winslow road, from which the family were away. He found that one boy living nearby had destroyed a screen door and damaged some shrubbery. His parents were notified and agreed to make restitution. Another boy had broken a milk bottle in the drive and was compelled to clean up the broken glass. These boys with three others had also dislodged several stones from a stone wall adjacent to the property. The parents of all were notified to keep their sons away from there.

Early Saturday morning Motorcycle Officer Reardon found that ten catch-basin covers on High street and two on Ridge street, had been removed and dropped into the basins.

Another complaint over the weekend took the Police to Cabot street where a resident stated that boys had done considerable damage to her lawn and shrubbery and had refused to leave the premises when ordered to do so. They had unfortunately left before the arrival of the Police.

Tuesday morning Officer Cassidy, in response to a complaint, picked up a 12 year old boy who had broken two windows in a cottage on the Witherell estate. His parents were notified and agreed to settle for the cost of replacing them.

The Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross wishes to express its sincere thanks to the members of the Winchester Boat Club with special mention for Mr. George C. Wiswell and Mr. Donald Simmons for their untiring efforts in making the benefit Aqua-Carnival stage, Saturday, June 15th of the Boat Club grounds, a grand success.

The entire proceeds went to the local chapter's War Relief Fund, thus adding considerably to their quota.

All persons wishing to contribute may do so by leaving their contributions at any of the local banks.

THIS IS BUICK'S BIGGEST YEAR

Why not drive the car that made history?

YOU see something pretty special in that bright and shining Buick stepping along so dashing here.

It's the biggest-selling car we ever built—our all-time sales champion. Maybe it would be a smart move on your part to find out why.

So, look into the smoothness of the only engine electrically balanced after assembly. Sample firsthand the level comfort of coil springs all around. Try out the roomy comfort of the Buick SPECIAL, biggest car, bumper to bumper, you can buy at the price.

SOME THINGS YOU CAN'T GET ANYWHERE EXCEPT IN BUICK

SWIFT AND THRIFTY DYNAFLASH VALVE-IN-HEAD
STRAIGHT-EIGHT ENGINES • POWER PLANTS ELECTRICALLY BALANCED AFTER ASSEMBLY • COIL SPRINGS ALL AROUND PLUS TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE • ORIGINAL SUPER-STREAMED STYLING • PRESSURE-SEALED COOLING SYSTEM • FORE-A-FT DIRECTION SIGNAL WITH AUTOMATIC CUT-OFF • BUICK SKILL, BUICK CRAFTSMANSHIP, BUICK VALUE

You pay no more for this Buick, pound for pound, than for a good cook-stove—yet a whole flock of things that would be "extras" elsewhere are included in the price.

Specifically, prices begin at $895 for the business coupe, delivered at Flint.

Mich. ★Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories are extra. Hadn't you better see your Buick dealer—now?

Prices subject to change without notice.

BASEBALL PLAYER INJURED

Ralph Ferrullo of Kearsarge avenue, Woburn, catcher on the Nashua's baseball team of that city, was injured Tuesday evening when he was hit on the head with a batted ball while playing for the Nashua's against the Winchester Cubs on Leonard Field.

Ferrullo was catching and the batter hit a foul ball. At the tick of the bat on the catcher's head, the ball glancingly flicked off his mask, the ball going past the mask and hitting him on the side of the head.

Ferrullo was taken out from the force of the blow. Players worked upon him and a call was sent in for the Police ambulance, the new machine making its first business run to the field with Officer John Murray at the wheel.

Officer Murray, assisted by Officers John Boyle and William Callahan, who had been sent to the field in a cruiser, got Ferrullo to the Winchester Hospital where he was attended by Dr. Harry Benson.

A preliminary examination disclosed a concussion and possible fracture of the skull. Ferrullo being held at the hospital for observation and X-rays. The latter showed no fracture and he was expected to go home Wednesday night.

GRADUATED FROM DARTMOUTH

Iver Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Olson of Prince avenue was graduated with the degree of B. A. from Dartmouth College on Sunday. Majoring in advanced economics, Olson spent his senior year in the Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth and was graded among the first 20 per cent of those who took the Carnegie Foundation examinations for seniors in the advanced economics group. He played freshman football and was a member of the track squad at Hanover. July 1 he will join one of the promotional groups of college men in training for executive positions at Filene's.

SOCRATES SAYS

VOTE TEASE

Millions of New Deal borrowings and mortgages have been done simply as a "vote tease" act—to tempt the cash customers to "swing" the "Happy Days."

WENDELL WILLKIE

Wendell Willkie says: "I believe in certain principles and I believe that these principles must be accepted in Washington if life is to go on to yield for me and for others rewards comparable to those it has yielded in the past."

America became the greatest nation on earth with the highest standard of living in the entire history of the world by the principles that gained such great progress for our country and it cannot maintain this progress by any principles of unsound government. It must be defined by constitutional and democratic procedure, as laid down in our Bill of Rights by the spiritually minded founders of these United States of America.

Instead of "Abundant Life" we are well on the road to "Abundant Blights."

THE SOLID SOUTH

Massachusetts was the first state to use the Australian Ballot (1888). The secret ballot, known as "Australian" is not yet used in South Carolina. The ballots they use are party-prepared and distributed at both the primary and the election. It is very difficult to believe that many citizens are hardly enough to ask for or present a Republican ballot in South Carolina's elections.

In the rest of the country, in only the primaries, do citizens designate their party. At the election a citizen's choice should be his business. In some of the Southern states they still provide for the scratching of the names of all candidates other than the one the voter wishes to elect.

Another wrinkle is known as the "Who's Who" ballot. Certain information concerning the candidate is given to the voter—if not the candidate. When you have one party dictatorship there is only one party's candidates listed on the ballot.

American democracy is based on two party government.

BALANCE WHAT BUDGET?

Great Britain is spending at the rate of $26,000,000 a day, while at war.

The New Deal is spending at the rate of $25,000,000 a day, while at peace.

Great Britain is defending itself against invasion from without.

The New Deal claims to be defending itself against invasion from within.

Great Britain knows what it is fighting for—to end the war.

The New Deal does not know for what it is fighting. It is shooting in all directions—generally against imaginary foes and most always against time.

Until democracy is dead different opinions will exist.

"The plan" that "we needed" was never explained—by the general term, "abundant life" has been held forth. "Abundant life" is relative. No ambitious man is or should ever be satisfied. It is but a political catch phrase, like "full dinner pail."

"Abundant life" to some means no work and that is about where we shall end up if we do not stop "idealizing" and start "playing" an orderly game.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

The executive branch of the United States government is growing at such an alarming rate that if continued there may not be enough citizens left to run for office. 1933—572,091; 1934—673,098; 1935—719,440; 1936—824,250; 1937—941,644; 1938—851,225; 1939—920,810.

President Roosevelt must have been kidding or he did not know—when he criticized President Hoover for the mounting government expenditures—has added more names as many civil employees as we have in our regular army.

Talk about national defense! This expanded civil army of 432,210 is twice as large as the new regular army that we are considering.

The Tennessee Valley Authority has 12,144 civil employees; Farm Credit 3,176; Federal Communications 616; Federal Emergency of Public Works 10,305; Federal Housing Administration 4,005; Home Owners Loan 10,850; National Labor Relations Board 841; New York World's Fair 721; San Francisco Fair 591, etc., etc. These figures do not include legislative or judicial branches of the federal government, simply executive employees. Those that have real jobs in private industry are paying the bill.

WILLKIE RIDES BOOM

Wendell L. Willkie

WITH Willkie—for President Clubs mushrooming from coast to coast, it begins to look as though Wendell Willkie, by the next Republican candidate for president. Here are statistics about him:

Height: 6 feet, 2 inches.
Born: Elwood, Indiana, February 18, 1892.
Graduated Indiana University, 1913; Law School 1916.

Taught history at Coffeyville High School, Coffeyville, Kansas. Enlisted in the army the day the U. S. declared war; served in the 25th Field Artillery; in France for 10 months.

Married Edith Willk of Rushville, Indiana, January 11, 1918. Was offered a chance to run for Congress, but instead he moved to Akron, Ohio, in 1919; became a member of a law firm; fought Ku Klux Klan; twice Commander of Summit Post No. 19, American Legion.

Invited to New York as counsel of Commonwealth and Southern; became its president in 1933. Converted Commonwealth's loss to a profit; now has lowest cost and highest average use of electricity of any private utility operator.

Mr. Willkie is a dynamo. He writes fluently. Is a student of American history; a book-reviewer of distinction. His ambition has been to achieve independence. He talks back to Wall Street as well as to the New Deal. When the TVA invaded the Tennessee property he carried his case to the people, forced the New Deal to buy it at a fair price. In 1936 he was elected to the Senate from all parts of the country, he has refused to become a candidate for President of the United States. He has raised no funds and will not permit a campaign. But he has publicly stated that if the nomination were offered to him he would accept it.

MRS. ROGERS BUSY ON NATIONAL DEFENSE

Rep. Edith Rogers, of this Congressional District, has been in the thick of the efforts being made in Washington for adequate national defense.

On May 19, Mrs. Rogers introduced a resolution to keep Congress in continuous session in order to be in readiness to meet any emergency. She feels that such situations are most likely to arise overnight, and that it is the duty of Congress as representatives of the people of the country to stay on the job to make our national defenses strong.

Another resolution of Mrs. Rogers requests the President of the United States to transmit to the House of Representatives, for the information of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, the essential substance of all reports and communications received by him or by the Department of State, concerning conditions in war zones in foreign countries.

Mrs. Rogers says that the country faces a grave situation. The committee should not be kept in the dark by the Department of State, or obliged to depend on radio commentators and the press for information as what is going on in the war zones.

Always advocating complete national defense, she introduced the first educational bill for Congress yesterday. If it had been carried out, industry would be able to turn out at once necessary war equipment.

In line with the national defense program, Mrs. Rogers was successful in having an item placed in the War Department Appropriation Bill, calling for $500,000 for the purchase of additional land for Fort Devens at Ayer. Mrs. Rogers' ambition always has been to make Devens one of the foremost Army posts in the country, serving as it does as a protection for one of the greatest industrial areas in the country. During her Congressional service she has had the Fort accepted as a Regular Army post, has obtained funds for buildings and improvements until today the value is in the neighborhood of six million dollars. The present acreage of Fort Devens is 4,576 and the new funds just made available will add about 4,500 acres, thus nearly doubling its present size. The new area is needed for improvement and adequate supply of the new target range, additional training and maneuver area and to give the post commander control over a plain which now floods the neighborhood in recreation, so that it may be built up to save the territory for training. The capacity of the Fort at the present time is about 1,500 officers and men.

THE WORLD'S FAIR FOR $12.95

How would you like to make a special four-day trip to the New York World's Fair for $12.95? A boat trip to New York City has been scheduled for Sunday night, arriving in Boston Monday morning. Mr. J. F. McGrath, Jr. of Woburn, well known to the neighborhood of six million dollars, is endeavoring to book up enough Winchester people to make this a "Winchester" trip. Details may be secured from him or at the New York World's Fair Company. The date set for this attractive trip is July 19.

A distinctive service always attended by a capable staff to serve your best interests.

AMERICAN FRIENDS OF FRANCE

Beg Old Clothing For Refugees

Aid for the starving, homeless refugees in France is urged by the American Friends of France, that hard working organization headed by Miss Anne Morgan, who is now working among the destitute people in Paris, and by Mrs. E. K. Bay, of Cambridge, who is calling on all other friends of France to help her children through this darkest hour of history.

Blankets, sheets, towels, and clothing, which must be clean and needed are desperately needed. Winchester friends are urged to gather together such for delivery to headquarters where they will be sorted and packed and then by the friends of France in Cambridge for immediate shipment to France.

Please hurry. Help our beloved brothers across the sea from your store of cast-off, outgrown clothing and extra linens, towels and blankets. Money with which to purchase canned milk for the babies will be sent to "The American Friends of France," either through Mrs. Barbara or Mrs. Rand.

Families who are willing to care for French war orphans for the duration of the war, not permanent adoptions, are asked to contact Mrs. Barbara or Mrs. Rand. Many children could be accommodated in their homes.

WALES—JOYCE

The marriage of Miss Mary Agnes Joyce, daughter of Mr. Edward Joyce, of Fayetteville street, Cambridge, to Mr. William C. Wales, son of Mr. Edward Wales of Stoughton, took place Saturday afternoon, June 15, at 4 o'clock at St. Peter's Church in Cambridge with Rev. James M. O'Neill officiating. Carnations in soft shades and candleabra decorated the altar for the ceremony and the solemns were Peter Crowley.

Miss Joyce was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Carol O'Neill of Cambridge and another cousin of the bride, William O'Neill of Cambridge. Mr. Wales' best man, Usher, was William Castello of this town. John O'Neill of Cambridge, Robert Renouf of Amityville, N. Y., and Forest Wales of Massachusetts, N. Y.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, made with a long train, and a full length veil of tulle. Her flowers were white roses and lilies of the valley in a shower bouquet.

Mrs. O'Neill wore a long pink sheer gown with a short matching tulle veil and carried white lilies with blue larkspur.

After the ceremony a reception to more than 100 guests was held at the residence in Cambridge. On their return from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, Mr. Wales and his bride will make their home in Cambridge.

The bride, secretary to Attorney General Paul Dever was educated at Cambridge Latin School and Burdette College. She is a member of the Enionian Club of Cambridge. Mr. Wales was graduated from Stoughton High School and Burdette College, is a member of the Enionian Club and of the Triangle A. C. of Amityville, N. Y.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The next meeting of the Winchester Unit to Post 97, A. L., will be held on Monday night, June 21, at the Legion Home at 8 p. m. This will be the last meeting until September.

The 21st annual state convention of the Auxiliary was opened in the New Ocean House, Swampscott, June 13 through June 15. The speakers included Mrs. Corwith, National President, Governor Saltonstall, Gen. Quinn A. Leggett, the officers of affiliated organizations extended greetings to the state president, Mrs. Jennie C. Collins of Wareham. All the speakers stressed National Defense and agreed that the Auxiliary should be a power should be given to the Allies.

Governor Saltonstall was presented with a dozen service plates to which he very graciously responded. Mrs. John H. Gilbody, president of Winchester Auxiliary and Mrs. Agnes O'Brien were delegates from Winchester. On Saturday the new officers were installed. Mrs. Agnes Dudley of Chelsea, president; Mrs. Marietta Conway, Arlington, vice president; Mrs. Norma McKillop, Marlborough, vice president; Mrs. May Early, No. Reading, vice president; Miss Adelaide Fitzgerald, Hopkinton, secretary; Miss Mary Mahoney, Dorchester, treasurer.

Following the installation a reception was held to the new officers. All the officers received beautiful floral. A feature of the installation was a serenade by the Chelsea Junior Band to Mrs. Agnes Dudley, the incoming president. Mrs. Dudley's son being a member of the band. This proved to be one of the largest attendances in the history of the Auxiliary.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The Union Signal of May 18, has on its editorial page an article on "A Girl Doesn't Have To Drink."

say Coeds

"A girl doesn't have to drink to be popular," was the decision reached by University of Minnesota coeds, says the Minneapolis Star-Journal in reporting a meeting of the sophomore girls of that institution.

These independent young women decided that when a date turns out to be a guzzler, just ask someone else to take you home. That will do the trick. As for themselves, they also conclude that "excessive smoking and hard drinking are definite evils and not done by university women."

LEGION OFFICERS NOMINATED

The nominating committee has brought in the following nominations for officers of Winchester Post 97, American Legion, for the year 1940-1941:
Commander: Richard W. Mac Adams
Vice Commander: James H. Allen
Finance Officer: James T. McMillen
Historian: Vincent P. O'Brien
Publicity: Charles D. Roche
Adjutant: Charles D. Roche
Sergeant: Vincent P. O'Brien
Scribe: Vincent P. O'Brien
Treasurer: Vincent P. O'Brien
The committee also recommended the nomination of a new club member, Dr. Gordon Saunders of Arlington. "Skipper" (Hill) retirement from active sailing is due to pressure of business and other important matters. His great interest in the sport can be expected to continue unabated and it wouldn't be too surprising to see him return to the fold before long with a "Wee Too, II," too.

ANNOUNCING OPENING OF DAY CAMP

W. C. T. U. NOTES

In the Home Department Quarterly of the American Baptist Publication Society for April-June, 1940, is one lesson on "Testing Conduct by its Usefulness." Among other things it says, "A modern writer who possessed an insight into the power of habit, and who saw how certain habits, good or bad, could make or break a life, said: 'Cultivate only the habits that you are willing should master you.' Probably no one who drinks has any intention that drink shall become his master. He proposes to drink for whatever satisfaction he can get out of it, but intends to keep the habit under control. But that is precisely what, in many cases, the individual presently finds himself unable to do. The drink masters him. Therefore, one needs to judge the drink habit by its finished products: the drunken bum, the blubbery imbecile, or the man experiencing delirium tremens. If one does not want to be mastered by a habit which produces these results, the only safe and sensible course is to give that habit absolutely no chance to establish itself in one's life.

Does intoxicating drink make the hands of the surgeon more skillful? Does it give the car pilot a keener eye and a steadier nerve? Does it enable the motorist to drive with greater safety? Does it add to the athlete's speed, skill, or endurance? Does it produce a happier, more wholesome homelife? Does it serve any useful purpose at all? If not—am I certainly not—the demand is both of Christianity and of common sense is to leave drink alone. It is not a question of how temperate one is going to be, but of remembering that one is dealing with poison and determining that one will be a total abstainer."

BIG WINCHESTER DAY AT THE NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR

Special Four Day Trip for Only $12.95

A special concession has been offered by the steamship company, New York hotels, and officers of the World's Fair in New York to the people of Winchester to have two days at the World's Fair for the very low rate of $12.95.

The party will leave Boston on the Eastern Steamship boat on Friday, July 19, arriving in New York early Saturday morning. They will stay in New York all day Saturday, Sunday night and Sunday, leaving New York Sunday evening at 5:30, arriving in Boston early Monday morning.

The rate of $12.95 includes transportation on the boat from Boston to New York and return, $1.00 state-room each way, room and bath at the Governor Clinton Hotel in New York, admission to the New York World's Fair and tickets for five of the main attractions at the Fair.

All of this will be sold at the special rate of $12.95.

This will be on the basis of two persons in a room on the boat and in the hotel in New York. Single rooms can be had at a slightly higher rate and parties of three, four or more can all be kept together.

The above rate includes $1.00 state-room each way on the boat, and as there are not more than 40 of these state-rooms on the entire ship, those who apply first will be taken care of, and those who come later will have to pay the additional cost of slightly higher state-rooms.

Literature for the entire cruise and reservations can be made at the Winchester News Co. on Thompson street.

A deposit of $2.00 is required on each reservation made, the balance to be paid one week before sailing. The itinerary is as follows:

Friday, July 19—Leave Boston from India Wharf at 5:30 p. m. Daylight Time. Stateroom provided on basis of two in a room. Dining in the ballroom from 8 to 11 to the music of Al Donahue's Metropolitan Orchestra. Horse racing games in the lower lobby. Stateroom pictures through Cape Cod Canal at 8:30 p. m.

Saturday, July 20—Everyone up early for the wonderful view of the New York skyline as the ship passes under the Hell Gate. Triborough, Queensboro, Manhattan and Brooklyn bridges, past the Brooklyn Navy Yard, Statue of Liberty, Battery and the great ocean liners coming and going in New York Harbor. Arrive at Pier 19 North River at 8 a. m. Transfer to 7th Avenue Subway from Chambers street to Pennsylvania Station. Then across the street to the fine Governor Clinton Hotel one of New York's finest hotels where room and bath will be provided during the stay in New York World's Fair train leaves from subway right at Governor Clinton Hotel via Long Island R. R. Fare 10c, time 10 minutes.

Sunday, July 21—Opportunity to visit any of New York's famous churches in the morning. You can then go sightseeing around New York or return to the Fair. Steamer leaves Pier 19 North River for Boston at 5:30 p. m. Daylight Time. Another night of fun on the boat.

Monday, July 22—Arrive in Boston India Wharf at 8 a. m.

Two to the air includes admission to the Fair and

Choice of Frank Buck's Jungland or Gay New Orleans.

Choice of Winter Wonderland or Gardens on Parade.

Choice of Morris Gest's Midway Town or the Dancing Campus.

Choice of Marie Carmel, Auto Dodgem, Giant Ferris Wheel, Laif in the Dark, or Flying Scooters.

Choice of the Glass Blowers of the World, Town of Tomorrow, Nature's Mysticks, Livs Monsters, Snapper Ride or Whip Ride.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT NOTES

The following new teachers have been elected by the School Committee for the school year 1940-41:

Miss Muriel Blomquist, Miss Blomquist, a Winchester girl, to be assistant kindergarten teacher. A graduate of the Wheelock School.

Miss Beulah Jacks, to be High School Librarian. A graduate of the University of Illinois and a graduate of the School of Library Service, Columbia University. She has had several years' experience as a High School classroom teacher.

Miss Anna MacPartlin, a Winchester girl, to be one of the elementary school building assistants. A graduate of the State Teachers College at Lowell.

Miss Mara McDonald, a Winchester girl, to be one of the elementary school building assistants. A graduate of the State Teachers College at Lowell.

The Department for some time has been interested in helping our young people make a better adjustment to further education or to work conditions. It now has facts concerning the entire class of 189 students who graduated from the High School in June 1939. It is interesting to note that nearly 50 per cent of the class have continued their formal education. It is gratifying to know that 41 per cent of the class have found employment. Only 11 per cent of the class were found to be unemployed one year after graduation. More detailed data concerning the class will be found below.

Continuing their education:

Enrolled in college	No.
Enrolled in special institutions, such as State Teachers College, Nurses Training Schools and Vocational Schools	15
Enrolled in Junior College	7
Enrolled in College Preparatory Schools	4
Taking post graduate course in High School	16
Total	45

In Employment:

General Work	14
Office or Secretarial Work	16
At home, but occupied in part-time work	5
At C. C. C. Camp	2
Unemployed	11
At Home and Unemployed	20
Total	189

On the last school banking day of the school year $71,948.42 stood to the credit of our students as a result of the school banking system.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Troop 7 Holds Annual Trip

Boy Scout Troop 7 left their First Baptist Church headquarters last Friday afternoon for their annual week-end trip to Antrim, N. H.

The following Scouts, having met certain requirements, were eligible to make the trip: Frank Russo, Mike and Harry Boodakian, Guy DeFilippo, Tom Flaherty, Everett Stevens, Bob Carline, John Foley, Jack Powers, Harold Blomquist and Jimmy O'Connor. The following officers also made the trip: Scoutmaster John Casler, Assistant Scoutmaster Paul Butterworth, Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Proctor Jones, Committee Chairman, Ernest Butterworth, and Committee member, Ray Bohannon. Mr. Guy Boudry and Mr. Ted Newhall kindly offered their cars for transportation.

Arriving at the cottage about 6 o'clock Friday afternoon, the boys found a fine maple grove, near where they pitched their tents. The officers and committeemen, being sofiest, slept in the cottage. Soon after arrival, the fellows went for a nice cold dip in the old swimming hole. After eating their lunches which had been brought from home, everyone part in a lively ball game in a nearby pasture. Mr. Casler's team licked the stuffings out of Paul Butterworth's team 35 to 19. After the game, the whole gang went on a 3 mile hike to an old deserted farmhouse, to return to camp ready to jump into their bunkers.

After a swell breakfast Saturday morning, the Troop rode 35 miles to Mt. Monadnock. The lunches, which had been brought from camp were eaten at the Half-Way House and the climb was continued to the top. As it was a very clear day, the boys had a fine view of the surrounding country from the summit. Upon returning to camp, the fellows enjoyed baked beans, hot dogs and watermelon around a roaring camp fire. Saturday evening was spent at the movies in the neighboring town of Hillsboro.

Sunday morning the Scouts attended church services at the Presbyterian Church in Antrim and at the Catholic Church in Bennington. After a delicious dinner of meat, potatoes, gravy, peas, milk and ice cream the gang made up their packs and headed for home.

One of the outstanding features of the trip was the awarding of perfect attendance bars to the following boys: Frank Russo, Philip Exell, Everett Stevens, Jimmy O'Connor and Mike and Harry Boodakian. Proctor Jones received his five year bar and Mr. Casler received his three year bar. Troop 7 has enjoyed a very successful season. The records have revealed that 116 tests have been passed since January, that the average attendance has been 24.6 out of a possible 27 and that nine new scouts have been added to the ranks. The troop is looking forward to an even more successful season in the fall.

The Kerr "Changepoint" fountain pen, the pen you've liked so much at your local bank, can be purchased at Wilson, the Stationer's, Star Building $2.50, $3.00, $3.50.

TIPSY DRIVER FINED

Tuesday night shortly before 11 o'clock, Sgt. Charles J. Harrold and Patrolman Winthrop A. Palmer, patrolling in the Police cruiser, picked up two motorists, in a Willys-Knight sedan on Cambridge street near the entrance to the Woburn Country Club.

At Headquarters the driver gave his name as Leslie G. Sweet of Westford road Chelmsford against whom charges of drunkenness and driving without a license, the influence of liquor were lodged. His companion, charged with drunkenness, gave his name as John J. Cook of 51 West 5th street, Lowell.

Both men appeared in the District Court at Woburn Wednesday morning. Sweet being fined $35 on the operating charge and having the drunkenness charge alied. Cook's drunkenness charge was also filed.

WE'RE not telling you this 1940 Buick is the best we've ever built—you're telling us!

Never in our history have we built so many cars as we have this model year — not even in the flush days of the twenties.

Now why is that? Because of the big Dynalash engine that's the only power plant balanced after assembly? Because of the soft-and-easy BuCoil Spring ride? Because of size? Because of style?

Because of features — appointments — ruggedness — value? We'll let you decide. But there's food for thought in $895 prices* that begin as low as . . . . . for the business coupe, delivered at Flint, Mich. Transportation, based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories are extra—but that still adds up to delivered prices that are mighty low for the best Buick we ever built.

*Prices subject to change without notice.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The Park Department has announced that the 1940 playground season will open on Monday, July 1 and close on Labor Day, Sept. 2. A full program of events and activities has been listed and posted on each playground. As baseball occupies a major part of attention on our sports program we advise prospective team managers to submit their entries to the field instructors immediately. We plan to drop the age limit in the Senior League from 16 years to 14 and in the Junior League from 12 to 10. Our object in changing the age restriction is to provide competitive action for the greatest number.

If there are any boys living in the Ginn Field or West Side districts who would like to form baseball or tennis teams we would like to have them give their names to David Riley, instructor at the Ginn Field. In the event that enough boys are interested a program including individual instruction by the supervisor will be established.

The personnel of the playgrounds for the coming season is as follows: Mr. Tansey, supervisor; Mr. Moody, in charge of arts and crafts; Mrs. Dana, in charge of the girl activities. At Loring avenue Miss MacDonald and Anthony DeTeso will be the instructors and at Leonard Field, Miss Shinnick and Robert Farrell will occupy a similar position. David Riley is the instructor at Ginn Field.

STANLEY—HALLIGAN

At a ceremony performed by Rev. Fr. Francis J. Sullivan in St. Mary's Rectory Sunday afternoon, June 23, at 3:30 o'clock, Miss Elizabeth N. Halligan, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Halligan of Washington street became the bride of Louis P. Stanley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Stanley of Emory street, Beverly. A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother which was attractively decorated for the occasion with roses and peonies.

Miss Halligan was attended by her sister, Miss Helen F. Halligan of this town, Harry S. McGee of Beverly was Mr. Stanley's best man.

The bride wore a gown of pale blue marquisette and lace with a pale pink doll hat and matching veil. Her flowers were white roses and sweet peas. The honor maid wore a pale pink marquisette and lace dress with a pale blue doll hat and veil. Her bouquet was of pink tea roses and babies' breath.

Upon their return from a wedding journey through New Hampshire and Canada Mr. Stanley and his bride will make their home in Winchester at 24 Stevens street.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and is a member of St. Mary's Alumnae Association. Mr. Stanley graduated from Beverly High School and Northwestern University. He is associated with the engineering department of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co.

VISITORS FROM EVERETT, WASHINGTON

Mr. Harry W. Winde of Everett, Washington, was in Winchester last week with his daughter, Miss Harriet Winde, and son, Ross, visiting old friends.

Mr. Winde, son of the late Henry J. Winde who was a Selectman and prominent citizen of the town some years ago, came east to attend the graduation of his son, Ross, from the Harvard School of Business Administration. He and his daughter flew from Washington to Detroit, where they got a new automobile, in which they drove the remainder of the way to Boston.

Mr. Winde left Winchester as a young man for Alaska. After a time there he went to Everett, Washington, where he is in the automobile business. The family while in Winchester made their home for years in Cutter Village and later on Mt. Pleasant street.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS SERVICE CLUB

The Past Noble Grand's Service Club of Victoria Rebekah Lodge, 178, met on Tuesday evening at the home of Sister Jessie Ripley on Wedgwood Pond road. It was the last meeting for the summer and was to have been a weenie roast on the lawn overlooking Wedgwood Pond, but on account of the rain it was held indoors.

The members arrived at 7 p. m. and were greeted by the hostess, we then were seated around the open fireplace in the living room where the hostess assisted by Sisters Kathleen Cameron and Mabel Larson treated members, made coffee and toasted marshmallows and served us all a very fine picnic supper.

The regular business meeting was held with our president, Sister Lillian Donaghy presiding, and the business cleared for the summer.

A committee was appointed to take the club on a mystery ride on Wednesday, July 10 for dinner and a general good time. The meeting closed at 10 p. m. and many of the members went to I. O. O. F. hall to rehearse for the entertainment to follow the strawberry festival to be held by Waterfield Lodge, Wednesday evening, June 26.

The next meeting of the Service Club will be held at the home of Sister Margaret Parker in Woburn on Tuesday, Sept. 24.

SOCRATES SAYS:

THE DEMOCRATS CAN WIN

Food will settle the final peace terms, for you can't eat land, tanks, nor airplanes.

If the United States plows under the "wildfire men" instead of its crops, the Democrats will win this war.

SOME LOGIC

James Curley, of Boston, to support James Farley, of New York, for President, because President Roosevelt, as reported in the press, "has failed to solve the unemployment problem," also because James Farley is "the man responsible more than any other for election of Roosevelt in '32 and '36."

Sound logic would seem to be that, as Jim Farley is more to blame than "any other" for the election of Roosevelt—who has failed to solve the unemployment problem—therefore is one of the "last of the Dealers" that should be supported.

"ON HAND AND ON ORDER"

While we agree 100 per cent with the sentiments found in President Roosevelt's "Stab in the Back" speech, we must seriously hope that he has no more of the same "on hand and on order."

Mussolini had already made his speech thus the rattling of our sails was too late to prevent his entering the war. Seeding a Dictator simply increases his prestige in his own mind and in the minds of his subjects.

Congress under our Constitution, declares war and in these dangerous times it would be wiser to leave it to Congress to express the will of the people.

TAXES

It would be rather mirth-provoking to listen in to New Dealers, Independents, and a few Republican hostages, when they realize the new taxes they must pay in 1940, let alone the rest of their lives.

The almost confiscatory taxation will be attributed to national defense by the New Deal High Command and no one will be fooled this time.

If the "spend for abundant life, willful men" had only given up the Quail, Florida Ship, Camel, and a Thousand Mile Forests, Tap Dancing, etc., etc., a little earlier not only could we have been the best prepared nation in the world, but taxes could have been lowered instead of raised. Relief also could have been even greater.

The New Deal is entirely to blame for our present lack of national defense and ridiculous taxation.

SOCIAL SECURITY

The administration of Social Security is an enormous task. It was known that it would be yet, the plan to keep the records straight was overlooked. It could not have been planned that way.

"Unidentified persons," known as John Doe items, number 7,357,538. The unknown persons represent 472-270,463 in taxes collected on their wages.

The question of how such employees are to receive pensions because of inaccurate records is a matter some other administration will have to work out.

Too bad this New Deal did not grow like Topsy instead of Turkey? While Social Security is a misleading title, there is an Act bearing this name. It does provide certain people with a small income if they live long enough, but hardly social security and certainly not "abundant life."

It is a law employees and employers in certain groups are compelled to deposit weekly amounts. There is no way to avoid this law, such as it is, even if anyone wanted to do so. The propaganda of New Dealers to keep control of this government at the expense of the people is nowhere better illustrated than in the latest developments concerning Social Security for the aged.

For instance, recently posters were sent to industrial establishments for all bulletin boards—building up the advantages of the Social Security Act.

Remember this is a mandatory, existing law. There can be but two conclusions. Either the New Deal is not proud of this act and is trying to keep it sold, or this wasteful spending of money is done for purely political purposes.

Some day, about Nov. 5, 1940, the people will toss out of office men who use such tactics. It's a shame.

Socrates

FOURTH SUCCESSFUL WITHOUT FIREWORKS

To the Editor of the Star:

In connection with the publicity being given to prohibiting the sale of fireworks in this state and especially this year having the children give their fireworks money to a fund for Refugee Children, I would like to call the attention of your readers to the program followed for several years by the Town of Mapewood, N. J., in which state the sale of fireworks to individuals is prohibited.

Their program is headed by a citizens committee and the American Legion. A house to house canvass is made some weeks before the holiday for funds to defray expenses. A ticket or pass for the program is given to each donor for each member of his family, those that are unable to contribute are not denied admittance.

The day is started with the sunrise cannon salute. The morning is taken up with an athletic meet for the school children run off under the guidance of the American Legion. In the afternoon a circus provides the entertainment for all. The early evening is taken up with a band concert followed by fireworks to finish on a grand day. I have been privileged with my family to attend two such celebrations in Mapewood and can readily say that it was a big occasion for the children who did not seem to miss their fireworks.

WATERFIELD LODGE, I. O. O. F.

After the commutation of the second degree by the staff of Waterfield Lodge on last Monday night, Brother Arthur Cameron was the surprised recipient of a Past District presentation speech was made by Marshall Harold Dover and after Deputy Cameron recovered from his surprise he thanked the members of his staff for the gift. Brother Cameron, after serving as Deputy to lodges in Chelsea and Waltham for three years, has been appointed for another term as Deputy, this time having lodges in Chelsea and Melrose. The members of his staff, all Past Grand of Waterfield Lodge, are Brothers Dover, Kinley, Morse, Ralph, Hershey, Mitchell, Ward, Isaman, Hatch and Hakanson.

On Wednesday evening about 60 friends and members of the Odd Fellows attended a strawberry festival which was sponsored by Waterfield Lodge under the efficient direction of Chairman Lee Ralph. Entertainment was given by a group of Rehoboth Lodge members in an amusing skit showing how stories can grow by repetition. Brother Ralph Hatch showed several reels of interesting movies of New England and its shrubs and flowers. After the entertainment came delicious and plentiful strawberry shortcake. Mrs. Margaret Shannon held the lucky ticket and took home a large basket of canned foods.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

FATHER'S special day, a comparatively new American day honoring the head of the house, falls this week, and Father might feel more than pleased if you planned a Sunday dinner around his special likes when you shop for the family dinner on that day. You will not find it difficult to find vegetables, fruits and meats this week that he, as well as the entire family, will like. Peaches from the South and California, apples, plums, raspberries, blackberries, blackberries, Florida corn, extra-quality tomatoes, asparagus and new fava beans are there for your selection. The meat departments, too, are filled with foods that the entire family will enjoy. There are plenty of turkeys, broiling and frying chickens, ducklings, roasts of beef and pork, for your selection. Pork is lower than other meats; beef and veal prices remain at their last week's level; and smoked hams are an excellent buy.

Here are three menus suggested by Miss Cora Anthony of A&P kitchen for Father's Day at different price levels:

Low Cost Dinner
Baked Pork Chops with Browned Potatoes and Gravy
Scalloped Cabbage and Celery
Broad Butter Lemon Cream Pie
Tea Coffee Milk

Moderate Cost Dinner
Cream of Corn Soup
Chicken Pie
with Baking Powder Biscuits
String Beans and Potatoes
Pineapple and Orange Fruit Cup
Tea Sponge Cake Milk

Very Special Dinner
Clear Soup
Fried Chicken Southern Style
New Potatoes with Dressing
Avocado and Tomato Salad
Cauliflower with Hollandaise Sauce
Fresh Peach Pie

WINCHESTER MAN DROWNED Body of Battistano Torri Recovered from River

The body of Battistano Torri, 68, of 78 Irving street, was recovered shortly before 3:30 last Friday afternoon from the Abenora River near the culvert at the Shore road by William E. McDonald, Jr., Frank Dattilo and Patrick McDonough, employees of the Park Department.

Mr. Torri was reported to the Police as missing late Thursday night. He made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Garchi who told the authorities his only known relative was a sister in Charlestown, to whom he might have gone for a brief visit.

The Police were unable to locate the sister, and a further investigation disclosed the fact that Mr. Torri had last been seen by Antonio Maggio of 88 Swanton street at the bridge over the river near the Shore road. Mr. Torri had not been in the best of health and with the idea that he might have fallen into the water, the Police and members of the Park Department commenced to drag the river. The body was finally recovered in about 8 feet of water near the railroad culvert by the Park Department men.

It was taken down the river in a boat to the Police Station where it was viewed by Medical Examiner John Wilcox of Woburn, who ordered it removed to the undertaking rooms of Lane Brothers on Main street.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Francis J. Sullivan. Interment was in St. Michael's Cemetery, Forest Hills. Mr. Torri was a native of Italy, but had made his home in Winchester for 26 years, being employed until his retirement as a leather worker at the Beggs & Cobb tannery on Swanton street. He was well and favorably known, having a pleasing personality that won him many friends. His only known survivor is a sister, Mrs. Mary Ragusa of Charlestown.

HOWARD BERTRAM PECKER

Howard Bertram Pecker, of 25 Washington street, Stoughton, a former resident of Winchester, died Friday, June 28, at the Winchester Hospital.

Mr. Pecker was the son of Walter E. and Sarah Emily (Goodwin) Pecker. He was born July 14, 1866, in Arcadia, N. S. and before moving to Stoneham, lived for some time in Winchester at 21 Park avenue. He was formerly associated as a salesman with the J. F. Winn Company of this town, his pleasant manner and unflinching good nature winning him many friends.

Mr. Pecker's mother died April 11, 1939. He leaves his father and two brothers, Elsworth and Marshall Pecker.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Kiley & Hawes Chapel, Rev. L. G. Van Leeuwen of the First Baptist Church in Stoneham officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

CHARLES F. HOWARD
Middlesex County Treasurer

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR ELECTION AS COUNTY TREASURER

As the present Treasurer of Middlesex County, I am a candidate for the Republican nomination and for election to the office which I now hold. As Treasurer, I have borrowed at the lowest rate ever obtained by the County. The bonds of the County are rated AAA by all the financial agencies, the highest possible rating. The County tax for 1939 and for 1940 is at the lowest point in well over a decade, that is, since 1928.

My record of public service covers 23 years, as Selectman, Town Counsel, Moderator, member of the Massachusetts Constitutional Convention, State Senator, State Budget Commissioner, and for 12 years Chairman of the State Commission on Administration and Finance, the most responsible appointive financial position in the government of the Commonwealth. While I was Chairman, the Commission on Administration and Finance handled without criticism expenditures totaling well over a billion dollars.

It is important to the people of Middlesex County that their chief financial officer have stability and continuity. Consequently, it has been their unvarying custom to keep their Treasurer in office, my five predecessors having held office for an average of 25 years each.

Upon the basis of the splendid financial condition of the County and my personal office, I ask the people of the County to continue me as their County Treasurer.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

A reprint from Mississippi Doctor, official organ of the Mississippi State Medical Association, has a doctor's opinion on the drink question. Dr. Scale Harris, Professor Emeritus of Medicine, University of Alabama, is quoted in the Union Signal of March 16, as having written:

"Intelligent people of the United States should study the effects of beer and other alcoholic beverages on the human body as well as the recent history of beer and wine drinking countries; and each man and woman and boy and girl who thinks should refuse to drink beer and wines, which not only are habit-forming and character-destroying in themselves, but which often lead to the use of stronger drinks that cause more rapid degeneracy in those who are unwise enough to use them to excess. Each man and woman can do his or her part in making our nation great and prosperous by abstaining from alcoholic beverages of all kinds and by otherwise keeping himself fit for whatever may be his vocation in life. The propaganda of the brewers and the distillers, that many good people have fallen for, is that Prohibition is responsible for crime. People who fall for such propaganda do not think things through. It is whiskey and beer—not prohibition—that is worse; and the American people should have the good sense and the courage to rise up and drive out alcoholic beverages which are harmful and habit-forming, and which when used to excess undoubtedly result in degeneracy and death."

BOAT CLUB NEWS

(by Telltale)

In spite of threatening skies the Snipe sailors had their regular Saturday race. Soon after a dark thunder clour had let go its contents and drenched the sailors, Commodore Simonds in Weave-I, sailed out in front of the fleet and stayed there until he rounded the last marker. There Skipper Simonds momentarily lost hold of his tiller and was immediately passed by Dick Merrow's Don't Duck. The finish was very close, the Don't Duck winning by only about five feet. Saturday's race results are as follows:

First, Don't Duck, Merrow; second, Weave-I, Simonds; third, Dunlin, fourth, Tee Bees, Burleigh; fifth, South Sherman, sixth, Salome Snow, seventh, By-George, Wiswall; eighth, Bo Jo, Maynard; L'Allegro, Reeves and Lorelei II, Spence did not finish. Sunday morning Parker Blanchard sailing the Dunlin led the fleet around the course, beating the Don't Duck by three seconds. The rest of the fleet finished in the following order: third, Tee Bees, Burleigh; fourth, Salome Snow; fifth, Sans Peur, Croughwell; sixth, By-George, Wiswall; seventh, Bo Jo, Maynard.

Tuesday evening, July 2, a ping pong match was held at the club house with a team from the rival club in the following order: third, Tee Bees, Burleigh; fourth, Salome Snow; fifth, Sans Peur, Croughwell; sixth, By-George, Wiswall; seventh, Bo Jo, Maynard.

Morton Oker (Win) defeated George Neilson (Med) 21-19, 21-12. Sam Pilkington (Win) defeated Eddie Dierbo (Med) 21-18, 21-16. Don Simonds (Win) defeated Fred Redding (Med) 22-20, 21-11. Morton Oker (Win) defeated Fred Dierbo (Med) 21-12, 24-22. Bud Redding (Med) defeated Paul Blake (Win) 21-10, 21-13. Doubles—Morton Oker and Sam Pilkington (Win) defeated George Neilson and Eddie Dierbo (Med) 21-19, 19-21, 21-12.

HENRY GEORGE SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

The commencement exercises of the Boston Extension, Henry George School of Social Science which this year took the form of a lawn party on the West Roxbury estate of Mr. John S. Codman were held Thursday evening, June 26, and were enjoyed by about 85 alumni. The attendance from Winchester, Melford, Arlington and Woburn was large and representative of recent classes.

As this was the fifth commencement for the Boston Extension it is interesting to note that in the five years the faculty has increased from two to 22 with an alumni list of 900. During the first season four classes were held while the past season there were 31. Plans now in the making for the season of 1940-41 look to a substantial increase in both numbers of students and influence. The report of the finance committee under the chairmanship of Mr. Harold Power of Winchester indicates that this growth is well provided for.

The high spots of the program were the opening address by the Dean of Faculty, Mr. Codman and the closing address by Mr. Francis G. Goodale of Weston, who was the 1934-35 second member of the faculty. While Mr. Goodale still leads elementary classes he also leads the advanced class in international trade.

After short talks by half a dozen members of the spring classes several of the faculty, including Mr. Morris Hand and Mr. Winthrop L. Upton of Winchester, spoke from different angles on the subject, "Constructive Criticisms of the School Course."

The keynote of the program seemed to be the importance of spreading a living realization of the fact that a solution of the world's present acute problems is not to be found in human personalities but rather in a widespread recognition of those laws governing human relations which have always functioned and always will function with absolute impartiality and justice. Mankind may work in harmony with those laws and enjoy happy results or through ignorance or carelessness disregard them and take the consequences. Asia and Europe have allowed this disregard to bear its inevitable fruit which we now see in unparalleled suffering. America is young so that the fruit is not yet fully ripened. If we will, we may still pull up by the roots the tree of legalized monopoly and forestall the same kind of harvest Asia and Europe are now gathering. To be successful, however, will require the highest mental and spiritual development of which America is capable.

Mr. Goodale's closing address was awarded to 58 graduates from the spring classes. "The class will assemble about October 1 with due advance notice to the public. "Until there can be correct thought there can not be right action; and when there be correct thought, right action will follow."—Henry George.

JOAN MOFFETTE SALEM 'WINNER

Joan Moffette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moffette of Vine street, won the 50 meter free style swim for novices last Saturday in the 15th annual swimming meet at the J. C. B. Smith Memorial Pool in Salem, sponsored by the Salem Park Department and the New England A. A. U. Joan, a member of this year's junior class at Winchester High, swam under the colors of the Boston Swimming Association. She is one of the best of the town's girl swimmers and is helping Instructor "Al" Pennell this year with the youngsters at Palmer street and Leonard Field.

Milton is famous as the home of the soda cracker.

TEN OL' MEN WON FROM KNIGHTS

The Ten Ol' Men won their play-off match with the Knights of Columbus Monday evening on Ginn Field, 11-5, the victory giving them a tie with the Lions for top honors in the first half standing of the local softball league.

The aged fellows deserved to win, outwitting the Knights and playing much the steadier ball game. Jumping into an early lead of 5-2, the Ten Ol' Men had a big fourth inning when both Harmon and Serika homered with mates aboard to tally four big runs. The Knights came back in the fifth to put over three runs, but thereafter were held safely by Harmon, who while far from his usual effectiveness, pitched well in the pinches.

Tofuri, who started for the Knights, was hit hard and was wild. Nine of the winners' runs were scored off his delivery, though it must be admitted he got some very sour support, principally from players who were out of position. Harmon, who relieved Tofuri, pitched good ball, allowing two runs in three frames.

Both teams were without regular players, Frank Tausky being absent from the Knights lineup while Ted Monroe, star catcher, and Mul Oliver didn't play for the aged boys. Fivold at first for the winners, made a swell running back catch of a high fly in short right field for the fielding feature and Harmon's honor, while poorly played by the Knights, was the hardest hit ball of the game. Paul Connors did a nice job of umpiring behind the plate.

MILLIONAIRES TO PLAY WINTHROP ELKS

The Winchester Millionaires will play the Winthrop Elks' baseball team on Leonard Field next Wednesday evening at 8:15. The Elks with their crack hurler, Diminco up shut out the Moneybags in a no-hit contest last year, and the locals are after revenge.

The Fire Department was called to put out a rubbish fire at the old Pond property on Ledgewood road at 11:40 Saturday night.

FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL BRIDE

Miss Dorothy Bidwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Bidwell of Scarsdale, N. Y., formerly of Yale street, Winchester, and John Richard Brooks, son of Major and Mrs. Eugene Ferry Smith of Milton were married at noon on Saturday, June 29, in Grace Memorial Chapel in Monahan, East Falmouth, by Rev. Leslie F. Wallace. A reception followed the ceremony at the summer home of the bride's parents in Davisville, East Falmouth.

Miss Bidwell was attended by her two sisters, Mrs. Helen B. Evans and Miss Mary Bidwell, both of Scarsdale, N. Y., and by Miss Sally Evans, small niece of the bride, who was flower girl. Elwood Koonitz of Germantown, Penna., was Mr. Brooks' best man, and the ushers were Bushnell Smith and Robert Howard Bidwell of Scarsdale, brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, after a honeymoon at Nantasket, will live in Shaker Lane, Cambridge. The bride is a graduate of Wellesley College, class of 1936. Mr. Brooks was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, School of Architecture and is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

GROUP THEATRE ANNOUNCES OFFICERS FOR 1940-1941

With a successful season behind it, featured by the productions "As Wilderness" and "The Pursuit of Happiness," the Winchester Group Theatre is already looking forward to the Fall, and a very active year to be marked by a broadening of the group's activities. Officers for the 1940-41 year have been announced as follows: president, J. Henry Smith, Jr.; vice president, Edwin C. Whittemore; secretary, Frances Spencer; treasurer, James Woolley.

In addition to the officers, the newly elected Board of Directors includes Mrs. Lyndon Burnham, Ernest Gross, Richard A. Harlow, Herbert Wadsworth and Mrs. Warren Whitman.

During June the Board held two meetings in which the assignments of activity were decided upon, with preliminary plans to be reported by each group head at the summer meeting, to be held early in August. It is hoped that any resident of Winchester or vicinity who is interested in any phase of dramatics—acting, costuming, stage work, scenery design and building, lighting, or publicity—will make himself or herself known to any one of the above, as the Group will welcome new talent of any kind.

DEMPESEY-CLEARY

A marriage of Winchester interest took place in St. Michael's Church, Lowell, Saturday afternoon, June 29, when Miss Dorothy Marie Cleary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cleary of Bridge street, Lowell, became the bride of Walter Stephen Dempsy, son of Mr. Patrick Dempsy of Main street, Rev. Keenan performed the marriage ceremony at 3:30 o'clock, the church being attractively decorated with potted palms and pink and white carnations.

The bride, wearing a princess style gown of white brocade satin with a coronet veil entrain, and carrying white roses with valley lilies, was attended by Miss Kathleen Cleary, R. N., of Lowell. Miss Cleary wore a dress of blue and yellow chiffon with a matching picture hat and accessories of powder blue. Her Colonial bouquet was of early summer garden flowers.

Edward Dempsy of this town was his brother's best man and the ushers were Richard Dempsy of Winchester, another brother of the bridegroom, and Edward and John Cleary, both of Lowell.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Edward Cleary, the bride's mother, and Miss Catherine Dempsy, sister of the bridegroom, assisting in receiving.

Upon their return from a wedding journey to Maine and Canada, including a visit to Quebec, Mr. Dempsy and his bride will make their home at 24 Myrtle street, Lowell.

NEXTOR-LYNCH

In St. Mary's Church Sunday afternoon, June 30, Miss Florence Margaret Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Lynch of Grove place, became the bride of John Michael Nestor, son of Mr. Jeremiah Nestor of Water street, Medford. Peonies in red and white shades combined with palms to decorate the altar for the ceremony which was performed at 4:30 o'clock by Rev. Fr. George McHugh of St. Francis de Sales Church, Charlestown, a cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Florence Fisher Beardon played the wedding music and the soloist was Mrs. Lenore Collins of Woburn. Miss Lynch was attended by her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Hart of West Medford, and Jerome Nestor of Medford was his brother's best man. Vincent Nestor of Medford, another brother of the bridegroom, and Thomas Lynch of West Medford, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The bride wore a gown of white silk marquisette and lace over net with a heart-shaped neckline and long train. Her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Mrs. Hart wore a dress of blue marquisette over net with a pink hat and slippers, and carried pink roses with blue larkspur.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Knights of Columbus Hall in Medford, the parents of the bride and the bridegroom's father assisting in receiving. Upon their return from a wedding trip, Mr. Nestor and his bride will make their home in Medford.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, and Mr. Nestor, of Medford High School.

THIRD TEA AT "GREY ROCKS"

Last Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. Howard J. Chidley, held the last "at home" at "Grey Rocks," Fernway, for members of the First Congregational Church. This was the third beautiful Sunday for the series of at homes and a large number of parishioners and children came to give their greetings to Dr. and Mrs. Chidley, and to meet their friends, and enjoy the magnificent view from the piazzas and lawns of "Grey Rocks."

Those who poured were Mrs. Harold Bates, Mrs. Carl C. Zimmerman, Miss Cassie E. Sands, Mrs. Louis K. Snyder, Mrs. Mrs. George A. Jenkins, assistant, Mrs. F. M. Blanche, and Mrs. Ralph Fulton. Mrs. John B. Wills, the Misses Frances and Eleanor Randall, Miss Eleanor Jenkins, Mrs. Rex T. Randall, Mrs. R. H. B. Smith, Mrs. Harold H. Dwyer and Mrs. Robert A. Harmon.

Your Summer Shirts

Dress, Sport or Leisure

How Do You Like Them Laundered?

Careful, painstaking attention is given SHIRTS by the Wakefield Laundry, and especially in the matter of Dress shirts our three finishes meet every man's requirement.

In STANDARD finish only a small amount of sizing is used in front and body, but the collar is sufficiently stiff to have it retain its finished shape. STIFF finish is the same as Standard except that the collar is as stiff as on a regular detached stiff collar. SOFT finish gives you shirts without any sizing whatever in collar, but they are ironed smoothly while very damp.

SOCRATES SAYS-

THE NEW DEAL LINE

On April 20, 1940, President Roosevelt said: "Practically every serious government scandal since the Civil War has occurred under a Republican Administration."

And almost is the same breath, he said, "Speaking as an American, I am sorry that a campaign which should be pitched on a level of intelligent argument has fallen into such low estate as early as this."

It started in the New Deal "Smear Campaign" of 1932 and has been kept up every year, every month, every week, every day, and every hour ever since, over the air and in every other conceivable way.

Perhaps he may be sorry the New Deal started it.

MR. WELLES

According to the press, Mr. Welles is quoted in Europe as saying that if there is a possibility of peace before Nov. 4, 1940, President Roosevelt will not run for a third term.

If he does run there will be no peace in America. So, no matter what happens, 1940 and 1941 will be constant world emergency and turmoil.

This gigantic peace offensive of President Roosevelt, while altruistic, is a questionable diplomacy. If he wants peace, is it good judgment to send every European country every day, is it not better to let them come to approach the matter in a tolerant way?

Mr. Welles, we hope, was misquoted for he had the reputation of being a close-mouthed diplomat. But any New Dealer so far has talked plenty. Maybe that's the definition of a New Dealer.

THE BANK HOLIDAY AND THE R. F. C.

It is reported that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on Feb. 8, 1938, charged off as worthless $2,091,000.00 of its assets.

This R. F. C. write-off exceeded the amount of money all the bank depositors of the country lost in failures from 1929 to 1933.

This column stated from the beginning that history would show the closing of the banks was one of the New Deal's biggest blunders. The deposits should have been guaranteed before they were closed and runs would have stopped because of the confidence such a move would have created.

The gigantic losses that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Home Owners' Loan and countless other New Deal agencies have incurred with a charge off would have more than paid every bank depositor in full.

A direct relief payment instead of the hundreds of millions paid out for the administration of all types of relief projects would have provided more nearly the necessities of life to the unemployed.

If it was planned this way citizens should know how to remedy it. And, if it was not, what was the plan? for the country was never told.

WATCH THE STOCK MARKET 'TIL NOV. 4TH

It is an established fact that in normal periods election of a Republican government always means a boom in business and employment in the United States.

The history is that in four out of five national elections—where the result was a Republican victory—the stock market went up; while in four out of five national elections—where the result was a Democratic victory—the stock market went down.

In other words, in five national elections won by the Republicans the stock market advanced after four months; while in five national elections won by the Democrats the stock market dropped after four months.

This does not include the Roosevelt regime for artificial spending put prices up for a few years only to cause the Roosevelt Depression of 1937, the sharpest depression ever seen in America, greatly exceeding in suddenness and sharpness the depression of 1929.

Labor and Management should look upon the stock market as a barometer—a cross section showing the surplus of savings, for it foretells jobs and earnings.

It is no mere coincidence that American confidence is stimulated by a Republican victory. The present slump in business is largely caused by the uncertainty of New Deal "fired timers." If and when America feels the New Dealers have been outwitted, they will discount the elections November, 1940, and a chance will start. If we have poor business up to election, it will forestall another New Deal four-year plan.

WINCHESTER SHOULD HELP!

To the Editor of the Star:
July 3, 1940
With imminent prospect of the sending of large groups of English children to this country and Canada, Winchester should not be far behind in providing sanctuary for its full quota of little refugees.

Why not continue the cordial relations with our namesake, Winchester, England, which began so auspiciously with the visit of their late mayor and his wife some years ago, one of those pleasant interludes which none of the participants will ever forget, and further cement the ties of good-feeling and friendship that already exist between the two towns?

Here is a service that may prove of incalculable value and the establishment of ties that will unite in a deeper sense the only two large countries left where men are still free?

Could not some headquarters be established where those who are willing and able to take one or more of these English children can go on record to that effect, and cannot they offer first be made to the children of Winchester, England, toward whom we have a special sympathy, and who seem geographically to be located in the path of the storm?

Sincerely yours,
Rupert F. Jones

REPRESENTATIVE ROGERS SAYS WILKIE IS ABLE

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, of this Congressional district, returned from Washington from Philadelphia shortly after the adjournment of the Republican national convention.

Mrs. Rogers characterized Wendell Wilkie, Republican nominee for the Presidency, as an "able and virile candidate, and with Senator McNary makes a ticket which any American can be proud. He was a brave and gallant soldier of the World War, who entered the service as a private and came out a captain."

Representative Rogers is in Washington for the reopening of Congress. She attended several of the sessions of the convention in Philadelphia, but devoted most of the week's recess to the accumulated affairs of the district in Washington.

Mrs. Rogers stated that she has known Mr. Wilkie and his wife some time and that they are genuinely fine people with every attribute for becoming President and First Lady of the country.

Mr. Wilkie she described as a man of power and strength, with the ability to listen and make decisions, but when he is convinced he is right, he will talk plenty and to the point.

"His record shows a positive genius for getting people to work and creating work," she states. She feels the people have nominated a candidate through popular demand.

DETESO-DETESO

The marriage of Miss Josephine DeTeso, daughter of Mrs. Catherine DeTeso, of 19 Olive street and Rocco DeTeso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore DeTeso, of 12 Olive street, took place Sunday afternoon.

The ceremony was held at 3:30 o'clock in St. Mary's Church with Rev. Fr. Joseph P. Mahoney officiating.

The bride was given away in marriage by her uncle, Antonio DeTeso. Miss Antonette DeTeso of this town was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Rose DeTeso and Miss Elizabeth Marabellia, both of Winchester.

The bride wore a gown of white chiffon made with a long train. Her veil of tulle was arranged with a crown of orange blossoms and caught with valley lilies, and her flowers were calla lilies arranged with ivy leaves.

The bride's lily was white and net dresses, the honor maid's being shaded with blue bows to match the shade of her accessories while the bridesmaids were red. All wore flower-trimmed dolly hats and carried red roses, the honor maid's being combined with blue larkspur.

Anthony Ciruso of Winchester was Mr. DeTeso's best man, and the ushers were Rocco DeTeso and Anthony DeTeso, both of this town. Joseph Pullaro of Hyde Park and Ted Sullio of Wakefield.

After the ceremony a reception was held in Columbus Hall from 7 o'clock until midnight. Upon their return from a wedding journey to Niagara Falls and the World's Fair, Mr. DeTeso and his bride will make their home in Winchester at 12 Irving street. Both are widely known among Winchester's Italian residents, being members of the Christopher Columbus Society for Men and Women.

The bride attended the Winchester schools, and Mr. DeTeso, who is a gardener, attended Boston Trade School.

WINCHESTER OBSERVED INDEPENDENCE DAY

The feature event was easily the watermelon eating contest which was won by Mike Gambino with Elizabeth DeTeso a good second. Commander Spurr, at the desk where the winners claimed their prize certificates put in a busy afternoon and was still writing the names of winners on slips long after the events were completed.

In the bean-guessing contest, the object of which was guess the number of beans in a glass jug, there was a three-way tie, Nick Amato, Robert O'Malley and Charles Brazear, all guessing 14,000 with 13,984 being the exact total.

The youngsters were very orderly and fireworks on the field were reduced to a minimum.

While the events were being run off the Winchester Post Band played an excellent concert of standard and popular selections, much enjoyed by those who attended the program.

Of races a bit tiresome. The band was placed on the field near the bleacher seats which were full of appreciative listeners during all the time the musicians, under Walter Jones, were playing.

Colorful City

The term "Red City" applied to Philadelphia, is probably due to the fact that red was the predominant color originally, many of the houses being built of red brick.

Secular Music

Secular music is music intended for a theater or concert hall as opposed to sacred music.

CUB CAMP OPENS

One of the facilities offered by the Fellsland Council, B. S. A., to Packs of Cub Scouts in the cities and towns of Burlington, Medford, Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn, is a Day Camp. Beginning next Monday, July 8, at 9:30 each morning for the duration of five days for three weeks. Packs may send groups of Cubs to enjoy the program and activities offered to them.

The site for the Cub facility is known as the Medford Scout Cabin, which is in back of the Medford City Infirmary, off Winthrop street, Medford. A large building with kitchen and running water conveniences will help to take care of the boys, especially on rainy days. Camp will go on regardless of weather conditions.

The registration fee for each Cub is 25 cents per day. Each Cub gets a bottle of milk at noon, and all handicraft supplies and tools to work with.

The program is divided so that the first week is Indian Week, the second is Pioneer, and the third is Young America Week. The activities will be broken up to include games, handicraft, stories, Cub cheers and songs, nature instruction, Cub ceremonies, training in Cub achievements, and camp fire programs. Parents are particularly urged to come Friday evenings and bring their picnic supper and stay through the campfire program. On other days the boys will leave for home at 4:30 o'clock.

The Abnormal

With the acceptance of the Darwinian hypothesis in biology, the abnormal was at once seen to be no more than the normal functioning in an accidental or exaggerated form, or in unusually favorable or unfavorable circumstances.

"Union Jack" Misused

The union jack, as applied to the flag of Great Britain, is a misnomer. "Jack" is a diminutive on the sea, so that only a small flag is rightly termed a "jack."

LIONS FIRST HALF WINNERS

The Lions Club, behind the cannon-ball slinging of their archer, Ken Hardy, won the first half championship of the Winchester Soft Ball League by defeating the Ten Of Men 12 to 1, on Ginn Field Tuesday evening.

The Ten Of Men won the right to play off for the title by defeating the Knights of Columbus the previous evening.

Two games in two nights proved rather too much for the old men, and especially for their own good pitcher, Bob Harmon. The latter chucked up a lot of balls Monday night in setting down the Knights and he was far from his usual effectiveness against the Lions.

Both teams were pretty tense as the game got under way but the pressure seemed to affect the Ten Of Men more than the more youthful Lions, who put over three runs in the very first frame and thereafter were never headed.

A muffed forced play at second base got the old men off to a bad start, and throughout the game Harmon's support was pretty sour, especially in the outfield, where the ancient fellows either misjudged his badly or were caught away out of position.

The Lions, on the other hand, were very confident behind their fireball hurler, and found Harmon's softened chucking fairly easy, hitting the ball hard. Home runs by Clem Chesnut and Paul Connors put the game on ice for the Lions, though at no time did the old men really threaten.

Joe Tansy put in a really hard night catching Hardy, being banged about in great shape. He retired in the sixth in favor of Connors, but a swinging accident, in which the latter's trousers forced "Muggins" to return to action.

Quite a little crowd saw the game and a collection netted more than $10.00. The crowd was the only matter for the losers who was able to do anything with Hardy's slants, getting three safeties. Al Poncioli saved Harmon again in the seventh of Munroe. Charlie Dolan turned in a nice play on a sizzling Senika's grounder and Tony DeTeso made a swell routine back catch of a fly ball by Elizabeth. Charlie Faria unknocked behind the bat and Phil Butler caught them on the bases. The latter ran out the bases in the eighth called Kildar out on an attempted steal, the boys was his slide being Garvey a fly back and the attempt to run out the bases in the eighth. The ancient fellows, led by M.J. O'Leary, snarled loud and lustily for his umpteenth time to change his destination, when they saw his stand with assenters in the crowd.

Mochea Rennet-Custard

1 tablespoon ground custard
1 1/2 cups milk (not canned or soft)
1/2 cup cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 pkg. chocolate rennet powder

Add custard to milk and cream and warm slowly. Add rennet powder. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When COMFORTABLY thick, add vanilla and stir in the rennet powder briskly until dissolved. Do not use a mixer. Pour at once into individual dessert glasses. Do not move until firm - about 10 minutes. Chill in ice box. Serve in the usual glass.

Just before serving, top each unsweetened whipped cream by using a pastry bag or a small glass. For children, omit the coffee.

Chinese Favor Jade

The Chinese value jade above all precious stones as is indicated by the following quotation from Tang Jungtso: "The magic powers of heaven and earth are ever combined to form perfect results, so the pure essence of hill and water became solidified into precious jade."

High Altitude Benefit

Eighty per cent of the population of Bolivia lives at an altitude of more than 10,000 feet, and the country is noted for the number of old people over 100 years.

The Pastry Gun

A pastry gun is an inexpensive little instrument that has been used for years by chefs and pastry cooks but has only recently become popular in the average home.

With it as an ally, the bride can turn her first dessert into an attractive dish, while the experienced matron can make pies and puddings that she never dreamed of before.

Those who have an eye appeal that brings instantaneous compliments from family or guests.

Note the growing appeal in the three desserts pictured, as the pastry gun completely revolutionized the job. Incidentally, this is an inexpensive milk dessert, so delicious that you should sample it whether you own a pastry gun or no. No eggs are needed. No baking or boiling necessary. Why not try it today?

THE CHILD GUIDANCE CLINIC

(For the Winchester Star)

(Prevention of mental illness is the keynote of the system of modern Psychiatry, and in the Commonwealth's more advanced communities a great deal of attention is now being concentrated upon the subject of child welfare. The Child Guidance Clinics co-operate with the public schools and social agencies in laying the bases of a healthy mental outlook.

Today Child Guidance Clinics are a vital part of our program of Mental Hygiene. We have plenty of evidence that a most definite relationship exists between early behavior difficulties of juvenile and later mental disturbances, delinquency and dependency. This is one reason why the Child Guidance Clinic plays so important a part in the proper training of boys and girls who otherwise might grow up as antisocial members of society. The Child Guidance Clinic makes a scientific analysis of the youngster as an integrated personality, from the standpoint of his environmental, social, intellectual, and physical life. Tested procedures are employed by the Child Guidance Clinic in the diagnosis and treatment of incipient behavior deviations, placing emphasis upon the qualitative in preference to the quantitative aspects of treatment).

The Child Guidance Clinic is an essential agency, where the wise community assures mental stability for its citizens to be.

And which helps relieve Society from bad behavior's corroding care. Laying bases for more stable men and women who'll be free.

From delinquency and dependency and disturbing anti-social elements which dare.

Amidst a great Commonwealth's carefully planned social glow. Of concern for precious childhood spring-time of good men's part. Which will banish in some measure stark crime and woe.

By skilled and kindly workers may end in many shameless hours.

Yes, the Child Guidance Clinic is the logical achievement of Psychiatry's new day. Rich in hope which loyalty to our children is bound to give. To those with thought of a future which will brook no delay. Who children are burdened and without guidance oddities of behavior refuse to lay. To cease hanging disappointment upon a parent's heart, and when reaching adolescence and a useful adulthood seem a thing apart, unless the Child Guidance Clinic steps in to do its scientific part. May men have faith in it as loyal friend to the ninth degree. For its record shows it to be a zenith in its special field without counterpart. As more and more strayed parents ask that it their offspring's odd behavior chart.

Correcting faults and doing its utmost a better way of life to oversee. In the Child Guidance Clinic precious children have an understanding friend. To whom their inmost thoughts they may freely express. And as we study the things achieved we recognize the Clinic's function high indeed. Which seeks to help children a nobler path unhesitatingly to ascend.

Eugene Bertram Willard

Pair—Two
Do not use "a pair of" when all you mean "two." A pair refers to two things used together, equal, or suited to each other. It is not a synonym of the word two. We talk of a pair of tongs, a pair of deuces, a pair of lovers. A cow and a postage-stamp are two objects, but they are not a pair of anything. A pair of twins would indicate four children.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

IF FRANCE FOUGHT FROM HER "POSSESSIONS IN AMERICA"

Premier Reynaud's reference to the possibility of France continuing the war, if necessary, from her American possessions, involves the following French colonial outposts in the New World says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

On the North Coast of South America

French Guiana. Smaller, less populous, and less developed than Netherlands Surinam and British Guiana to the west, French Guiana has an area slightly larger than that of Maine. It lies between Brazil, on the east, and Surinam (formerly Dutch Guiana) to the west. The Tumuc-Huac Mountains bound the territory on the south. Like the regions on either side, French Guiana rises gradually southward from a strip of alluvial plain and an area of "swamp savannas" to heavily forested areas and mountains in the center and south. River valleys deeply trench the country. Settlement is centered in the west, hot coastal strip, which, since 1830, has constituted the province of Guyane. The population estimate of about 25,000 excludes the Indians and Negroes of the forest. The coastal population is mixed European; the language a colorful patois derived from several tongues. The colony lies the famous penal colony of Devil's Island. The colony's resources are mostly undeveloped. On the coast, many people are engaged in farming.

Cayenne, on a coastal island, is the capital and chief city.

The French West Indies (islands in the Caribbean) consists of two large islands, Guadeloupe and Martinique, and several smaller ones, chief among these being Desirade, Marie Galante, St. Bartholomew, and the northern part of St. Martin. (The southern part belongs to the Netherlands.) All are in the Lesser Antilles, southeast of Puerto Rico.

Martinique — the southernmost French island, is a mountainous mass of volcanic origin. Mont Pelée (12,900 feet), in the north, started a violent eruption in 1902 which destroyed St. Pierre, at that time the largest city. It killed 10,000 people and did enormous damage. Fertile valleys and deep forested zones are cut into the steep mountains. Rainfall is heavy and rivers numerous. The island heights are cool and invigorating, in contrast to the hot, unhealthy lowlands.

Sugarcane is the most important crop and sugar refineries prepare the finished product. Rum, cocoa, coffee, tobacco, vanilla, pineapples, and bananas are leading exports. Most of the 255,000 people are Negroes. Fort-de-France (population about 43,000) is the capital and commercial metropolis. Josephine, Napoleon's empress, was a native of Martinique.

Guadeloupe, lying between Dominica and Antigua consists of two distinct islands separated by a narrow strait. The eastern island is low-lying. Grande Terre; Basse Terre to the west is larger and mountainous. Highest peak on the island is volcanic Grande Soufriere (4,300 feet), from which there were destructive eruptions in 1797 and 1843. The leading port and trade center is Pointe-a-Pitre (population 30,000) on Grande Terre. The total population is about 270,000.

Sugar and its by-products dominate the export trade, but cacao, hay, and other tropical plants and fruits are grown in quantities.

St. Pierre and Miquelon, two adjacent islets off the south coast of Newfoundland, were settled by the French in about 1600, passed back and forth between the French and the British for a century and a half, and were finally restored to the French in 1814, with the stipulation that they were not to be fortified. They are barren and rocky and are frequently shrouded in fog, particularly in summer. Always an important base for the Grand Banks fisheries, the islands have suffered diminishing prosperity as the fishing industry has declined. Miquelon, the western and larger, is a double island united by a narrow shingle bank five miles long. St. Pierre, the capital of the colony, is on the island of the same name. It has a harbor and contains most of the 3500 people inhabiting the two islands.

BAVEY TAPESTRY, DEPICTING INVASION OF ENGLAND IN NORMAN CITY OVERRUN BY GERMAN FORCES

Bavey, 50 miles east of Cherbourg on the peninsula of Normandy, recently conquered by German troops, recently one of the world's most famous
"human documents" says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. It is the Bavey Tapestry, explains the bulletin, a remarkable piece of needlework 230 feet long.
It should be of interest to the invaders for other reasons than its artistic worth. It is sort of "blue print" for an invasion of England, depicting in much detail the successful expedition against the island by Normandy's most famous son, William the Conqueror. For many years the tapestry has been displayed in a double glass case in the old Bishop's Palace, now the town library. Legend has it that Queen Matilda, wife of the Conqueror, created it with her own needle.

Early Plank Roads

Plank roads were a slow improvement in 1817, and New York state later came to have over 12,000 miles of this kind of road.

WAS FORMER RESIDENT

Mrs. Madeline Kerrigan, widow of Thomas A. Kerrigan and sister-in-law of Mrs. J. H. Hamlin, of Cottage street, died Sunday morning, June 30, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Adeline Flood, 56 Fowle street, Woburn, following a brief illness.

Mrs. Kerrigan's husband, who died in 1920, was for years associated as assistant manager with the United Fruit Company, being located at Havana, Cuba, where he and his wife, were the company's official hosts.

Mrs. Kerrigan had only two weeks before her death returned from a visit with her son, Thomas A. Kerrigan at Los Angeles, Calif. She attended school in Woburn, was graduated from Woburn High School, and for a time before going to the Tropics made her home in Winchester.

Besides her sister-in-law, her mother and her son in California, Mrs. Kerrigan leaves a daughter, Mrs. Madeline Joan Kerrigan of Woburn and a grandson, Michael Kerrigan, in Los Angeles.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning with high mass of requiem in St. Charles Church, Woburn. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

OPENS MALDEN OFFICE

Mr. John A. Volpe of 65 Highland avenue is announcing the opening of the new modern offices of the firm of Grande & Volpe, Inc., Builders, at 54 Eastern avenue, Malden. Mr. Volpe is treasurer and general manager of this contracting firm which has recently completed several large municipal and government contracts.

An outstanding project completed by the firm was a new City Hall for the city of Nashua, N. H., the project involving a contract of $300,000, which was completed in February of this year. The firm has also built two grade schools as well as the new town hall for the town of Stoneham within the past two years.

At the present time the firm has under contract two Quartermaster Warehouses for the War Department at the Northwest Air Base at Chicago Falls, a Post Office for the Public Buildings, Administration at East Boston, and a Seaplane Hangar for the U. S. Navy at Seabrook.

Mr. Volpe built his own home at 65 Highland avenue and resides there with his wife, who was formerly Jennie Bates of a graduate of the Winchester Hospital in the class of 1930.

Ballad and Song

A ballad is a simple song, where each verse is sung to the same music. Song has a very broad interpretation, and has many varieties. There is the simple folk song, much the same as the ballad, and the art song, where each verse is set to different music. The difference lies in character and sentiment.

MRS. ANNIE BRADLEY

Mrs. Annie Bradley, widow of James Bradley and a widely known resident of the north end of the town, died Tuesday morning at the Winchester Hospital after a brief illness with heart disease. Her son, James Bradley, popular custodian of the William J. Noonan School, died on the Fourth of July, 1939, and Mrs. Bradley's health had gradually failed since his passing.

Mrs. Bradley was 64 years old and a native of Ireland, the daughter of William and Ann (Cotherwood) Callahan. She had lived in Winchester for 34 years, was a member of the Catholic Daughters of America and of the Sodality of St. Mary's Parish. Surviving is one sister, Mrs. Hugh McElhinney of Woburn.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the late residence, 10 Water street, with requiem high mass in St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

In Appreciation

Annie Bradley has gone a little over a year after the death of her beloved son, James. One could say that she died of a broken heart although the certificate on file at the Town Hall may tell differently.

Many, many years ago Annie, with little James, came to America from her native land. She took up the task of self-support and the bringing up of James bravely and cheerfully.

For over 20 years she had served us faithfully and well as she had her other people. For to her, her employers were her people and her people returned in kind the affection that comes from her loving Irish heart.

We can and do mourn her passing, but we know that in the other land to which she has gone there will be a joyful welcome from the son she longed to see.

RETURN FROM ISLE OF SHOALS

A group of Winchester young people returned from a stay at the Unitarian Conference at the Isle of Shoals on Saturday. Included in the party of delegates and visitors were William F. Wellington, Katherine Meserve, Catherine Nutter, Lyford Allan Wood, Roland Greeley, Benney Wilson and Polly Kimball. While at the Shoals Polly Kimball won the girls' singles tennis cup.

MRS. ABBIE F. HUCKINS

Mrs. Abbie F. Huckins, widow of George A. Huckins, who made her home in Winchester with her son, Albert K. Huckins, and his family at 246 Highland avenue, died on Saturday, July 6. The funeral services and interment were private.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The Cub Day Camp opened this week Monday with a fine start of 42 boys coming from Medford, Winchester and Woburn. This is Indian week at the camp and the Cubs have chosen Indian names for themselves. Cubs from each town are known as the following Tribes: Hohawks (Medford Cubs), Apaches (Winchester Cubs), and the Abernokes (Woburn Cubs). The first activity at 9:30 each morning is the salute to the American Flag and the Cub promise is given. Afterwards each Cub literally becomes an Indian Brave and the roll call of Tribes is taken. Announcements and instructions are given. Tribe competition starts in sports, challenges skills, etc. A bottle of milk is given to each Brave at noon time. Following dinner is Siesta and Indian stories are read. Handicraft takes up the greater part of the afternoon. Indian crafts of bead rings and bead headbands, painted pottery, tom-toms rattles and cloth designs are the craft specialties this week. Nature instruction and Cub achievements have a part in the afternoon fun.

Friday evening the Indian Braves will have a camp fire program for their parents and friends. Everyone is invited.

The Indian Braves of Winchester are: Raymond Dow (Lightfoot) and Tribe Chief; Thome Reese (Paw Warner), and Tribe medicine man; Francis Herling (Sitting Bull), Herman Stanwood (King Philip), Major Daniels (Four Bears), Robert Horne (Rain in the Face), Peter Dillingham (Spotted Tail), Mollory Smith (Black Hawk), David Thomas (Geronimo), Paul Coon (Lone Eagle), James O'Neil (Hard Rock), Herbert Smith (Eagle Eyes), Richard MacNeil (Spotted Bear), Harvey Ralston (Golden Arrow), and Allan Ulrich (Thunderfoot).

MISS SUSAN E. LEDYARD

Billfolds at the Star Office.

Miss Susan E. Ledyard, a former resident of Winchester, died Saturday, July 6, at the Pond View Nursing Home in Stoneham after a two years' illness.

Miss Ledyard was 90 years old and a native of Eastwick, R. I., the daughter of Alonzo and Susan (Johnson) Ledyard. She was for 18 years a school teacher in Somerville and before coming to Winchester was a resident of Everett. While in town she made her home with the W. L. Thompsons at 201 Ridge street, leaving Winchester when she became ill two years ago. She leaves no immediate family.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Lane Funeral Home with Rev. Charles Noyes, pastor of the Second Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in the Ledyard family lot in Glenwood Cemetery, Everett.

IT'S pretty conclusive proof of a real value when more people than ever before buy a certain make of car in a single year.

That is true of this 1940 Buick.

It's pretty good proof of value when a higher percentage of all new-car buyers selects that car after looking the field over.

That is also true of this 1940 Buick.

So on sheer value, it should be clear that right now, "Best buy's Buick"—the question we'd like to ask is: Isn't this also the best time to buy?

Isn't this the smart time to put yourself behind a brand-new power plant, husky, thrifty, thrilling—and smoother than ever?

Isn't this a smart time to get more room—up-to-date controls—sure, soft brakes—new rubber—springing that never needs lubrication—truly modern features (Buick has no less than six dozen)—months on months of reliable, trouble-free, low-cost, stay-out-of-the-shop service?

All things considered, we think it is. Especially so when you consider current low prices.

It won't cost a cent to try a Buick, get the low delivered prices and have your present car appraised. Hadn't you better see your Buick dealer now—and do just that?

WOBBURN TEAM TO PLAY AT LEONARD FIELD

The Independent Tallow Company line of Woburn is planning to play a twilight baseball game each Friday evening in Winchester on Leonard Field commencing tonight.

The Woburn team is a member of the Suburban Twilight League and though finishing the first half of the schedule in the cellar, is expected to make a strong bid for a playoff place, having strengthened materially of late.

How the Tallow Company will draw here is of course a question. The Lord Tanagers did well here on Manchester Field some years ago, but had a lineup studded with well known semi-pros. A few years back the Cottage Crest, with another pretty good lineup, attracted fair size crowds to Leonard Field while they played their stars.

No one turned out to see either the Lords or the Crests when they were fielding ordinary lineups, and playing so-so ball clubs or worse.

If the Tallow Company has some good players, as they claim, and hook up with something besides setups, they may get more than the proverbial corporal's guard up to Leonard's for their games. The Cubs and the Millionaires series got 'em out last summer, but there was real local rivalry in those games. An out-of-town team has got to offer some good baseball to attract Winchester fans, and to date the "take" has never been sufficient to warrant visiting managers bringing real attractions here.

COUNTRY CLUB GOLF RESULTS

G. King had the best gross in the kippers' tournament at the Winchester Country Club, though his not was tied by several other contestants.

Harry Davy's 69 was the best net in the handicap medal play, King's being best gross. Following are the summaries:

LOCAL MOTORISTS' PLATES STOLEN

The Essex Police called local Headquarters shortly before 2 o'clock Monday morning to learn who was operating an automobile registered to Earle F. Spencer of 8 Yale street in Essex at 12:30 that same morning. Patrolman James F. Noonan went to investigate and found the Spencer car in the garage where it had been left by Mr. Spencer at 11 o'clock Sunday night. The registration plates were missing and on the floor was a pair of pliers which had evidently been used to remove them. The registration of the car and a driving license were also missing.

The Police broadcast the theft over the telephone and radio, also notifying the Essex Police of the result of their investigation.

WINCHESTER ELKS' NOTES

Winchester Lodge of Elks is sending three boys to Camp at Agassiz Village in Oxford, Me., the boys leaving next Tuesday.

This camp, run by the Burroughs Newsboys' Foundation, is one of the most modern camps in Maine and yearly takes care of hundreds of Greater Boston boys, all of whom have a great time while building better health and having the advantages of group living.

The sending of three boys to this camp by Winchester Lodge is just another instance of the work done by Social and Community Welfare Committees of Elks' Lodges all over the United States.

In order to do work of this sort, so valuable to improved social relations, it is necessary for Lodges to maintain sizeable charity funds upon which to draw in emergencies. Winchester Lodge hopes to strengthen its charity fund materially with the big ball it is planning for next Columbus Day. Attention will be called to this ball from time to time and it is hoped that every one in town, interested in charitable projects, will plan to attend and "Help the Elks' Help Winchesters."

Tuesday evening a large delegation of local Elks, headed by Exalted Ruler Howard Brownell, attended the testimonial banquet given Harold W. Fields, district deputy of Massachusetts Central at Brookline Lodge. John King, Deputy Fields' Grand Exalted, presented him with a suitable gift, an entertainment was given and a most enjoyable evening spent.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

It is too early to post notices relative to the leading teams in both baseball leagues. However, as was expected the Cardinals of Spruce street are leading the Senior League at the present time. In the Junior League there is a three corner tie for first place.

An All-Star group journeyed to Wakefield Wednesday and lost a close 6 to 4 decision to the playground team in Wakefield. H. Ganchi pitched great ball for us, allowing three hits in five innings.

Tennis classes for beginners and handicraft classes for girls lead, from the point of view of popular interest to date. Mrs. Dana has over 40 interested pupils in her head class and Miss MacDonald in tennis daily instructs 24 novices.

The Park Department has purchased a new basketball game, Goal Hi, which has furnished much interest. A five team basketball league will commence playing on Monday, July 15.

Following is the program for the 1940 playground season:

Baseball: Senior League (Monday, Wednesday, Friday mornings). All games to start at 9:45. Umpires: A. DeTesa, B. Farrell, K. Moody and J. Tansey. Junior League (Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday afternoons). All games to start at 2:30. Umpires, same as other league.

Handicraft: Girls: Loring avenue, classes will be held in the room at Loring avenue commencing on Monday, July 8. Leonard Field: classes will be held every morning at Leonard Field. Mrs. J. Davis to be in charge.

Boys: Loring avenue, Monday, Wednesday, Friday mornings, Leonard Field, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons. These classes in charge of Mr. Moody will work with leather goods.

Tennis classes: Loring avenue, instruction for beginners 9 a. m. to 10 a. m. Miss MacDonald, instructor. Leonard Field instruction for beginners 2 p. m. to 3 p. m. Miss Shumaker, instructor.

Softball: Loring avenue, 10:30 to 12 on the small diamond. Leonard Field, same. Basketball.

MILLIONAIRES TIED WINTHROP ELKS

The Millionaires played a 2-2 tie with the Winthrop Elks on Leonard Field Wednesday evening with "Don" Thomann, pitching four hit ball. Leary, Winthrop southpaw, also limited the local batters to four safeties, fanning 12. Five errors behind Thomann gave Winthrop two unearned runs. The summary:

Threatening weather the morning of the Fourth seemed to scare away the fair-weather sailors, as only six of our fleet of 22 appeared for the scheduled race. The finish was as follows: first, Doni Duck, Merrow; second, Tee Bees, Barleigh; third, By George, Wiswell; fourth, Roadie, Hall; fifth, Snail, Sherman; sixth, Salome, Snow.

In the Saturday afternoon race Jim Snow's Salome jumped away at the start and lengthened its lead on the reach and run. However, on the windward leg of the course, Dick Merrow sailing the Doni Duck came from a fifth position to first place and stayed there for the remainder of the race. The fleet finished in the following order: first, Doni Duck, Merrow; second, Snail, Sherman; third, L'Allegro, Reeves; fourth, Tee Bees, Barleigh; fifth, Dunlin, Blanchard; Salome, Snow and By George, Wiswell, tied for sixth place; seventh, Hawkeye III, Hawkins; eighth, Roadie, Hall.

Sunday morning on the lake the Snipe sailors held a team race against the M. I. T. sailors. Our sailors drifted a little faster in the light airs than the Tee Bees, and we beat them 91 to 65. Bud Blanchard was high scorer with two firsts for 24 points. The minimum number of five Snipes showed up for the race Sunday afternoon, and they finished in the following order: first Tee Bees, Barleigh; second, L'Allegro, Reeves; third, Salome, Snow; fourth, By George, Wiswell; fifth, Wee Too, Saunders; sixth, 21-21.

A return ping pong match was held at the Bedford Road Club Tuesday evening. The W. B. C. team again defeated the Bedford team. This time by the score of 5 to 3.

The results are as follows: Merton Ober, Jr. (W) defeated George Neilson (M) 21-18, 21-9. Ed Dierhot (M) defeated Merton, Sr. (W) 26-28, 21-18, 21-14. Harry Bean (W) defeated Fred Redwood (M) 21-18, 21-9. A. Redding (M) defeated Bud Cunningham (W) 21-17, 22-20. Charlie Reeves (W) defeated Bob Neilson (M) 30-28, 16-21, 21-19. Don Simons (M) defeated Fred Dierhot (M) 21-16, 21-12. Bill Neilson (M) defeated Dick Merrow (W) 11-21, 21-17, 24-22. Betty Budd (W) defeated Muriel White (M) 21-12, 21-12, 21-13.

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, July 14.

The Golden Rule is: "The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him." (John 4:23).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lament not for the dead which perisheth, but for that man which endureth unto everlasting life, whose Son of man shall give unto you for him which God the Father sendeth" (John 4:27).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science Text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Though demonstrating his control over sin and disease, the great Teacher by no means relieved others from giving the requisite proofs of their own piety. He worked for their guidance, that they might demonstrate this power as he did and under his divine Principle. We must go and do likewise, else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bestow upon us" (p. 25).

SUNDAY DINNER

Suggestions

MEAT is one of our chief sources of food and the food constituent that builds and repairs tissues. The good protein, in fact, comes from the Greek meaning "of great importance." To many of us, meat is the important food around which the entire menu is built. Many a housewife has thought, as she purchased her meat for a meal, "Why hasn't someone thought of a new way for us to buy today?" Actually she has overlooked the fact that the same meat, if prepared in a new way, will appear different to the family, especially at this time of the year when so many fresh fruits and vegetables will "dress up" an ordinary meal.

Here are three menus for Sunday dinner, planned by Miss Anna Anthony of the ASP Kitchen at different price levels, using the standards in the meat department, but in a new guise:

Low Cost Dinner
Corned Beef Molded with Celery, Peas and Beans in Lettuce Bed
Potato Salad
Baked Apples
Bread and Butter
Butterscotch Tarts

Jelly-Glazed Roast Lamb
Browned Potatoes
Hot Buttered Beans
Lettuce Withed with Bacon
Fresh Peach Shortcake
Cakes, Tea, Milk

Chicken Croquette with Rice
Corn on Cob
Mixed Green Salad
Rolls and Butter
Fresh Gooseberry Pie

Cats as "Retrievers"

The ancient Egyptians are said to have killed wild ducks with throwing sticks, and to have trained cats to retrieve them. They also hunted with trained lions, which belong to the cat species. There have been also hunting leopards used as long ago as the reign of Pharaoh Ramses II.

SOVIET RUSSIA EXTENDS ITS POWER TO THE BALTIC

What has Soviet Russia gained by the military occupation of the three Baltic nations northeast of Germany and southwest of the vital Soviet port of Leningrad?

In size, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania have a combined area of little more than 60,000 square miles, or considerably less than one per cent of the extent of the Russian land Colossus, says a special bulletin from the National Geographic Society. In terms of population added to Soviet domination, the Esths, Letts and Liths amount to less than six million people, scarcely one between four and four per cent of the vast numbers of Russian citizens.

Long, Strategic Coastline
With a generally flat terrain, the Baltic tri-occupancy part of the "Great European Plain" offer little or no natural barriers for defense. In past centuries powerful neighbors, including the Germans, Poles, Swedes and Russians, have easily made of this region a frequent and bloody battlefield.

On the other hand, extremely strategic is the approximately 200-mile coastline of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, which in Soviet hands gives the Russians control of the northeast Baltic from Germany's East Prussia to Finland. Between Finland and Estonia, the narrow Gulf of Finland, with Russian bases now on both sides, is the only sea approach to Leningrad.

The push to the sea has also brought the Russians to positions within 200 miles of the southeast shore of Sweden as far north as the Gulf of Bothnia. In Latvia, they are less than 100 miles from the big Swedish island of Gotland, lying near the center of the Baltic Sea.

Russian troops, following the military occupation of Lithuania, may now patrol a land frontier with Germany extending 1400 miles, from a point north of East Prussia on the Baltic, to the Carpathian Mountains of expanded Hungary in the heart of Europe.

Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania were all parts of the Russian Empire before the World War and the Russian Revolution. With few natural resources, they were chiefly valuable as grain producers and as sea outlets for Russian trade. The local economy of the region was then largely in the hands of the German barons descending of an earlier Teutonic control.

Together with the big Russian landowners, they held some 60 per cent of the Baltic states' farm land. The establishment of independence of the three smaller nations, after terrific struggles, brought about the breakup of the large estates into small peasant farms.

A final chapter in the story of the once powerful German colonization in the Baltic was written in the autumn of 1939, following the outbreak of the present European war, when German authorities ordered seventy or eighty thousand Germans living in Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania to leave their homes and business and move to Germany.

Aurelian Philosophy

Does anyone despise me? What is that to me? I will take care not to give him any reason for his contempt. Does anyone hate me? It may be so. Another man's malice shall never spoil my temper. I will continue kind and good unmoved by all the world.—Marcus Aurelius.

JOHN P. MARSTON BUILDS AN ATTRACTIVE RETREAT HIGH ON PINNACLE MOUNTAIN

(The following article from the Milford, N. H. Cabinet, will be interesting to the friends of Mr. John P. Marston who makes his home at 20 Everett avenue.)

Hurricane Cabin on the rugged slope of Pinnacle Mountain in Lyndeboro is the pride of John P. Marston's extensive Mountain View property. Nestled among the pines close to the summit of the mountain the cabin is the answer to Mr. Marston's wish for a natural island lodge. Made from spruce logs felled by the 1938 hurricane, and constructed by Mr. Marston and Steven Sherman, superintendent of the Mountain View property, the cabin is as sturdy as the rugged land on which it is built.

Calked with oakum, the four walls present a sturdy barrier to the elements. Hand-wrought hinges are on the door; even the furniture is handmade, a product of Mr. Sherman's skill. The cabin has a piazza along two sides, two windows, a roof ventilator, a floor register, two bunks, and a marvelously constructed fireplace.

Mr. Marston says it was a lot of fun and a lot of work building the cabin, but his enthusiasm and pride in the structure is justifiable. The cabin is a thing of beauty on the scarred mountain slope that received the full brunt of the devastating 1938 hurricane. From the mess of tangled trees, Mr. Marston conceived the idea of his mountain lodge.

In 1939 he made his dream become a deed and with Mr. Sherman began the construction of the cabin. On Sept. 21, 1939, the first anniversary of the hurricane, some of the trees which were blown down by the big wind were piled in neat formation in the design of Hurricane Cabin.

Mr. Marston is a chemical importer. The war carries with it many headaches for men like Mr. Marston who run their businesses on foreign trade relations. However, even the worries that grow in the minds of American men from the terrible European conflict have no place in the peace and quiet of the Pinnacle mountain lodge where nothing but beauty and complete happiness is enjoyed.

On a clear day, high above his home, the former Frank Cummings place, Mr. Marston can see Boston skyscrapers from the cabin porch. With glasses trained on the southern countryside, one can count the windows in the Milford High School building, watch the cars crawling through Mount Vernon village, see the homes in Nashua and the outline of Boston's tall buildings, against the distant horizon, and the American flag directly below the cabin which always flies from the tall flag pole in the yard of the Marston home.

One feels a certain amount of security and peacefulness at Hurricane Cabin and Mr. Marston says the lullaby of the wind whistling through the mountain pines at night is the greatest sleeping tonic offered by nature. Although miles from the nearest village, many communities can be seen with the naked eye from the cabin. Its location is ideal, its view magnificent.

A steep, newly cut path through the woods leads from Mountain View, the mountain farm which Mr. Marston transformed into a delightful year-round home to Hurricane Cabin.

Mr. Marston came to Lyndeboro on a hunting expedition in 1933 and spent several weeks at the old Hadley house. Lyndeboro mountain life was so impressed with the beautiful country that he decided to become a resident of the region which abounds in beautiful homes, bushy hills, pines and rolling mountain fields. He purchased the former Frank Cummings farm.

What Mr. Marston has done to reclaim a large slice of Pinnacle mountain land is an answer to why officials of the Monadnock Region association are encouraging the sale of old farm property to city residents who seek seclusion and comfort in the many towns of southern New Hampshire.

Mr. Marston's Lyndeboro enterprise is an outstanding example of genuine devotion for nature's many opportunities and a really great love for the rugged hills rich in the tradition of centuries of early American life. The September hurricane was indeed an ill wind, but out of it has sprung Hurricane Cabin which will lend its strength to the sturdy environment of the ancient mountain.

On the night before the Fourth at Hurricane Cabin Mr. Marston entertained a group of friends with colored pictures of familiar New Hampshire scenes in summer, spring, winter and fall. Also shown were reels of Freedom, N. H., old home day parade, scenes from Cape Cod and pictures of Scotland taken by Mr. Marston on a trip through Europe.

LIONS OFFICERS INSTALLED

At an installation ceremony held last evening at Seller's Ten Acres in Wayland District Governor Thompson of Melrose installed the officers of the Winchester Lions' Club to serve for the ensuing year.

A banquet preceded the installation and the outgoing officers of the club were presented with suitable gifts. Following are the officers installed:

President, Leo Garvey
1st Vice President, Chris Powers
2nd Vice President, Robert Dauphinais
Secretary, M. Paul
Treasurer, Thomas Woods
Tail Waiter, George Prescott
Lion Tamer, G. Kenneth White

In the same period the value of imports of merchandise entered by the Massachusetts Customs District increased 26 per cent and the value of exports increased 34 per cent over the total of the first four months a year ago.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Ten members were absent from the meeting of July 11, one of whom has already made up for his absence. At this time it is pertinent remind those members on vacation out of town and remote from Rotary Club meetings that they should request leaves of absence, which will be readily granted.

Club members are freely expressing their sympathy for Mrs. Ella Sanborn, wife of Dr. Edmund Sanborn, who is at the Winchester Hospital recovering from a severe fracture which resulted from a fall at her home.

Charlie Murphy is relaxing in Maine for a few weeks; we have notice that he has recently attended a meeting of the Biddeford-Saco club, Charlie rates 100 per cent in attendance.

We had the very great pleasure today of greeting our former member and past president, Harry E. Damon, Jr. In a few weeks we expect that he will join the club once more, which means that Rotary can again claim the services of a willing and efficient worker.

This being our first meeting of the new year, the after-noon period was devoted to various initiatory ceremonies. Immediate past president Nicholas B. Fitzgerald surrendered the bell and gavel to incoming President George R. Carter and both officials spoke appreciatively of the honors received by them from the club. Also Past president Ralph B. Bonnell was exonerated with two star medals.

Badges which he took occasion to present, one to Harry Damon and one to Nick Fitzgerald as he eloquently expressed to these men the sincere thanks of our members for faithful services rendered during the preceding year. Both men responded fervently with words of gratitude for the honor and for the co-operation enjoyed from members of the club. This is the first instance in which the club has been served by more than one President in a single year.

The annual reports of the treasurer and of the secretary of the club were submitted and read before this evening. These reports showed evidence of much activity during the year as well as a satisfactory condition of the finances; they were unanimously accepted.

A meeting of the Board of Directors was held at the close of the regular meeting.

We are in receipt of the first of his monthly letters from our recently elected District Governor, Francis J. Fitzgerald.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the New England Sanatorium in Middlesex Fells at 12:30 p. m. on Thursday, July 18.

Percentage of attendance June 27, 94.87 per cent.

MARCHESI GETS BUILDING PERMIT

violation of the zoning by-law, and that the petitioners were entitled to a Writ of Mandamus preventing the issuance of a building permit to him.

In effect the petitioners for the writ rested their case upon the damage done their property in lowered rentals because of the operation of the alleys, and alleys and other involved legal ramifications of the full disposition of the case by the full bench hinged upon this contention.

In reaching its decision the court found that Section 9 of Winchester's Zoning By-Law is entirely consistent with the Statutes providing for such zoning, except insofar as it provides that no buildings shall be erected in zones that are "harmful to property" in a purely economic sense.

The court ruled, "the 'avoided purpose' of zoning legislation is the protection of health, safety, convenience, morals or welfare" of the community. It is not designed for the preservation of the economic value of property, except insofar as that and is served by making the community a safe and healthy place in which to live."

The court further ruled that the provision of the Winchester zoning by-law for appeal to the Board of Appeal by property owners who believe themselves injured by the issuance of a building permit is void, as purporting to confer upon the board a greater jurisdiction than that provided by Section 30 of the Statutes, which provides for no appeal from the action of the Building Commissioner to the Board of Appeals other than by one aggrieved because of his inability to obtain a permit from any administrative officer.

Accordingly the court found that the petition for a Writ of Mandamus to compel Building Commissioner Donnelly to revoke the permit or permit is void.

OBSERVED 59TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Murrinus Neergaard of 25 Montvale road, East Woburn, who observed their 59th wedding anniversary on Wednesday of this week are the parents of Mrs. Stanley Lawson of this town.

Besides Mrs. Lawson the well known Woburn couple have two sons and two daughters, all of whom are residents of that city. No formal observance of the anniversary was planned but a pleasant family party was held at the Neergaard residence Wednesday evening, and during the day many calls and expressions of congratulation were received.

Mr. Neergaard is 82 and his wife, 79. Both are in good health and active in affairs of the Danish Brotherhood and Sisterhood. Mr. Neergaard was for many years before his retirement in the employ of the Barker Lumber Company in Woburn.

FRENCH PORTS NOW ARE THREATS TO ENGLAND

By leaving all French ports in hostile hands, the armistice between France and Germany, according to preliminary reports, made easier Germany's battle for Great Britain. The majority of French seaports stand menacingly close to England, points out a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. Of the 24 leading ports, 12 are ranged along the English Channel. Nine others are situated along France's Atlantic Coast. Only three are on the Mediterranean, although one of them, Marseille, has become the greatest in France by virtue of its traffic with African and eastern colonies.

German Reparations Improved French Ports

Ironically enough, many of the modern facilities which enable these ports to handle extensive international traffic were built and paid for by Germany. German reparations from the last war supplied, for example, floating cranes at Dunkerque, a dredger at Nantes, floating docks at Bordeaux and Le Havre. Special French efforts in recent years to handle imports of oil have supplied strategic ports with pipelines, storage tanks, and even with refineries, the latter in such convenient spots as Dunkerque, Rouen, and Le Havre.

The preponderance of ports on the channel coast reflects France's close communications with Great Britain, her best foreign customer and second largest source of supplies outside of the colonies. Dunkerque, Calais and Boulogne are clustered on the bulge of French coast that is little more than 30 miles from England. In addition to these chief ferry ports, with shuttle service to British points, the Channel ports of France include those leading terminals for transatlantic shipping. Le Havre and Cherbourg, one of which has been the threshold to France for most American visitors. The river port of Caen and Rouen (the port of Paris) are also terminals for Channel and Atlantic shipping. Between the more prominent shipping points lie rows of smaller ports, including Dieppe, Fecamp, St. Brice, St. Malo, and others, with facilities for handling international as well as coastwise traffic. Even smaller ports are equipped for fishing or resort industries.

The less numerous ports on France's westward-facing Atlantic coast include Bordeaux on the Garonne River, Nantes and St. Nazaire on the Loire, and La Rochelle. From the St. Nazaire shipyards, the Normandie was launched. Although they have little commercial shipping, their naval function gives importance to Brest, Lorient, Rochefort, and Toulon.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

In the monthly magazine "Our Message" there is quoted from "The Little Evangelist" an article which reminds us of the unconscious influence which our lives have upon the lives of those around us. It is headed:

"No, Thank You"

"A young man who had inherited a strong passion for liquor said: 'One evening not long ago at a banquet where wine was served, I came very near to breaking my pledge. The smell of wine was so tempting that I could hardly resist. But just as I was about to yield, I heard a young lady say, "No, thank you." This gave me courage. I watched her all the evening and said to myself, "If she drinks I will." I was hoping yet fearing that she would, but as often as she was asked, she refused, and so, unconsciously to herself she pulled me through.'

Christian, walk carefully. You are not alone compassed about by the loved ones home in Heaven, but you are watched by the tempted, exposed sons of earth."

MILLIONAIRES BEAT DOHERTY CLUB

The Winchester Millionaires won a 5-3 victory over the Doherty Club of Everett, formerly the Roche Club, Wednesday evening on Leonard Field with the veteran, Bob Lee, on the firing line.

"Albie" MacDonald's home run in the second with two aboard gave the Money-men a good start, and after the visitors had tied the score in the fourth, the locals came back in the next frame to tally twice for the hall game. A great throw by "Red" Noble was the holding feature, though Joe McKee and Saunders combined for an unusual right field-to-first base double play. The summary:

STONEHAM MERCHANTS BEAT CUBS

The Stoneham Merchants proved too good for the Winchester Cubs on Leonard Field Tuesday evening, winning from the local team, 6-2, behind the effective pitching of the converted first sacker, "Lefty" Buono.

The visitors fell on "Al" DiMino in the 6th, and the besotted local pitcher was relieved by Peter Provino. "Tony" DeTeo got two of the four hits secured by the Cubs. The summary:

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Thursday, July 11, after the morning circle, the girls enjoyed singing in the cabin. Among the songs sung was "The Old Mill Stream." When it was acted out no particular one could be selected as they all did well.

Outdoors the girls made motions for "Here We Go Round the Mountain." The groups having the most original motions were first, Barbara Donaghy with Jane Ford and second, Virginia Randall with Norma Farrar. The scouts were divided into groups of four for a scavenger hunt. In this they were to find things in nature beginning with each letter of the alphabet. The members of the winning team were Lillian McGrail, Shirley Zirkel, Shirley Snyder and Shirley Marchant with a score of 22.

To end the rest period and for the beginning of crafts we were entertained by the soloist Norma Farrar who sang three familiar tunes. Camp was closed by a folk dance "Jenny Cuck Corn" and the good night circle. Tuesday camp opened with a goodly number present but we wish every scout in Winchester could come and enjoy the good times with the rest. Today Miss Ruth Graves arrived from Marshfield to assist for the season. The camp was divided into three different units. The children 10 or under with Miss Graves, those 11 with Miss Thompson and those 12 or over with Miss Gregg. Singing of camp songs was enjoyed by all in the cabins. A prize of 10 cents was awarded to the girls' group of girls who learned the words to the new song "Findlandia." The winners chosen were Suzanne Neley, Anne Harris, Betty Engle, Ann Abree, Norma Farrar volunteered for the whistling solo. The two girls chosen as best in acting out the "Old Mill Stream" were Ann Abree and Nancy Woodward.

After locating a camp spot for each unit we met to play volleyball. The captains of the teams were Arlene Henry for the Blue team and Shirley Fellow for the Red team. Again the Blue team won with a score of 21 to 10. The players on the Blue team were Ruth Ann Fevold, Anne Harris, Ann Abree, Nancy Jamison, Lillian McGrail, Virginia Walters, Arlene Henry, Ellen Kenerson, Shirley Zirkel and Shirley Marchant.

The girls who wished archery were with Miss Thompson while those playing horseshoes went with Miss Gregg and Miss Graves, Shirley Marchant won the archery tournament by a score of 15. The horseshoe tournament winners were Suzanne Neley, Shirley Fellow, Nancy Jamison and Ruth Ann Fevold with a score of 21 to 17.

After lunch and rest the scouts divided into groups of four. Each group chose two nursery rhymes which they would pantomime. The group having the best acting did the "Old Woman in the Shoe." In this group were Norma Farrar, Nancy Woodward, Ann Barker and Ruth Ann Fevold. The next best were Lillian McGrail, Shirley Marchant, Barbara Nelson and Shirley Zirkel acting "The Crooked Man." Coming in third place were two groups, Virginia Walters, Barbara Nelson, Ellen Kenerson and Shirley Zirkel, and Ford and Nancy Reynolds doing "Little Miss Muffet" and Shirley Fellow, Nancy Jamison, Arlene Henry and Ellen Kenerson doing "Little Bo Peep." The children went anxiously to their crafts. Camp ended for the day by songs and dances and the good night circle.

On Wednesday, after morning circle, the girls assembled in the cabin for singing. The new song "Ash Grove" was taught and a prize was awarded to Ellen Kenerson for quick memorization of the words. The campers were divided into five committees for the usual Wednesday cook-out. We all wish more scouts could have been here to enjoy the juicy and delicious hamburgers cooked by the cooking committee. They sure did taste like more. The scouts then formed a line for the plunk ducking contest. Many of the girls were able to retrieve a plum on the first attempt. The campers were then to start lunch. Those not on the fire committee, food committee, or cooking committee amused themselves with volleyball and archery. In the eventful cook out we were assisted by Mrs. Smith of the camp committee.

A song recognition contest was held after rest period. The first place winners were Nancy Reynolds and Barbara Nelson and second place girls were Shirley Fellow, Jane Ford and Arlene Henry.

Next we moved into our greatly loved craft work. Many have finished some beautiful Korolin rings. Any scout who hasn't more scouts will have plenty of opportunity to dress up your digits this season. After kapers camp was closed by the good night circle.

MILLIONAIRES PLAY WOBURN SINCLAIRS

Manager Paul Quidey of the Winchester Millionaires has booked the Sinclair Club of Woburn as the baseball attraction for Leonard Field next Wednesday evening.

The Sinclairs are reputed to have one of the grandest teams playing ball in Woburn this season, and with the natural rivalry that always exists between clubs from the neighboring city and county and interesting game should result.

On paper at least the Money-men are not as strong as a year ago, and they will need good pitching and plenty of hustle to set back the Sinclairs. Local fans always turn out to see a Woburn nine play ball and a good crowd is expected next Wednesday. The game is called for 4:15.

WINCHESTER LOST OLD COLONY MATCH

Newton edged the Winchester Tennis Association in an Old Colony League tennis match last Saturday afternoon at Palmer street 4-3. "Al" Pennell was the only local player to win in singles. The summary:

Singles
P. Rich (N) defeated H. Gamgo, 6-0, 6-0.

SONS OF ITALY BEAT THE MARINES

The Sons of Italy team of the Winchester Soft Ball League won a 10 inning game from the U. S. Marines' team at the Wakefield Rifle Range, Wednesday evening, 15 to 7.

The Marines had a 7 to 6 advantage going into the seventh and supposedly last inning, but a single by Tony Chelaflo with two out and a mate on base tied up the game. From then until the tenth the teams battled on even terms, but in the final inning the Sons of Italy found the range of the Marine pitching and drove over eight runs to put the game in the Corbi, Prongillo and Muraeco pitched for the Sons whose batting stars were Chelaflo and Manager Tofari.

Just as the game ended "colors" was sounded as the camp flag was lowered, the Marines standing at "at salute" for the impressive ceremony.

TELEPHONE NUMBER 0029

With the advent of the vacation season and the consequent drop in the size of the weekly docket for meetings of the Board of Selectmen, the town fathers might well give some attention to the traffic lights in the center, particularly with regard to inequality of timing. Something should be done to stop south-bound traffic going through the center on Main street so that east and west-bound cars may at least have all of the short time allotted them in their effort to get across the tracks on a green light. As things are now, if your car is no nearer the center than Winchester place you cannot get across the tracks on one green light, which is aggravating when you have been sitting in your hot car there all day. Perhaps during this most summer watching the endless stream of traffic Medford and Woburn bound. The east and west-bound lights are very different, but part of the trouble is undoubtedly the fact that south-bound cars on Main street keep coming at the green light changes to amber. Sunday evening, watching at Hevey's corner, we saw as many as seven cars continue across the square after the north-bound light had come to a full stop at the corner of Main and Mt. Vernon streets. Naturally cars crossing the tracks from Mt. Vernon street to Church street cannot go until these cars get by, and this delay further reduces the short time given them by the lights at best. Just what the solution is we are not prepared to say. Perhaps turning the lights so that those controlling south-bound traffic change a bit more quickly than those for cars heading north would do the trick. At all events the cars going from east to west ought to have all of the short time given them by the lights, and in the Star's opinion, a little more. Another driving stunt that ought to be considered is cutting around the gate-tenders' shanty to go north, south, east or west when any particular lane happens to be stopped by a red light. Then there are the drivers who whiz around McCormack's corner to the danger of pedestrians trying to get across Church street alive either from the pharmacy or the Common. There are probably other traffic troubles that the lights have caused, either directly or indirectly, but these will do for a starter!

HELP AMERICAN DEFENSES

To the Editor of the Star:

Why is it that the example of Gloucester, under the leadership of Natalie Hayes Hammond, who is organizing every unit in that city, is followed by the other cities and towns in the Commonwealth?

Every intelligent person knows what happened to France and what is happening to England because of lack of preparedness. It is my opinion that every city and town in the Commonwealth, under proper leadership, will find thousands of willing workers to co-operate in every useful field and activity and to help America's defense. Every day of sabotage in different sections of the country. We have right here in our midst the Navy Yard; Fore River Ship Yard; Hingham Naval and Ammunition Depots and the Water Arsenal not counting the number of machine shops engaged in the manufacture of necessary materials and with a valuable coast line there is no reason why the people of Massachusetts should not organize 100 per cent to meet any emergency.

I wrote a letter to Governor Saltonstall some time ago asking him to call a meeting of the Mayors of the cities and Selectmen of the towns calling for this kind of effort and I am confident when he returns from his vacation in a few days he will take this matter up. In the meantime there is no reason why every city and town in Massachusetts or its initiative should not do what Natalie Hayes Hammond is doing in Gloucester.

Let us be Minute Men and Women — Not Munch Men and Women — John F. Fitzgerald, Commissioner Boston Port Authority

SOCRATES SAYS—

A defensive speech: "We have spent much more on national defense these seven years than was spent the seven years previous to 1932."

The answer is that Germany had not announced its plans previous to 1932, but President Roosevelt had shown all about it from the beginning. Hitler was not in power until 1933.

WILLIE? WE WILL!

The United States has a "brand new" President and "the people" will fill that order with Wendell Willkie on Nov. 5, 1940. Government of People was interpreted by music at the Republic Convention by the songs: "He Off to Work We Go" and "God Save America."

What Have You of Value?

Every house contains valuables. They may be wills or insurance papers or treasured souvenirs. There is an appalling loss of such material every year.

How silly it is to use the pantry shelf or bottom bureau drawer at home when you may rent a safe deposit box in our fire-proof, burglar-proof safe deposit vaults for $5.00 a year up.

Gather together your important papers. Put them into a box and have one care off your mind.

FRENCH POSSESSIONS SCATTERED THROUGHOUT THE WORLD

How big is the French colonial empire, and where is it? A special war bulletin from the National Geographic Society summarizes the far-flung territories which will figure in the peace terms imposed upon France.

France's foreign domain is second only to that of Great Britain, says the bulletin. Like the British Empire, although little more than one-third the area of that colossal, French colonies and dependencies are scattered about the world's continents and most of its seas.

France itself occupies an area of more than 200,000 square miles; abroad the French flag flies over an empire more than 20 times the size of the mother country, including almost 65,000,000 people of many races, creeds, and cultures. The administration of the colonies has been directed by the Ministry of Colonies.

To France—short of many raw materials at home—her overseas possessions have presented a tremendous reservoir of economic wealth, much of it still untapped, as well as markets in which to sell French factory-made goods.

The roll call of French possessions and dependencies around the globe reads like the index to a gazetteer. In north, central, and west Africa are Algeria, Morocco, and Tunisia (sources of wine, minerals, animal products, grains and other farm goods), French Equatorial Africa, Senegal, French Guinea, the Ivory Coast, Dahomey, French Sudan, Mauritania, Niger, and Dakar (producing timber and wood products, oils and oil seeds, ivory, gold and other metals, fruits, ground-nuts, cocoa, coffee, gum and cotton). French Somaliland is a small patch of land on the east coast of Africa which holds Djibouti the best port for Italy's Ethiopian hinterland.

In northern South America is rich, sparsely developed French Guiana. Such oriental tongue twisters as Pondicherry, Karikal, Chandernagor, and Yanaon are French specks on the map of India. French Indo-China, with its teeming population, has especially rich and varied raw material resources, and exports rice, rubber, fish, coal, cattle and hides, corn, pepper, zinc, and tin are.

To all these far-flung continental regions must also be added a French island empire that dots open water from Corsica in the Mediterranean to New Caledonia, the Loyalty Islands, the New Hebrides (shared with Great Britain), the Marquesas, Tuamotu, Society, and Toluait Islands in the South Pacific, to St. Pierre and Miquelon in the North Atlantic and sugar-producing Martinique, Guadeloupe, and a few smaller islands in the Caribbean.

Madagascar, Fourth Largest Island

Madagascar, off the coast of south-east Africa, is something more than an ocean "dot" of French territory. Bigger than France itself, and the world's fourth largest island, it covers an area of some 240,000 square miles, with more than three million inhabitants. Madagascar exports coffee, hides, canned meats, vanilla, sugar, spices, vegetable fibers, and minerals. Within a few hundred miles of Madagascar are Reunion and a few other scattered French islands.

Kellaway Plan for Elimination of Winchester Grade Crossing

Since many people have come to Winchester in recent years who are unfamiliar with the much-talked-of Kellaway Plan for the elimination of the dangerous and annoying railroad crossing in our center, and through the recent blocking of this crossing to the further endangering of our West Side through the inability of fire apparatus reaching the section, we have been asked to again present to our readers a facsimile of the plan. To read the plan one should picture himself standing at the south end of the Railroad Station and looking north. Church Street, it will be seen, continues north to a junction with Main Street, where both main arteries turn east and cross the tracks by a bridge. On the opposite side of the tracks, approaching Winchester via Main Street, traffic is carried through Washington Street to the junction of Mt. Vernon Street at the Town Hall, where through traffic continues over the new street across the river and at the rear of the fire station. None of the present streets are closed and shoppers would take their accustomed routes. The present crossing would be closed with a fence and shrubs, and a subway for foot travel provided.

Maybe the array of classy professional talent featured at the recent regatta has nothing to do with it, but the youngsters who go in for swimming around the Boat Club have been showing a surprising amount of ability of late. In fact rivalry has become so keen that a special swimming meet will be staged next Sunday afternoon, July 21, at 3:30 to decide just who are the Johnny Weissmuller and Eleanor Holm of Winchester.

The program offers ample opportunity to all contestants to shine at their particular forte. It includes 50-yard freestyle, 25-yard breast stroke, and 25-yard back stroke as well as plunge and dive events for boys 14 years and over; 25-yard free style and distance plunge for boys under 14; 25-yard free style, 25-yard back stroke and dive for girls 14 and over; and 25-yard free style and distance plunge for girls under 14. Just to round out the meet and to embarrass the elders, there will be a 100-yard relay race between junior and senior members. Youngsters who haven't already signed up for one or more events are urged to do so at once. See Bill Croughwell, Jr. or Jimmy Fitch.

Members who can take their water sports or leave them alone might like to know that there are hot tennis and ping pong tournaments now in progress. There are plenty of top notch racket wielders in the matches in case you take your game seriously, but there are also plenty of dubs, if you'd just like to bobble the ball a bit.

Snipe sailors had to take pot luck with the winds last week-end and most of the time the cupboard was mighty bare. Saturday's race was a drifting and dreaming affair with young George Wisswell's "By George" showing the best speed under zephyr power. Sunday morning was even less draughtily although Ted Barclay in "Tea Bess" came within 100 yards of finishing the first lap within the 45 minute time limit. As if to square matters, however, a strong south gust nipped the boats along in fancy style during the afternoon race-off and eased the "Tea Bess" home in a well-earned first position.

Sacred Spot in Switzerland

One of the interesting spots in the realm of the lake of Lucerne, Switzerland, is Soolisberg. A cable railway climbs from Troch to this resort village. Immediately below is the meadow of the Bull, the most sacred spot on Swiss soil. Here, in the night from November 7 to 8, 1307, the three confederates, Walter Furst of Attinghausen, in Uri, Werner Stauffacher of Schwyz, and Arnold Muehlebach of Lucerne, were slain. They are accompanied by ten faithful followers, assembled and in the name of their respective cantons swore to drive out the Austrian oppressors.

Lightning Through Openings

There is no scientific knowledge to support the general belief that lightning strikes buildings usually comes in through open doors and windows. Simpson's Nuggets of Knowledge says that lightning might have a tendency to follow a draft only when the air stream is filled with smoke or vapor, thus creating a better conductor of electricity than the surrounding atmosphere. Electricity generated in the clouds follows the line of least resistance to the earth and would not turn from its normal course to run horizontally merely because a door or window was open.

FIRE DESTROYED BARN

Horses and Pigs Burned in Three-Alarm Blaze

A three alarm fire, the first in Winchester for some time, destroyed the big barn on the farm of John H. Irwin at 29 Ridge street, yesterday afternoon, burning two horses and nine or ten pigs to death as well as ruining some 25 tons of hay which had been stored in the structure. The damage was estimated at from $8000 to $8500, at least partially covered by insurance.

What caused the fire is not known. The Irwins were busy in the wash house at the rear of the barn in the early afternoon when a young boy ran in excitedly and informed them that the barn was afire. Mr. Irwin sent in a telephone alarm which was received at the Central Station at 2:02, and apparatus was on its way through the center before the first stroke of Box 144 sounded.

Three minutes after the first alarm Box 144 was pulled from the street at Dunster lane, the first alarm having been called at the station. At 2:15 Fire Chief David H. DeConey sent in a call for Engine 1, the box again being sent in at Headquarters, Arlington street in its ladder 2 and Engine 2, and finally for Engine 3, which were laid, three by the local firemen and one by the Arlington crews.

When the first of the local apparatus came in, the fire was well under way. It had gotten too great a headway to be controlled, and the men were chiefly concerned by the danger to the nearby wash house and the farm dwelling. Veteran firemen expressed the opinion that only a favoring wind might have prevented the spread of structures from burning. As it was a peak of the wash house went on fire but was put out without much damage.

Every effort was made to save the animals in the barn, but without avail. The Irwins succeeded in getting two horses out of the burning structure, but the other two horses were burned to death with a number of pigs in the basement of the building. The heat from the burning hay and the intense heat of the afternoon made the lot of the firemen an unenviable one.

By 5 o'clock the afternoon little was standing of the barn save a few charred timbers. The structure was well built and did not fall in during the fire. Fireman Edward J. DeConey, a narrow escape from serious injury or worse when a falling beam crashed by him as he sheltered himself under some sound timber in the barn. Mr. DeConey sustained a badly lacerated knee while hauling horses over the rocky ground near the barn and Lt. Edward J. DeConey, father of his instep, Capt. George Osborne was knocked into a ditch full of water while working one of the lines.

It was after 5 o'clock when the last of the apparatus returned from the fire and an hour later when Chief DeConey, and the last of the men left the scene. The men returning to their homes were black with soot and grimed, soaked with sweat and generally showed the effects of their six hour battle with the flames.

The hay with which the barn was filled continued to burn after the building was razed and a large fire forked over by the firemen who labored with this heavy work after their fire-fighting was ended.

As usual motorists hampered the work of the firemen considerably and Engine 1 literally had to cut its way through blocked traffic to the fire. Police Chief William H. Rogers was on hand to direct the traffic work of his officers and most of the cars parked on both sides of the street near the fire were tagged, including the machines of Capt. H. H. DeConey, who left his cars at considerable distances from the fire because of the press of traffic.

At 4:55 while most of the apparatus was at High street Box 54 came in for a brisk brush fire in Cemetery land, Engine 1 responding from headquarters with Engine 2 and Engine 3 from Ridge street and Arlington Engine 4. Woburn Engine 1 covered in at local headquarters, coming down at the time of the fire, the alarm and again when Box 54 came in.

Later at 6:20 a resident of Folsdale close appealed to the Central Station to get into the fire. Fireman Everett Kimball and H. DeConey going up on the Fire Alarm car to her assistance.

SIXTH MILESTONE

One of Winchester's oldest residents, Mrs. Henrietta Hills, is 86 years old today, and is celebrating her birthday at her home, 151 Highland avenue, with her friends and members of her family; her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin W. Hills, with whom she makes her home, her daughter, Mrs. Iva M. Ford, also of this town; her granddaughter, Mrs. E. J. Ford, and her grandson, and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Horace H. Ford of Kenwin road.

Mrs. Hills is in good health and spirit, maintaining a cheerful outlook that wins her many friends. She enjoys reading, especially the newspapers, and busying herself with household duties. She receives the sincere birthday congratulations and best wishes.

WINCHESTER POPULATION UP 2000

Middlesex County census returns for the population canvass made in April are now complete. Winchester in 1930 was listed with a population of 12,719. The new census gives our town 14,892.

BAD ACCIDENT ON FOREST STREET

Car Wrecked and Several Injured as Driver Dozed

The five occupants of a Ford sedan were injured and the machine was wrecked shortly before 4 o'clock last Sunday afternoon when the operator, Carl W. Wood of 15 Cedar street, fell asleep at the wheel while driving south on Forest street in front of the residence of Mr. William H. Redford.

As Wood dozed off the car got out of control and left the road, striking a pole in front of the Redford home and breaking it off about 12 feet above the ground. The car was badly wrecked and its occupants injured, all more or less severely.

Riding on the front seat with the driver were Olive Morrison, 19, 12 Marie avenue, Everett, who sustained abrasions to both legs and to her left ankle; and Mrs. Ann Wood of 15 Cedar street, Everett, who was badly cut about the face and head. On the rear seat were Arthur E. Wood, Sr. of 15 Cedar street, Everett, who sustained a lacerated nose, and his wife, Grace, who received a dislocated right elbow and had her left leg broken in two places. Wood's car struck a pole in front of the Redford home and broke it off about 12 feet above the ground. The car was badly wrecked and its occupants injured, all more or less severely.

MRS. MAY WILLIS FRIEND

Mrs. May Willis Friend, wife of Alfred W. Friend of 45 Wildwood street, died Sunday, July 21, at her home after a long period of failing health.

Mrs. Friend was the daughter of J. D. K. and Ellen (Cummings) Willis. She was born May 1, 1874, in Boston, one of eight children, receiving her education in the Boston public schools and at Wellesley College. For nearly 20 years she was a member of the First Baptist Church in Boston, coming to Winchester in 1924.

During her residence in this town Mrs. Friend gave generously of her time and energy to further community interest in activities of a civic and religious nature, her strength of character, pleasant manner and willingness to serve winning her the esteem of her associates and many friends. She was a member of the First Baptist Church and was actively identified with the Women's Christian Temperance Union, serving for many years as president in Winchester.

Impaired health caused her retirement from many activities in the past few years, but to the time of her death she carried on the duties of president of the W. C. T. U., providing copy for the newspapers while she was seeking to regain her health in Florida during the past winter.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Friend is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Putnam (Cliff) of East Milton, Mrs. J. B. Miller of Belmont, Mrs. E. S. Ireland of Margate City, N. J.; and by two brothers, Arthur Willis and Harold Willis, both of Brookline. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the late residence with Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in Winwood Cemetery.

FRANKLIN EDWARDS GREGORY

Franklin Edwards Gregory, founder and president of Gregory & Reed Bank, died Wednesday, July 24, at his home, 221 Forest street.

Mr. Gregory, who was widely known as a shoe salesman in all parts of the country, was in his 64th year. He was the son of William and Martha (Beet) Gregory, was born in Cambridge and educated in Framingham. He had been for 22 years a resident of Winchester and was active in the affairs of the Winchester Country Club and the local Y. M. C. A., and Oyster Harbor Club.

Mr. Gregory is survived by his wife, Mrs. Maria Davis Gregory, by four daughters, Mrs. John Gregory, Mrs. William Phillips, N. Y.; Mrs. Lindsay H. Rice of Winchester; and by two sons, Henry Davis Gregory of Honolulu, Hawaii, and Franklin E. Gregory, Jr., of Framingham.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 3:30 at Bilevel Chapel, Mr. Auburn C. Gregory, officiating. Interment will be in the family lot in Framingham Cemetery.

SALARY COMMITTEE STARTS WORK

The Committee on Survey of Salaries, provided for at the last town meeting to "re-examine the report of the Committee appointed to investigate the inequalities of salaries dated June 11, 1934," and to conduct a survey of town salaries for the purpose of ascertaining if any inequalities now exist, has commenced its task.

A most exhaustive questionnaire is being distributed to be filled out by all officers and employees coming within the scope of the committee's jurisdiction for the purpose of providing the committee with necessary data on which to base their study of the problem.

The committee is required by the vote to make a report to the town, which shall include a statement of the total compensation paid to any employee or officer who receives compensation in more than one capacity.

School administrative officers and teachers, the town librarian and members of the Police and Fire Departments are not including in the committee's investigation.

WILLIAMS-SHAW

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Shaw of Webster, to Robert Brock Williams, son of Mrs. Stilian Williams of Hingham, was celebrated at the late Mr. Williams' home, Saturday afternoon, July 20, at 4 o'clock at the First Congregational Church in Webster. The Rev. Hubert A. Allen of Webster performed the ceremony and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

With a gown of white Calais lace the bride wore a long tulle veil caught up by jetties, to match her bouquet of Easter lilies and orchids. Miss Marian Louise Shaw, her sister, acted as maid of honor, wearing a gown of starlight yellow chiffon. The bridesmaids were of Symphonie blue and they carried bouquets of dahlias and yellow gladioli, to match their coronets. The bridesmaids were Miss Virginia and Miss Sally Shaw, sisters of the bride, and Miss Williams of Hingham, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Helen Baker of New York.

Stillman Pierce Williams of Chatham, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Williams, and the ushers were Milton S. Shaw of Providence, and Albert E. Shaw, Jr. of Webster, the bride's brothers. The groomsmen were William C. Williams of Cambridge and A. Morrison Dow, Jr., of Braintree.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Shaw. The bride wore a blue lace gown and a corsage of pansies. Mrs. Williams, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue chiffon gown with white hat and a white rose corsage.

Mrs. Williams and her bride will make their home at 21 Chaucery street, Boston. The bride is a graduate from Pembroke College of Brown University and the Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School. Mr. Williams is a student at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

KING-HAROLD

On Sunday afternoon, July 21, Miss Ellen A. Harold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harold of Nelson street, was married to Mr. Frank W. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. David King of High street, Woburn, at 4 o'clock ceremony performed in St. Mary's church by the Rev. Francis Sullivan. Mrs. Florence Fisher Reed, St. Mary's organist, played the bridal music.

The wedding was attended by Mrs. Mary Donahue of Woburn, and Andrew Harold of this town was Mr. King's best man.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white with long sleeves and a full rounded train. Her tulle veil was finger-tip length and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses and baby's breath. She wore a dress of shell pink mouseline du poise, having a wide skirt and short puffed sleeves. Her large white hat had a crown to match the style of her dress and she carried babies' breath with premier roses.

INTERESTING YOUNG VISITOR

Mrs. Herbert L. Darling of Madison avenue west, entertained on Sunday last, Mulshipman Ronald B. Hutchinson, who arrived in Boston from New York City on Saturday afternoon. Most of the day was spent in a trip to Bald Peak Colony Club, N. H., to see Brad Darling, the son of Mr. Hutchinson, who is the son of Comdr. Myron W. Hutchinson, who is at present in charge of a division of destroyers in Asiatic waters. Mrs. Hutchinson, daughter of the late Rear Admiral Wm. Baxter, with her two younger sons is living somewhere in China, moving about as far as to be as near to her husband as possible. Mulshipman Hutchinson is entering his final year at the Naval Academy and says that his class will probably be graduated in February instead of June, in line with the speeding up of the naval defense program.

He plans to visit Winchester again early in September, during his month's leave.

FIREMEN CALLED BACK TO IRVINS

Smouldering embers buried deep in the debris of the burned barn called the firemen and apparatus back to the Irwin farm on Ridge street at 11:37 last night when a still alarm was telephoned in to the Central Station.

Engine 4 and Engine 3 responded with their crews and Chief David H. DeConey at 11:40, and the fire was out before the men got back to their quarters, after making sure everything was all right.

Mrs. John C. Meyer of Sheffield road is registered at the Hotel Wentworth, Portsmouth, N. H.

CAMERON BOYS IN THIS COUNTRY FOR DURATION OF WAR

Brookfield, N. H., July 22 (Special to the Star)—Ewen and Fergus Cameron, grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Cameron of 35 Everett avenue, have arrived recently in an eastern Canadian port, to stay in the United States for the duration of the war. The boys, aged 11 and 13 respectively, were among many other child refugees from threatened England on their evacuation ship, whose names, jobs and date of arrival are being withheld in co-operation with the Canadian Defense regulations.

In spite of this protective secrecy which surrounds all crossings in wartime, Ewen and Fergus have an exciting tale to tell of the trip which they were lucky to take, only just escaping the last available berths on the boat. The young travelers were instructed to wear their lifebelts during waking hours, and to keep them on at hand during the night, throughout the unusually long voyage, and not entirely without reason: for the vessel was attacked in mid-ocean by a prowling German submarine, which was finally driven off, after losing one torpedo, that missed its mark by only a few precious yards. The boys were startled in their night sleep, as the vessel was destroyed in their convoy, trying to destroy the enemy craft.

Compared with this experience, four long hours of sleep and occasional heavy weather, which marked the voyage seemed quite insignificant.

The lads were met in Canada by their grandfather, Charles Burnham, and David Burnham, who spent a hectic week in the hot city, expecting the elusive steamship to arrive at any hour. But the courtesy of the Canadian officials and the job as pleasant as possible, and the sight of two tired, but cheerful young men made the work and worry of the summer, trying to destroy the enemy craft.

A long night's drive from the border brought the Cameron boys to their grandfather's summer home, in Brookfield, N. H., where they will spend the summer, before returning to Winchester.

TIPSY DRIVER ARRESTED

Sunday night at 11:30 Patrolmen John E. Hanlon and Edward F. Bowler took into custody the driver of an International truck, owned by the Sorrento Cheese Co. of 143 North Street, Boston. The arrest was made on Church street north of Wildwood street on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor.

At Headquarters the driver gave his name as Joseph Agostino of 30 Edgar avenue, Somerville. He appeared in Woburn Court Monday morning when his case was continued until Aug. 5.

MRS. ELIZABETH F. YEOMAN

Mrs. Elizabeth F. (Sinclair) Yeoman, widow of William P. Yeoman, a former resident of Winchester, where she resided at 12 Chesterford road, passed away Friday, July 12, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur E. Adams, Littleton road, Chelmsford, after a long illness. Besides her daughter, with whom she resided, she is survived by one son, William R. Yeoman of Epping, N. H., and several nieces and nephews. Mrs. Yeoman was born in Kingston, N. H., Feb. 11, 1855, the daughter of John and Ellen (Baker) Sinclair, early Scottish settlers. She was married in Lowell and lived there until she came to reside with her daughter, who was then living in Winchester. While in Winchester she endeared herself to many friends to whom she was affectionately known as "Mother."

Funeral services were held at the home of her daughter in Chelmsford, Monday afternoon, July 15, at 2:30 o'clock and were largely attended by relatives and friends. Rev. John J. Lovell, pastor emeritus of the Central Congregational Church of Chelmsford, officiated. During the service Mrs. Guilford O. Drake sang "Crossing the Bar" and "Sometime We'll Understand" There were many floral tributes.

The bearers were Roy K. Elliott, Frank Tremberth, Clarence A. Bennett and Ralph P. Adams. Interment took place in the family lot in the Edison Cemetery, Lowell, where the committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Lovell. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Funeral Director Horace E. Wile of Saunders Funeral Home.

MRS. ELLA R. GOOD

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella R. Good, wife of Harry Good, widely known proprietor of Good's Stables and Riding School, were held last Saturday afternoon at the late residence, 41 Franklin avenue, West Medford, with Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

Mrs. Good, a former resident of Winchester, died at her home Thursday evening, July 18, after five months' illness. She was born 64 years ago in Old Silverbrook, Penna., and before coming to Winchester made her home in New York, New Jersey and New Hampshire being married while living in New Jersey.

She came to Winchester in 1917 and was for eight years a resident of this town, the family home being on Main street. She was well and favorably known, having been a member and past grand of Victoria Rebekah Lodge, past president of the Eastern Middlesex Noble Grands' Association and an active member of the Evening Branch of the Church of the Epiphany.

Mrs. Good is survived by her husband and by a daughter, Miss Ruth J. Good of West Medford.

Troop 1 Mt. Washington Trip

One of the best hikes of the season was enjoyed by a group of boys from Troop 1, over the last week-end. Leaving Winchester Friday morning the group motored to the Glen House, Pinkham Notch, where the car was parked. After adjusting the packs the hike into the great gulf was started. Following the Osgood path and the Great Gulf Trail the group reached the Great Gulf Shelter late in the afternoon, all in good condition.

After breakfast Saturday, Mt. Washington was climbed by the Wamsutta Trail. Good views were obtained on the way up but after reaching the summit the clouds shut down and a light shower fell. Lunch was eaten at the top of the mountain and then all returned to camp by the same trail as was used on the ascent. One thing of much interest observed in the trail was a sheet of ice on the side of Mt. Clay. It is quite unusual for ice to remain so late in the season.

The return to the car was made after breakfast on Sunday and then all returned to Winchester, arriving late in the afternoon. The group was composed of the following: Scoutmaster Stafford Rogers, Nils Anderson, Thomas Breen, David Cameron, Harold Donahue, Leo Treacy of Troop 1 and Everett Stevens of Troop 7.

Massachusetts now has 351 separate municipalities of which 39 are cities and 312 towns. In 1775 there were 111 municipalities! In 1780 there were 239. The Spanish War monument in Somerville also commemorates the Americans in the Boxer Revolt in China in 1900, being one of the few in America to do so.

CHILDREN'S CRUSADE COMMITTEE

With a most hearty "thank you" to all who helped, the Children's Crusade Committee is happy to announce a total of $98.21 as a result of the recent last minute firecracker campaign.

Because of present unsettled conditions this sum has been deposited as a savings account in the Winchester Trust Company awaiting further developments and also, further contributions which should be sent to the Children's Crusade Committee, Ralph Hatch treasurer.

The generous response to this movement was as surprising as it was gratifying. First, the eagerness of the children to help and their willingness to not merely share, but sometimes to give "all of my firecracker money"; and second, the almost unanimous expression of older thinking people to eliminate the senseless waste and menace of the firecracker and all its associates, except as a municipal demonstration.

Those who fear that this might rob the children of their pleasure should hear some of their wise conclusions. One live aggressive lad of about 10 remarked, "Shucks, I don't mind. Firecrackers are silly. You just blow 'em up and they're gone, and you ain't got nothin'."

Following is a letter from three Winchester children in New Hampshire.

R. F. D. July 4th

Dear Sirs:

We are enclosing a check for the amount of money we would have spent for firecrackers. We are spending the day at our farm. We have had a nice Fourth just the same.

Sincerely yours,

Three names follow, which we designate by initials, R., B., and W.

He throws back his magnificent head—there goes a million.
He lets his hoarse laugh ring out—there goes a billion.

But when he blows smoke rings from his yard-long cigarette—boy, oh boy, the Country's saved.

For the first time in many years we saw a fisherman last week busy casting in the water below the Main street dam. When questioned, he stated that there were hornpouts in the water amidst the empty beer cans. We could not tell him that the beer cans were certainly well in evidence.

Al Marchant, ever Rangely way, has the finest aviary in town. His beautiful estate, with its big fish pond, bird feeders and houses, provides a ideal spot for the myriad feathered friends of his and his family. Unique among his tenants is a family of owls, who are in evidence each night at dusk.

Anyone wishing to give the town's softshells a friendly tip could advise some of the players to be more careful of their language during the playing of the game. They are located not far distant from the playing fields and some of the remarks heard at recent games have been far from pleasing to those occupying them. This is by no means a blanket indictment, but it is intended to be constructive criticism of a situation that needs correcting. Let's keep the game on a high level here!

Chatting with the owner of considerable property along town Main street recently, the Star was told in connection with the Kellaway Plan for the elimination of our grade crossing that if the town contemplates any improvement in that location, the time to act is now. According to our informant, who is in a way to know several plans are being prepared by the town, the plan is to be put into effect as soon as the town's finances are in the wind which if they mature, are bound to raise valuations substantially there.

Two local boys figured recently in an attempted holdup in Melford with guns which they obtained because they were old, outmoded weapons and their previous owners had been careless about their disposal. Still fresh in every one's memory is the unfortunate shooting of another local boy who threatened an officer with a gun which the owner had left in his car through carelessness and in contravention of the law. In both cases the boys would not have been the trouble if they had been the same issue says "The President's statement comes jarringly and hypocritically." General Johnson is a spokesman for the town. He may be biased but neither his statements without realizing what was written. And more and more would probably be said. It is not surprising that a revolt is already under way, that Democrats to whom the principles of Thomas Jefferson mean something more than lip service, who are loyal to those who have sacrificed for them as Farley has sacrificed for Franklin Delano Roosevelt men who are proud of their party that elected Cleveland and Tilden, men of political integrity whose word is their bond, that men like these should speak out without hesitation. And they have this convention, the man who has been elected by an unbossed convention to seek their votes is a man who has a mind and speaks his convictions as they come. Mr. Johnson's political theories go his beliefs are so far from Thomas Jefferson's.

COLOSSAL EXHIBITION OF HITLERISM

To the Editor of the Herald:
Chicago Convention most colossal exhibition of Hitlerism ever seen in this country.
Lewis Parkhurst
Whitefield, N. H.
(Boston Herald, July 20, 1940)

SOCRATES SAYS:

May 26, 1940: "We have built well as a country for over 200 years. Our democracy and freedom we have kept secure."

The answer is that for seven years New Dealers have said that "we grew up on a rock of defense, would not have a plan." (Why the change?)

The President now wants to rely on the men of political integrity and defense in the national emergency. If only he had done this these last five years our "Home Front" would be a front line of defense, would not have been so weakened.

Probably it was wisest not to have given rise statistics when building up the defense of his administration, but such words as, "We have so many airplanes on hand and on order . . . our navy is the largest in the world," simply left America in the dark as it has been for seven long years.

Socrates

not now working for and receiving their patronage from the New Deal, will have unbound faith in him. He will at least have no New Dealers to place in office in return for votes, and he will judge the progress of the nation from a view point entirely separated from any idea of perpetuating himself in history.

AS TO THIS AND THAT

It is difficult to understand how any intelligent man or woman can have taken even the slightest personal interest in observing and considering the political events of the past year without a feeling of moral nausea. Without doubt our politics are conducted on a much higher plane than they were a 100 years ago. "There were giants in those days," to be sure but they were few and they seemed larger than they were in fact because their actions were so strongly in contrast to the actions of the present average in unquestionably higher, and so we may well feel an angry contempt for any man who with an apparently cynical belief in the ignorance and stupidity and consciencelessness of the mass of our citizens does what Franklin Delano Roosevelt has done.

Mr. Roosevelt was born of good stock, he had his education in good schools—he made no exceptional scholastic record but he was taught by good men and must have received some benefit—he associated with men and women of good grade, he has a pleasing personality and has had the loyal service of men and women who believed in him as well as of those who followed him as the head of his nominal party. He has preached righteousness and inveighed against evil, he has proclaimed a New Deal in which truth and fair dealing would be the end goal instead of selfish personal gain, he has posed as a loyal member of a splendid church whose membership may fairly be admitted in general to be outstanding in their principles and conduct as rather superior to the rest of us, he has reiterated his adherence to the theories of government advanced by Thomas Jefferson. He has had all these advantages and he has failed, utterly failed, to meet the obvious standards that they implied.

Above almost everything else these standards are based upon the sound principle that men and women should be the truth, that if men and women fail in this respect, whatever his professions or education or church or family or whatever, he should not be, cannot safely be trusted either publicly or privately. It naturally and inevitably follows that he will be disloyal to men and women who have served him, that he will be ruthlessly and unscrupulously in his dealing with his own ends by underhanded methods and through men who work with him only for their own personal reasons, that if he seems to do any good thing, it will be more or less accidental or incidental to something that he wished.

Mr. Roosevelt says that he yields to a demand that he run again for the Presidency, that he has been drafted, that he has accepted the mandate against his personal preferences. General Hugh Johnson says (see the Boston Herald of July 19) that this is "the most cynically larceneous lie in American political history." The President's statement comes jarringly and hypocritically.

General Johnson is a spokesman for the town. He may be biased but neither his statements without realizing what was written. And more and more would probably be said. It is not surprising that a revolt is already under way, that Democrats to whom the principles of Thomas Jefferson mean something more than lip service, who are loyal to those who have sacrificed for them as Farley has sacrificed for Franklin Delano Roosevelt men who are proud of their party that elected Cleveland and Tilden, men of political integrity whose word is their bond, that men like these should speak out without hesitation. And they have this convention, the man who has been elected by an unbossed convention to seek their votes is a man who has a mind and speaks his convictions as they come. Mr. Johnson's political theories go his beliefs are so far from Thomas Jefferson's.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Thursday, camp opened by the morning circle and a hearty welcome to each new-comer. The girls enjoyed singing inside the cabin. This singing was proceeded by the treasure hunt. When the hunt was over, the girls were running here, leaping there and searching in every spot on the estate. The treasure is found and oh! how the morning water for the watermelon juice deliciousness. What a time the director and assistants had finding the spring. They actually were lost. The account of the hunt is as follows:

1. You are sure to see: Close beside a large pine tree.

2. Is where you come in: Hurry there if you wish to win a will!

3. Is where we play a game: Put note back from whence it came.

4. When you're hot and you're thirsty is dry: Where do all the Girl Scouts fly?

5. Where do we stand all quiet and still: And pledge allegiance with a will!

6. Beneath a rock, cold and still: You'll find a note under the hill.

7. Where there's luck you'll find a clue: You'll tell us what to do.

8. There up by the cabin door: You'll find just one more.

9. Near a spring so cold and still: Beneath it once you'll find a will!

10. Close to the cabin can be found: Something which isn't square or round. Leave it there for all to see: The winners will be you and me.

The winners were 1st, Ann Harris; Patty Woodward, Sally Vincent, Betty Engle and second Ellen Kenerson, Marjorie Ryerson, Patricia Turner.

What Have You of Value?

Every house contains valuables. They may be wills or insurance papers or treasured souvenirs. There is an appalling loss of such material every year.

How silly it is to use the pantry shelf or bottom bureau drawer at home when you may rent a safe deposit box in our fire-proof, burglar-proof safe deposit vaults for $5.00 a year up.

Gather together your important papers. Put them into a box and have one care off your mind.

A. M.

Wednesday testimonial meeting, 7:45 P. M.
Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily 11 A. M. to 5 P. M. Saturday, 11 A. M. until 5 P. M., except Sundays and holidays.

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ,
Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday,
July 28.

The Golden Text is: "O God, my heart is fixed. I will sing and give praise, even with my glory. . . . For thy mercy is great above the heavens, and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds." (Psalms 103:1, 4).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:
"Consider when I say, and the Lord give thee understanding in all things. Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." (1 Timothy 2:2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following: from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. "We cannot build safely on false foundations. Truth makes a new creature, in whom old things pass away and all things are become new.
Passion, selfishness, false opinions, hatred, fear, all unbecomingly yield to spirituality, and the superabundance of being is on the side of God, good." (p. 201).

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Americanism is uppermost in the minds of most citizens today because of the apprehension arising from the European war and the natural interest caused by the coming election. It is wise as well as helpful at such a time to read or at least thumb through some of the carefully prepared books recently published in and concerning America.

On the display table at the Winchester Public Library is a collection of books dealing with the "American Spirit." Among these books the reader will find "Foreign Policy For America" by Charles A. Beard, an argument for a foreign policy which would make us strong in defense but would prevent us from becoming involved in European affairs.

"Isolated America" by Raymond Leslie Buell, a new book in which the author stresses the necessity for America to reconstruct former policies, formulating practical economic and political programs applicable to the bewildering affairs of today. A Baccalaureate address on Americanism was given by President Daniel L. Marsh of Boston University citing seven great American documents including the Mayflower Compact, Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. This address was published under the title of "The American Canon."

After two years of research, partly on the mobilizing experiences of the World War, Harold J. Tohin and Percy Bidwell offer the book "Mobilizing Civilian America," on how the facilities of this country could be best controlled and used in time of warfare.

Donald Edward Keyhoe in his book "M-Day" outlines the Mobilization Day Plan which would be put into immediate operation should America declare war.

Stating present day propaganda measures of European nations, the book "War Propaganda and the United States" by Harold Lavine and James Wechsler was written to help Americans to distinguish between the truth as it is and mere fiction that other nations wish them to believe as facts.

What American Democracy offers to all Americans in their diverse walks of life, from bootblack to banker, that no country under dictatorship can offer its people, is pointed out by Joseph Galloway in his book "What's Democracy to You?"

With material on the Democratic and Republican parties; communism, anarchism, socialism; our foreign policy; co-operatives; on people and companies in our political economy, "The American Stakes" by John Chamberlain may be recommended to those interested in the past, present and future of our country.

In his book "Politics of Democracy," Pendleton Herring traces the history of our American Parties, explaining how and why the government of the parties changed.

Florence Elinwood Allen, judge of a United States Circuit Court of Appeals, gives some practical Americanism by interpreting our Constitution and its meaning to us as today in her new book "This Constitution of Ours."

Three very readable books on American History are "The Heritage of America" by Henry Steele Commager and Allan Nevins made up of 250 readings in American History, from Leif Ericson to Franklin Roosevelt, written almost entirely by men who witnessed the scenes about which they wrote; "A Diplomatic History of American People" by Thomas A. Bailey, a reliable textbook using interesting contemporary material; and "Since Yesterday" by Frederick Lewis Allen a sequel to "Only Yesterday," containing compelling and accurate material on politics and economics during the depression years of the 1930's.

Also on this table are some leaflets for general distribution which were prepared by the Federated Printing Co. of New York. On these are printed The American Pledge and The American Creed which should be in the consciousness of each American citizen.

The American Pledge

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible with Liberty and Justice for all.

The American's Creed

We believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

We therefore believe it is our duty to our Country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its Flag; and to defend it against all enemies.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

In the April number of "Our Message" the official organ of the Massachusetts Woman's Christian Temperance Union, is an encouraging word from Kentucky.

Kentucky Governor Bans Liquor

No liquor is to be served in the Governor's mansion in Kentucky, the nation's greatest whisky-producing state.

This was announced by Governor Keen Johnson during the serving of fruit cocktails at a dinner for state officials at the mansion recently. Johnson explained he is following the custom of his predecessor, United States Senator A. B. Chandler.

The Kerr "Changepoint" fountain pen, the pen you've liked so much at your local bank, can be purchased at Wilson, the Stationer's, Star Building. $2.50, $3.00, $3.50.

FRANCO-BRITISH BREAK MAKES WEST INDIES POTENTIAL WAR AREA

On the sweeping chain of south Atlantic and Caribbean islands unevenly strung from the coast of Florida to the mainland of South America, anxious attention is fixed, as the former allies, Great Britain and France, are reported on the brink of possible military action in this stronghold of the Monroe Doctrine.

French vs. British colonies in the West Indies show up on the map merely as color contrasts splashed on cartographic blue, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. In terms of human geography, however, these interlocking islands and islets represent a far more significant variation in resources and population for the carrying on of the war in its new alignments.

An "International Row" In the 2000-mile island curve, which starts from Britain's scattered Bahamas and ends near the Latin American republic of Venezuela, are found the three republics of Cuba, Haiti and Dominica, in addition to possessions of the United States, Great Britain, France, the Netherlands and Venezuela. The total land area of these big and little land spots is estimated at 99,000 square miles. Their population is somewhere between 10 and 13 million people. It is from the Lesser Antilles group, between American Puerto Rico and British Trinidad near the southwestern end of the chain, that news headlines have lately come, reporting a threatened British blockade of French Martinique, and the presence in the region of a portion of the United States fleet.

Of this group of about a dozen fairly large islands and innumerable islets, Great Britain holds the major share. France's other important possession in the Lesser Antilles, Guadeloupe, is also set between British-held territories.

Except strategically — Martinique contains one of the finest harbors in the West Indies — French possessions in this part of the world are of relatively small value in a wartime economy.

Near-by British Trinidad, on the other hand, produces most of the oil found in the West Indies. At the outbreak of the war there were 16 companies boring for oil on the island. Its modern refineries, tanks and laboratories are among the world's best. In 1937 petroleum exports amounted to more than 15 million barrels. Protecting this vital source of a wartime need is reported to be one of the first duties of the British fleet in the Caribbean.

Club vacationists include Billy Borges, Dick Sheehy, Pat Walsh and Harry Winn.

George Welch, benign of men was even more benign than usual today. For George now answers to the salutation "Grandpa." Our sincerest congratulations to George.

Frank Felt posed as an entertainer-in-chief today and he presented a feature both novel and compelling. For the little cabinet which he brought along cheerfully absorbed all songs rendered by the club and just as cheerfully sent them right back, all without apparent damage to the cabinet. And the everybody's careful to speak respectfully to Frank.

To read your August "Rotarian" is to indulge in an exercise which requires little effort and pays large dividends. Club your worries with James Truslow Adams and marvel at the bright future of the junk business with McDonald White. Also there are numerous other articles to convince you that the time spent in reading them is time well spent. Remember the "Rotarian."

In order to facilitate the issuing of a revised club roster, members who have changed addresses, telephone numbers etc should report such changes to the secretary at once.

Preparations are being made for the Fall Conclave at Grand Spring, Me., in September. We expect details before long. Probably adjacent Districts will join with District 196 to make this an occasion long to be remembered.

August absentees are asked to assist attendance average.

Percentage of Attendance, July 18, 1940—79.49 per cent.

During July and August the Cameo Studio will be open all day Friday and Saturday until noon; closing other days.

MISS ELLEN WALL.

Miss Ellen Wall, for the past 10 years a resident of Winchester, died early Saturday morning, July 27, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary Savage, 61 Harvard street, after a week's illness.

Miss Wall was a member of St. Mary's Church and was actively associated with the Winchester branch of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. A native of Ireland, she had lived most of her life in this country.

Surviving, besides her sister in Winchester, are two brothers, William Wall of Boston and Thomas Wall of Everett; and another sister, Miss Bridget Wall of Boston.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the late residence with requiem high mass in St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

To all boys and girls who are interested in athletics the following statements from experts ought to be read. They are quoted from the July 6, 1940, number of the Union Signal.

Lew Hutton, noted Yorkshire cricketer, says:

"To win the best in life one must value one's mind and body as they would value a brand new hat. It is strongly advised, young people to be 'teetotal and play' with a straight bat, not only in cricket, but in whatever walk of life they are concerned."

And Matt Mann, famous swimming coach of the University of Michigan, says: "The big purpose of athletics is to build better men, both morally and physically. Alcohol in any form can only tear down, so that there is absolutely no place in athletics for alcoholic poison."

AARON WALDO ROCKWOOD

Aaron Waldo Rockwood of 27 Cambridge street, well known Winchester business man, died early Saturday morning, July 27, at the Phillips House in Boston of complications that followed an operation.

Mr. Rockwood was 64 years old. He was the son of Jotham and Estella Rockwood, and was born in Milford, receiving his education in the Milford schools.

At the age of 18 he entered the employ of J. G. McGar, Boston manufacturer of shoe trimmings on Purchase street, learning the business. In 1921 he entered business for himself, being one of the organizers of H. C. and R. C. of Boston, manufacturers of shoe and automobile trimmings. He served as treasurer of the firm which besides its headquarters in Everett, maintained a branch in St. Louis. He was a member and former president of the Everett Rotary, a former member of the Winchester Country Club and was actively identified with the First Baptist Church of this town. He came to Winchester from Melrose in 1927.

Mr. Rockwood was twice married. His first wife, the former Anna L. Duffee, died in 1920. He leaves his wife, Miss Mildred (Stevens) Rockwood, a daughter, Mrs. Victor Gavel of St. Louis, Mo.; two sons, Vernon G. Rockwood and Donald Rockwood, both of Winchester; six grandchildren, and two brothers, Cecil Rockwood of Everett and George Rockwood of Stoughton.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the late residence with Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. ELIZABETH J. NOONAN

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Noonan, widow of Michael Noonan and a resident of Winchester for more than half a century, died at her home, 23 Nelson street Friday morning, July 26, after several weeks' illness.

Mrs. Noonan was among the town's oldest. She was born about 90 years ago in Enfield, N. S., the daughter of Michael and Jane (Gibson) Quigley. During her long residence in Winchester she made many friends to whom news of her passing occasioned regret. She was a member of St. Mary's Church, St. Mary's Ladies' Sodality and of the Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild.

Mrs. Noonan leaves a son, Fred C. Noonan with whom she made her home; a daughter, Mrs. John D. Robert D. Walsh; and a grandson, Robert D. Walsh.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the late residence with requiem high mass celebrated in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Francis J. Sullivan. Interment was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Father Sullivan.

WALTER H. MARSH DEAD

Walter H. Marsh, formerly a resident of Winchester for more than 25 years, passed away last week at his home in Hudson, N. H.

He was born in Hudson in 1852, the son of Hiram and Olive Goodspeed Marsh. In the early 70's he came to Winchester to live, and married Miss Lizzie S. Wilder. She died in 1881 leaving four children. In 1885 he married Miss Adelle E. Mason of Winchester, who survives him. There were two children by this marriage.

Mr. Marsh was actively engaged in business in Boston for more than 50 years, but has not lived in Winchester since about 1901, when he returned to his birthplace in Hudson and lived there until his death.

The surviving relatives include, besides his widow, three daughters, Mrs. F. L. O'Brien of Framingham, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Marsh of Walpole, Mr. Edith M. Barker of Nashua, N. H.; three sons, W. Wilder, of Pascoag, R. I.; H. Stanley, of Arlington, and John Leland, of Nashua, N. H.; and five grandchildren and one great granddaughter.

REPORT OF WAR RELIEF FUND WINCHESTER RED CROSS

The Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross, wishes to express its thanks to all the townspeople and organizations who so generously contributed to the recent War Relief Fund of the American Red Cross.

The amount contributed in Winchester to this fund was $6300. The Chapter extends deepest appreciation to all who participated and helped in this outstanding success. Many of the war's innocent victims will have reason to be grateful to the people of Winchester.

With regard to the present policy and activities of the American Red Cross in respect to European War Relief, we quote from a recent statement of Chairman Norman H. Davis of the American Red Cross, National Headquarters at Washington the following:

"That none of the supplies of the Red Cross have been interfered with by any government or diverted from the needy for whom the supplies were intended and the American people can rest assured that we do not intend to engage in any operations not adequately safeguarded and which do not give consideration to the wishes of those who have so generously contributed to the work."

KENDRICK-McTAGUE

Miss Ida Mary McTague, daughter of Mr. Robert J. McTague of Lebanon street, and Paul Adams Kendrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Kendrick of Bolton street, were married Sunday afternoon, July 27, at 4 o'clock in St. Mary's Rectory by Rev. Joseph E. McGoldrick.

Miss McTague wore a street length white dress with white hat and slippers and a corsage of white roses and baby's breath, was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by the bridegroom's sister, Miss Marjorie Kendrick of this town, who also wore a street length white dress with a red hat and slippers and a corsage of American beauty roses.

Robert J. McTague, Jr., of this town was Mr. Kendrick's best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Upon their return from wedding journey through the White Mountains Mr. Kendrick and his bride will make their home in Boston at 509 Park Drive.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick are graduates of Winchester High School, the bridegroom having been a well known all around athlete during his undergraduate days.

TWO FIRES TUESDAY NIGHT

After returning to quarters and drying out following their activities during the thunder storm Tuesday evening, the Fire Department was again called at 10:30 to put out a fire that started in a mattress on a bed at the home of Mr. A. Carpine on Richardson street. Damage was confined to the bed.

At 11:30 the men were once again called for exactly the same trouble at the home of Mr. Charles J. Allen, 9 Grayson street. Once again the damage was confined to the bed and was not extensive.

BILLMAN-UPTON ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Upton of Great Neck Long Island announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Patricia A. Upton of New York, to Mr. Russell W. Billman of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher L. Billman of Foxcroft road.

Miss Upton attended St. Margaret's School in Waterbury, Conn., and Smith College. Mr. Billman attended Phillips Exeter Academy and was graduated from Yale in 1938.

ELKS' NOTES

Exalted Ruler Howard Brownell returned home Monday night from Galveston, Texas, where he attended the Elks' National Convention as a delegate from Winchester Lodge. He made the trip with the New England Elks' tour, going out by train and returning by boat, with day stopovers at Dallas and New Orleans.

Mr. Brownell stated that the new Grand Exalted Ruler, Buch is well known for his philanthropy and for his sponsorship of many homes for crippled children.

At the convention Rep. Martin Dies of Congress spoke at length, urging all to be true Americans in these days of stress and requesting the Elks' aid in promoting Americanism by the institution of a committee to work for this end. The convention immediately voted the committee and also adopted a resolution against sending American boys to fight on foreign battlefields.

Edward L. Smith of Ilio, N. Y., won the Elks' Educational Foundation contest. It is of especial interest to readers of the Star that a former Winchester girl, Miss Helen Tripp of Belmont, won the contest's second prize.

The contest sought to select two outstanding young students in the country and the fact that Miss Tripp formerly attended the Winchester schools is particularly gratifying. Both she and Mr. Smith were the Elks' convention as guests of the order, making the trip and from Galveston by airplane.

INJURED IN FALL FROM MOTORCYCLE

Gardner Jones, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irm Jones of 11 Ridgely road, sustained a badly lacerated right shin Sunday afternoon at 4:30 when he was thrown from the motorcycle he was riding at the corner of Wildwood and Church streets.

According to the police Jones was making a left turn from Church street into Wildwood street while riding a motorcycle, owned by Elliott Peppard of Penn road. Dogs running into the roadway caused him to swerve sharply and lose control of the cycle which crossed the sidewalk and overturned on the lawn at the residence of Mr. J. Warren Shoemaker, 1 Wildwood street.

Jones was given first aid and his leg bandaged by Dr. Allan R. Cunningham, whose home is near the scene of the accident. He was then taken to the Winchester Hospital, in the police ambulance by Officers Winthrop Palmer, Irving Reardon and Clarence Dunbury. At the hospital Jones was treated by Drs. Roger M. Burgoyne and Alexander T. Aitkin.

MISS CURRY FETED

Miss Abbie Curry, who retired Aug. 1, after 26 years in the employ of Bailey's Cleaners & Dyers, was guest of honor Tuesday evening at a dinner at the Shaker Glen House given for her by a group of her friends and associates in the center.

Despite the terrific thunder storm a most enjoyable evening was spent. Miss Curry being presented with several little tokens of esteem, suitably inscribed, for which she graciously expressed her thanks. Humorous remarks and little favors added to the enjoyment of everyone.

Among those present, besides Miss Curry, were Mary Crosby, Mary Ruth Russell, Priscilla Maynard Larson and Dorothy M. Lord.

CUSHMAN-SHOREY

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Shorey of Ansley-on-Hudson, N. Y., announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Louise Shorey, to Mr. Robert Cushman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cushman of Winchester and North Hampton, N. H. The wedding took place Friday, July 26, at the Winchester Unitarian Church with the Rev. George Hale Reed officiating. Mrs. Cushman is a graduate of the Masters School and of Smith College. Mr. Cushman was graduated from Phillips Academy, Andover and from Dartmouth College in 1939.

Volume UP Price DOWN

IT HAS BEEN SAID that advertising increases the price of goods.

True, advertising is part of the manufacturer's and merchant's cost of doing business, all of which must be covered in the price of his goods if he is to stay in business.

But advertising helps boost sales and production. Bigger volume cuts cost per unit made and sold. To meet competition the saving is passed on to the public in the form of a lower price.

Think of the prices of radios, mechanical refrigerators and heating appliances, automobiles, light bulbs and other products when first introduced and sold in small volume. Compare with their prices today, after advertising won them enormous acceptance! Successful advertising decreases the price of goods.

KNIGHTS WON FROM ITALY

Behind the effective two-hit pitching of Tommy Hannon, the Knights of Columbus won a well played Winchester Soft Ball League game Monday night from the Sons of Italy team on Ginn Field, 2 to 0. It was about the best played game of the current season with a minimum of argument and a good sized crowd.

Muraco also pitched good ball for the Sons of Italy, holding the Knights of Columbus to a minimum of runs. The home run by Patsy Tofuri, on which Corbi, the Sons left fielder, failed to start back quickly enough. Two singles and an error were responsible for the second tally in the third.

From then on the game was a fine pitchers' battle with both teams giving their hurlers good support. Mike Penta at third for the Knights turned in two really stellar plays, and the entire K. of C. infield was on its toes, turning in two fast double plays to snuff out budding rallies. Patsy Tofuri was a busy boy at short for the Knights, handling everything perfectly after his first chance and turning in a fine running-back catch of a grand bid for a Texas Leaguer by DiMinico.

The bespectacled DiMinico, himself, played a nice position game at Rover, being very much in the right place for several of the Knights' dead right field hitters. Following is the score:

Knights of Columbus ..... 2 5 1
Sons of Italy ..... 0 2 2
Batteries: K. of C., Hannon and Dolgrasso; Sons of Italy, Muraco and Graziano. Umpires: plate, Paul Connors; bases, Mul Oliver.

A REAL WHOPPER
Late Monday forenoon Bobby Beranger son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Beranger of 6 Chesterton road, hooked a bass in last Winter Pond, that when landed, weighed 4 pounds and measured 19½ inches. Residents in the vicinity of the pond said it was one of the largest fish ever taken there. Bobby was naturally very proud of his fine catch, which he proposed to use as the piece de resistance for a family meal at his home.

POLLY KIMBALL NORTH SHORE WINNER

Mrs. Seager Twice Runner-up

Polly Kimball, Winchester High School tennis star and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Allen Kimball of Cabot street, was a double winner in the North Shore tennis championships last Saturday at Tedesco. She won the women's singles crown by defeating Jane Goodwin of Marblehead in the championship bracket, 6-2, 6-3, and paired with William D. Power of Worcester to win the mixed doubles from Mrs. W. E. Seager (Louise Packer) of Vancouver, B. C., and Vaughan Pipes of Wellesley, 6-2, 7-5.

Polly's singles win was notable in that three former winners of the tournament were in this year's field. Incidentally she is the youngest player ever to win the women's singles, having yet another year of high school completion. She is favored to win the junior crown next week and if she can accomplish this feat will be the first ever to do so.

Polly has been playing her best tennis this summer, and recently was a double winner in the Southern Maine Junior championships, taking singles and doubles, the latter with Ann Nichols of Cambridge.

Mrs. Seager was twice a runner-up in the mixed doubles being a finalist in mixed doubles she paired with her sister, Gertrude (Mrs. Cedric Seager), of this town to reach the finals in women's doubles. The Seagers were defeated in the championship round by Mrs. Rosamund Smithwick and Jane Goodwin of Marblehead, after a three set battle, 6-1, 3, 6, 2-6.

HEADERS EDGED MILLIONAIRES IN 11 INNINGS

The Winchester Millionaires lost another tough one Sunday afternoon at Marblehead, going down to defeat at the hands of the strong 'Header' line after 11 long innings, 6-5.

The veteran Bob Lee toiled on the mound for the Moneybags, went the distance and deserved a better fate, two errors in the ninth paying the way for the run that enabled the Marblehead team to send the game into extra innings.

Kendrick's pinch single in the 6th put the locals out in front, and two more runs in the 8th gave the Millionaires a five to three advantage going into the 9th. The winning run rode home on a pass following two hits with two out in the 11th. The summary:

MILLIONAIRES PLAY HEALEY CLUB

The Winchester Millionaires will meet the Healey Club of Waltham next Wednesday evening on Leonard Field, commencing at 6:30. This Healey Club won a 5 to 3 decision over the Millionaires with Buster Kendrick up in a previous game this season at Waltham, and the locals are out for revenge.

Fred Fish and Harry Bean spent last week-end adding a little more lustre to the already shining record of the Winchester Boat Club in Canoeing Association circles. Fred trailed his deck sailer, "Banseue", and "Apache" down to Pocotopaug near East Hampton, Conn., to compete in the annual regatta run by Ralph Britton, ex-Commodore of the American Canoeing Association. Fred demonstrated that his "fanny dunking" on the Mystic Lake served some useful purpose by winning the Pocotopaug "Nanny Goat," a trophy which corresponds to the Mystic Challenge Cup race for annually by Winchester and Medford Boat Club canoeists.

In the third race of the regatta, Alden Smith of City Island, national double sailing champion won the Paul Butler 1940 Memorial sailing the "Banseue". Incidentally, Ned Bean, formerly of Winchester, came down from Hartford to join the boys and made it both a family and Boat Club reunion.

Newest and youngest member of the Ship's fleet is Sandra Snow, daughter of Fleet Captain Jim Snow, born Monday, July 22, at the Richardson house. Mrs. Snow and Sandra are doing splendidly and Jim is expected to fully recovered by the end of Race Week.

Fred Fish and Harry Bean spent last week-end adding a little more lustre to the already shining record of the Winchester Boat Club in Canoeing Association circles. Fred trailed his deck sailer, "Banseue", and "Apache" down to Pocotopaug near East Hampton, Conn., to compete in the annual regatta run by Ralph Britton, ex-Commodore of the American Canoeing Association. Fred demonstrated that his "fanny dunking" on the Mystic Lake served some useful purpose by winning the Pocotopaug "Nanny Goat," a trophy which corresponds to the Mystic Challenge Cup race for annually by Winchester and Medford Boat Club canoeists.

High School Examinations

On Tuesday, Sept. 9, high school students will have an opportunity to take examinations in any of the regular high school subjects in which they failed the past year.

The examinations will be given in the high school building at 9 o'clock in the morning and at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

A student will receive full year's credit for any subject in which he passes the make-up examination. In order to be eligible to take any examination, students must have notified the high school office not later than Friday, Aug. 30, what examinations they are planning to take and must submit evidence of summer study in preparation for the examination.

Reading girls' softball team defeated the Leonard Field team at Winchester, 20-17. R. Chedoke and L. Gannibini played a fine game for the losers.

Reading won an exciting 20-19 game previously from the same team in Reading. Next Tuesday afternoon the Reading favorite team will be taken to Reading in an effort to stem the tide of defeats. It's going to be a hard task however as softball is the most popular game on our opponents' schedule.

On Saturday morning at Leonard Field a playground baseball school will open. Those boys who show the most promise of baseball prowess are to be drilled each Saturday morning at 9:30. The following boys will please report to: A. Post, J. McClellan, J. Doran, and H. Doherty. Edith Haggerty achieved top recognition for the year when she upset the touring favorite, Doris McKee.

Apparently we have missed our annual trip to Nantucket. Not that it matters greatly to our friends, but the break in the yearly summer routine carried out over a long period seems to leave a void which may not be filled by any substitute and is something to be regretted by ourselves and those who have enjoyed the outing with us. Plans made long ago brought Myra and Irving Pitt to our camp over the week-end, with Monday set aside for the visit to the sea-born island. Needless to write, we, along with the whole Cape, learned early Saturday of the strike of the reported 60 deck hands and of the discontinuance of the steamer service. Being by now thoroughly familiar with "labor trouble" we had little hope of finding the steamers running by Monday, but nevertheless we journeyed to Woods Hole and looked the situation over. Beyond a sizable group of anxious people either waiting for friends or trying to reach the islands, there was little activity. Officers of Coast Guards were present to keep order and check all incoming and outgoing boats. We found the round trip of $10 a head, an outlay of $50 for our party, with no guaranty of the certainty of the return trip, a little too steep for our pocketbook. A trip to the airport revealed that while we could save much time, the sum total would amount to $60 and the return was no less uncertain. So reluctantly we gave it up. The reports from the natives were discouraging too. According to their version all small boats were stopped and checked for equipment, which to us seemed reasonable although entailing considerable time. The delicate matter of licenses, passenger and commercial, seemed open to argument, but probably hewed to the letter of the law. The inconvenience to the thousands directly or indirectly affected by the strike of the 60 men was untold. We regret that labor activity, especially promptly at work on the situation, and government, state and union officials were tireless in their efforts to solve the problem and avert the loss in the laps of many people. We trust the 60 strikers will get the raise their clever strategy deserves. Possibly at a future date, when pay raises and holidays are demanded have been granted, we may once again visit Nantucket, but just at this time the prospect seems remote.

SLIPS ON FACTS

It seems strange how often men in high stations make statements which are so easily disproved, and at other times take positions almost diametrically opposed to the policy they had previously espoused.

The other day when President Roosevelt was told that ex-Senator Reed of Missouri had declared that he had forsaken the Democratic party in 1936 and 1932 and probably in 1928.

Now in answer Reed produces a letter from Roosevelt written in 1932 addressed, "My Dear Friend Jim," thanking Reed for his aid in the 1932 campaign. Reed further says he held an audience of 5000 at Jefferson City, Mo., until Roosevelt arrived and was introduced by the Senator. He also says he endorsed Al Smith at the convention in 1928 and campaigned for him. If we are not mistaken he spoke for Smith in Boston.

On another President recently justified his running mate Wallace in holding on to his position as Secretary of Agriculture by citing, as a precedent, that Hoover had not resigned as Secretary of Commerce when he ran for the Presidency in 1928. The fact is Hoover did resign shortly after his nomination.

Again the President said Hoover as Secretary of Commerce had $40,000,000 of public money to spend and that Wallace as Secretary of Agriculture only has $200,000. The fact is Wallace has close to a billion of government money to spend through an army of 130,000 in the employ of his department.

The President will have to be more careful of his facts during the campaign, for Willie is a sharp, able debater and he will pounce upon any such omissions in a moment. (Editorial, Boston Sunday Post, July 28, 1940.)

AS TO THIS AND THAT

The emotional surges in a democracy have an endless interest, sometimes amusing and sometimes alarming, but on the whole they have significance and a value of real importance. They seem to indicate that men and women are thinking and that a wrong needs righting or a good to be made more effective, but we seldom go too far all too frequently.

The present excitement about the Jehovah Witnesses is an instance. To play all of our best cards in a plain nuisance. When we must have united enthusiasm for the ideals upon which our civilization is based it is irritating to be told by a group that they will not salute the flag representing that civilization to the rest of us. It seems highly unmatriotic, even dangerous, in an impending conflict, but even so we need not go to extremes.

We may well remember that any adherent of the totalitarian or communistic policies, any follower of Hitler, Mussolini or Stalin, would not hesitate one moment about saluting the Stars and Stripes or about pledging his allegiance and that later he would laugh at us for our gullibility. The Jehovah Witnesses are quite different. In all probability in case of war they would not object to non-combat service and in any event it is certain that they would not intrigue against us.

It may be that the wisest procedure in dealing with them should be based upon a large tolerance to consider them a bit daft as to their semi-religious ideas, so many of us, and to be very careful not to make martyrs of them. Whether they are right or wrong, in other respects than following what they believe a heathen custom that behave themselves and expelling their children from the public schools is petty, and accomplishes very little beyond its possible help to our professional patriots always too hastily vociferous. It would be better to smile at their earnestness and overlook their vanities while we try to prepare something really threatening, such as the Youth movement that Mrs. Roosevelt has stimulated and codified. That is dangerous.

CRITICAL OF BOARD OF APPEAL

To the Editor of the Star:

Believing it may prove of interest to your readers and to the town generally we are writing you the experience we have had trying to build a small addition on the roof of the shop we occupy on Winchester terrace. We wanted to make a cloak room for the 14 girls we employ in our restaurant and ice cream shop and intended to do so by enlarging the top floor of the store, 4 1/2 x 6 feet, tending the roof to cover that small area. The construction was to be metal fireproof exterior over wood uprights with metal laths and plaster. That is the original construction of the building. We didn't want to do anything different from what was done when the building was built.

We applied for a permit to build about the middle of May. It was refused by the Building Commissioner as against the building laws of the town for construction in the business district. When we pointed out to him that the original construction of the building was exactly like the enlargement we wanted to make he said that he had not granted a permit for the original construction. The matter had been taken by the owner to the Board of Appeal who had ordered the permit granted after a review.

Accordingly we too, asked for a hearing before the Board of Appeal. On June 11 we had a hearing, three weeks after our petition, and 12 days after the hearing we got a letter refusing the appeal. The letter was dated June 14 and mailed June 25, one day after the expiration of the time provided for filing an appeal from the decision of the Board of Appeal. The reason given for refusing to grant the appeal was that it would be no hardship for us to comply with the letter of the building law and would cost us little if any more to build the addition according to the construction provided for by law in building districts.

Cost is not the dominant factor in our desire to build the small addition to conform to the present construction of the building. The addition to be built is no more than like the remainder of the structure and it seemed to us an injustice to refuse us permission to do the very thing granted the owner of the building on a much larger scale at the time the building was built. If, as the Board of Appeal contends, a fire hazard exists in the ridiculously small addition we wish to erect, how

CHOOSE

If we would still be free when all about us

Democracies are falling one by one;

If Liberty is still our cherished birthright;

If we would keep the Trust our fathers won;

If we would place our Nation's good triumphant

Over politics and thoughts of selfish gain

The time is here, right now, for us to prove it.

There's no time now for "muddling through" campaign.

If we would claim the vision of our forebears,

When Public Trust was something none would shrink,

When class 'gainst class was labeled "bloody treason";

And Patriots gave in sacrifice and work;

If we would check the cancer spread of "ism";

And halt the crack brained schemes of reckless "goats";

If we would block the squandering of our billions

Now spent on favored groups for gain of votes;

If we would make this Nation strong and mighty,

With army, ships and planes to "stand the gaff";

Each dollar wisely spent for honest value,

Not squandered for self interest and graft;

We need, O God, a man to help and guide us.

Like those we had when our great land was young,

Clear thinking, strong, efficient, wise and honest—

No visionary with a silver tongue.

God gave into our hands a mighty Nation.

Our founders showed us how to keep it free,

They planned a land of promise for their children—

Shall we betray that trust—well, we shall see.

This fall we choose the course of honest freedom.

The ballot and our conscience show the way.

In Wilkie we've a leader we can follow.

Americans, awake, and have your say!

If you would choose the path that leads to bondage;

If Liberty is but an idle cry;

If promises are made but to be broken—

Then choose—and let our glorious Nation die.

But if the Constitution still shall guide us,

America will yet set her own right

Elect Wm. Wilkie, scorn the party "privilege";

Gird up our loins, and buckle down and fight!

A distinctive service always attended by a capable staff to serve your best interests.

much greater is that same hazard in the whole roof of the entire building (not just one shop) which they sanctioned when they granted the permit for the original construction, contrary to the law.

It was interesting to us to find in the Board's review of Mr. Locatelli's original petition that its members had permitted him to use the construction denied us against the law because they had felt that he might not build the building unless they did so.

Feeling dissatisfied with the Board of Appeal's decision, we went to the Board of Selectmen, and stated our case. In the course of our conversation we discovered that the original hearing granted us had not been a legal one because two of the three members of the Board of Appeal had been absent, and had been replaced by substitutes, chosen by the Board. Under the town by-laws when two of more members of the Board of Appeal are absent the Selectmen must be notified so that they can choose the substitutes. A single absentee can be replaced by the Board.

In consequence of this fact, and because we still felt we were asking for nothing unreasonable, we again asked the Board of Appeal to review our case. If we wished to construct illegally in a way that differed from the original construction of the building, we could feel no rancor at the Board's denying our petition, but when we simply want to do what has already been done on exactly the premises in which we wish to do it, we do feel aggrieved at being refused permission. If it be the case that we set aside for Mr. Locatelli, why not for us? Surely the danger can not be greater in the second instance than in the first.

Our second petition for a hearing was granted and the hearing held July 18. The Building Commissioner, who was present, offered no objections to granting us the permit, but simply repeated that he was not authorized to do so because of the law.

On July 27 we received another letter from the Board of Appeal, again refusing to grant our petition for the reasons given us at the time of our first petition. We haven't decided what our next step will be, but we are of the opinion such interpretation of the law by a constituted authority is going to make it easier some time for a dictator to set aside all law in this country.

What Have You of Value?

Every house contains valuables. They may be wills or insurance papers or treasured souvenirs. There is an appalling loss of such material every year.

How silly it is to use the pantry shelf or bottom bureau drawer at home when you may rent a safe deposit box in our fire-proof, burglar-proof safe deposit vaults for $5.00 a year up.

Gather together your important papers. Put them into a box and have one care of your mind.

SOCRATES SAYS—

There is absolutely no possibility of the New Deal party being successful in the election of November, 1940.

In 1932, the Republican Party was defeated because it was associated with and blamed for the depression. Hyderia was rampant. The superstitions that accompany all emergencies controlled national thinking and at such periods people always blame someone and vote against someone—never for someone.

In 1940, the New Deal party will be overwhelmingly repudiated. Nothing can be done to prevent it because of the total neglect of preparedness for national defense and the fact that President Roosevelt never heard of Hitler. It will grip the nation.

Elections are decided by economic conditions and mass psychology—never by personal glamour, oratory, or wild promises. If anyone doubts this just read political history.

Bryan had few equals as an orator and Coolidge certainly was not an orator. Curley of Massachusetts is an orator yet Saltonstall was more successful. Wealth or position has but little effect for we have many examples of men of great wealth defeating men of no wealth. Certainly President Roosevelt's economic policy has little hindrance to office holding. Wall street attacks always flung around neither has nor will it cost any candidate his election. Inherited wealth has not made any difference.

The reason is that America was built to allow economic freedom of effort and any men who attempt to deride achievement or financial success for election purposes is digging their own political grave. Americans all aspire to become independent and an attack against what they themselves would like is an attack against the American method of life.

The New Deal's attack against economic success while preaching "abundant life" did not get them a vote—as will be proven by Wendell Wilkie's election (a poor boy who made good).

The issue of 1940 will be—Unpreparedness—starting with the plowing under of our Home Front.

WAR

It is said, principally by Third Termites, that during the emergency of national defense all should have unity and no criticism of President Roosevelt or the New Deal.

It is because of the emergency of national defense that we must praise the New Deal High Command, for before we consider trusting them with the defense of our shores and homes during war, we must accurately know what they accomplished during peace times.

These are the honest facts of New Deal control:

Still 10,000,000 unemployed.
Little or no industrial expansion.
Lower standard of living.
More labor strikes and actual labor civil war.

Agricultural prices not stable.
Double national debt.
Highest tax burdens in our history, etc., etc.

If seven years of peace has weakened our "Home Front" to such an extent it is about time that America make an attack against an administration that is inefficient, intelligent, and sound, for we may face war and that cannot be "spent" away.

BOMBED KIEL CANAL FIGURED IN THREE WARS

Germany's Kiel Canal, which has been bombed again and again in recent British air raids, has played an important role in three wars, says a special war bulletin from the National Geographic Society. It was first known as the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal, this strategic waterway linking the North and Baltic Seas is considered, in fact, one of the prime causes of the war between Prussia, Austria and Denmark in 1864.

Short Cut Made Possible by Bismarck With the increasing power of Prussia during the early 1860's, the German chancellor Bismarck was reported convinced of the necessity of obtaining a safe short-cut to take the place of the old route around the Danish peninsula and islands.

Denmark was invaded, and the long contested Schleswig-Holstein territory, through which the canal now runs, was won. However, further international complications followed, including even another brief war between Prussia and Austria for possession of the spoils; and work on the Kaiser Wilhelm Canal was not completed until 1895.

Activities at this canal have twice marked the approach of a great world war. Not long before the first World War declarations, Germany enlarged the canal in order to permit dreadnaughts and other big vessels to make speedy passage from the North Sea to the Baltic. Some authorities believe the war was postponed until all the improvements were in order. Again, in the spring of 1939, the Kiel Canal—as its name had become in the meantime—was the scene of further enlargements and improved lock facilities, through which the canal now warships that Germany had been rushing to completion.

In the early months of the present war, before the Scandinavian countries fell under the influence of Germany, the Kiel Canal was of even more strategic importance than it is today, when ships may pass without local interference through the narrow waters of the Kattegat and the strait between Denmark and Sweden and Norway.

This winding, 62-mile sea lane is still, however, an immense convenience—as constant attacks on it indicate—as a working axis between the vital German naval bases of Wilhelmshaven on the North Sea and Kiel at the eastern outlet facing the Baltic Sea. Among the vital parts of the canal are its locks, provided to take care of an extreme difference in water levels of 9 feet 5 inches caused by tides.

In peacetime the Kiel Canal is of inestimable value to commercial shipping. Normal tonnage through it increased from less than four and a half million tons in 1900 to more than 24 million tons in the fiscal year ending March, 1938. More than 56,000 merchant ships have traversed the Kiel Canal in 1938.

When two masters get fussed up about some small affair.

They sit on their heels, click their spurs and mix it then and there.

And all the barnyard fowls stand quietly about.

It being none of their affair, and let them sit upon their haunches and wait.

But when two nations start a row the others give three cheers.

And join in the universal scrimmage, till the whole world's in the ears.

If all the barnyard brethren of the members in the fight.

Till all the poultry round about was mixed up in the fray.

There'd not be much but feathers in the neighborhood next day.

And, the more every farmer feels quite grateful now and then.

That chickens aren't intelligent and civilized like men.

HOME PAINTING HINTS

RAY HOOKWAY, Director
Sherwin-Williams Decorative Studios

BIRDS are singing and flowers are blooming—and America is rolling up its sleeves for the annual painting spree. For there's no greater thrill for the householder than seeing those dingy old surfaces renewed with slick fresh paint.

Years ago paint merely protected a surface. Today it protects better than ever, but we've discovered that paint colors also give a house style, make it seem warmer, cooler, more comfortable, or more restful. Paint can make a room seem larger or smaller, can make a cold north room gay and sunny. It's not magic, just common sense.

For example, East and North rooms receive cold, bluish daylight, while South and West rooms receive warmer, redder rays. Unless you counteract this phenomenon with paint colors, some rooms may seem cold and unfriendly—others oppressively close. So it's a safe rule to use "warm" colors—yellow, orange, red, violet, and purple—in East and North rooms, and let the "cool" colors—green, blue, blue-green, gray and white—predominate in South and West rooms. And don't forget, all colors are either warm or cool, whether in light tints or deep shades.

Also, warm reds, corals, or yellows are stimulating and should be used in playrooms and breakfast nooks. Cool colors have a feeling of repose, and make dens and bedrooms serene and restful. Again, the cool colors seem to recede and make a room seem larger, while the warm colors advance and make a room seem smaller. In a narrow room can be "squared" by painting end walls in a warm color. For contrast, try Dutch blue doors or shutters on a white house, or red trim on a gray house. Inside, pieces of furniture painted gay coral, or soft, grayed wall colors. But, don't put a brightly-painted piece against a brightly-painted wall, or you'll cancel the contrast. And never give full rein to either warm or cool colors in the same room.

Deep wall colors—burgundy, cinnamon brown, and cactus green—are popular this year. They can be used in well-lighted rooms, and ceilings are usually painted white or ivory for contrast and light distribution. If your ceilings are too high, however, you can bring them down with a deep warm paint color.

This spring color photographs were taken of scores of such colorfully painted rooms and were published in a book called the Home Decorator, which Sherwin-Williams dealers distribute at no cost. There are over a hundred color schemes shown for interiors and exteriors, and many more color hints like those above.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

In last week's Star the Winchester Public Library presented an annotated list of non-fiction concerned with Americanism. This week the list is of novels published in the past six months with America for a background. Stories of pioneering, of fur-trading, of naval life, stories of strong, fascinating American characters; stories of Indians, of settlers in Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Alaska, Ohio, Maine and the Southern states. Copies of these novels are available in the Winchester Public Library, and many more of this type, old and new, are ready for townspeople who have recently become conscious of a renewed interest in American historical events, places and people. In fiction one finds these subjects attractively presented.

Stars of the Sea by Van Wyck Mason. Novel of the Revolutionary War, centering around the naval activities at Newport, Charleston and the Bahamas.

Tristram Bent by Henry Barnard Safford. Seventeenth century novel of a spy sent to the American Dutch colony by the English, and his dealings with the English, Dutch and Indians.

Run of the Stars by Dora Aydelotte. A school teacher who marries a farmer and their life pioneering on the Oklahoma territory in the 80's.

The Dark Stranger by Constance Dodge. Father and two sons come to America from Scotland in the time of the Stuarts and this novel is their story, an especially the story of the younger son.

Follow the Drinking Gourd by Francis Greenwood Pickens. An account of life on a plantation before the Civil War and the slave problem encountered when the Master did not live in the plantation and oversee the slaves.

Winds of Spring by Walter Havighurst. Wisconsin pioneer life from 1840 through the Civil War. A story of a sensitive Swedish naturalist and his peasant wife; his attempts at farming when his true interest was in wild things, and his ultimate joy in his pupils.

This Side of Glory by Gwen Britton. A Southern story of this century about the marriage and turbulent life of a "poor white" and the aristocratic owner of a beautiful plantation.

Chad Hanna by Walter Dumaux Edmonds. The Mohawk Valley and Erie Canal region of the last century and the story of a very human boy who traveled this section with a circus. There is a wealth of character material in this novel as well as an interesting historical setting.

Mother of the Smiths by Lorraine Carr. The vivid story of a young woman with amazing strength to build and settle a home in the frontier of New Mexico; to raise and educate six children; all without aid from her dreaming helpless husband.

Wild Geese Calling by Stewart Edwards. A pioneer story of a husband and wife and their life in the Northwest. From lumber camp in Seattle to a life of trapping in Alaska.

This Land is Ours by Louis Zara. Frontier life on the Indian territory over 100 years ago and the struggle for land against the French, English and Indians. The story of a boy who grew up in the midst of this and his life and marriage among the Indians.

The Trees by Conrad Richter. With prose approaching poetry, this novel is a delightful record of the pioneering of a family from Pennsylvania to Ohio and of a girl's perseverance in holding this family together.

Come Spring by Ben Ames Williams. A Maine settlement during the Revolutionary War, a village so remote that the War affected it but little. A record of frontier life, of birth and struggle and death, centering around the married life of the Joel Aranas.

The Loon Feather by Iola Fuller. Told by the daughter of Tecumseh, this remarkable Indian story is about the girl herself and about the fur-trading life of the early 19th century, on Mackinac Island.

Show Me a Land by Clark McMeekin. Kentucky in the last century. Kentucky with its superb horses and great plantations. A romantic story of a Virginian girl, her minister husband, her father, and their life and adventures in their new home.

Red Lanterns on St. Michaels' by Thornwell Jacobs. Showing a point of view of some Southerners during the Civil War period, this novel, placed in Charleston, S. C., is historically accurate as well as interesting to read.

Cripples' Friend Heads B. P. O. Elks

HEADING the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks as its new Grand Exalted Ruler is Joseph G. Buch, of Trenton, N. J. Buch, who is general chairman of the New Jersey State Elks Crippled Children's Committee; chairman of the New Jersey Crippled Children's Commission and chairman of the New Jersey Unemployment Compensation Commission, is credited with accomplishing one of the nation's most outstanding achievements in caring for the needs of New Jersey's 15,000 crippled children. A prominent hotel man, and a former president of the New Jersey State Association, Buch will direct the activities of more than 500,000 Elks in nearly 1700 lodges throughout the United States and its possessions.

BURMA ROAD VITAL FACTOR IN ASIA'S FUTURE

What happens to "the Burma Road" may change the course of history in Asia and even in the world. For Japan has demanded that Great Britain close the road and stop the shipment of supplies to the Chinese Government.

The Burma Road, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society, connects the Burmese railroad at Lashio with Kunming (formerly Yunnanfu), capital of Yunnan Province, and the latter city, in turn, linked by road with Chungking, present Chinese capital.

It is a vital segment in the 2000-mile-long trade route from Rangoon, seaport in southern Burma, to the Yangtze River. Although parts of the road from Burma to the Yangtze had been built before 1937 (the Chungking-Kunming section opened 1935), it was not until the autumn of that year that work was started on the most difficult stretch between the border of Burma and Kunming. A little more than a year after construction began on the long gaps in the route, the first trucks traversed the holly conceived road, which cuts through sparsely inhabited regions where the natural obstructions of the rugged terrain were matched by the difficulty of obtaining labor.

Modern Road Built With Primitive Tools

Most of the work was done by hand, with hoes and hammers, by thousands of men, women and children who volunteered and were conscripted for the job because of the military necessity of immediately putting through a freight route to British Asia, to take the place of Atlantic ports occupied by Japanese forces. The construction gangs had little modern road-building equipment; such crude implements as "steamrollers" of cylindrical boulders pulled by water buffalo were used. Large flat stones provided paving over long stretches.

Observers who traveled on the Burma Road in the rainy season during the first year it was open to through traffic found that landslides and deep mud greatly impeded the flow of vehicles.

The railway between Haiphong, on the coast of French Indo-China, and Kunming is still open, but Japanese bombing raids and diplomatic pressure have seriously restricted, if they have not completely stopped, the passage of war materials to China over that route. So, except for the very long, round-about, and difficult northern caravan route from Soviet Russia, the Burma-Kunming-Chungking road remains the most important highway by which large-scale shipments of gasoline, machinery, munitions, and other supplies can reach beleaguered China.

If it had not been for the military emergency which forced construction of the Burma Road, this laboriously-carved route would probably never have been built, for it runs across a rough upland region, crossing at right angles several high mountain ranges, as well as the prodigious gorges of the turbulent Salween, Mekong, and many other streams.

Following the ancient "silk trail" over which Marco Polo traveled more than six centuries ago, the Burma Road makes accessible some of the most beautiful mountain country in the world, where the scene shifts from snow-topped peaks to tropical jungles of bamboo and teakwood, and forests of tall evergreens where invisible hands of howling gibbons follow the caravans at a safe distance. Heavy-laden mules and oxen, heaves of burden in this region for centuries, share the road with heavy trucks, which carry large loads swiftly, but which cut up the road so badly in wet weather that it is necessary to keep large repair crews busy throughout the rainy season of summer. A spur from the western end of the highway reaches to Bhamo, on the Irrawaddy River in Burma, an alternative terminus to Lashio.

BAHAMAS' RECURRING SPURTS OF PROSPERITY BASED ON SLAVERY, WAR, PROHIBITION AND TOURISTS

The Bahamas Islands group, over which the Duke of Windsor will preside, consists of more than 3000 islands, islets, cays, and rocks strewn over some 130 miles of ocean between Florida and Hispaniola, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. Twenty-nine of the islands are of fair size.

Many of the islets are uninhabited, and some of the larger ones are sparsely populated, continues the bulletin. The total population is estimated to be 68,000, with about 20,000 on the island of New Providence, which contains the capital and chief city, Nassau. There are about 7000 persons on Andros, 6000 on Eleuthera, and lesser numbers on Long Island, San Salvador, Abaco and others. The population includes a large proportion of negroes.

Nearest Island Neighbor to U. S. 60 Miles East of Florida

The island group lies off the southeast coast of Florida, the nearest Bahaman land being the island of Bimini, about 60 miles east of Miami, well-known to Americans during the period of negroes.

As governor and commander-in-chief of the islands, the Duke of Windsor will be assisted by an Executive Council, eleven members, a Legislative Council of nine, and a representative Assembly with a membership of 29. The governor's mansion adjoins the executive offices in Nassau.

Most historic of the islands is San Salvador (Watling Island), on the eastern fringe, where Columbus made his landing in 1492.

The Bahamas have had many pirates and downers. During one era private vessels marked among the cays and made forays on the rich West Indies commerce.

Aster Cornwallis yielded at Yorktown. Loyalists from the American mainland fled to the Bahamas, bringing their slaves, silverware, and other personal effects. On plantations of cane and cotton developed by these royal refugees rose a tide of profits. This ebbed when slaves were freed, and when competing agriculture grew up in the States.

after this time, departing for England their farms over to ex-slaves or other retainers. Lacking skill, capital or farming energy, these latter failed. Farming declined, and easier living—if on a lower standard—was offered by the sea. Hence today the once productive fields are idle and brush-grown.

On Andros Island, named for an early Governor of the Massachusetts Colony, much rice was once grown. This is a fiber of which great quantities are used in making binder twine for American wheat farmers. These plantations were owned by well-known families in England. Now all that is abandoned.

Nassau's truly Golden Age came during the Civil War in the United States, when the city was the base for Confederate blockade runners. Nassau was gay then with British officers, barrels of money, and grateful gentlemen in Confederate gray. Smuggled cotton sold there for ten times its cost in the Carolinas.

Musty court records tell sorry tales of another activity that for years gave a living to many Bahama folk. That was "wrecking." In one six-year period, 313 "wrecks" were officially reported.

Most recent hectic boom for Nassau resulted from rum running, which passed when the American prohibition law was repealed. New buildings, better streets, and public utilities—many of these Nassau paid for in this high tide of alcoholic prosperity.

Today a new kind of prosperity, more solid and satisfying, has come to Nassau. This is its rise as a popular winter resort, which compensates for the vanished revenue of former more exciting days.

Lift Up THINE Eyes

IN the five generations since 1740, we Americans have performed the heroic task of clearing, populating, farming, industrializing and civilizing a country larger than England, France, Germany, Spain and Italy put together.

Because we have looked always forward and upward, and have worked hard, we have achieved the highest standard of living in the world.

One of the most potent of all the forces that have created this living standard is advertising, which inspires us to want always the new and better things and ways of life.

Of late years it has been the fashion among our radical reformers to attack advertising as an economic waste.

How silly, in view of the magnificent service it has rendered us! Let's encourage it and use it for an ever brighter future.

STRATEGIC BIZETTE, FRENCH "GIBRALTAR"

Among names catapaulted to Americans, catapulted into the world news by fast moving developments in the Balkans, is Bizette. A special war bulletin from the United States Geographic Society describes this powerful French naval and air base in Tunisia, on the north coast of Africa, on which say Italian communications bombs have been dropped. Bizette stands guard at the strategic "waistline" of the Mediterranean, says the bulletin. Within 150 miles, north and east, lie the two fortified Italian islands of Sardinia and Sicily, between which stretches an open route to Rome. In less than an hour and a half from the North African port as the bomber comes time, if Italian reports of the mining of the air route to Rome are correct, the Mediterranean area is accurate, the air line is the only one now open in this area.

Once Demanded by Germany Bizette, as it is more widely known in the Italian form, takes advantage of one of the world's best natural locations for a naval station. Beyond its outer harbor, protected by jetties and breakwaters, is a second harbor, ten miles from the sea, a deep "lake" 50 square miles in extent, where large numbers of battleships, cruisers and submarines are accommodated.

evening by members of Waterfield Lodge, I. O. O. F. The ritual was conducted by Noble Grand Arthur Cameron, P. G.; and Chaplain Clyde W. Bell, P. G.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at the First Congregational Church with a large attendance of friends, former business associates and members of the various organizations with which Mr. Kelley was affiliated.

A Masonic service was held, the ritual being that of the Knights Templar, exemplified by Hugh de Payens Commandery with Generalissimo James C. Duran as acting commander. Associate Prelate Edward Barker as prelate and Frank S. Whitney, senior warden. Selections for harp and organ were played by Miss Artists Devolt and Richard Phelps.

Floral tributes extended across the front of the church and the second pillar beside the seat Mr. Kelley had occupied for 50 years was veined with white roses and fern.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Howard J. Childley, D. D., conducted the committal service and delivered the eulogy. He spoke of Mr. Kelley's achieving success by hard work and diligent application, climbing from the lowest rung of the ladder to the top by his own efforts. He also spoke of Mr. Kelley's many charities, almost all of which were unknown to the public, of his propensity for sending aid where it was most needed and of his satisfaction in assisting worthy people of all sorts and conditions.

The public committal service was held at the church. Private services were held in Wildwood Cemetery where the internment was made.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Liquor's Story as Written in

Keeley Records

Life in the city does something to folks, it would seem. According to the 60 year statistical record of the Keeley Institute at Dwight, Ill., recently released to the National W. C. T. U. for study, 84 per cent of the heavy drinkers who have sought treatment during the years have come from cities, both large and small; only 16 per cent from villages and rural areas. This figure is regarded as unusually high in ratio to population, since only 32.4 per cent of all Americans live in towns of 5000 or more.

The record shows also that a great percentage of the heavy drinkers began their alcohol habit between the ages of 15 and 20 years, and that most of the patients treated for alcoholism fall within the 30 to 40 year old period.

The married man may have more incentive for straightening himself out, or more urging, than the unmarried man, but the fact is that more than three out of four patients who seek alcoholism treatment at Keeley Institute are married.

Only 14 per cent of the patients at the institute are single, four per cent widowers and another four per cent divorced. The ratio hasn't changed much through the years. And the records prove that the effects of alcohol have changed not at all, though the results of the liquor trade in this mechanized age of continually enlarging cities are more serious than in the more leisurely life of America 90 years ago.—[Union Signal, July 13.]

G. O. P. FINANCE LEADERS CONFER

Gathering at the Winchester Country Club leaders of the Massachusetts Republican Finance Committee group in this district conferred with General Chairman George H. Rockwell, General Chairman Daniel Needham, Chairman of the Metropolitan Division, and George S. Lawler, Jr., Field Secretary of the Metropolitan Division. In the foreground at the top of the photograph are, left to right, Maurice C. Bird, Winchester Chairman; Raymond Wilkins, Governor's Councilor; Chairman Rockwell, General Needham, and Will H. Pearson, Vice-Chairman of the Metropolitan Division. Lawler is standing directly under Chairman Rockwell.

REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN AND AID APPOINTED

Chairman Maurice C. Bird today announced the following appointments of Precinct Chairmen and their aides in the Winchester district.

Chairman of the special gifts committee: James C. McCormick, 41 Wedgemere avenue. Co-chairman of the special gifts committee: James W. Russell, Jr., 1 Wolcott road. Precinct 1 chairman, J. C. Carter, 161 Forest street; co-chairman, Mrs. W. R. Baker, 227 Forest street. Precinct 2 chairman, W. M. Bond, 14 Mason street; co-chairman Mrs. William C. Casak, 333 Valley Parkway. Precinct 3 chairman, Frederick S. Smith, Jefferson road; co-chairman Mrs. W. A. Whitman, 30 Prospect street. Precinct 4 chairman, Theodore Burleigh, 108 Church street; co-chairman Mrs. Philip J. Woodward, 11 Lakewood road. Precinct 5 chairman, Theodore W. Monroe, 36 Cabot street; co-chairman Mrs. Paul B. Elliott, 11 Warren street. Precinct 6 chairman, Theodore W. Monroe, 36 Cabot street; co-chairman Mrs. Paul B. Elliott, 11 Warren street. Precinct 7 chairman, Theodore W. Monroe, 36 Cabot street; co-chairman Mrs. Paul B. Elliott, 11 Warren street.

At last Thursday night's dinner given in the Winchester Country Club some 75 workers listened to General Chairman George H. Rockwell tell of the aims and purposes of the Massachusetts Republican Finance Committee and to eloquently impart some of his enthusiasm to the workers there assembled. Mr. Rockwell said, "We now have the General's letter to the committee." General Daniel Needham, Chairman of the Metropolitan Division and George S. Lawler, Jr., Field Secretary spoke at some length telling of the system to be followed in the 1940 campaign. The remarks of both were well received.

Miss Joan Lavery of Orient street is spending two weeks at the Girl Scout camp, Camp Menotomy, Meredith, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ives, Jr. and family will spend the next three weeks at East Haverhill, Mass.

Miss Mary Alice Fitch of Sheffield west will spend the next two weeks at the Emerson House, York Harbor, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baker are leaving this week to spend the remainder of the month at their summer home in Freedom, N. H.

Winchester men took "refresher course" at Falmouth.

Ex-Selectmen Kingman P. Cass and Harold V. Farnsworth and Charles P. LeRoy and Whitelaw Wright attended the State Guard officers school at Falmouth Military Reservation last week. All four men were commissioned officers in the World War of 1917 and signed up for this "refresher course" which was planned to train provincial officers, formerly in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps.

It is anticipated that the State Guard will be forced immediately upon departure of the National Guard for Federal Service, and the new Guard will then take over the State Armories, recruit a new military personnel and will be then available for the usual duties performed by National Guard troops.

MISS SPENCER ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Spencer of Cabot street and Pocasset announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sybil Spencer, to William A. Norton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Norton of Plattsburg, N. Y., and Falmouth.

BOWLING ALLEY PETITION DENIED

Selectmen Deny Permit to End Long Litigation

The long fight of Rosari Marchesi for a permit to conduct a bowling alley at 66 Swanton street in a building to be erected by his father, Salvatore Marchesi, came to an unsuccessful conclusion Monday evening when the Board of Selectmen denied his petition.

The attempt to put a bowling alley on the premises named above commenced more than a year ago when Rosari petitioned the Selectmen for a permit. Attempts to secure such a permit had been made before, but had been turned down by the Selectmen.

Last year's Board, however, granted the permit for the alley, and Rosari's father then petitioned for a building permit to erect a building to house the alley. Opposition to the alley developed among adjacent property holders, who have attempted to stop the issuing of the permit by Building Commissioner Maurice Dimmen.

The latter refused to stop the permit, on the grounds that there is nothing in the building laws to prevent Mr. Marchesi from erecting such a building in a district zoned for business by the town's zoning by-law.

Those objecting to the alley carried the matter to the Board of Appeal, who upheld both Commissioner Dimmen in the issuing of the building permit, before the Board of Selectmen in granting the permit for the alley.

From the Board of Appeal the matter was taken to the Superior Court, where it was argued by Attorney Thad Smith. Attorney Frank Hurley represented the Marchesis, Salvatore and Rosari. After reviews by the Superior Court, the court issued writs of mandamus restraining Commissioner Dimmen from granting the building permit, basing his action upon the provision of the town's zoning by-law that construction should not be allowed financially harmful to adjacent property.

From this decision Attorney Hurley carried the case to the full bench of the State Supreme Court, the members of which finally over-ruled the Justice's decision, upon the grounds that the town's zoning by-law exceeded the authority granted them by statute in seeking to maintain financial values and are able to prevent construction only which is harmful to the health, safety and morals of the community.

During the lengthy litigation the original permit to conduct the bowling alley, granted Rosari Marchesi in 1937, had expired, and it became necessary for him to petition for a new permit. Two new members had entered the Board since the original permit was granted.

Application was made for the permit shortly after the Supreme Court decision which would enable his father to erect a building to house the alley. A hearing was held by the Board on July 29, Attorney Hurley again representing the Marchesis and Attorney Smith the opponents, several of whom attended the hearing.

The matter was taken under advisement by the Board for one week, and on Monday night the permit was denied. The reasons for the denial were not made public.

HELEN CARROLL WON FROM NATIONAL CHAMP

Helen Carroll, Winchester girl who swims under the colors of the Boston Swimming Association, won the Massachusetts State 100-yard freestyle race Wednesday evening in the Corinthian Yacht Club pool at Marblehead, defeating among others Gertrude Klauke, National A. A. U. 100 yard freestyle champion.

Helen, who has been competing in A. A. U. events for the B. S. A. for the past two seasons, came very fast in the race, winning by a wide margin to force ahead of the champion whose defeat constituted a distinct upset.

Helen, an excellent all-around athlete, has been competing in the North Shore junior tennis championships this week, making a good showing. In the fall she will captain the Winchester High School field hockey team. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Carroll of Lincoln street and granddaughter of former selectman and grandfather of Charles I. Lampee, Jr., of Oak street.

LOCAL RESIDENT APPOINTED ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF COST ACCOUNTANTS

Mr. Horbert E. Tucker, president of the Winchester chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants, announced the election of Charles I. Lampee of Foxcroft road, as Associate Director of the Boston Chapter of the association.

Mr. Lampee has resided in Winchester for 30 years. He has been sales manager of the Fiske Equipment Co., Inc., since 1929.

He has been a member of the N. A. C. A. for many years, devoting much of his time to this organization.

ITALIAN CELEBRATION COMMENCES AUG. 13

Next Thursday, Aug. 13, the town's Italian residents will commence a three day celebration, commencing at the Assumption of Leonard Field. Special features will be held nightly and will be concluded with a display of fireworks Saturday evening. Frank Datilio is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

TWO MOTOR ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END

The first of two motor accidents in Winchester over the past week-end took place at 6:30 Saturday evening at the intersection of Wedgemere avenue and Calumet road. According to the Police an Oldsmobile sedan driven by Frederick V. Wood of 97 Cambridge street, while headed south on Wedgemere avenue, was in collision with a Chevrolet sedan, driven east on Calumet road by Albert D. Lee of 230 Broadway, Somerville. Both machines were wrecked and had to be towed away, the Olds being taken to Pike's Garage and the Chevrolet to a garage in Somerville. Riding in the Olds with the driver and Mrs. Charlotte Wood was Mrs. Maud Nickerson of 31 Brunswick avenue, West Hartford, Conn., who was out to the temple and shaken up. She was taken to the Woods' home by Sgt. Joseph Dero and Officer John Boyle in the Police car.

The second accident occurred at 7:04 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, and Mrs. Charles Wing of 230 Broadway, Somerville, passengers in the Chevrolet, was out to the office of Dr. Alan Cunningham where Mrs. Merry was treated for an injured right wrist. She also complained of injuries to her chest, but stated she would have her own physician upon arriving home.

Sunday night at 10:47 a Franklin sedan, driven by W. W. Mitchell of 888 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, while leaving Fletcher street and making a left turn to go toward the intersection of the street, was in collision with a Ford sedan, crossing Church street from Bacon street to enter Fletcher street and driven by Vernon F. Hunt of Patton road, Tewksbury. Raymond Flemming of 7 Montvale avenue, Stoneham, a passenger in the Franklin, complained of injuries to his right leg, but stated he would see his own physician. Both cars were damaged, but were not disabled.

WINCHESTER SKIPPERS AT MARBLEHEAD

Winchester skippers, taken by a large, have been making a fine showing for themselves in the big Marblehead Race Week Regatta, being staged by the Corinthian and Fleetwood Clubs this week.

Competing in the international scull class are Don Duck, skippered by Isaac Menow, Dunlin (William Blanchard), W. A. C. (Donald S. Richards), L'Allegre (Charles Reeves), Tee Boes (Theodore Burleigh), Glauco (Merton Oher), Phooka (A. A. U. 100 yard freestyle champion), William Blough, Blanchard has sailed his Dunlin to a pair of first places, a third, Merrow second and a pair of thirds and Reeves, has finished third with his L'Allegre.

In the fish cutboat class are the Boston (Ted Norton) Meelin (Kendall Spencer), White Fish (Harris and Thayer Richardson), Redfish (Charles LeRoy), Gulgoon (Ray Wilkins), and a fourth, "Red Fish" (Fred Norton).

Norton has won a first with his Dah, also annexing a third in the racing this far, while Spencer has also finished first in the first Marlin, as well as taking a second, third and fourth. LeRoy brought his Red Fish in first on Monday and also has secured a second Wednesday.

The Richardson brothers have won a second with their White Fish.

HELEN CARROLL WON FROM NATIONAL CHAMP

Helen Carroll, Winchester girl who swims under the colors of the Boston Swimming Association, won the Massachusetts State 100-yard freestyle race Wednesday evening in the Corinthian Yacht Club pool at Marblehead, defeating among others Gertrude Klauke, National A. WINCHESTER JUNIORS MAKING GOOD SHOWING IN NORTH SHORE TENNIS

Headed by Polly Kimball, recent winner of the Women's North Shore singles title, a delegation of Winchester youngsters has been making a fine showing in the North Shore junior championships at Swampscott this week.

Polly is a finalist in girls singles and mixed doubles. In singles she won in the semi-final bracket from another Winchester girl and a high school team mate, Priscilla Tapley, but she needed three sets to turn the trick, the score being 6-0, 4-6, 6-3.

In the mixed doubles semi-finals Polly paired with George Liffner of Belmont, recent high school invitational tourney winner, to defeat Janet Roberts of Winchester and Edmund Hayden of Amesbury, 6-1, 7-5.

On the boys side of the tourney Jimmy Conn reached the semi-final round, losing in that bracket to Liffner after a stubborn fight, 2-6, 6-4, 2-6.

Claire Tapley, Priscilla's younger sister, was runner-up in the younger girls' singles, being defeated in the championship bracket by Janet Murphy of Beverly and the United Shoe Machinery Club.

Behind these finalists and semi-finalists Winchester was represented in the tournament by Jane Norton, Helen Carroll, Gordon McGovern, Lillian Carroll, Robert Kitchin, Lillian Carroll of Weston, 6-2, 6-0, and Polly Kimball and Beverly Winslow of Lynn being defeated by the United Shoe Machinery sisters, Janet and Carolyn, 6-4, 3-6, 4-2.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Ten members were absent from the meeting of Aug. 8, one of whom has already made up by his absence. A. J. Pate Church himself. The club was held up on notice in fulfillment for his absence on Aug. 7.

And now Nick Fitzgerald has been scheduled to the fare of vacationland. Here are our wishes for the best time ever.

Nat Nichols reports from Conway, N. H., but carefully refrains from mentioning the name of the place. We suspect that Jim Quinn has departed in a similar direction.

The dining service at the Country Club, these days, is a very different luncheon today with group tables placed more or less at random in the spacious sun-room. Everyone agreed that the service was a delightful change and we gratefully acknowledge the courtesy and solicitude for our comfort.

The Rotary Club of Stoneham will meet at the local high school on Aug. 13 and Aug. 20 and on Wednesday, Aug. 27, will give a party for their annual outing. Meetings at Old Falmouth, Stoneham will be resumed in September.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors was held on the 5th inst. with all but one of the directors in attendance.

The Rotary Club of Stoneham has been discontinued at our meetings, some members are so sagacious as to expect an uplift in attendance. The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors was held on the 5th inst. with all but one of the directors in attendance.

Your true Rotarian is not dismayed by adversity and hardship. More evidence of this well known truth is contained in the reports submitted on May 22, by the president and by the secretary of the Rotary Club of Winchester. We present excerpts from these reports as follows:

"Under the shadow and strain of two major wars under which we have lived, the greater part of this year of our club's activities, this club has been able to continue its meetings uninterruptedly and entirely successfully. I can assure you that our club's members highly enough for the exemplary and exceptional proof of Rotary fellowship they have given under the most strenuous circumstances. This undoubtedly has not been done lightly and it is, but with many and great personal sacrifices. This club has been through the severest test with honor, Rotary has, even under its reduced circumstances, been able to give assistance to several benevolent institutions and to play a considerable part in the charity activities of this city."

The Rotarian in his report pointed out that club membership at the beginning of the Rotary year was 17 and at the end of the year was 16. Regular meetings were held and donations totaling to $1250.00 were made to Red Cross and refugee camps.

The Rotary Club of Winchester, percentage of attendance, Aug. 1, 82.05 per cent. Average attendance for July, 1940, 82.05 per cent.

LOST IN FINALS

Polly Kimball, after winning the North Shore women's singles crown, lost to the older girls' champion yesterday when she was defeated in the final round of the junior play at Tedesco by Peggy Howe of Weston, 6-2, 6-0, 6-2.

In the semi-final round of mixed doubles Miss Howe and James Conn of Winchester were defeated by Betty Sue Cover of Stone City, O., and Jack L. L. of Newton, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

COMING EVENTS

Aug. 28, Tuesday, Fruit and Power Mission. Contributions should be left at the Winchester Station for the 9 a. m. train. 24, Wednesday, Crawford Memorial Church, 1:45 p. m. Prayer meeting.

Miss Mildred Sloum takes up her duties as rehabilitation and health education worker with the Southern Middlesex Health Association this month. Miss Sloum is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. She comes from the National Tuberculosis Association where she had experience in rehabilitation work with tuberculosis patients. Before this, she was employed by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association to do medical social service and educational work for the prevention of tuberculosis.

Miss Sloum will work in Winchester as well as in other communities in Middlesex County.

TO CONTINUE FIGHT FOR ALLEYS

Rosari Marchesi, whose application for a permit to operate a bowling alley at 66 Swanton street was denied Monday by the Board of Selectmen, told the Star yesterday he plans further litigation in an attempt to secure a permit. He said he had finally got a building permit after litigation lasting more than a year, during which the permit for the operation of the alley, granted by the 1939 Board of Selectmen, expired.

NO BLACK POWDER

Residents of the west side, especially in the vicinity of Wedgemere avenue, are commencing to complain of the odor of black powder in the air and have requested the Police to drive them away by shooting at them.

Chief William H. Rogers states that with all the will in the world to help, he is unable to do so because of the fact that he is now unable to get any filled with black powder which are the only kind effective for such work.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

CLIMBING thermometers are pretty sure to affect the family's appetites from the youngsters right on up to Dad so it is wise to plan especially tempting menus during the month of July. With the market full of fresh vegetables and fruit this will not be difficult. Almost all of the berry family is well represented in the list of plentiful fruits this week. Raspberries, both wild and cultivated, raspberries and blackberries offer a variety of suggestions for delicious but weather deserts. Cherries, peaches and oranges are also available in good quantity and reasonable prices. As for the vegetables, it is hard to choose among such an array of wealth from the garden. In the list of particularly good buys are green beans, beets, cabbage, tomatoes, peas, spinach and lettuce.
Broiling and frying chickens are unusually low in price this week and there is also a most excellent supply of fresh fish in wide variety in the market. Beef and lamb are both slightly lower and because of their low price of particular good buys should receive special attention when planning your menus.

WILLIAM CHARLES SACHE

The recent death of Mr. Sache ended a long and interesting life. A gentleman of the old school, dignified, kindly and courteous, he was deeply interested in his friends and neighbors, always ready for a visit, during which were discussed current events and other happenings with never any room for idle gossip.

His athletic pursuits of early life built a constitution that served him well all through life. Few men were so vigorous at his advanced age and the enforced inaction of recent years was a great cross which he bore with much patience.

To us who lived near him, he was indeed gracious and in his passing we feel we have lost a true friend. His outstanding character and his devotion to his church and his God point an example we would do well to follow.

NATIONAL YOUTH DEFENSE

Sidney J. Paine, immediate Past Exalted Ruler of Woburn Lodge No. 308, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, and a member of the Public Relations Committee of the Massachusetts Elks' Association, this week returned to Woburn from New York City, and a member of the Elks' National Defense Commission. The salient points of the program include the setting up of a Patriotic, Americanism, Youth and Safety Committee in each of the 1600-odd Elks' lodges in Continental United States and its territorial and island possessions. The slogan would be gleaned from the first letter of each departmentalized activity, and the result, "It pays to be an American."

The purpose of this set-up is designed to avoid crushing patriotism, and to foster national unity and pride in America. To this extent, the program calls for the suggestion that the United States flag be displayed daily from each lodge, city, town and hamlet flagpole, displayed at every civic, fraternal and intra-national organization; to sing the national anthem at the beginning of every public and organization function, the marking of every airport and principal building in the nation with the emblem of the Stars and Stripes.

Mr. Paine urged an amendment to the Burke-Wadsworth draft bill, pointing out the value of military training for youth simultaneous with scholastic training. This would tend to prepare the youth with preparedness without loss of time later in his life or the age limits set by the Burke-Wadsworth bill. A brief training period during those years would suffice for the year-long absence from work and home, and would not cripple economic pursuits.

The Commission that will receive this program comprises is addition to Mr. Nickerson, former Governor David Scholtz of Florida; Judge J. T. Hallinan of New York City; Past Grand Exalted Rulers, Edward F. McCormack of Dayton, Ohio; Charles Spencer Hart of New York City; and (immediate) Henry E. Warner of Dixon, Ill.

Braintree last month became the 97th municipality in Massachusetts to adopt zoning.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The second half of the Senior and Junior Leagues started Monday, Aug. 5 when the Cubs, winners of the first half defeated the Elks 14-5. Russ Weldon's fireball was zooming over the late in great style as he allowed but three hits. F. Buckley was the heavy hitter for the victors getting a home run with two men on base.

The writer has been asked upon numerous occasions to select an All-Star team from players in the Senior League but has consistently refrained from so doing, feeling that his best running days were behind him. Aware of the risk he names the following team:

Catcher—F. Russo, Pitchers—R. Weldon and J. Ganthi, First Base—F. Farrell, Second Base—F. Kelley, Third Base—D. Buckley, Shortstop—S. Burkawicz, Left Field—R. Joyce, Center Field—C. Walsh and Right Field—Amico.

On Wednesday evening, Aug. 14, an open-air movie will be held on the Loring avenue playground. A feature film, shorts and a sports parade will constitute the program. As this is entirely in the nature of an experiment the conduct of the audience will play an important part in determining whether the show is to be repeated.

Wakefield pulled out a very lucky 5-5 tie with the Cubs on Tuesday last at Wakefield when two errors allowed the former team to score three times. J. Russo and C. Walsh did some real hitting for the Winchester team, each getting three nice singles. Our selection of the model playground boy of the year is "Brother" Post. Regular in attendance, gentlemanly conduct and on the field, ever considerate of the feelings of others and possessed with all the qualities of leadership—that is Posty.

he may build this dream-house for his family.

The Stafford, shown above, is especially well suited to the needs of the city worker who builds in the suburbs. This story and a half house provides a most efficient use of space combined with a floor plan which offers many advantages of a larger dwelling. An outstanding feature is the separate dinette with its two windows looking over the garden area. The adjoining kitchen is accessible to the outside and basement as well.

The two bedrooms on the main floor give the effect of being isolated. This effect is carried out by the adjacent hallway which, in turn, is connected by one doorway to the rest of the house.

An added economy is the second story which can be finished off as needed and provide for two good-sized bedrooms and adequate close space. The attractive, small front porch and adjoining garage suggest excellent possibilities for landscaping.

Working plans and specifications for the Stafford may be obtained through retail lumber dealers. Full information may be had through Northeastern Homes Foundation, 82 St. Paul street, Rochester, N. Y.

MILLIONAIRES WON AT WINTHROP

The Winchester Millionaires broke into the win column Monday night at Winthrop, defeating the Winthrop Varsity, 6-4, with Joe McKee on the pitching rubber.

The Moneybags were trailing 3-1, going into the 5th or final frame, but in this inning the locals put on a rally that gave them the ball game.

Bob Donaghey opened up with a single, and scored behind singles by Albie MacDonnell and McKee. Junie Donaghey's safety brought in the tying run, and a triple by Fred Noble brought in two more. Bob Farrell "squeezed" in Noble, the play being perfectly executed. Following is the summary:

MILLIONAIRES LOST IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

The Winchester Millionaires with a patched-up lineup lost a 7-3 decision last Sunday to the Gonic Club at Gonic, N. H., failing to capitalize on the effective pitching of their kid right hander, Bobby Farrell.

Farrell held the home club to four hits in seven frames, some poor support permitting Gonic to put over a couple of runs in the second. Bobby was removed for Lee in the 8th, and between the two hurlers and some loose playing Gonic put five runs across.

The locals started to get to Lyndberg, Gonic hurler in the 8th, putting over one in that inning and two in the 9th, but however enough to tie. The summary:

A COMEDY OF ERRORS

The K. of C. soft ball team blew a perfectly good ball game on Ginn Field Monday night to the Ecco team 10 to 6. Poor base running coupled with nine errors cost the Knights the game.

Thirteen hits, including two home runs by Francis Tansey should have been enough to win, but trying to stretch hits, tossing the ball around and errors on what should have been easy outs offset the batting punch. The Ecco team scored 10 runs on nine hits two bases on balls and nine errors. Their big inning was the sixth when two singles, three doubles, a triple, a base on balls and a fielder's choice netted five runs. The summary:

War or no war; preparedness or not, President Roosevelt will not give up any of his social gains, so we read. Meaning, so we presume, that business will continue to get it in the neck, unemployment will stay with us, and the abundant life will continue to flourish. Labor appears to be solidly behind him in his views. Our condition seems to parallel that of France before the collapse. Anyone trying to do business today is so hedged in by rules and laws and taxes, that it takes a courageous and wealthy man to brave the hurricane. Now that the armament program is underway the money gates are again wide open and the ground is being prepared for all to give up from one-half to all of their (profits). How nice it would have been had the great New Deal have turned its massive mind on armament during the past eight years instead of "bonding" the U. S. A. Labor and the unions see the light and are solidly back of the third term. If it comes, we predict that America will have elected its last president.

AS TO THIS AND THAT

Perhaps the most melancholy spectacle that thoughtful men and women have had to consider for many years is that of Lindbergh adding the attempt by the German gangsters to dominate the world. It is a tribute to the Anglo-Saxon ideal of freedom of speech that he is permitted to express publicly his ideas at the present moment but one may wonder how long this will seem reasonable.

Obviously he suffers from a mental unbalance, that has changed that admirable poise that characterized him when he became famous. His harrowing experiences in connection with the kidnapping of his child and the subsequent newspaper hounding and the unseemly trial of Hauptmann (incidentally Mrs. F. D. R. expressed her regret that the courts were rendered upon circumstantial evidence, evidently not being aware that circumstantial evidence is regarded by experts as more satisfactory and conclusive than that of eye witness) seem to have warped his ability to think logically.

To the man or woman of even moderate intelligence the case against Hitler and his associates is plain. They imagine that there is a German race descended from the German of Caesar's time, unmixd with any other, that it is superior to other peoples, that it can rule the world, that a totalitarian philosophy is the way to do it, that whatever is done successfully to further that end is commendable, that truth and honor and respect for pledges and religion and tolerance and freedom of thinking and individual rights, all may be violated and should be violated if necessary.

That is not so far from what our gangsters think so far as one can judge. A curious reversion to the practices of primitive man has been brought about that we had found a better way to live, as we had of course and as Lindbergh will be ashamed to discover one of these days. There are difficult days and months ahead, but the lesson of religion and of history teaches that there is a God of righteousness.

Report of an imaginary conversation. Time, New Deal Convention. Place, a lady's sitting room. Dramatic personae, not stated.

"Good morning, I am glad to find you home."

"Good morning, Well?"

"I have ventured to intrude to tell you that my fears have been realized but I can see a wonderful opportunity for you."

"Well?"

"I have been drafted. The people call for me as they did not for Washington or Jefferson. I cannot refuse their insistent demand. They are 'My Friends' and they tell me 'I am indispensable. I must remain here but someone must express my many emotions to them.'"

"What a wonderful opportunity for you, to speak to thousands, to voice my reluctance, to pledge my faith, to win plaudits for yourself!"

"Very well, Darling—Excuse the persiflage and my sceptical smile—I understand better than you may think that you are the one who have appeared reluctant. You just planned it that way" and Hague and Kelly and Nye and their followers have their part for which they expect to be rewarded. I cannot pledge what you haven't, and if I go through the motions, I can see no good reason for carrying it for nothing. I have been applauded by thousands who paid to hear me and if I crowed this into my schedule with soap and other things, I will receive cash for my services."

"But see what an experience, what an opportunity."

"Not for me, thank you, Mr. Flynn says in his book, 'Country Squire' that I have earned more than you and my fee is $1000.00 check to be accepted and paid by your bank before you leave."

"But—"

"But me no buts. I am busy and I am acquainted with your idiosyncrasies. Do I let the check get to you until it is cashed?"

"If I must, I must but it is hard."

ASKS "FAIRNESS AND JUSTICE"

To the Editor of the Star:
May I respectfully urge that you give this communication space in your paper so that I may place before the people of our town the true facts of the case.

A year ago I made application to the Board of selectmen for a license to conduct a bowling alley in my father's building located at 60 Swanton street.

After much investigation, a hearing before the Board, and a public hearing, the Board granted me a license. I then had my architect submit plans to the town's building department and in due time received a permit to build.

A small group of abusers opposed the permit and took the matter to the Board of Appeal. After careful study and a public hearing this board upheld the permit.

Those opposed to the building then appealed the matter through the various court stages: Superior Court, Referee, single Justice of the Supreme Court and finally to the full bench of the Supreme Court. I also sought a decision in the State Supreme Court as I had received one negative ruling, that of the single justice.

Finally the Supreme Court ruled that I was within my rights in planning to build a bowling alley in the location in question. I would not have gone to the expense of carrying this matter to the Supreme Court if it were not for the fact that I had the license to operate.

Upon receiving my sanction from the Supreme Court I applied for a renewal of the license I received a year ago, granting me the privilege of conducting bowling until 11 p. m. six evenings a week.

The present Board of Selectmen, with two new members, neither of whom I have ever seen on my premises, refused my request for a license.

For what reason? "Noise," they say. But we live in a district zoned for business and they should come up to this section and hear the noise being made by powerful machines in another business that now grind noisily all night.

People who live in this district pay low taxes because it is a business zone. The Supreme Court ruled that a business such as a bowling alley could be operated in this business district.

Where is the justification for this action of the Board?

I had assured them that I would build alleys of a superior type which would be conducted in the cleanest and most careful manner, always open to inspection and always subject to police regulation. My plans showed a sound-proof arrangement of construction and had the approval of the state building commission.

My license could be revoked any time I did not comply with every requirement imposed on me by the Board of Selectmen.

The emphasis on noise in this question is a bogey raised up as an alibi by those who for personal reasons oppose my proposed alley. I believe who not have any objection to the town will regret the Selectmen's refusal to grant me a license as manifestly unfair.

Hardly is a town like Winchester one should find fairness and justice.

Rosari Marchesi

What Have You of Value?

Every house contains valuables. They may be wills or insurance papers or treasured souvenirs. There is an appalling loss of such material every year.

How silly it is to use the pantry shelf or bottom bureau drawer at home when you may rent a safe deposit box in our fire-proof, burglar-proof safe deposit vaults for $5.00 a year up.

Gather together your important papers. Put them into a box and have one care off your mind.

WHITNEY LAUNDRY OPENS MONDAY IN WINCHESTER

Next Monday, marks the opening of the Whitney Laundry's newest branch at 5 Common street, Winchester. Mr. John L. Whitney, the sole owner, has had many years of experience in the Laundry and Dry cleaning business and is well known throughout the trade.

Always a believer in the adoption of the most modern methods and machinery to the laundry field, Mr. Whitney has carried out this principle in both the Melrose and Somerville Plants, with the result that Whitney customers receive better work at lower prices along with quicker service.

A unique feature of the Whitney Laundry, is its offer of five Laundry Services among which is one that will fit the needs of every family. States Mr. Whitney, "Many households still prefer to do a portion or all of their ironing. This preference may be from choice or financial necessity. With our five services to select from, the housewife can be her own guide on how much or how little of her ironing she wishes to do and save more money at the same time."

Mr. Whitney's reason for opening a Winchester branch was the direct part to the urgent request of his present Winchester customers that he do so. In addition, this branch will be a service take care of the Whitney customers in Arlington, Stoughton and Wakefield.

The two famous Whitney Services, 26 per cent off on Cash and Carry, and eight hour service, have played an important part in the steady growth of new Whitney customers. "Today," states Mr. Whitney, "people want things done quickly. This applies in particular to the Laundry business. Also more than ever today, people believe that if they bring their work to your store, they should receive a substantial discount. The above two services meet the public's demand, while our regular Call and Deliver Service take care of the customers who have a set time when they want to have their Laundry and Dry Cleaning picked up and brought back to them."

Whitney Laundry already has a reputation in the laundry business for both plants and through the employment of only the best skilled help. Whitney Laundry already has a reputation in the laundry business for both plants and through the employment of only the best skilled help.

Whitney's belief that Winchester families who try Whitney Laundry for the first time, will become permanent customers, well pleased with the service, the prices and Whitney work.

DOLL CONTEST HELD

On Saturday afternoon 52 excited girls entered their favorite dolls in the annual Doll Contest held on both playgrounds. Each contestant was required to dress her own doll; the result being some rather unusual costumes. We are greatly indebted to Mr. Roland Carter who graciously extended a blanket invitation for all to attend the afternoon performance at the local theatre.

The winner of first prize at Leonard Field in the large doll class was Mary Amato. Nancy Stevens took second prize with an original entry called "The Little Maid."

At Loring Avenue Louise Zaffina won first prize with Lois Sullivan taking second place. Marilyn Zucco and Sally Morgan were awarded consolation prizes donated by "Mack."

Those entering the contest were: Leonard Field—Mary Amato, Jeanne Richardson, Sissie Nixon, Theresa Nixon, Marjory Shaw, Beatrice Amato, Dorothy Connolly, Marilyn Zucco, Jojo Dama, Joanne Nelson, Margaret DiManno, Ruth Murray, Mary Jane Halvart, Mabel Henderson, Mary Carpenter, Nancy Stevens, Lita Bernson, Marjory Ann Carroll, Ernie Madlock, Kitty Rania and Lorraine Rania.

PARK DEPARTMENT PLAYS
PRIZES FOR SWIMMERS
AT CARNAVAL

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to the first, second and third place winners in the various events at the swimming finale of the season held at Leonard Beach Saturday afternoon August 17 at 2:30 p. m. In addition, the Commissioners have gone to a great deal of trouble and work to arrange for three New England championship events on the card with the local events. The cream of the East's 220 yard freestylers both men and women will be on hand as well as a very strong representation of women Medley specialists. These three events will give all the local Olympians aspirants a change to some fast times turned in. Two local girls are entered in the Women's 220 yard freestyle, Joan Moffette and Helen Carroll. A list of 15 events have been arranged for by boys and girls, together with a special water-drift, featuring Helen Carroll and Joan Moffette, Winchester's best swimmer regularly in the Water Ballet of the Boston Swimming Association.

Every youngster who enjoys the facilities offered at Leonard Beach or Wodge Pond throughout the summer should feel deeply grateful to the Winchester tax payers who have made their swims possible. The water-drift, Mr. George Davidson and Thomas McGowan who have gone out of their way to give to the youngsters the best in Bath House accommodations and swimming equipment.

A few of the items which have and will continue to increase the quality of swimming in Winchester are the bath house, new this year at Leonard Beach, a new starting and turning platform now at Wodge Pond and special additions to the 25 meter Leonard course such as a canvas strip across the starting edges to prevent slipping when starting a race, and heavy water-drift canvas across the turning boards under water to prevent loss of speed on turns, something that is hazardous to other courses has installed.

WALCOTT-BELDT

Rev. and Mrs. Clifton H. Walcott announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jane, to Mr. James D. Heldt of New York City, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Heldt of Scotland, N. Y. The wedding will be an event of Sept. 15. The engagement will be of much interest to Winchester friends. Rev. Mr. Walcott is pastor of the First Baptist Church here. Miss Walcott and Mr. Heldt are graduates of the University of Nebraska where they were members of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, and Mortar Board, honorary society for senior women. Mr. Heldt, who also was a member of the Harvard Law School, is a member of Delta Tau Delta and Innocents. Mr. Heldt is now with the law firm of Root, Clark, Barker and Ballantine in New York City.

CO-PRODUCER OF RAMPARTS
WE WATERS FORER WIN-
CHESTER RESIDENT

Mr. Louis DeRochemont, former well known Winchester young man now widely known in Hollywood as a motion picture field, is one of the producers of "The Ramparts We Watch," the much talked of movie, advocating national preparedness. He is now with Mr. DeRochemont is Roy Larsen, head of the publishing company that issues Life and Time magazines. Mr. DeRochemont is now at home with his parents in Ranglely while attending Winchester High School. Later he lived at the corner of Yale street and Foxcroft road. He is well known for his important connection with the "March of Time" motion picture feature.

ELKS' NOTES

The hustling committee arranging details for the big Elks' Ball which Winchester Lodge No. 1432 will give on the evening of Oct. 11 in the town hall after a lapse of several years has announced that it has secured the services of Karl Rohle and his orchestra to furnish the music for this gala occasion.

Karl and his band are no strangers to Winchester, having played among others, one very successful engagement at a Policeman's Ball in this town. Many have enjoyed his music in the Boston Garden and the Marionette Room in the Hotel Brunswick.

MISS MARCHANT ENGAGED TO MR. HAVEN

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Harry Marchant of Ranglely announce the engagement of their daughter, Gladys, to Mr. Roger Walker Haven, son of Rev. R. L. son of Mrs. Harry Merritt Haven, formerly of Winchester. Miss Marchant is a graduate of Miss McIntosh's school of Boston. Mr. Haven is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

PLAYING AT LITTLE THEATRE

Mr. Robert Elliott, talented son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Elliott, appeared last night in the double bill playing Peter Cope in the Philip Barry play "Paris Bound" and as Bobbie the juvenile lead in "Let Love Be You" by Noel Coward in the Little Theatre of the Feagin School of Dramatic Art in Rockefeller Center, New York City. Mr. Elliott has just completed the summer season at the Feagin School where he received favorable commendation for his work in this production and others.

BARBARA WEBSTER PRATT

Barbara Webster Pratt of 15 Wildwood street, a member of one of the largest and oldest families, died early Sunday morning, August 11, at the Winchester Hospital after an illness of only a few hours. Her health had been poor for the past year, but it was not until Saturday that her condition became serious.

Miss Pratt was the daughter of George E. and Lizzie (Webster) Pratt. She was born in Winchester December 23, 1890, attended the town schools and was graduated from Winchester High School with the class of 1911, serving as art editor of the Recorder, the student magazine.

Miss Pratt's early artistic tendencies were intensified through the years. She was a clever characterist and a master craftsman of the Society of Arts and Crafts, making a specialty of hand-painted jewelry, in the designing and executing of which she showed marked ability. Her displays of jewelry and other hand-painted articles were features of many local bazaars and fairs.

For two years, until her health began to fail, Miss Pratt conducted a shop during the holiday season on Church street. She was an active member of the Elks' Club, and she had served as treasurer, and was also a member of the Ladies' Friendly Society of the Unitarian Church.

Her life is as follows: She was born in Winchester to Barbara Pratt and few have been more universally popular. Her courageous fight with poor health and her cheerful acceptance of a great physical handicap won her the admiration of all who knew her, while her pleasant friendly manner and willingness to serve, further endeared her to everyone. Her brother, Kenneth M. Pratt, with whom she lived, her home, is her only survivor.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Unitarian Chapel of the Unitarian Church, when Rev. George Hale Reed officiating. Interment was in the family lot in Wildwood cemetery.

WINCHESTER IN SOUTHERN HURRICANE

Harry W. Dodge, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Dodge of Grayson road, had a thrilling experience Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the land which was some 20 miles in length. The wind blew with terrific velocity, destroying the vines and trees, blowing down the trees, and blowing away their spare clothing and all their equipment.

The only sleep Dodge got for three days and nights was in the car, which he was sitting in when the storm hit. He wrote that several of his comrades were missing and that on Monday of this week two bodies were found.

The whole experience was one which the 18 year old Winchester boy does not care to repeat in a hurry!

SLIPPED ON DAM'S STEPS

Few people would consider our Main street dam a danger point, but last week a rescue was effected there when a young man, who was saving from drowning, running along the dam, fell. Mr. Hollis Riddle of Reading, who was a former well known Winchester resident, was the victim. He was a son of Mr. Augustus Pisterio of Forest street, ran down the steps before the dam and disappeared. When Mr. Riddle saw the river edge he could see no sign of the three-year-old youngster until he discerned him at the bottom of a pool under the dam.

Although Mr. Riddle is now nearing 90 years he went in and pulled the child out.

Beyond holding him up by his heels and draining the water from him, no treatment was needed to restore normal activities, but the incident might have had a different ending except for Mr. Riddle's prompt action.

MR. RUSHTON WILL PREACH

The last third Union Summer Church service will be held in the First Baptist Church, The Pastor, Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton, fully recovered from a recent illness, will be in charge of these services. His sermon topics are as follows:

August 18, "Let the People Hear the Church Bells Again."

August 25, "The Gift of Friendship."

September 1, "The Way of Victory."

The soloists will be Mr. Leon F. Leavitt, Mr. Warren Bezanon and Mrs. Sallie Roberts.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to join in these services of worship and inspiration.

THREE APPLS AT BOAT CLUB

The Police were notified shortly after 10:30 last Friday night that boys were using members and guests of the Winchester Boat Club by peeing in the clubhouse on Cambridge street with apples.

Superintendent John Reardon succeeded in catching one of the youngsters, a 13 year old west side boy, who turned to his home by Sgt. Charles W. Reardon. Finding his parent, he was taken to the Police Station and Sgt. Reardon returned to Headquarters where he was finally turned over to his father. The names of his companions were learned.

HOMES FOR REFUGEE CHILDREN

A meeting was held on Wednesday morning, Aug. 14 at the home of Mrs. Mary Farnsworth on Central street. Mrs. Richard Johnson and Mrs. Burgess were present from the Boston Evening Transcript to answer questions about the homes for the 500 children of which 250 have already been secured. There is an urgent appeal for homes for the remaining 250, as it is important to get the children away from England as soon as possible and they are not allowed to leave their country until definite arrangements have been made for a long time.

It is hoped that some people in Winchester will be able to find a place in their homes for at least a few of the children. The local department is co-operating and will be able to take care of a limited number of children in the schools. In natural homes, which is a thing there are many questions that come to a person's mind. Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, Win. 1680 or any member of the committee will be glad to give the information which was so clearly given them by the ladies from the Transcript. If one should feel an interest in helping in this way, they should write to a child, call Mrs. Farnsworth or any member of her committee and all details will be gladly given. The committee is as follows: Mrs. Farnsworth, chairman; Mrs. Albert S. Crockett, Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., Mrs. E. A. Flinders, Mrs. Freeborn, Mrs. Charles E. McLeary, Mrs. William McGill, Mrs. Frederic H. Ritchie, Mrs. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. William O. Thompson and Mrs. C. F. Whorf.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS
SAFETY INSTRUCTION

In financing a period of eight weeks water safety instruction during the summer the Winchester Red Cross Chapter stands out as unique among above those in surrounding communities, many local boys and girls as well as adult residents having been interested in the course. The generous response of Winchester citizens to the Red Cross Roll Call for the summer, a possible factor for the chapter to secure the services of a qualified instructor of high rating and consequently ensures complete success in the water safety program.

A trip to Leonard Field Beach on Saturday afternoon will enable any interested to see what is being accomplished. It is hoped that many will avail themselves of this opportunity to see the promising young swimmers being developed here.

WINCHESTER MAN TO MARRY

Invitations were issued this week for the marriage of Elizabeth Norian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Norian of North Bergen, N. J. and Mr. Aram Mouradian, son of Mrs. Mary Mouradian of this town. The wedding will take place at 2:30 p. m. at the Armenian Presbyterian Church, West New York, N. J. Mr. Mouradian is well known in Winchester. He is head of the American Rug Company of Church street and prominent in Masonic and Rotary circles as well as the First Congregational Church. Miss Norian is also a Winchester resident, making her home at 50 Woodside road.

Reception is to follow the wedding ceremony at the Post Hat Hotel, Union City, N. J., and the couple plan to make their future home on Woodside road in Winchester.

GAS THIEVES CAUGHT

Shortly after 12:10 this morning, in response to a telephone call, Sgt. Charles Harrold with Officers Robert Elliott and John Reardon arrested three young men whom they allege were stealing gasoline from an automobile at the rear of the Hodgson home at 266 Highland avenue.

Headquarters officers gave their names as Ambrose J. Roagan of 178 Kenwood street, Dorchester; Richard L. O'Donnogue of 31 Brandon road, Milton; and Ernest B. Featherstone of 10 Altrisko avenue, Dorchester. Charges of larceny of gasoline were lodged against the trio, who were arraigned in the Woburn Court later in the morning.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Thwing of Lloyd street announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marguerite Thwing, to Mr. Charles Arthur Woodson, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Woodson of Lynn.

Miss Thwing attended Jackson College and was graduated from the Katharine Gibbs School in 1937. Mr. Woodson is a graduate from Tufts College in 1937 and is a senior at Tufts Medical School, where he is a member of the Phi Chi Fraternity.

TWO ALARMS OVER WEEK-END

Friday night at 9:30 a telephone call came from the Fire Department to the home of Dr. M. Norton at 7 Oxford street. A strong smell of smoke which had alarmed a short circuit in wires on the meter board.

Saturday afternoon at 2:25 the department was called to put out a brush fire at the rear of the home of Mr. William H. Renfrew, 138 Forest street.

WOMAN'S BODY DISCOVERED IN MYSTIC LAKE

Tuesday afternoon three girls, Phyllis Baker of Greenwood avenue, Greenwood; Beata Bruner of 292 Highland street, Wakefield; and Betty Fargo of 15 Hatch road, West Medford, while canoeing in upper Mystic Lake noticed something floating in the water not far from the shore line near the old Middlesex Canal to the north of the old aqueduct near Isaac's Pond and a home in front of the Winchester Boat Club. Paddling nearer, they discovered it to be the body of a woman.

The girls ran back to the boat club where they telephoned their discovery to Police Headquarters, Motor-cycle Officer Irving Reardon and Patrolman William Cassidy, in the cruiser being sent to the scene.

Reardon entered a canoe at the rear of the residence of Mr. John MacMahon on Everett avenue, and was paddled by two boys, Malcolm Burr of 71 Wildwood street and Arthur Bowes of 3 Chesterford terrace, across the narrow stretch of water north of the aqueduct to where the body was floating, face down, about 35 feet from shore.

Officer Reardon brought the body ashore, and called a woman thought to be about 40 years of age. On the shore at a point opposite from where the body was floating, he found the woman's coat, neatly folded, and a handkerchief, a knitted card containing, according to the Police, letters to members of her family.

Officer Cassidy informed the Metropolitan Police of the incident and also notified identified Examiner J. Cox of Woburn. The latter viewed the body, but made no immediate announcement of the cause of death. The body was ordered removed to the local undertaking rooms of Moffette & McMullen. It was identified from papers as that of Mrs. Philip Burr of 424 Canon street, Medford. The of-town undertaker claimed it later in the evening.

MRS. JESSIE DODGE FERNALD

Mrs. Jessie Dodge Fernald, widow of George A. Fernald and a long time resident of this town, died shortly before midnight, Sunday, Aug. 11, at her home, 1 Wyman court, after a short illness.

Mrs. Fernald was born July 17, 1861, in Wakefield, N. H., the daughter of Amos Dodge, a prominent merchant of Concord, and of Emily (Everett) Dodge. She was educated in her native city and lived there until shortly after her marriage to Mr. Fernald, also at that time a resident of Concord.

Mrs. Fernald came to Winchester with her family in 1891, for a short residence in Cambridge, preceding Mr. Fernald's death Feb. 8, 1939, had continued to make her home in Cambridge, living at first on Central street, later on Myrtle street at 82 Bacon street, and upon her return from Cambridge, on Wyman court. She was a member of the First Congregational Church of the Mission Union. She was also for many years a member of the Fort-nightly Women's Club.

Mrs. Fernald was the mother of nine children, of whom there are now living only her brother, Kirk W. Dodge of Beverly. She is also survived by two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Fernald, wife of Mr. W. Fernald, both of this town; by two sons, Robert W. Fernald of Lexington and Lloyd D. Fernald of Springfield, six grand children and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church with Rev. Howard J. Reed officiating. Interment was in Wildwood cemetery.

"PETS" TO PLAY TEN O' MEN

Winchester soft ball enthusiasts, and many who have hitherto evinced scant interest in the increasingly popular pastime, will be interested in the announcement that Winchester Rotary has completed arrangements to bring the famous Olympics soft ball team to Winchester to play the Ten O' Men of the Community Soft Ball League on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 7.

The "Pets" are the championship girls' team that has been popularizing soft ball at the Boston Garden for the past two years, meeting all comers in the feminine ranks and winning practically all of their games. The members of the team are hand-picked for their ability and give an excellent account of themselves in any company, asking no favors from main club and being able to play their own right to give the big man a run for his money.

More about the game will appear in next week's Star. Starting with some pictures of the "Pets" who are said to be as easy on the eyes as they are capable upon the diamond. The game will be played in the Shore road athletic field for the benefit of the Red Cross. Save Sept. 7 and plan to attend.

COURT HEARING ON BOWLING
ALLEY WET WEDNESDAY

Rosari Marchesi whose petition for a renewal of the license granted him by the Board of Selectmen in 1939 to operate a bowling alley at 66 Swanton street was denied by the Board of Selectmen. The Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts for a writ of mandamus compelling the Selectmen to renew the license.

The original petition was filed last Saturday and an order of notice has issued returnable next Wednesday at 10 o'clock. The hearing is for a hearing before a single Justice of the Court.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

We should like to express our deep appreciation of the wonderful support given to our chance school fund. A total of $25 was received which represents the largest amount ever obtained. The money show was cancelled as a result of many complaints all directed at the problem of noise at a late hour. As this was to be a sound movie we could readily see the difficulties involved and agreed to suggest something else.

Exactly 110 youngsters agreed that our substitute was well chosen when we took them to Salem Willows to enjoy an outing in the big salt water pool. Those selected to go were taken from a list of those who sold tickets. The Senior league saw an upset on Wednesday afternoon when the lowly Shantocks defeated the powerful Cardinals 11-10 in the most thrilling game of the year. With two out in the ninth and three runs behind the Cardinals were tied for first place. Amico at the plate. A smashing drive into right field drove the two men on base over the plate to tie the score. But the Cardinals were not to be driven in the winning run.

In their junior league the Cardinals and the Giants are tied for first place with 22 victories each. "Sunny" Farrell pitched a one hit shut out over the newly formed Athletics last Thursday. The Cardinals are expected for four hits in four trips to the plate, a notable achievement in any league.

Winchester defeated the All-Star playground team 7-4 at the Leonard Field last Monday. The former team boasted of usual talent and certainly showed prowess in every department. From what the writer has observed during the past season on the playgrounds Coach Knowlton is going to have his work cut out for him in the next season. Winchester appears to be coming into the cycle of lean athletic years, particularly in baseball. The standout athlete is now a representative of the past.

One item of baseball interest which occurred last week deserves particular notice. In the rubber game of the Wakefield-Winchester series John Wadsworth, a young man who was one of the Wakefield team stepped up to the plate and drove a line drive home run over the Leonard Field fence; a feat that will probably be never duplicated in playground baseball.

The Red Sox management has invited us to attend the Cleveland-Red Sox baseball game next Tuesday, Aug. 20, at Fenway Park. The game is a major problem.

THREE ACCIDENTS FRIDAY

The first of three automobile accidents occurred in Winchester shortly after 3:30 in the afternoon when a Chevrolet sedan, owned and driven by David G. Stewart of 15 Middlesex street, North Chatham, while headed west on Forest street at the intersection of Washington street, was in collision with a Buick sedan owned by the Winchester Brick Company of East Boston, driven by Philip H. Goff, a lagger of 16 Prospect street, who was headed north on Washington street. While both cars were quite damaged, the driver of the Buick was unhurt and the driver of the Chevrolet was left by their own power. William Coody of 72 Linden street, Reading, a passenger in the Buick, complained of injuries to his right leg and Mr. Gallagher complained of injuries to his left arm.

Four boys were riding in the Chevrolet with the driver, no one claiming injuries.

Shortly before 6 o'clock Richard F. Hegarty of 17 Wolcott road reported to the Police that as he was driving his Packard sedan east on Forest Avenue, he was struck by a car which struck on the left rear fender and body by a red delivery truck, the driver of which failed to stop after the collision. Mr. Hegarty told the Police the truck continued along Forest street and around the corner into Washington street going toward the center at high speed. His fender was damaged by the collision but no one was injured.

A Packard sedan, driven by Octavia W. Tufts of 120 Hutchins in rd., Arlington, while headed east on Bacon street and crossing the bridge over the Boston & Maine tracks at Wadsworth station, was in collision with an automobile, a sedan, headed east and driven by Francis M. O'Connor of 74 Gloucester street, Arlington. Only slight damage was done to the cars and no one was injured.

NEWBURYPORT ELKS INVITE
HOME

Newburyport Lodge of Elks has invited members of the American Legion, including the local chapter, to a Saturday Aug. 22, 23 and 24, to avail themselves of the complete facilities of their fine lodge home during the week. The lodge is open to all veterans, including stock and barrel during the convention.

Exalted Ruler Howard Brownell of Winchester Lodge has been notified by the American Legion and asked to take notice to notify local Legionnaires and citizens of the town generally.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

BOAT CLUB SAILORS SHINE AT MARBLEHEAD REGATTA

Take Eastern, Boston, Plean and Snipe Championship Trophies

Morrow Leads Blitzkrieg Against Boston Harbor Rivals

Marblehead Race Week, with all that it means in the way of color, thrills, excitement and activity, packed even more interest for the landlocked Snipe sailors of the Winchester Boat Club. This year, the fleet was larger, more experienced, better prepared than ever to cope with the unfamiliar problems of tide, sea and current. And, this year, the final race results told a far different story.

Last year, by a happy coincidence, both Winchester and Boston Harbor were represented by fleets of 10 boats apiece and there was no necessity for abstract mathematics to tell which was the better fleet.

In the final capitulation, Winchester stood 610 points 150 for the boys from "South." Also, Winchester was more decorated by four shining silver trophies while Boston Harbor had to be content with only one.

Credit for the major part of Winchester's success must go to dauntless Dickie Morrow, top-ranking Skipper of the boat club flotilla. By virtue of a first, third and second in the three-day Eastern Yacht Club contest, he staked his claim to one of the principal regatta trophies. His first in the Thursday morning sail-off of the Boston Yacht Club "all for blood" battle not only garnered another chunk of tinsele, but paved the way for an easy win in the all-week International Snipe Racing Association New England Stars Championship.

Next to the much-touted South Boston "Top Hat," Dick's chief competition came from the Blanchard boys whose "Dunlin" nipped the heels of "Don't Duck" on more than one occasion and even managed to leave her two spots behind while winning the Sunday race for the Plean Cup.

The inter-club rivalry which, all in all, was a most friendly and sportsman-like affair, took on its only tinge of unpleasantness when two boats from Boston Harbor, placing second and third in the Boston race, tried to obstruct Morrow from a well-earned first position on the far-fetched charge that he used a parable after the warning signal.

The Race Committee gave the empanies no more than scant consideration. The usual "Marblehead Blow" failed to materialize this year but, instead, on two occasions, races were postponed for a complete lack of wind. Nevertheless, the week was spiced by at least a few examples of the perils that face sailors who "go down to the sea in Snipes." Perhaps the most disturbing, temporarily at least, was the loss of Ted Burleigh's "Tee Bees" which slipped its anchor and threaded its way through the entire boat-jammed harbor on an unauthorized and unattended jaunt across Salem Bay. Fortunately, the vigilant Coast Guard picked it up and returned it unharmed the next evening.

Young Billie Cusack suffered his share of difficulties with a capsize on Saturday and a broken stay on Sunday with fractured rudder pintles on several other occasions but he showed true sea-farin spirit by re-entering his boat each time as soon as repairs could be effected. Except for a substantial setback in his point score standing, there was no serious or permanent damage.

The thrill of the week for at least three boat club members occurred when the "Glogos" finished first in the final race of the series. The three-handed thrill-fest was enjoyed by Merton Ober, Jr. who skippered the boat, Ken Warner who built it and acted as crew, and Gus West who is the proud owner.

Winchester Snipe sailors were not too involved in their own affairs to take a keen interest in the fortunes of the Star boat, "Lucky Me," owned by John Sprague, recently of the Winchester Boat Club and now sailing under Boston Harbor colors. Johnnie seemed to prove that fresh water breeds a fair brand of racing skipper by placing "Lucky Me" ninth for the week in a fast fleet of 27 boats.

Peculiarities

The Chinese usually tell fortunes by reading the lines of the feet as well as those of the hands; the Swedes seldom fail to shake hands with one another after they have finished a meal either at home or in a restaurant; and many negroes in our southern states still leave the price tags on new suits of clothes to show that they were not made at home.

WINCHESTER BOATS FARED WELL AT MARBLEHEAD

Two Winchester skippers, Kendall Spencer and Richard Morrow, won individual honors in the annual Race Week Regatta last week at Marblehead.

Spencer piloted his Marlin to win the Corinthian Yacht Club championship in the fish catboat class for boats from Annisquam and Conomo Point. Morrow won the Plean New England Championship with his Don't Duck in the International Snipe Class for Winchester and Boston boats.

Morrow tallied 108 points to win

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

On Thursday, Aug. 1, the Girl Scout Day Camp came to a close for the morning circle. Inside the cabin the scouts enjoyed singing all the songs learned during the season. A selection of the following songs was made by the campers to sing as a part of the afternoon program.

Hike Song, Pucker Up and Whistle, Down by the Old Mill Stream, led by Nancy Jamison; Ten Thousand Men, Gypsy Song, Kucenburra, Camp Song and Finlandia. During the day the girls finished craft articles which they were anxious to exhibit in the afternoon. First prize of a silver lead pencil was awarded to Barbara Nelson. Second prize of a bottle of violet perfume was awarded to Ann Albrece. Third prize of a true flower plaque was awarded to Ann Barker. While waiting for guests to arrive the scouts told stories. A lollipop was given to Mary Jane Halwartz for the best one. The program for the afternoon was:

1. Singing by all of the campers.
2. Dramatization of Ten Thousand Men by Miss Graves' unit.
3. Piano solo by one from Miss Graves' group.
4. Miss Thompson's unit.
5. Taking snapshots, Elaine Jam-breau.
6. The Lemonade Stand, Nancy Reynolds.
7. Piano Duets, Barbara and Virginia Walters.
8. A group of recitations, Barbara Nelson.
9. Dog food program, Anne Harris and Virginia Ramsdell.
10. Two poems, Mary Jane Halwartz.
11. Playettes, Barbara Nelson and Nancy Jamison.
12. Romeo and Juliet in a Modern Way, Barbara Walters and Nancy Reynolds.
Miss Gregg's unit.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served by the girls. With the good night circle camp was closed until next summer. On this last day we could see that we had the splendid cooperation of the campers and their parents who helped to make the camp a big success. We hope you will come again next year. We will look for you.

All the girls who had perfect attendance at this camp did enjoy a day at the beach Thursday, Aug. 7. The following girls went to Devereaux Beach: Shirley Marchant, Shirley Zirkel, Barbara Nelson, Ann Albrece, Betty Engle, Anne Harris, Barbara Donaghey and Mary Jane Halwartz. Although the water was cold in comparison to the air we all enjoyed its invigorator. After lunch we enjoyed sunning ourselves and walking on the beach in search of odd pebbles, shells and seaweeds. With the incoming tide we went swimming again. We are certainly grateful to Mrs. Albrece, Mrs. Engle and Mrs. Barker for the transportation to the beach and back.

We all know that the campers, parents of campers, the director and assistants and those on the camp common close. With all and for all we've had just one grand time. We have camping to look forward to another year.

Experience Necessary
"We learn from experience," said Uncle Eben, "a lot of things that we ought to have known by natural common sense."

How Isinglass Is Made
Isinglass is a gelatinous substance obtained by cleaning and drying the swimming bladders of the sturgeon and dried fishes.

RED CROSS CERTIFIES NINETY-THREE SWIMMERS

From approximately 230 young hopefuls, about 90 will receive various certificates from Beginner's Swim to Senior Life Saving Award at Leonard Field Beach this Saturday during the swimming carnival. While the actual awards will not be handed out, the names will be read. The following is the complete list:

Beginner's Swim—Frances Albani, Barbara Burbank, Sandy Burbank, Burton Bailey, Martha Bailey, Pat Ritchie, Nancy Griffiths, Mary Clark, Jean Mulcahey, Joya Foley, Bob McGaill, Stanley Mobbs, Marjorie Viano, Betty McLaac, Marie O'Leary, Ned Moore, Arthur Bohannon, Frances Feinberg, Phil O'Doherty, Gladys Roberts, Charles Dougherty, Rosemary Drohan, Sylvia Gagan, Robert O'Malley, Barbara Black, Marjorie Carroll, Barbara Young.

Intermediate—Nancy Nutter, Elizabeth Boyer, Katherine Elliott, Ted Trotte, Joyce Dana, Paul McGowan, Jim Creedon, Jean Hallisey, Robert McGrath, Edward McGrath, Pauline Albani, Jim Quinn, Raymond Gagan, Thomas McGowan, Marjorie Carson.

Advanced Swimmers—Bradley Batson, Robert Harris, Shirley Palsen, Leo Treacy, Joan Moffette and William Mason.

Junior Life Saving—Shirley Palsen, Edith Dover, Philip Exwell, Anna Murray, Kathleen O'Malley, Ann Albani, Barbara Boyer, Thomas O'Doherty, Marie Moore, Bradley Batson, Robert Harris, Addison Augusta, Pauline Albani.

Senior Life Saving—Peter Galuffo, William Mason, Leo Treacy, Joan Moffette, Joseph Russo, Nancy Goodwin, Richard Goddard and Mrs. Ethel Goodwin.

This year the Red Cross Chapter is donating trophies to the girl and to the boy who has done an outstanding job in Life Saving Work and in Swimming and who has done the most to aid the smaller ones to improve and to become enthusiastic over swimming. The selections will be announced Saturday afternoon. In the meantime the prizes will be in Hevey's Drug Store window. From the girls, Mr. Pennell has singled out the following group to be considered for these trophies: Shirley Palsen, Joan Moffette, June Moffette, Helen McGowan, Edith Dover, Barbara Boyer and Marie Moore. All these youngsters have done a splendid job this summer. Most of them have assisted him regularly during the swimming periods at the beaches.

The following boys deserve consideration for the trophy: Robert Harris, Happy Wilson, Barney Vespucci, Leo Treacy, Bill Mason and Bradley Batson.

The success of this year's program at the beaches is due in no small part to the cooperation and enthusiastic backing of Mrs. Ethel Goodwin, Chapter Representative; Mrs. George Quating, Chapter Chairman and Mrs. Ruth Hilton.

Try This Orange Lemon Marmalade

BY BETTY BARCLAY

This Orange Lemon Marmalade is just the thing to restock pantry shelves as the summer's jams and jellies run low. Slice very thin 2 unpeeled lemons and 4 unpeeled medium-sized oranges. Measure the sliced fruit and add three times as much water. Mark water line with pencil on inside of kettle. Boil 45 minutes. Rapidly liquid boiled away with water to pencil mark.

Add 1 1/4 cups sugar for each 2 cups of cooked fruit mixture. Cook in 2-cup lots in a large kettle, boiling vigorously until syrup gives a jelly test of thick and add three times as much water. Mark water line with pencil on inside of kettle. Boil 45 minutes. Rapidly liquid boiled away with water to pencil mark.

Before pouring into glasses, it is well to cool marmalade 5 minutes, stirring frequently to prevent floating fruit. California Navel oranges are best for this marmalade, being firm-meated, clean-skinned and easy to slice, because seedless. In February and March they are at just the right state of ripeness for the marmalade.

In the Log-Book
A ship's log-book is the ship's diary, notes a writer in London Answers Magazine. It is entered the rate of progress according to the log, hence its name, and all other particulars of the ship. In it also are entered all details of misdemeanors committed on board, with the culprit's name and the punishment meted out. From this we get the expression, "to log a man," used in the sense of to fine him.

Use of Anaesthetics
In the Middle Ages and up to the Eighteenth century alcohol in large doses served to numb the patient to some extent. But despite these aids surgery, before the days of true anaesthesia, (absence of feeling) must have been in more senses than one a shocking business. A new era began at the end of the Eighteenth century with the discovery that the breathing of laughing gas (nitrous oxide) caused unconsciousness. It was used for minor operations, but its effect lasted too short a time to be of much use for those which were more prolonged. Then, half-way through the Nineteenth century came the discovery of ether, quickly followed by that of chloroform—London Answers Magazine.

Webster's Work on Dictionary
Noah Webster began work on his dictionary in 1807. He spent a year (1824-25) abroad, still working on it, in Paris and at the University of Cambridge, where he completed his work in 1825. The work came out in 1828 in two volumes, an edition of 2,500 copies. It contained 12,000 words and from 30,000 to 40,000 definitions that had not appeared in any earlier dictionary. An English edition soon followed. In 1840 the second edition, corrected and enlarged, came out, in two volumes. He completed the revision of an appendix a few days before his death, May 28, 1843.

ARMY OFFERS OPPORTUNITY FOR AMBITIOUS

The United States Army offers a rich field of opportunity to ambitious young men desiring to earn a good livelihood, as the field for study and self-improvement is limited only by the individual's inclination and ability.

In an interview with Col. John L. Rice, Corps Area Reg. Officer, the Colonel stated that upon enlistment, young men will be given an opportunity to prepare themselves for specialists work if they so desire. For example, the Army Medical Center in Washington conducts two courses each year of approximately four months duration for the purpose of developing X-Ray laboratory, dental, and veterinary technicians. Also at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, home of the Medical Field Service School, a two months course is conducted annually for ambitious youths.

The X-Ray technicians course offers an opportunity to qualify in practical X-Ray work, while the laboratory technicians course offers training in routine clinical and pathological laboratory work. Men so trained can sterilize laboratory apparatus, prepare culture media, serological examinations and perform other tasks of value in either Army or civilian laboratories.

The dental technicians course provides training for selected enlisted men in dental mechanics, dental hygiene, and dental X-Ray work so they may construct crowns, bridges, dentures, and splints, scale and polish teeth, and develop X-Ray photographs.

If a graduate of this or any other medical service school decides to make the Army his career, he may confidently count upon promotion and increased pay. If he elects to return to civilian life, he will find his Medical Department training to be of material help in procuring a desirable position in an extremely interesting and well-paid field of endeavor.

The Poorest Place to Tell a Lie!

IT has been said by some of our radical reformers that advertising misleads the public.

Such accusations fall under their own weight.

The poorest place in the world to attempt a lie is in the advertising columns of American newspapers and magazines, and in American radio programs.

In the first place, our publishers and broadcasting companies wouldn't carry dishonest advertising. They outlawed it long ago.

In the second place, such efforts to mislead would be conducted in full view of the public and of the officials empowered to apply fraud laws.

In the third place, dishonest advertising is as inefficient as dirty football. It does not pay.

Informed people have lost interest in the advertising-baiting books and speeches of the radical self-appointed reformers since one after another of them has figured prominently before the House Special Committee on un-American Activities.

FRIGHT LONG A FACTOR IN WAR

Fright in the present European conflict, as excited by propaganda, by the use of flame-throwing devices, by the shriek of dive bombers and other instruments designed to shatter the morale of the enemy, is about as old as warfare itself, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

When Julius Caesar landed his forces in England, 54 B. C., he found the Britons in a war paint of dark blue which gave them an awesome appearance, says the bulletin. Even Caesar said the effect was terrifying. This practice of painting the face and body in ghastly colors was common to many warlike tribes, including American Indians.

Grimacing Warriors
Attempts to frighten the enemy were often designed also to vanquish a warrior's own fear. The war whoop of the Indian was probably thus due in its effect, supplementing the war dance which was definitely to arouse the emotions of the Indian to abandon battle.

When the Irish of the 16th century attacked invading English forces, the woods would ring with their frightful war cry, described as "Oboboboo." This cry was later translated into worse a word than "hubbub."

GOOD COMPETITION AT SWIMMING CARNIVAL

Helen Carroll in First 220. Trophies Awarded to Shirley Nelson and Robert Harris

The swimming and life saving classes maintained in Winchester by the local chapter of the American Red Cross closed their summer season last Saturday afternoon with a Swimming Carnival at Leonard Field pool.

Despite the hot afternoon a good sized crowd attended the carnival and witnessed some exciting competition in the races for Winchester boys and girls as well as three N. E. A. A. U. championship events and some most enjoyable exhibition swimming.

Shirley Nelson and Jane Moffette divided the honors in the girls events, the former winning both the 50 meter freestyle and backstroke events and placing third in the life saving.

Leo Treacy won the 100 meter freestyle for boys and also the boys' diving, placing second in the 50 meter backstroke and third in the 100 meter A. U. junior 220. The feature race for younger boys was the 25 meter freestyle, won by the tow-headed Jimmy Quinn.

Rose McGowan, daughter of Park Superintendent Thomas McGowan, won the 25 meter freestyle for little girls. Dick Crowley, same swimmer for boys 11 and 12; and the smooth working Jim Dodson, the 50 meters for boys 13 and 11. Bradley Batson won the 50 meter backstroke.

Featuring the A. A. U. events was the victory of Winchester's Helen Carroll in the junior 220 freestyle event for women. Helen beat her teammate, Joan Moffette of this town by half a lap in a time of 2:11.44. Miss Carroll, 16, is a member of the A. A. U. representatives at the meet to be very fast time. Those who saw Helen swim the same race at Leonard Field a year ago saw her in improved form and stamina.

Curly-headed Lewis Antonelli of the Boston "Y" won both men's events sponsored by the A. A. U. despite the fact that he was constantly out of his lane and once almost crossed the complete course, he won both the senior 200 yard medley swim and the junior 220 yard freestyle. He was forced to come from behind in the 220 to win Walter O'Connell of the Boston Swimming Association, who led nearly all the way and had nearly five yards on Antonelli at the final turn.

REFUGEE CHILDREN ARRIVE

On Wednesday, the Cunard White Star liner Samarra arrived in New York carrying 210 of the British refugee children, most of whom are in their early teens, none under eight. Forty-four of them are boys, 166 are girls. They have been housed through the Boston Evening Transcript. Five hundred homes have been promised by the Transcript of which 280 have already been secured. More homes are urgently needed.

Mrs. Harold V. Farnsworth is chairman of the Winchester committee working with Mrs. Richard Johnson of the Transcript and solicits the interest of any of the town's people who would be willing to take any of the children or to help in any way. Mrs. Farnsworth's telephone number is Win. 1680.

ON BICYCLE TRIP

Miss Katherine Meserve of Cutting street and Miss Beatrice Thompson of Ridge street are expected to return home today on a bicycle trip through the White Mountains. The girls left last week Thursday and covered 60 miles the first day, visiting many places of interest during their trip. They spent their nights at host-camps maintained for hikers and cyclists.

MURPHY-McDONOUGH

A marriage having much Winchester interest took place at the Holy Name Church in West Roxbury Saturday morning, Aug. 17, when Miss Mary Louise McDonough, daughter of the City of Boston's Deputy Fire Chief, John F. McDonough of Montclair avenue, Roslindale and the late Mrs. E. H. McDonough, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Murphy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Murphy of Mystic avenue.

Rev. Charles J. Dyson performed the marriage ceremony and also celebrated the nuptial mass which followed. The wedding music was played by Francis Mahler, organist, who was assisted by Leo Costa, soloist. The church was attractively decorated with white gladioli and palms, large bouquets of white asters being tied in the ends of the pews with white ribbons.

Miss McDonough was given in marriage by her father, and had for her bridesmaids her sister, Mrs. Lawrence J. Lodge of West Roxbury, Mrs. Robert Lowe of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary O'Brien of Highland Park, Cambridge, who were all in white. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin in traditional princess style. Her long veil of ivory illusion was arranged with the carotid around the hair. Her large picture hat of white straw had streamers and touches of color to match the cascade bouquets of American Beauty roses she carried. Her large picture hat of white straw had streamers and touches of color to match the cascade bouquets of American Beauty roses she carried.

The gowns and hats of the bridesmaids were similar to that of the bride, but their hats were trimmed with delphinium blue, matching the shade of their moire slippers and their cascade bouquets of delphinium.

Mr. Murphy had for his best man his brother, Ralph Murphy of this town. The usher corps included Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Dyson, Mr. and Mrs. Bright and Richard O'Hare of Brighton and Washington, D. C.

After the marriage a reception was held at the home of the bride's father, the receiving line with the bride and bridegroom were the bride's father and her paternal aunt, Miss Mary E. McDonough, the parents of the bridegroom and the bride's aunts. Upon their return from a wedding journey through the White Mountains Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will make their home at 35 Pond street in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of Poseidon school and of the Boston College Graduate School. Mr. Murphy, who is associated with the advertising department of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company, previously attended Phillips Exeter Academy and attended Harvard University.

STRIPPED WOMAN CUTTING MACHINE

Contractor James A. Cullen of Bacon street reported to the Police Wednesday that a battery and some tools had been taken from his wood cutting machine located on the Temple lot which is on Winchester street south of Crossman road in Woburn. Motorcycle Officer Irving Reardon investigated and found some tools in the cabin of two Arlington boys who then admitted that they had taken the tools from the machine and agreed to return the missing property.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Pennell Simpson of 47 Wedgewood avenue has announced the engagement of her daughter, Anne Pennell Simpson, to Mr. Albert Harmon Curtis, 24, of Weston. Miss Simpson is a graduate of the House-in-the-Pines School and of Skidmore College. Mr. Curtis is a graduate of Brown University, is a Zeta Psi fraternity man. Plans for a September wedding are being made.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Field of Woodside road announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara M., to Mr. Eugene B. Haynes, son of Mrs. Leah Haynes and the late Mr. Edmund B. Haynes.

OLYMPIC STROG HITTING CLUB

The Boston Olympics who come to Winchester Saturday, September 7, will have a team average of 230 and this includes pitcher, Mary Pratt. We have seen no Community League averages but are willing to wager a small box of "Curve-balls" that the local team can come even close to such figures.

The Olympics, or "Pits" as they are known to the fans who attend their games at the Boston Garden, are among the really good girl teams playing the game in the east. Over the past two seasons they have won from such representative clubs as the New York Robertettes, Barnham Brady Girls, Fisk Girls, Brooklyn, N. Y. Girls, Stamford Nutmegs, Landley Girls, Portland, Me., Portland All Stars, Stamford Girls of Springfield, Rhode Island All Stars, New Haven Starlets and some other New England clubs. The "Pits" are Jack Harris, former Red Sox pitcher, Jack has played and managed several seasons of this colorful club, which has done so much to popularize soft ball in Boston. The appearance of the girls in Winchester is arousing considerable interest and local fans, and it is expected that a big crowd will see the game on September 7.

ALIEN REGISTRATION

Beginning on Tuesday, Aug. 27, and continuing through December 26, 1940, the local office will undertake the registration and fingerprinting of all aliens residing in Winchester. Registration blanks, with instructions and the questions to be answered by aliens, will be given out by the post office to all aliens who apply for the same. By taking these registration blanks and filling them out, with the aid of interpreters or friends, aliens will greatly simplify the work of registration. After the blanks are filled out, it is suggested that the registration blank is returned to the post office.

Owing to the limited space available at the post office during the day, aliens are requested to report for registration at the post office between the hours of 7 p. m. and 10 p. m. every evening except on Saturdays. No alien will be requested to register or solicited to do so in any manner by the Post Office Department, however, aliens who fail to register will be liable to a fine of $100 and six months in prison.

MISS GIULIANI SHOWERED

Miss Mary Giuliani, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Giuliani of Richardson street, was given a personal shower Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Ellen Murphy of Clark street by a group of relatives and friends in honor of her approaching marriage to Mr. Ralph Melvin Flynn of Andover.

Miss Giuliani is to be married on August 26. She was the recipient of many attractive gifts, for which she expressed her thanks in a manner which left no doubt of her appreciation. The packages were served and a social hour enjoyed.

TOOK LEAD FROM VACANT HOUSE

The Police were notified Wednesday that a boy was seen leaving the Stanton house at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets with what appeared to be a heavy bag.

Motocycle Officer Irving Reardon succeeded in locating 15 year old Winchester boy who finally after long questioning, admitted having taken 30 pounds of lead pipe which he said he found on the floor of the Stanton house. He denied having dismantled the house and agreed to return the pipe. What further action will be taken wasn't determined when the Star went to press.

JENNEY STATION ROBBED

The Winchester Jenney Station of Walter P. Roberts, located on Main street just north of the railroad crossing, was broken into and robbed of some cigars and cigarettes sometime between 11 o'clock Wednesday night and 7 o'clock the following morning.

John Pearson of Shore road, an attendant at the station, discovered the break when he arrived to open up at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. Access had been gained by jumping a window on the northerly side of the station. Thirteen first quality tires were taken, the thieves disdaining a number of cheaper grade shoes ranged beside.

Besides the tires about 500 cigarettes were stolen, but no money was missing. The stolen tires were found by Lt. Edward W. O'Connell, in charge at Headquarters in the absence of Chief William H. Rogers, investigating the break. It was found that the break was made by a gang who knew what they were after, the theft tallying with others which have been reported at nearby stations.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS KNITTERS

The Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross, would like returned only the finished knitted garments, and for people to continue knitting if they have sufficient yarn to complete a garment.

Unusual yarn to be returned only if garment is finished. Garments and yarn may be returned to either Mrs. Earle E. Andrews, 106 Highland avenue, Tel. Win. 0017 or Mrs. Frank Garrett, 12 Everett avenue.

SURGICAL DRESSINGS

To those women who can give part or a full day to making surgical dressings, the Winchester Red Cross would like a few more volunteers every Monday at the Winchester Town Hall from 10 to 12 o'clock.

HARD LUCK

Monday morning shortly before 2 o'clock local Headquarters was called by the Salem Police seeking to check on a Plymouth sedan which they thought was stolen. The car was owned by Frank Kozak of Peabody, whose license to operate had expired. The car was registered to a local address, from whom Kozak insisted he had given the car to the dealer for possible purchase. The dealer was away for the weekend and none of his employees could be reached to correct the car's title. The latter, the Salem authorities averred was in their city lockup and most desirous of being released.

The local authorities regretted his predicament but were unable to do much about the matter until the local automobile agency opened Monday morning. The salesman, who had given Kozak the car, vouched for his story, and the latter was released. What was done about the expired license on which he was operating the local Police did not know.

TO PLAY IN TENNIS NATIONALS

Polly Kimball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Allen Kimball of Cabot street, is going on to Philadelphia for the national junior tennis championships, after a highly successful summer campaign that includes winning the Northern Maine championship, the South Shore Women's championship and the Eastern Shore Women's Club championship at Marblehead.

Polly will be accompanied to the nationals by her mother, who is widely known as a tennis player, and by William S. Packer Jr., who has been coaching Polly and who predicts, if on her game, she will take plenty of beating, even in such fast company.

CALLED TO ACTIVE SERVICE

Former Seaman Richard W. MacAdams, a former well known local figure, is now called to active duty in the Navy. He is a member of Winchester Post 97, A. L., being commander-elect of the Post.

WITH CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS

Mr. Robert M. Hamilton of Manchester, Conn., a former well known resident of this town, was called to active duty Wednesday with the Civilian Conservation Corps. Mr. Hamilton, who holds a major's commission in the army, has served in the corps and has considerable experience in the C. C. C., having been in charge of camps at Plymouth, Bourne, Killingworth, Conn. and Barrington, Cal. He is now located at Pittsfield with the 1103rd veterans' camp.

MISS BARBARA HILL ENGAGED

Mrs. Donald R. Hill of Norwood street, announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Barbara Hill, to Harold A. Bond Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Bond of Arlington. The wedding will take place in the early spring.

WINCHESTER NURSE SERIOUSLY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Miss Kathleen P. Hanson of 11 Park avenue, daughter of Mrs. Annie M. Hanson and sister of Lt. Ray Hanson of the First Department, was seriously injured sometime between 12:30 and 1 o'clock Monday afternoon when her automobile crashed into a tree on South Border road not far from Governor's avenue in Medford.

Circumstances surrounding the accident are unknown. Miss Hanson, a registered nurse, on private duty at the Malden Hospital, of which she is a graduate, left home for the hospital in her usual road outfit. She was familiar with every foot of the road she travelled having been over it countless times. She was found unconscious in her wrecked automobile by two boys who were walking on Border road. The youngsters stopped a motorist who drove them to the Metropolitan station near at hand, the Metropolitan Police returning with their ambulance.

Miss Hanson was removed to the Lawrence Memorial hospital still unconscious. Her condition was considered serious and x-rays disclosed a skull fracture and other possible injuries. She continued unconscious through Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday, emergency operations failing to relieve her condition. Wednesday night she was removed to the Metropolitan Hospital in Boston where yesterday forenoon a delicate major operation was performed upon her head. Miss Hanson was expected to be out of the hospital in a few days.

Her physical condition was not yesterday afternoon than when she was first admitted to the hospital.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEMBERSHIP INCREASE

Through the efforts of Mrs. Richard W. MacAdams, membership chairman, the Auxiliary to Post 97, American Legion, has enrolled 18 new members this past summer. Several more are expected in the near future as the result of personal calls and contacts made by Mrs. MacAdams.

Extension of the large number of new members plans are now being made to make the first meeting of the Auxiliary this fall unusually attractive. The new members' efforts are now being completed, and further information about this feature meeting will be made in a later issue of the Star.

Any who are eligible for membership in the Auxiliary, who have not been contacted, and who would like to become members, are urged to call Mrs. MacAdams, Win. 1387, and she will be pleased to call upon them personally and arrange for the receipt of their applications.

A LONG WAY FROM HOME

Wednesday afternoon shortly before 5:30 Mrs. Philip O'Rourke of Symmes road picked up a small boy whom she found at the corner of Bacon street and Winchester road. The youngster was disconsolate, saying he had become separated from his mother and was hopelessly lost. He told her that he was a boy named Astoria Long Island, N. Y., telling them he was staying with his mother, whose name and address he couldn't remember.

An investigation was begun by the Police and it was soon learned that the little fellow was missing from Medford. The Police of that city came for him and took him home.

CUBS TOWN CHAMPIONS

The Winchester Cubs, for the first time since the two clubs have been battling for the town baseball championship, won a series from the Melbourns, winning the old game of the current five last night on Leonard Field, 3-1.

Summers, ex-Arlington high hurler, worked for the Cubs after a rocky first inning, when he had three on and only one away, held the Melbourns well in check, showing a nice curve and a good "hard one." "Tom" Donaghy, veteran third baseman of the Melbourns, opposed the Cubs a pair of widely scattered hits and should not have been scored on. He was wild, but so was Summers. The Melbourns, only tally came on a towering fly by Slicker Coss in the second, a blow that DeFoe field misjudged and then fell down on as he tried to get on his legs to make the catch. The play at the plate was as close as his ump's call "safe." As walks, to Marnie and Sam Provinzans, who were two away in the Cubs fourth. When Provinzans, away ground, a ball he laidly attempted to hit, went through Albie Simmons' hands, he was out. Albie Donnell threw out Len Rallo. That was the game. Frank Rallo really hit one of Tom Donaghy's balls in the third, the all time to far center field. "Rally" actually out trying to stretch it to a base, but in a relay from Jimmie Donaghy to Albie MacAdams, he was out. Rallo actually made sure he didn't reach first base. The summary:

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Let us compare today's liquor situation with that of 20 years ago as revealed in the issue of the "New York Herald Tribune" for Feb. 18, 1920:

"A casual investigation of the effects of one month of prohibition in New York City seems to build up an overwhelming and puncture-proof case in favor of the 18th Amendment. Exhibit 'A' will be the famous alcoholic ward in New York's Bellevue Hospital. It has been abolished."

The Director of Bellevue Hospital tells "The Nation" (May 1940), that the psychiatric division handles all straight alcoholic patients, a total of 70 patients per day, really a lower average, as patients are kept somewhat longer now for better treatment, but that is offset by transfer to other hospital divisions of alcoholics having skull fractures or other injuries.

In 1933 repeal advocates argued that prohibition was contributing to the spread of alcoholism.

The "Christian Science Monitor" viewed alcoholism for 1937 in Boston hospitals as a "chronic emergency," demanding broad-scale education. It costs the city $500,000 yearly.

"Less than 48 hours after the Distilled Spirits Institute released a national survey claiming that crime had decreased since prohibition repeal, Boston City Hospital authorities completed a survey of their own revealing very different conclusion. Not only had cases of excessive drinking killed more and more of a burden to city finances, virtually overtaxing the hospitals' capacity, but alcoholic fatalities increased out of all proportion to the number of drinking cases admitted."

The following is from the "Chicago Daily Times":

Musical Sounds in Cavern

The only cavern in the world in which the wind produces musical sounds is believed to be Flinn's cave on Staffa Island, one of the Hebrides. During a visit there Menzies-Brown was inspired to write his overture, "The Hebrides."

ENGLISH CHANNEL WIDER THAN IT APPEARS

German artillery placed for cross-Channel fire against England is reported concentrated along the French coast between Boulogne and Dunkerque. Only at its eastern end is the English Channel actually narrow, points out a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. There at the Strait of Dover it narrows to 20 miles, with a mere 22-mile jump between Calais and the British port of Dover. Some 20 miles westward along the French coast, however, the Channel widens to leave a gap of 30 miles between Boulogne and the nearest English port, Folkestone. At Dieppe, the distance to the coast of Britain is 60 miles. Farther west at Le Havre, the French port opposite Brighton, the Channel is 85 miles wide. These distances represent an estimated flying time for bombers of about 6 minutes from Folkestone to Calais, 8 minutes from Boulogne, 16 from Dieppe and 21 from Le Havre.

"The Sleeve" is what the French call the 350-mile-long Channel, an old-fashioned two-puff sleeve with its tight wrist at the Strait of Dover, the puffs caught in at Cherbourg, and the shoulders at its western entrance to the Atlantic. The constriction at Cherbourg leaves a mere 82 miles intervening between the British port of Portsmouth, and a narrow 55 miles between Alderney, and the northernmost Channel Island, and the nearest point of the English coast. The western "puff," however, is a distance of 137 miles or 18 minutes between 87, Main and Southampton, Britain's largest Channel port. The western end of the Channel is more than 100 miles wide, and nearly twice as deep as the eastern extremity.

The east Channel coast of England, most exposed to attack from France, contains a large fraction of the 4,500,000 Englishmen living in the six counties and islands bordering the Channel.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

SINCE the expenditure for a meal is based on the cost of the meat, housewives this week will be pleased to learn that beef, lamb, and fresh pork cuts are all fractionally lower. This week might be an ideal time to plan to have roast on Sunday, especially as Sunday roasts can be prepared in so many different ways.

When shopping for Sunday, the housewife will find that fresh fruit and vegetable departments offer many excellent choices. The variety is almost unlimited, and their prices at the season of the year are at their lowest. Lettuce, cherries, cantaloupes, peaches, and watermelons are all very low in price, and can be served either in their natural state, or in fruit compotes. All types of beans, including green, wax, and lima, are plentiful. More corn is available in this week, and the price is reasonable. Cabbage, which has been somewhat high, is lower this week, and tomatoes remain an excellent value.

Miss Cora Anthony of the A.S.P. Club, suggests the following menu for Sunday dinners based on the week's market reports:

Low Cost Dinner

Beef Steak and Vegetable Pie
with Baking Powder Biscuits
Spiced Potatoes
Lettuce and Tomato Salad
Fresh Peach Tarts
Iced Tea or Coffee

Moderate Cost Dinner

Roast Shoulder of Lamb
Mint Sauce Browned Potatoes
Crispy Vegetable Salad with Fresh Peas and Carrots in Lettuce Beds
Rice and Butter
Macaroni of Fresh Fruit
Iced Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner

Crabmeat Canape
Roast Beef Tenderloin with Mushroom Sauce
Mashed Potatoes
French Fried Eggplant with the Dish New and Green Pepper Salad
Cantaloupe & a La Mode

BOAT CLUB NEWS

(By Telltale)

"Eating out" has gotten to mean being one of the crowd at the Thursday night picnic suppers. Last week's turnout was one of the best since this pleasant summer evening custom started. A moonlight sailing race (complete with moon) provided the after-supper entertainment. Picnic suppers will continue to be a Thursday night feature as long as pleasant weather holds.

The usual after-Race Week surge of interest in sailing brought out less than 15 boats last Saturday. With several of the complete fleet of 18 Snipes temporarily out of action, this comes pretty close to being a 100 per cent representation. Big fleets usually mean unexpected results but the outcome of both races shows the skippers finished fairly well in line with their season's standing.

VISITED SCOUT CHALET

Anne Coyne, Girl Scout of 596 Main street, Winchester, was a visitor at the Girl Scout Chalet during her tour of the New York World's Fair last week. The Chalet, east of the Empire State Bldg. in the Amusement Area at the Fair, is attracting hundreds of visitors each week. Last year visitors from every state in the nation and from 12 foreign countries registered in the Girl Scout Chalet guest book.

The Chalet is a small-scale replica of "Our Chalet" near Aachen, Switzerland, international meeting place for Girl Scouts and Girl Guides from all parts of the world. The original Chalet was presented to the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts by Mrs. James J. Storrow of Boston. The replica at the World's Fair is the official exhibit of the Girl Scout national organization. It is being used as a display for arts and crafts designed and created by Girl Scouts and for official equipment.

It is planned to place the Chalet from time to time so that work from many parts of the country will be shown during the summer and early fall.

Three members of the Girl Scout national staff are on hand at all times to greet visitors and to answer any questions which might be asked about Girl Scout history and program activities.

COLLIDED WITH PARKED CAR

A Pontiac sedan, being driven east on Hutchinson road about 300 yards from Riller street by David A. Ritchie, of 48 Wedgemore avenue was in collision at 9:15 Monday evening with a Lincoln Zephyr, owned by George M. Phillips of 203 Main street. Ritchie, who was parked on the right side of the roadway.

Both cars were damaged, the Pontiac being disabled and towed to the Central Garage. A young woman in the Zephyr complained of being shaken up. The road is narrow at the point where the cars collided. Ritchie told the Police his foot slipped from the brake as he attempted to slow down his machine at the approach of another car. He was not injured.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Three hundred and ten youngsters (many of whom were not so young) who were transported in three buses and 24 private cars to the Red Sox (Cleveland) baseball game Tuesday afternoon saw a real slambang contest which provided many a thrill even though the Sox did lose.

For the first time in 10 years we witnessed an unruly crowd, composed of the most part of adults who had no business to be there, and few unpleasant moments in the crush which followed the opening of the gate represented the total of our discomfort. Two of our boys received scratches which were painted up in short order. Of course Bob Feller, pitching for the first place Indians, was indirectly responsible for the rush to the gate and we were elated when he was belted out of the box.

We thank the following people who made this day possible by donating cars: Mr. Ralph Bonnell (the ever reliable), Mr. Howard Brownell (2 cars), Mr. Rosari Marchesi (2 cars), Mr. Charles Roche, Mr. James Haley, Mr. R. Donaghey, Mr. Raymond Carr, Mr. John Di Grasso, Mr. F. Eric, Mr. Peter Galuffo, Mr. Moore, Mr. Herbert Cleary, Mr. Sidney Akin, Mr. Howard Saunders, Miss Peggy Shaughnessy, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Powers and Mr. L. Larkins.

Special mention must be made again of Officer Farrell of the local force who gave his entire day from nine o'clock in the morning until tea return from the game that evening. Without his help it would be almost impossible to care for so large a group of boys and girls.

Michigan's Early Settlers

Long before the white man came to Beaver Island, Mich., long before the Indians found the Lake Michigan islands to their liking, prehistoric man had settled upon Beaver Island. The French of Champlain's colony at Quebec were at Beaver Island before the Puritans reached Plymouth or the Dutch New York. When they arrived, about 1630, they found gardens and farms laid out.

This is one of two photographs given the Star by Officer Winthrop A. Palmer of the Police Department, the other being that of the Deacon Edward Converse House also published in this issue. It is hoped that some reader of the Star may be able to identify the larger picture which would seem to include the State House on Beacon Hill.

First Oleomargarine

It is said that oleomargarine was invented by a French chemist acting under the encouragement of Napoleon III at the time of the Franco-Prussian war. The emperor had wanted to find a substitute for butter as a matter of war-time economy.

GOOD COMPETITION AT SWIMMING CARNIVAL

There were few entries in the A. C. events due to conflict with the national swim events at Portland, Ore., and the fact that announced most of the local events was late. No mention of the carnival would be complete without a word of praise for the water duct of Joan Moffette and Helen Carroll. These girls, members of the Boston Swimming Association's Water Ballet, offered a series of intricate evolutions which they performed with an easy grace and nice timing that aroused the admiration of the crowd. Now you saw them and now you didn't, as they faded into the depths of the pool so easily as to leave hardly a ripple. Climaxing their act, the girls formed a wheel, one grasping the other under the chin with her feet, after which the pair whirled over and over in the water until those watching them gasped for breath.

Preceding the duet, the Winchester two, Joan and June Moffette and Edith Dover, appeared in an exhibition swim that also was well done and interesting, the diminutive red capped "Juni" appearing in a new position with regards the other two each time they rose from a dive. Following the carnival the prizes were presented by members of the Park Board. George T. Davis, Fred Alexander and William S. Packer. Two special trophies were presented by the Winchester Red Cross to the girl and boy who did most for life saving work and swimming in town this summer. These handsome trophies of a bronze swimmer on a black wood base were presented by Mrs. Ethel Goodwin, Red Cross Swimming Chairman, to Shirley Palsen and Robert Harris.

Following is the carnival summary: 25 meter freestyle, girls 10 and under—Won by Rose McGowan; second, Bob Beyer; third, Margaret McDonough. 25 meter freestyle, boys 10 and under—Won by Jim Quince; second, Robert McGrath; third, Pete Dillingham. 25 meter freestyle, girls 11 and 12—Won by June Moffette; second, Helen McGowan; third, Marjorie Carson. 25 meter freestyle, boys 11 and 12—Won by Dick Creedon; second, Rob-

MILLIONAIRES WIN THIRD GAME OF SERIES

The Millionaires went one up on the Cubs in their series for the baseball championship of Winchester, winning the third game Tuesday evening on Leonard Field, 3-2. Both teams played good ball and got good pitching. McKee, hurling for the Moneybags limited the Cubs to three hits, two of which came in the second inning when both the losers' runs were scored. DiMinico, pitching for the Cubs, held the heavy hitting Millionaires to five hits. Three of these, however, came in the fourth, resulting in three runs which were enough to win the ball game. The Cubs had the tying and winning runs on times enough, but except for that, 2nd frame could do nothing with McKee's fast one and sweeping curve.

The Cubs laid hard luck on the bases, and twice lost runners at first when Coss was off the bat as he made the catch. The Millionaires started well when Junior Donaghey lined a single to left and was sacrificed to second by Albie MacDonnell. Noble lined out to Frank Rallo, and the dangerous Tom Donaghey was nipped. DiMinico refusing to give him anything good to hit, Bob Donaghey forced his brother at second on a rap to Sam Provinziano.

Sammy hoisted to Junior Donaghey to start the Cubs' second. DeTeso doubled to right center and Procopio walked. Len Rallo doubled off the left field fence to score DeTeso, but Procopio was out at third on a very close decision as McKee cut off the throw to the plate and pegged to Rod MacDonnell. If Procopio had slid, it is probable he would have been safe and another run would have counted for Murphy's well-hit grounder skidded through Albie MacDonnell to score Len Rallo. DiMinico popped up to Rod MacDonnell at third.

Noble was safe to start the Millionaires fourth as Sam Provinziano dodged his third home run grounder. It was a costly error for Rod stole and holding up while Tom Donaghey lifted out to Ducky Rallo, scored as Rallo's D-maghey dived off the left field fence. Rod MacDonnell lofted a little looper that Sam Provinziano managed to reach in short center but couldn't hold, the hit sending Donaghey to third and MacDonnell down on the throw to third and both he and Donaghey scored as Lee punched a clean single past Len Rallo into right field. Coss hit one hard and deep to center field where Manzie gobbled it. Len Rallo tossed out McKee.

That was the ball game, a nice one for McKee to win and a very tough one for the bespectacled DiMinico to lose, Provinziano's error and Rod MacDonnell's fluke hit being the difference between a defeat and a shutout victory.

The Cubs had a great chance in the fifth when Len Rallo was hit by McKee for a starter and was sacrificed to second by Murphy. DiMinico worked McKee for a pass, but both Manzie and Frank Rallo fled out. Frankie Provinziano's rather fluky hit in the sixth was the only safety garnered by the head of the Cubs batting order during the entire game. The summary:

Honest Harold Ickes evidently does not like Wendell Willkie.

What has become of all those wonderful rural settlements and who are now living in those neat and convenient New Deal homes? Hiss hush.

France, too, refused to give up any of its social gains. It's doing so now though. That nation patterned after America—or rather the New Deal.

We fail to see the logic in our great President hustling into such terrific activity and giving up all his valuable time in inspecting naval and army posts. It can't be for votes, for the draft has not even started. Perhaps it's to find out the make of the milk bottle hand grenades and the royal economist broom handle rifles. Anyway—it's for the good of the nation.

The Democrats are trying hard to provide truth to their assertion that Willkie was a Tammany member two years ago. Their logic in this idea is, of course, that Willkie was a political history Tammany is the Democratic stronghold. If this be so, wherein lies the terrible thing now being wished upon Willkie? He is being accused of being contaminated by a contact with Tammany, whereas all Democrats are lauded for similar associations. It seems to come with the usual clear, keen New Deal thinking.

ANOTHER WAY TO GET IT

Circuit Court of Appeals awards three years' back pay to workmen who were never hired and never worked for the defendants. Here's the trick: apply for a job, say you're a union official, and if not hired, sue.—[Boston Globe]

SHOR ON THE OTHER FOOT

Theorists in this country have from time to time taken a pretty vicious one whack at an advertising, intimating that it places an unfair burden on the consumer. And various high officials in Washington have declared emphatically that they believe government should regulate advertising; that too much money is spent for advertising by manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers; and that the cost of such advertising raises the price of goods or services.

It will be news to many readers, therefore, to learn that a brand new advertiser has now appeared in the paper match-cover field. The new advertiser is a branch of the Federal government itself!

Paper matches are now being distributed accompanied by this message: "KNOW YOUR MONEY. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITERS. SOUND YOUR CENTS. EXAMINE YOUR BILLS. U. S. SECRET SERVICE TREASURY DEPARTMENT."

And the cost—why, that's passed along to the taxpayer!

AS TO THIS AND THAT

It is said that there are people who fear that Mr. Willkie may be apt to undo whatever attempts have been made during the past eight years to correct admitted defects in our economic procedure, that in effect he is likely to be reactionary, and to forget the promises that he now is giving. Such individuals may well study his life to date. Men and women do not suddenly change after they have arrived at his present age. Just as it is absurd to think that Franklin Delano Roosevelt was a serious student of the welfare of his fellow man, except as a persuasive pretence seemed to help him to help his ambitions because as a private citizen he was not known to have any concern about himself so it is reasonable to believe that Mr. Willkie will continue to be, as he has always been, a real liberal politically.

Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the recognized fact that Franklin Delano Roosevelt's pledged word means nothing except what he would like men and women to believe for his advantage and it cannot be too often repeated that truthfulness and loyalty are fundamental necessities to our civilization. It may be that it is Roosevelt's misfortune that he was not brought up wisely, that he was taught a philosophy of selfishness veiled by charming manners, that his experience has led him to demonstrate that success justifies any means whatever and that to a degree his commendable efforts to overcome his physical disability in his physical thinking but the contrast between him and Mr. Willkie is so marked that it is difficult to understand how anyone who studies the two can have two different questions as to which should be chosen to lead a great nation.

Mr. Willkie has associated with rich and poor, has known what it is to work hard, for himself and for others, has always held high personal standards of ethics, has conducted large and small business ventures with careful regard for employees, stockholders and general public, has stood by his friends and been generous to his opponents, has fought a clean fight when he seems to have to fight without imputing to his adversaries unworthy motives, has said what he meant and meant what he said, has studied present day problems and determined for himself what should be done, has never been affiliated with any political bosses whatever, has supported men for office on the sole basis of apparent merit, has been nominated for the Presidency without bargaining and against the will of some, at least, of the Republican leaders—quite naturally in respect for Thomas Jefferson's principles.

If one can judge at all from Mr. Willkie's life to the present year, there should be no doubt as to his prominent fitness not as to his acts if elected. He will have a very difficult job because whatever may be named for New Deal "objectives" the methods followed have been unskillful, confused and undemocratic but he can be relied upon to be liberal and sane.

"We'll Feel Safer Next Year," President says. "He's right."

CONSCRIPTION

They had it at Chicago.

They drafted him or he drafted them, or somebody drafted somebody or other.

Take the New Deal conscription and its 1,000,000 office holding draftees. If they are so willing to serve their country sitting in a draft at a desk, why not fight Hitler with the pen. It's mighty.

But their seven year itch to use "red ink" has hindered national defense.

THE THIRD TERM GOOSE STEP

The Third Term and its implications to a world rampant with Third Term dictators—is too dangerous for our democracy to tolerate.

A Labor Union in convention—just endorsed the "third term." Think of it! In spite of the coast parallel all over Europe and after what happened to Labor Unions in every single instance where "one-man rule" exists.

As to the New Deal, centralized, High Command, they are now accusing Washington and Jefferson of being wrong. They have repudiated the founders of their country. For instance, the United States Senate, in 1933, passed a resolution stating in substance that any third term was a world rampant with Third Term dictators.

Such high New Dealers as Senator Barkley voted for it. Yet he is the chap who delivered President Roosevelt's "I will support him and I will" message at Chicago.

Senator Wagner—of labor force—voted that resolution yet he is Chairman of the present Democratic Platform Committee.

Other high New Dealers—who voted in the Senate against the Third Term and for Washingtonian and Jeffersonian ideas about Third Term "terms"—have repudiated this first principle of our democracy: Tydings, Wheeler, Thomas, Smith, Sheppard, Neely, McKeller, King, Hayden, Glass, Gerry, Ashurst, Pittman, and the rest of the Harrison voted for that resolution.

It is useless now to change our minds but the nation must now determine whether New Dealers have changed their minds on changing our democracy to some other form of government; and whether this absolute about-face is not proof positive that "one-man rule" is not only already "gone-stepped" them.

In 1896, The Democratic Platform strangely opposed any attempt at any time for a third term.

President Roosevelt will not be elected. His election would announce to the world that America too had found "one-man rule" was the proper form of government.

WINCHESTER WON BEACH MEET

A team of Winchester swimmers and divers won a 27-25 victory over a Woburn team from Foley Beach Wednesday afternoon at Palmer street in a meet sponsored by the lifeguards.

The victors had the edge in the boys' events, Leo Treacy's win in the 100 yard freestyle being the only local victory. In the girls' events Helen Carroll and Joan Moffette gave Winchester a big edge, with Edith Dover, Doris Roberts and June Moffette giving the local team a sweep in the 50 yards.

The nature half mile freestyle open swim was won by Frank Callahan of Woburn from Winchester's Helen Carroll with Leo Treacy third. The Winchester swimmers got badly off their course and swam in the wrong raft, thereby losing considerable ground. Had they stayed on their course, there might have been a different result, though Callahan swam a nice race and deserved his victory.

Following is the summary: Diving—Won by Joe Daley (Wob); second, Jack Parlett (Win); third, Frank Callahan (Win). Boys' 100 yard freestyle—Won by Leo Treacy (Win); second, Frank Callahan (Win); third, Tom Crovitch (Wob).

Girls' relay, 50 yards—Won by Winchester (Helen Carroll and Joan Moffette).

Boys' relay, 200 yards—Won by Woburn (Frank Callahan, Tom Melanson, Jack Crovitch, Paul Violendi). Girls' 100 yards freestyle—Won by Helen Carroll (Win); second, Joan Moffette (Win); third, Barbara Keating (Wob).

Boys' 25 yard freestyle—Won by Bob Drake (Win); second, Dick Creedon (Win); third, John Jiffune (Wob).

Girls' 50 yards freestyle—Won by Edith Dover (Win); second, Doris Roberts (Win); third, June Moffette (Win).

Boys' 50 yards freestyle—Won by Frank Callahan (Wob); second, Jackie Melanson (Wob); third, Jim Violante (Win).

Half mile freestyle (open)—Won by Frank Callahan (Win); second, Helen Carroll (Win); third Leo Treacy (Win).

A HOT SPOT IN WAR NEWS

Massaua, Eritrea, where Italian munitions supplies and other military objectives were bombed by British airmen, is an old seaport on the Red Sea. It is one of the hottest towns in the world, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

The thermometer often rises to 120 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade in Massaua. The mean temperature for July, 94 degrees, is almost 20 degrees hotter than the average of New York's hottest months. The heat is more tormenting because of the high humidity. Even in winter the thermometer never drops below 70.

A War Boat Town

The town has a population of 16,000 natives, with a few hundred white men, mostly Italians connected with the government, or representing banking, shipping or trading companies. They work under large fairs with perspiring containers of cold water at their elbows.

Except for the houses at the hospital, the few white women of the town spend their summers on the higher plains of Massaua, 7000 feet above sea level. Here is located the capital of Eritrea, Asmara, inland six hours by rail from Massaua.

The town was originally the port of the Italian navy. The harbor was long the only one on the Eritrean coast where large ships could unload without the use of lighters. A dock leads almost directly to the water.

Massaua now is distinguished by a narrow 1500 foot long. A causeway, 4200 feet in length now connects with the mainland where the town has spread.

Government and residential quarters, and the railway station, are on the island of Taulud. On the island of Massaua was founded the original Arab town with many Mohammedan names. As in Rome, the main street is called Corso Umberto I, while a Via Roma leads to the Piazza Garibaldi and to the entrance of the market conducted by the natives. The natives live mostly in one-story stone houses, all constructed to the same pattern.

CUBS EVENED SERIES

The Cubs evened the count at two games apiece in their championship series with the Millionaires Wednesday evening, winning 4-3 on Leonard Field in a garrison finish.

Behind 3-0 going into the last of the 5th, with Bobby Farrell having snuffed out every previous attempt to rally, the Cubs looked like a beaten ball club. Even their most rabid supporters gave them little chance to square the series. Two scattered hits in the first four frames was the sum total of the Cubs attack, and with men on bases Farrell had been very tight indeed.

Meanwhile the Moneybags hadn't found Pete Provinzano quite the trouble he had been in his previous appearance against them. Pete was pitching good ball, however, and with good support might have gotten by unscathed.

The Millionaires' first run was a cheap one. With one away Rod MacDonnell pulled a single into right field and stole second. Provinzano worked hard on Leo and finally passed him. Cross rapped a lead one at Sam Provinzano and with a perfect setup for a double play Len Rallo muffed Sam's toss to second, every one being safe. With two strikes on Farrell, MacDonnell started for home and arrived safely when Provinzano pitched into the dirt in front of the plate. Farrell finally fanned and J. Donaghy hoisted to Len Rallo.

In the third with one away Noble golfed one into center field on which Manzie started very late and missed a shoestring catch, the ball getting by him for a double. McKee singled to center, scoring Noble, but was forced at second on E. Donaghy's tap to Provinzano. Donaghy did steal of the plate. Farrell finally fanned and J. Donaghy hoisted to Len Rallo.

Again with one out in the fifth Albin MacDonnell started very late on the right and reached second when DeTosso nussed up the drive. Noble's curving single into center field scored MacDonnell, but DeTosso took a foul ball in short right and Len Rallo backed up a hit for Bob Donaghy's lofty hit.

Facing a three to nothing deficit in their half of the 3d, the Cubs started as Pete Provinzano worked Farrell for a pass. With the count two strikes and one ball Farrell grooved one for P. Rallo and Ducky gracefully belted it over the left field fence for a two-run homer. Manzie fanned and Rod MacDonnell made a nice cross-bat over the plate.

Still a run behind, Sam Provinzano hit the first pitch along the left field foul line for a double, and Tony DeTosso followed with a whistling hit over second. The ball skidded between the legs of the charging Lee in center field and DeTosso made the complete circuit on the error. Lee took Procopio's short fly in center field, making a nice running catch.

The Cubs were full of fight as they camped to the field for the sixth. Frank Provinzano gobbled up Rod MacDonnell's foul fly behind the plate and Manzie took Lee's long bunt in deep center field. Rose scored the Millionaires' home with a clean single to left, and Tom Donaghy was sent in to bat for the disconsolate Bobby Farrell.

With Tom's propensity for poling long hits, anything could happen, but the best the big boy could manage was a long fly to left that Ducky Rallo took after a bit of a run.

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, throughout the world, on Sunday, August 25.

The Golden Text is: "Heeded be the name of God for ever and ever, for wisdom and might are his." "He will give wisdom unto them, he will give knowledge to them that know understanding." (Daniel 2: 20, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory, but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 2: 3-5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from Christian Science Texts: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. "When the divine records are understood, they unfold a new and better world, in which one mind is not at war with another, but all have one Spirit, God, one intelligent source, in accordance with the Scriptural command: Let this Mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus" (1 Cor. 6: 17).

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Chief Bill Rogers, specialist on speedometers, could stand it no longer. He has taken to the vacation road and we wouldn't be a bit surprised if he left his speedometer at home.

We learn that our John McLean and Harry Mueller together with Dr. Harry Benson are instituting a clinic at 31 Church street. All success to these progressive young men who may be depended upon to avail themselves of all modern facilities in the practice of their professional specialties.

Aram Mouradian had plenty of assistance today as he celebrated his first appearance at our meetings as a single man. Each member joined in a rousing cheer for his happiness and prosperity as he proceeds in double harness along life's eventful pathway. Journey begins on Sunday, Aug. 25. Happy days, Aram!

Our committee of physicians, recently appointed, has been functioning so successfully that President George has assigned to it further duties in conjunction with the community service committee. It becomes evident that this committee is destined to do an amount of good entirely out of proportion to the publicity it will receive, meaning that the good deeds will be accomplished without recourse to megaphones and such like.

The game is on. We refer to that soft ball game scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 7, at the Shore road athletic field and specifically we wish to announce that tickets for this game can be obtained from any member of the Winchester Rotary Club. Admission 50 cents, admitting to the enlarged grand stand which will have accommodations for 1400 patrons. Remember—the entire proceeds of this game will be contributed to the Red Cross. We know you wish to help.

Today we had the unusual experience of entertaining at one of our regular weekly luncheons, not especially publicized, the Presidents of three neighboring Rotary Clubs, namely, Arlington, Belmont and Woburn. Which circumstances we take as good evidence that Rotary is doing much a live issue in this vicinity. These three clubs and our own have a combined membership of approximately 200 in this membership is growing. Here, men, is an influence for good which will write its history in terms of its accomplishments for the benefit of community, nation and world at large.

The club is in receipt of its copy of the Proceedings of the Annual Convention of Rotary International at Ixona last June. This copy, of course, is available to any member of the club for inspection or reference. The secretary is anxious to accommodate.

The next meeting, on Aug. 29, will be the final meeting of the summer season without formal entertainment. Be prepared for an enthusiastic joint meeting with Woburn at the Winchester Country Club on Thursday, Sept. 6. Full details in the next letter.

NEWEST TRANSPACIFIC AIR ROUTE TOUCHES LOVELY ATOLL AND THIRVING COLONY

Following the first leg, the much-traveled air path from California to Honolulu, the latest transpacific flights, just inaugurated to New Zealand, will strike then out over seldom-traversed routes from Honolulu to the southwest, points out a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

The first of the two intermediate stops between Hawaii and New Zealand will be at Canton Island in the scattered Phoenix group after a flight of about 1850 miles over landless water, continues the bulletin. This island was uninhabited three years ago, and had been seldom visited. The solar eclipse expedition of 1937 by the National Geographic Society and the U. S. Navy which set up its instruments on Canton found that the island, with its well-protected lagoon, would serve excellently as an air base.

Value for Base Found by Scientific Expedition

Following this report, the United States Government officially colonized the islet. Rival claims of the United States and Great Britain were settled in 1939, with the island and its neighbor, Enderbury, passing under joint control of the two countries with special provision for use by both as air bases.

Let's 300,000 Mosquitoes Bite Him To Find Perfect Insect Repellent

Young Research Worker on "Iron" Man

Philip Granett

WHILE other people try to keep away from mosquitoes during the summer months, Philip Granett, young "Iron" man at Rutgers University, goes to a great deal of trouble to get them to bite him. He has endured more than 300,000 bites to help make it possible for other folks to escape insect annoyance.

Granett is one of a group of scientists at Rutgers who, under a grant from the National Carbon Company, are studying insect reactions to various chemicals. They have been working on this one problem for five years. As a result, they have already succeeded in making a repellent lotion that not only keeps mosquitoes from biting but keeps them at a distance.

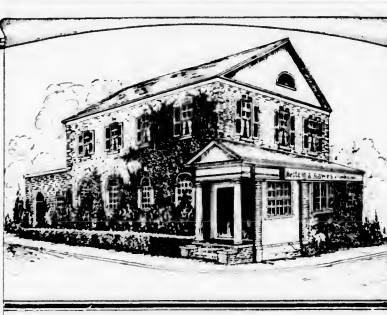

Granett's job in this research has been that of a human guinea pig. He has tried out on himself the hundreds of chemical combinations produced by the laboratory staff to learn which solution would work best.

His method has been to take a sample of the chemical to be tested, stand in a mosquito bog, roll up sleeves and trousers, and apply a measured amount of the repellent to one arm and one leg. The other arm and leg have been left unprotected. Then the number of bites received on the untreated parts of his body were counted.

Bites were counted until Granett got one on the arm or leg having the repellent coating. As soon as that happened, he noted the time that had elapsed since the test began, and the experiment was over. His purpose, of course, was to find a chemical combination that would extend the protection time as long as possible.

Day after day Granett has gone through this routine, trying out one chemical after another. During the summer he has stood in swamps under a boiling sun. In winter has been bitten by mosquitoes especially raised in the Rutgers laboratory at New Brunswick, N. J. Every one of the thirty-five kinds of mosquitoes found in New Jersey has had a chance to feed on him, Granett says. Along with them are many others of the 350 varieties that exist in different parts of the United States.

Granett's endurance has been finally rewarded. The laboratory staff reports that it has developed a lotion that withstands all tests better than any other. Not only does this substance offer protection against mosquitoes, but it keeps away gnats, sand flies, and similar pests. One application may last as long as three hours.

GRANADA THEATRE

Bette Davis and Charles Boyer in "All This and Heaven Too," a screen version of Rachel Field's best-selling novel, will open at the Granada Theatre in Malden today. Hailed as one of the outstanding films of the year, it provides Bette Davis and Charles Boyer two of their finest screen roles. Miss Davis is cast as a governess who comes to the luxurious Paris home of Charles Boyer to take charge of his four children. To these children she gives the love and understanding they have never had from their mother, a hysterical, neurotic woman whose only interest is society and her husband. Her wild passions and utter disregard for the children have ostracized him. He sees in the little governess all that he wants in life. No word of love passes between them, but there is a deep, understanding friendship in which each finds the first happiness they have known. The wife soon fastens on Miss Davis as the cause of her husband's coldness, and dismisses her. When the wife is found murdered in her boudoir soon afterward, Miss Davis and Boyer become the storm center of a Parisian scandal. Although Boyer's suicide a few days later releases her from prison, life seems no longer possible for her. Then Jeffrey Lynn, a young man whom she has met only casually, offers her peace and security in America. The supporting company includes Virginia Weidman, June Lockart, Ann Todd and Richard Nichols as the children, while other important roles are played by Henry Daniell, Montagu Love, Walter Hampden and Harry Davenport. Miss Field's novel is one of the most popular tales in recent years and lends itself perfectly to screen treatment. Owing to the extreme length of "All This and Heaven Too" it will be the only feature. A selected program of short subjects including the latest "March of Time," a Walt Disney cartoon, "Information Please" and the New Weekly will be presented.

UNCLE SAM HAS IMPORTANT TRADE "STAKE" IN NETH-ERLANDS INDIES

The stake of the United States in the Netherlands Indies, far Eastern colony of conquered Holland, revolves around the continuing need for American industry to tap that tropical storehouse for vital raw materials, principally rubber, tin, raw foodstuffs and quinine, points out a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Last year (1939), for the first time in the history of United States trade with the Netherlands Indies, exports to that colony (valued at $35,420,000) amounted to more than one per cent (1.1 per cent) of total United States exports, says the bulletin. Imports from the islands (worth $92,971,000) also set a new record by equalling four per cent of total imports. In recent years, the United States has been from 15 to 20 per cent of all the goods the Netherlands Indies have sent to the outside world; the Netherlands, taking 20 to 25 per cent, has been the largest buyer of her colony's products.

Need for Reserves Boosted Trade.
 A special spur was evident, at the end of 1939, in the value of both imports into the United States from the Netherlands Indies and exports to that colony. The upswing in imports resulted from the general improvement of economic conditions in the United States together with the need, felt in all countries, for increasing reserves of rubber and tin owing to the unsettled international conditions. Influences boosting the flow of exports from the United States to the Netherlands Indies were chiefly two: the greater interest of the islands in the United States as a source of supply of many imports (chiefly manufactures) which are no longer easily obtainable from European countries; and the efforts of the Netherlands Indies, since the beginning of the present war, to further industrial development at home.

The resulting increased demand in the Netherlands Indies for iron, steel, machinery and tools, electrical equipment, chemicals, piece goods, yarns, foodstuffs, wrapping paper and newsprint has attracted the interested attention of American exporters as well as of producers and shippers in Australia, South Africa and Japan.

Finished manufactures to a value of $28,124,000 accounted for 80 per cent of United States exports to the Netherlands Indies in 1939. Semi-manufactures ranked second with 15 per cent, while manufactured foodstuffs, crude materials, and crude foodstuffs filled out the list.

Rubber easily holds its position as America's leading import from the Netherlands Indies. (The islands run a close second to British Malaya in world rubber production.) The United States is by far the largest single purchaser of Netherlands Indies rubber, taking about half of the total exports of that commodity.

Looked at from the buyer's point of view, in 1939 the United States bought 30 per cent of its crude rubber from the Netherlands Indies. These rubber purchases ($52,135,000) accounted for well over half of the total value of imports from the Netherlands Indies.

Tin, the next most important single import, had a value of only about one-seventeenth of the total worth of U. S. imports from the Netherlands Indies, and only eight per cent of Uncle Sam's tin imports come from the islands. Petroleum vies with rubber for first place on the all-lands export list of the Netherlands Indies; but the United States, well-supplied at home and from Latin America, buys its oil from the Far Eastern islands.

MYSTIC THEATRE, MALDEN

The double feature opening today at the Mystic Theatre, Malden will be "Untamed" featuring Ray Milland and Akim Tamiroff and "The House Across The Bay" with George Raft and Joan Bennett in the leading roles. Based on a novel by Sinclair Lewis, "Untamed" boasts of a cast including in addition to Milland and Tamiroff, Patricia Morison, William Frawley, J. Farrell MacDonald, Jane Darwell, J. M. Kerrigan, Roscoe Ates and Charles Wyatt. Filmed entirely in Technicolor with the Canadian Rockies as a background, the film tells the story of a New York society doctor sent to the north woods for his health played by Milland, who secures Tamiroff, a tapper, as his guide. Miss Morison has the role of Tamiroff's wife who finds herself falling in love with Milland.

"The House Across The Bay" is a highly emotional drama with George Raft and Joan Bennett heading an imposing cast of Hollywood tonetters. Walter Pidgeon, Gladys George, Lloyd Nolan, June Knight and Peckinpah Shannons give brilliant performances in support of the two stars. The picture is the story of the women whose husbands cross the law and leave them behind while they serve prison sentences. The picture spotlights the plight of these women, beautiful, exposed to temptations, but trying to be faithful to their men behind bars. Joan Bennett, playing the role of Berda Bentley, speaks for all those women who are left without their men to battle a hostile world and to save their faith and loyalty.

South America in Transcontinental Railway Building Period

The new transcontinental railway for South America, suggested at the inter-American conference which met recently at Havana, already has a good start, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. Beginning at the Atlantic port of Santos, in Brazil, rails run for more than 1000 miles to the inland city of Porto Esperanca, near the Bolivian border. On the Pacific side, the line extends northeast from Arica, Chile, through Bolivia's capital, La Paz, to Vilavila, in the same country, about 575 miles from the coastal starting point. Between steel's end at Vilavila and the present Brazilian terminus at Porto Esperanca, in the heart of the continent, is an airline distance of only about 550 miles. Even allowing for necessary detours, due to difficult terrain, the section to be completed is considerably less than 700 miles—a relatively short distance for a project which has been called of as much potential value to South America as is the Panama Canal to the United States.

The Stafford

ADMIABLE HOME FOR THE SUBURBAN BUILDER

"Living in an age of efficient, inexpensive transportation brings so much in the way of advantages for the average American," says Paul S. Collier, director of Northeastern Homes Foundation. "The modern automobile is indispensable in making possible the development of one of the joys of American living, suburban home life."

The urban worker no longer must spend his days, year in and year out, in the congestion of the city. And what city dweller doesn't dream of having a little place in the country? For many, this dream may now become a reality. Modern financing has made it possible for the average home renter to become a home-owner through the medium of insured loans. With what he is now paying out as rent and a down payment of approximately 10 per cent or an approved lot, he may build this dream-house for his family.

The Stafford, shown above, is especially well suited to the needs of the city worker who builds in the suburbs. This story and a half house provides a most efficient use of space combined with a floor plan which offers many advantages of a larger dwelling. An outstanding feature is the separate dinette with its two windows looking over the garden area. The adjoining kitchen is accessible to the outside and basement as well.

The two bedrooms on the main floor give the effect of being isolated. This effect is carried out by the adjacent hallway which, in turn, is connected by one doorway to the rest of the house.

An added economy is the second story which can be finished off as needed and provide for two good-sized bedrooms and adequate close space. The attractive, small front porch and adjoining garage suggest excellent possibilities for landscaping.

Working plans and specifications for The Stafford may be obtained through retail lumber dealers. Full information may be had through Northeastern Homes Foundation, 82 St. Paul street, Rochester, N. Y.

But "The Masses" were not so foolish, after all!

LESS LOUDLY NOW, you may still hear an occasional agitator blasting away at the American system of business—which depends on big factories, big networks of dealers, trade-marked goods, heavy advertising, and low prices.

Agitators complained for years that "the masses" were injured by this system, and that we'd all be richer if we went back to the old cracker-barrel days.

But in spite of the complaints, little factories which have made dependable goods grew into big factories. Dealers multiplied.

on having trade-marked goods which their customers could recognize. And the heavy advertising helped to give us our modern newspapers, magazines and radio.

Who built this system? The masses built it, by insisting on crackers they could recognize in the package, on automobiles, soups, soaps, chewing gum, cigarettes, and all other articles that carried well-known trade names.

So the agitators have had to pipe down. They have discovered that "the masses" were not so easy to lead astray after all.

OLYMPICS' STAR BATTERY

Catcher Dot Green (nick) smiles as Pitcher, Mary Pratt (Wollaston) tells her what she is going to throw the Ten Old Men when the "Pets" play their benefit game here Sept. 7.

HIG GUNS ON THE OLYMPICS

Ten Old Men Must Hustle to Beat Girls' Team from the Garden

The Ten Old Men one of the leading teams in the Community Soft Ball League will have to hustle all the way if they are to beat the Olympians, fast stepping girls' team that has been meeting all corners at the Boston Garden during the past two seasons.

The two teams are to play a game at the Shore road athletic field in Winchester on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 7, the attraction having been arranged by the Winchester Rotary for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Heading the "Pets" roster of stars are Pitcher Mary Pratt and Catcher Dot Green, the former a Wollaston girl selected as the finest athlete at Sargent School, who won all but two of her games at the Garden last season, closing up with 10 consecutive victories. Besides her pitching ability Mary hit over 300 a year ago so that opposing pitchers are never able to slow up when she trips to the plate with her bat.

Dot Green out of Nick, the home of such athletes as Poch Donavan, Johnny Mack, Eddie Casey and that Harvard immortal, Eddie Mahan, stands nearly six feet and is an all around athlete, hitting 340 her first year with the "Pets" and continuing to blast the ball far and often.

Close behind Mary and Dot is Clara "Gaby" Chiano, a Roxbury lassie who plays second base and is the most colorful youngster on a team clothed full of color. "Gaby," as her nickname would indicate, keeps up a continual line of chatter on the field, pivots well on double plays and hit 322 last season.

Mildred Mooney from the athletic belt in Dorchester, "Pets" shortstop, has been proclaimed by that old Yale athlete, Col. Kilpatrick of Madison Square Garden, the finest first ball player in the East last year. If the Colonel knows soft ball like he played football, Mildred ought to do all right. Incidentally she is a tennis player of championship class, which should interest "Bill" Packer.

Ellie Haydock, "Pets" third baseliner, formerly with the Totem Pole team, back from Revere High and is touted as a natural hitter and an attractive girl, a great combination.

ERIKSEN-PETTINGELL

The marriage of Miss June Pettinell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger V. Pettinell, Forest street, to George A. Eriksen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Eriksen of Stow, took place at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, Aug. 28, at the Unitarian Church with Rev. George Hale Reed officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Pettinell, wearing a gown of white satin and lace, wore tall veil and carrying white roses with gardenias, was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Clifford McNeill of Portland, Me., and by her two small nieces, Miss Joan and Miss Diane McNeill. Mrs. McNeill wore a blue tulle dress trimmed with matching velvet and carried an old fashioned bouquet. The flower girls also wore velvet trimmed tulle frocks and carried tiny old fashioned bouquets.

Philip Adity, a Stow boy, was Eriksen's best man and the ushers were George Peterson of Stow, John Peterson of West Concord, Walter Stokes of Stow and Richard Pettinell of Winchester, brother of the bride.

An informal reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Upon their return from a wedding journey Mr. Eriksen and his bride will reside temporarily in Winchester. They plan to make their permanent home in Stow.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Corwin of 15 Ridgeland road, Winchester, announced today at a small luncheon given at their summer home in Cataumet, the engagement of their daughter, Barbara to Jacob W. Bond, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Waldo Bond, of 14 Mason street, Stow. The wedding is planned for January.

Miss Corwin graduated from Dana Hall in 1937 and from the Garland School this June. Mr. Bond graduated from Governor Dummer Academy in 1935 and attended Amherst College with the class of 1937.

OLD CUT IDENTIFIED

Star Picture Shows Railroads in Boston

Two Star readers, Mr. Carl F. A. Siedhof of Harrison street, and Mr. Herbert J. Kellaway, landscape architect of Boston, were able to identify the old cut printed in last week's issue, about which information was solicited.

Mr. Siedhof brought to the Star office the exact cut which was printed in an interesting old book, entitled "Antique Views of Ye Towne of Boston," published by Ye Photo-Electrotype Engraving Co. of 63 Oliver street in that city. The book was copyrighted in 1882 and printed by McDow, Brothers, Boston printers.

On the back cover is mounted a venter from the Old Boston Elm which stood upon Boston Common and which was blown down in 1875.

The cut as it appeared in this volume is entitled "Worcester and Providence Railroads crossing the Marshes of the Back Bay, 1840."

The following explanation accompanied the cut: "The engraving shown is a reproduction of the famous picture in the Star of October, 1939, and shows the appearance of Boston as seen from the southwest, near the intersection of the Providence and Worcester Railroad crossing. This engraving is considered especially valuable, as showing the great changes that have taken place in the Back Bay district during the past 40 years. Nearly the whole bay was filled with gravel brought here by these railroads. On this gravel land are now built the best residences in Boston, second to none in the country."

Mr. Kellaway's explanatory notes follow in full:

Aug. 26, 1940

To the Editor of the Star:

In answer to your inquiry about the picture in the Star of August 23, I think the following notes may help. They may go back to 1840-1850 or before.

1. The State House shows the Bulfinch front as is now existing.

2. The tall spire is the existing Park Street Church next to the Granary Burying Ground.

3. The large open space with trees in front of the State House is the Boston Common.

4. The small train going to the left of the picture is probably what is now called the Boston & Albany. Then it ran to Worcester and beyond.

5. The larger train in the middle of the cut is probably what was known as the Boston & Providence. This has been removed and was combined with the South Station Group of the N. Y. N. H. & R. R.

6. The marshes are the ocean that was filled in to make what is now known as Back Bay. The filling came from Newston and Wellesey.

7. The street at the foot of the Boston Common is what is now known as Charles street.

8. The area between the Common and the river was turned into what is now known as the Public Garden. What a change in a region can be made by enterprise and effort.

Your truly

Herbert J. Kellaway

HIDE-ROBB

Miss Rosamond Robb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Robb of Crescent road, and George Smith Hyde of New York City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Hyde of Boston, were married Saturday afternoon, Aug. 24, at 2 o'clock at the summer home of the bride's parents in South Dennis by Rev. Malcolm Matheson, pastor of the South Dennis Congregational Church. Only members of the families and a few intimate friends attended the wedding.

Miss Robb, wearing a pale pink afternoon frock and carrying a bouquet of white flowers, was attended by Miss Betty Thompson of Winchester. Miss Thompson also wore an afternoon dress, of gray crepe, and carried a bouquet of white flowers.

A reception was held after the ceremony. Upon their return from a wedding journey Mr. Hyde and his bride will make their home in New York where he is employed as an advertising artist.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyde both attended the Massachusetts School of Art in Boston. Mrs. Hyde also studying at Centenary College in New Jersey.

REV. JOHN E. WHITLEY DEAD

The many friends of Rev. John E. Whitley, formerly pastor of the Second Congregational Church, Winchester Highlands, will learn with regret of his death early this week. Following a long illness he passed away at his home, 483 Columbia road, Dorchester, on Tuesday, Aug. 27.

Mr. Whitley was born in Aston, England. He studied for his ministry at Yale, from which he received the degree of B. D. in 1900, subsequently receiving the degree of Master of Arts from Harvard in 1911. He held pastorates in New Hampshire and at the Walnut Avenue Church in Roxbury before entering the Y. M. C. A. service during the World War.

At the conclusion of this service Mr. Whitley returned to his home in the Second Congregational Church here, coming to Winchester in 1922 and serving until December 1936 when he retired from active service.

At the time of his death he was a member of the Boston Congregational Ministers' Association and of the New England South Church.

During his Winchester pastorate and under his leadership, the attractive stone church at the corner of Washington and South Main roads was brought to its present condition. Also through his efforts, backed by the loyal endeavors of his congregation, the debt on the church was completely paid in November 1936.

Throughout his ministry Mr. Whitley gave of his best to the church and to the community and its people. He was unwavering in his loyalty to the Cause he represented, and shared in all the church's many activities. Deeply interested in the people of his community he was always ready to rejoice with, comfort, advise or aid, wherever there was such need.

Surviving Mr. Whitley are his wife, Georgiana Bradley Whitley, and a daughter, Mrs. Harold T. Gerry.

Funeral services were held at the Gordon Chapel, New Old South Church, Boston, on Thursday, Aug. 29.

OBSERVED SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hodge of 625 Main street entertained a large group of friends at their home last Saturday evening in honor of their silver wedding anniversary.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Hodge in an attractive setting of old flowers were their five daughters, Miss Ruth Hodge of Hudson, N. Y., Miss Helen Bucher (Marion Hodge) of Taghkanic, N. Y., Miss Jean Hodge, Miss Helen Hodge and Miss Martha Hodge, all of this town.

Many gifts, congratulatory messages and flowers were received at the Hodge home during the day and two reception Mr. and Mrs. Hodge were given at the New England Home for the Aged in Dorchester. After their marriage they lived for a short time in Woburn before coming to Winchester, being well known both here and in that city.

WHO CAN HELP?

One hundred and eighteen of the British children for whom homes have been secured by the Transient are now in Boston. They are being cared for at the New England Home for Little Wanderers and at Wellesley College. Being together in a group these few days before going to their new homes, they are anxiously helpful. It has given them a period of readjustment.

Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, chairman of the British children committee, has received money from a generous Winchester resident to care for the initial cost of two children to be placed in Woburn.

If you have a place in your home for one or both of these children please call the Winchester chairman, Win. 4681.

Three hundred and twenty-eight homes have now been secured out of the 500 promised by the Transient. There is an urgent need for 172 more homes. If you can help don't forget the telephone number—Win. 1680.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Dr. and Mrs. Paul J. D. Haley of 333 Winthrop street, Medford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to John W. Harrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Harrington of 23 Stone avenue, Winchester.

Miss Haley attended Colby Junior College, New London, N. H. and graduated from the Faulkner Hospital School of Nursing, Jamaica Plain. At present she is attending the Harvard Medical Graduate School of Physical Therapy.

Mr. Harrington attended Tufts College and will be graduated from Tufts Dental School in June.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

Polls will be opened at 7 a. m. and closed at 7 p. m. for the State Primary on Sept. 17.

People generally around town, particularly in the Hospital and living in the north end of town, appreciated the comparative quiet of the fireworks which were used in the celebration of the centennial of the Assumption. The committee in charge is to be commended.

Messrs. Parker Holbrook and George Franklin have been delegated by the Selectmen to represent them in the perambulation of the Arlington town lines on Sept. 4.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL PROSPECTS UNCERTAIN

Few Stars in Good Sized Group of Prospective Candidates

The crisp weather of the past 10 days or so has turned the thoughts of many sports followers to football and Winchester High School's new Coach, Henry Knowlton, has encouraged his prospective candidates to work out informally on Leonard Field for the past week. Some 25 boys were in hand Wednesday and Thursday. The work is strictly unofficial and limited to limbering and conditioning exercise, the large number who have voluntarily reported augurs well for interest and team spirit when the season actually gets underway.

Coach Knowlton hopes to have many boys report after Labor Day and to get down to serious business as soon as possible after that date. With the installation of a new system and several big holes to fill as the result of graduation and ineligibility, much work must be done before something approaching a finished team can take the field at Framingham Sept. 21. Andy Lentine, old Winchester High immortal and recent B. C. varsity lineman, has been working out several big holes to fill as boys preparatory to leaving for Bates where he is to assist Coach Mansfield with the Bobcat varsity team.

Winchester will have, or should have a good sized squad this fall. Many of the boys on it will have played a bit of varsity football, but there are few stars among those who will report for duty, though some of those who have been past players to date may depart in stardom with the opportunity to go regularly.

Come from last year's varsity are Co-Captains DeFeso and Galuffo, center and fullback for four years' ends, Vespecci, D. Styles, and Boardley; tackles, Marabell, Hodge and Holmes; Ellis, guard and end, and McEwen, line. In this group are some good boys, especially DeFeso and Galuffo, who have been all-Middlesex for the past three seasons and fullback for four years.

DeFeso and Galuffo are especially keenly felt. The loss of McEwen is also a heavy one for this year's squad, a lot in the backfield last year. Marabell, a tackle, has moved to the line and constituted with Hodge and Holmes a trio of rugged, experienced linemen. Ellis was an especially hard center and fullback, a player who could guard, tackle and end in acceptable fashion. Vespecci, Styles and Boardley were capable, if not exceptional players.

To add to the drab side of the line picture it is reported that unless Leo Herlihy, the heaviest boy on the team, is kept in the line, his examinations he will be lost to the team this fall. Jack Tracy, about the only big back remaining from last year's squad, has moved to the line and may not attend school here. There is also some doubt about Caputo's playing this fall, after an appendicitis operation. He is a hard working, rugged tackle and will be missed if unable to play.

Counting out Herlihy and Tracy, the team entered this year's season with a line of five, a backfield of four, a fullback, Bill Callahan, end; Joe Caputo, tackle; Dan Roon, guard; Ken Smith, guard; and Mike McCormack, fullback and Dex Dery and Peter Provizano, halfbacks. If Herlihy and Tracy are added to the group, things will not be so bad for experienced players.

Also available will be Kimmer, Phippen, Callahan and Norton, ends; Pratt, Whittemore, Tibbatts, Ellsworth, Treacy, Clark and Maurer; linemen; Harris, Buzzotta, Murphy and West, backs. This last group saw some varsity action a year ago and includes some potentially good boys.

This year's schedule will be tougher than last year's as things look now, with Wakefield being much harder than Marlborough has been the past two seasons and Dedham likely to prove a harder team than last year's. Framingham should be easier than Arlington, but no one expected too much of Winchester against the Spartans. A defeat at Framingham Sept. 21 won't be so good, nor has the new coach anything else to look forward to in meeting Matt Belmont, Panchard and Dedham on successive Saturdays.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF MISS HILDRETH

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Hildreth of 21 Highland avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Susan Symmes Hildreth, to Edwin Goodwin of Andover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henry Goodwin of Win. 4681.

Miss Hildreth is a graduate of Abbot Academy and was graduated from Smith College in 1933. Last year she was elected to the Chaucer School. Mr. Goodwin is a graduate of the Peddie School, attended Amherst College and was graduated from Springfield College in 1933. He is a member of Chi Phi Fraternity and the White Mountain Ski Runners.

JOHNSON WINS 16TH

Art Johnson, Winchester boy pitching for Hartford, Bee's farm team, won the 16th victory of the season Wednesday afternoon, defeating Albany 5 to 3 in 10 innings.

Johnson made a perfect afternoon the southpaw won his own game with a home run. Many close followers of baseball believe Johnson will finish the season with the Bee and stand a good chance of hurling in the big time another year.

MOURADIAN-NORIAN

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth N. Mouradian of North Bergen, N. J., to Aram Mouradian of 30 Woodside road, was solemnized last Sunday afternoon, Aug. 25, in the Armenian Presbyterian Church, West New York, New Jersey.

The ceremony was performed with a 35-year-old bride, which has been used in the Norian family for wedding ceremonies since 1935.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aram Mouradian, prominent in New Jersey circles, and general manager of the Castle Furniture Company, North Bergen, N. J. The bride wore a gown of champagne and carried white daphnifolius and white roses. Mrs. Gladys Mouradian, a former Winchester resident and the bridegroom's sister, was maid of honor. She was crowned in blue and carried a bouquet of American beauties. There were four bridesmaids and four ushers. The bridesmaids wore gowns of pink and blue, and carried bouquets of blue daphnifolius. Mrs. Aram Mouradian of Newton was the best man.

The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. Aram Mouradian and Mrs. B. Mouradian of Winchester. The bridegroom's father was prominent in the chief of the provisional Armenian government after the war, and after moving from Armenia to the United States went into the rug dealing and repair business in Winchester, which the son now operates. Aram Mouradian is active in the Rotary Club and Masonic circle here.

TO MARRY WINCHESTER MAN SEPT. 1

Miss Olga Anna Marabell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Marabell of Baton Rouge, La., has chosen Sept. 1 as the date for her marriage to Richard Barksdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Barksdale of Chester Street, Boston.

Miss Marabell has a younger sister with her son to attend the ceremony which will take place in Baton Rouge and which will be followed by a reception on the Temple Roof in that city.

Both Mr. Barksdale and his bride are members of the faculty at Tougaloo College. Miss Marabell, after their wedding journey will resume teaching there. Mr. Barksdale, a widely known Winchester young man, is a member of the Winchester High School and of Bowdoin College. He played both high school and college football and maintained high grades in his studies, winning several scholastic honors while at Bowdoin.

WINCHESTER CHILDREN REQUESTED ATTEND JUNIOR ART EXHIBIT IN ROCKPORT

Harvey Chaffe, aged 6, won first prize for his picture "Peter Rabbit" in the Junior Art Exhibit at Rockport. He is a year-old brother, received a gold star for his entry.

Some 20 or more water colors and drawings were chosen for a jury composed of Harrison Cady, Gifford Beal and Aldro T. Hibbard, President of the Rockport Art Association, sponsor of the exhibit.

Harvey and Stewart are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Chaffe of Konwin road, and are first and third grade pupils at the George Washington School.

MRS. EDNA LOCKE MILLAR

Mrs. Edna Locke Millar, wife of Clifford W. Millar of 83 Galen street, Waltham, died unexpectedly Thursday, Aug. 22, at the Bristol Hospital, Bristol, Conn., where she was visiting her son, Robert Millar, who was a patient there.

Mrs. Millar was born in Winchester Sept. 8, 1887, daughter of George L. and Elizabeth (Ellis) Locke. She lived in the Locke home at 17 Ridge street, attended the Winchester schools and continued to reside here until after her marriage Aug. 15, 1917.

For a time after her marriage she made her home in New Rochelle, N. Y., where her husband was principal of the high school. Later she lived in Manchester where Mr. Millar held a similar position. From Manchester they went to Waltham. Mr. Millar being now retired.

Mrs. Millar is a former member of the Order of the Eastern Star in Manchester and a member of the Congregational Church in Manchester and this town.

Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Miss Shirley Millar of Waltham, a son, Robert, Millar of Bristol, Conn., a sister, Miss Alice B. Locke of Jamestown, N. Y.; and six brothers, Chester, Harry, Ellis and Wendell, Locke of this town; Arthur C. Locke of Bristol, Conn., and Willard Locke of Arlington.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Lombard Funeral Home in Monksville, where Stanley F. Blomfield, D. D., pastor of the Monson Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in Monksville in the family lot in Hillside Cemetery.

WAS FORMER WINCHESTER RESIDENT

High mass of requiem was sung Monday morning at the Church of St. Francis of Assisi in Medford for Roger Conway of that city, a former well known resident of this town.

Mr. Conway died at his home, 19 Webster street, Medford, last week after several months' illness. Rev. Fr. James Fitzmaurice, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, was seated in the church sanctuary during the mass and assisted at the committal services which were in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Conway was born 65 years ago in County Cork, Ireland. As a young man he came to this country and was for some years a resident of Winchester, being employed by the local plumbing and heating firm of J. A. Laraway. During the Spanish-American War he served in the United States Army and he was a member of the United Spanish War Veterans.

Surviving are three sisters, Miss Elizabeth Conway of Medford, Mrs. Patrick Noonan of West Medford, Miss Margaret Conway of Boston, and a brother, William Conway of Medford. Mrs. Thomas Conlon of Winchester is one of several nieces and nephews who survive.

MISS FLORENCE WHITE

Miss Florence White, a resident of Winchester for the past 12 years, died at noon on Thursday, Aug. 22, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles H. Gallagher, 15 Canal street, after a long illness.

Miss White was 41 years old and a native of Amesbury, N. S., the daughter of Archibald and Ann (Brine) White. Before her illness she had been employed as a shoe worker.

Besides Mrs. Gallagher she leaves two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth LeBlanc of Lynn, and two brothers, Edward White of Everett and Henry White of Lynn.

The remains were taken to Amherst, N. S., leaving Thursday night accompanied by Mr. Gallagher and a large number of friends. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Charles Church, Amherst, and the interment was in the family lot in the cemetery there.

FRIENDS OF BRITAIN RALLYING TO CAUSE

The British War Relief Society now reports total receipts of $453,365, of which $123,220 was received in the 10 days prior to going to press with the present bulletin. Steady increases in contributions for the aid of war sufferers in Britain reflect a general heightening of interest in the cause.

New committee organization, intensification of local efforts in all parts of the country, and a nationwide concern for the British war casualties as the conflict grows fiercer, have all been factors in the constantly increasing strength of a great humanitarian movement.

Critical days are upon Britain, and her men, women and children face the dangers bravely. Much has been done through generous contributions to alleviate their sufferings. It becomes apparent every day that much more will be done. As this bulletin went to press, the Society's records showed a total of nearly 26,000 contributors, as compared with only 21,000 reported 10 days ago. Organizing activities now proceeding rapidly are expected to show even greater increases in the immediate future.

Hospital Bed Equipment Needed!

Equipment is badly needed for 10,000 hospital beds. Linen, blankets and canvasware, etc., have been purchased and shipped to equip 500 beds at $40 per bed. But the goal is 10,000! We earnestly hope we shall be able to do this important job quickly. And we will do it as fast as the money is contributed. Remember, this is the biggest single demand we have had from Britain.

Many of our members wonder just how much their relief dollar is consumed by shipping costs. The answer is: not a penny. The Society works closely with the British Ministry of Shipping and all goods, from hypodermic needles to ambulances, are transported free on British ships. The Winchester Unit will meet next Wednesday, Sept. 4, at the residence of Mrs. Fred Cameron, 47 Church street, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Telephone Mrs. Wm. 2387-J or Mr. Cameron, Win. 1984 for information regarding wool, work or contributions.

MEDITERRANEAN AGAIN "DANGEROUS SEAS"

The temporary banishment of British shipping from the vulnerable trade routes of the Mediterranean and the centuries of varied and violent history which this great inland lake knew before the "Tight Little Isle" became a factor in international commercial commerce.

The rise of civilizations in the Near East and geographic conditions made the Mediterranean the world's first great center of maritime trade, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Pioneers in Purple-Sailed Ships

More than 2000 years before Christ its serrated and island-guarded coast, together with numerous side arms of seas, bays and gulfs, meant shelter and good harbors to adventurous navigators, traders—and pirates. Its forest-covered mountain ranges, rising close to shore, furnished in many places the necessary timber for shipbuilding, while fertile coastal lowland and good fishing grounds provided attractive settlement possibilities for permanent populations. Promontories and mountains, easily seen at a distance in the clear Mediterranean air were invaluable to sailors in those pre-compass days. The climate, with its long summer season, bright days and starlit nights, was especially propitious for pioneering navigators.

Stretching some 2300 air miles from the Strait of Gibraltar to the Levantine coast, the Mediterranean (whose name means "sea in the midst of land") thus became a vast open highway to the diverse races and cultures of three continents.

First to venture away from the safety zones of the coast were probably the Phoenicians, whose purple-sailed ships scattered colonies and carried trade from Tyre to Carthage a thousand years before the rise of the Roman Empire. They even went beyond the Pillars of Hercules into the open Atlantic Ocean to exchange their Eastern luxuries of spices, dried fruits, dyes and wine for the copper and tin of the Iberian Peninsula and the British Isles.

Various other early maritime civilizations, including the Aegean, the Greek, Etruscan and Roman, rose and waned along the shores of the Mediterranean. Called the "Dangerous Sea" these waters witnessed innumerable struggles for commercial, religious and political supremacy from the days of the ancient Greeks and Persians, the Romans and Carthaginians, the Western Christians and the Moslem Turks, to the medieval city states of Venice and Genoa and the powerful Ottoman Empire.

A Piratical Paradise

Along with the struggle for power as each new maritime dynasty arose, went an almost constant battle against the organized hordes of sea robbers who have haunted these coasts at one place or another since the dawn of history. For the geographic conditions which made the Mediterranean a natural birthplace for the activity of pirates and buccaneers prevailing on the rich trade which crossed and crisscrossed the sea, and on the flourishing communities set up along the shores.

The wars of the Barbary corsairs along the North African coast as late as the 1800's brought about reprisals from English, French and American Navies. The occupation of Algeria undertaken by the French in 1830 finally rid the coast of the marauders and established France as a North African power.

HOME FROM TENNESSEE

Mrs. Theodore Elliott and children, Jennie Lou, Barbara May and Teddy, Jr., returned Tuesday from a summer spent with relatives in Tennessee and Virginia. They left Nashville just after the Carolina hurricane subsided but as the flood waters were rising and were in the last car to go through before the bridges went out. After stopping in Newport News and Hampton, Va., they started for Winchester Monday, stopping over Monday night in New York and took in the World's Fair Tuesday before taking the train for Boston, arriving Tuesday night.

KNIGHTS WON FROM FLINGERS

The K. of C. softball team, behind the six hit pitching of Tommy Hannan defeated the Highland Flingers at Loring avenue Tuesday evening, 7 to 6. The Knights played a snappy game and completed three fast double plays to keep the Flingers from scoring. Mike Penta made two nice stops of hard hit balls and the double play combination of Tofuri to Chelato to Tansey went to perfection. This was the first game of the round robin playoffs and the K. of C. next opponent will be the Ten O' Men.

A good sized crowd attended the game and a collection was taken up to help defray the expenses of the league.

DOHERTY-POWERS

With her cousin, Miss Kathleen Powers of this town as her only attendant, Miss Elizabeth Mary Powers, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Powers of 928 Main street, became the bride of Francis Patrick Doherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Doherty of Boston avenue, Medford, at a ceremony performed Saturday afternoon, Aug. 24, at 5 o'clock in the rectory of the Immaculate Conception Church by the pastor, Rev. Fr. James Fitzsimons.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, made with a high neckline and long train. Her veil of tulle was arranged with a petal cap trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses, gardenias and baby's breath. Her only jewelry was a diamond pendant which had been given to her by her late grandmother.

The honor maid was gowned in royal blue with pink accessories. Her doll hat was of dusky pink with pink ruffling and veiling and she carried a bouquet of rapture roses and delphinium.

Mr. Doherty had for his best man his cousin, Edmund Walsh of Cambridge.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother which was attractively decorated with mountain laurel and cut flowers the mothers of both the bride and the bridegroom assisted in receiving. Mrs. Powers wearing a blue striped sheer with an orchid corsage. Mrs. Doherty also wore an orchid corsage with her gown of orchid silk. Mrs. Lillian Flaherty of Dorchester was in charge of the guest book. A catered wedding supper was served. Mr. Doherty and his bride are to spend their honeymoon on a trip to Lake George, New York, Atlantic City and New Jersey. For her traveling costume the bride wore a suit of dusky pink with a fox collar, blue accessories and a corsage of orchids. Upon their return they will make their home at the Riverway Apartments in Brookline.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, Lowell Teachers' College and is widely known as a teacher at the Noonan School. Mr. Doherty is a graduate of New London High School and of Northeastern University College of Engineering.

FLYNN-GIULIANI

Miss Mary Giuliani, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Giuliani of Richardson street, and Ralph Melvin Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Flynn of Oakside, Andover, were married Monday evening, Aug. 26, at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Joseph E. McBrick. White flowers made the most attractive setting for the ceremony which was performed at 7 o'clock.

Miss Giuliani was given in marriage by her father and was attended only by her sister, Miss Emma Giuliani of this town. Walter Flynn of Stoneham, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride wore a princess style gown of figured marquisette with a white tulle veil held in place with a cluster of white roses, and carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath. The honor maid wore a shell pink dress of figured marquisette, trimmed with blue and a blue veil arranged to form a head-dress which was held in place with pink roses. Her flowers were pink roses combined with baby's breath.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the mothers of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. The receiving line stood under an archway decorated with gladioli. Upon their return from a wedding trip through the White Mountains Mr. Flynn and his bride will make their home at Oakside in Andover. The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. Flynn, who is associated with the Shattuck Company in North Andover, graduated from Stoneham High School and from the Massachusetts School of Fine Arts.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

As this is the last week of the playground year the final events of all activities will take place today at the Loring Avenue Field Day. This morning's program calls for the play-off championship of both the senior and junior leagues, the finals of the boys and girls croquet championship, and the finals of the tennis tournament. In the afternoon an exhibition of handcraft will be held under the direction of Mrs. Dana and Mr. Moody. Following this part of the program a gala costume contest will take place, an event which has aroused great interest among the 43 entrants. The baseball contests for pitching and throwing accuracy, fugo hitting and base running will be open to members of either league.

The closeness of the playoff scores leads one to believe that these teams are very well matched. For example, the Cubs defeated the Cardinals 7-6 in the opening game of their two out of three series but the latter team came right back the next day and edged the second-half champions 11-9. In the same league the Elks earned the privilege of meeting the victor of the Cubs-Cardinals series by defeating the Shamrocks by one run in each of the games played.

The junior league saw some exciting action this week when the Giants won over the Eagles in a playoff game and met defeat a day later when the Eagles called upon their vaunted hitting power. The first game was a close 7-5 affair but the second game became a runaway 18-3. The Wildcats, champions of the first and second halves, will meet the winner.

We are most grateful to Mr. James Maruti of Holland street who has announced that he will extend to the winning senior league team an opportunity to watch Harvard play a football match with one of the early season opponents. The winners of the junior league are to be presented with "W" letters.

Annual Rainfall Over U. S.
The United States weather bureau says that the annual rainfall over the entire United States is considered to be 30.20 inches. Using this value, the weight of the annual rainfall coming out to be 219,394,000,000 tons for the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

IMMACULATES BEAT CUBS

The Immaculate Conception baseball team won from the Winchester Cubs on Leonard Field Tuesday evening, 8-2.

Before the game there was some talk of a series between the two clubs for the championship of the town, but after the game Manager Malone of the Cubs announced that his club is through for the season.

A similar statement was made this week by the Millionaires' management, and as a consequence Manager Livingstone of the Immaculates is claiming the town championship by virtue of his single game victory over the Cubs.

Following is the game summary:

AS TO THIS AND THAT

It is not surprising that so many high grade men and women who have heretofore proudly called themselves Democrats are announcing that they will vote for Mr. Willkie. They have come to realize that the heterogeneous aggregation that Franklin Delano Roosevelt is leading would lead every principle that Thomas Jefferson taught, that the one idea in the minds of those who aided Roosevelt in his attempt to overthrow the Jeffersonian opposition to a third term is simply that they hope to assure a continuance of the prodigious spending that helps their political ambitions.

If this seems not obvious to anyone it should suffice to consider for a moment the character of the groups chiefly responsible for F. D. R.'s renomination: in Massachusetts, Currier and Oakley; in Chicago, Nash and Kelley; in New Jersey, Hague; in Kansas City, the Pendergast machine; in New York, Tammany. Is it probable that there is a man in the entire lot who either knows or cares what Jefferson believed, that there is a single one who has any interest whatever in any election as it may affect his own political welfare?

In contrast try to think of a man or woman who promoted the candidacy of Mr. Willkie or who is now among his immediate helpers that by any stretch of the imagination can be classed with the ones mentioned above. The history of the Republican Party is far from spotless. One need go no further back than Harding's nomination to find examples—but in this campaign the evidence ought to convince every intelligent man and woman both that Mr. Willkie was nominated because of a widespread confidence in his integrity and ability and that as Frankly as that he is being influenced by those who are thinking not of themselves but of the country which they love.

From an article in Scribner's Commentator, Sept. 1940:

"It is a foregone conclusion that Wendell Willkie would be one of the most individual and popular First Ladies and at the same time one of the most graciously retiring. It isn't in Mrs. Willkie's line to be an advertisement. She will speak on the radio and constantly be in the public eye, but it is in her line to be a charming hostess and an intelligent and devoted wife and mother. She would create a normal happy home in the White House where amid the terrific pressure and strain of national problems Willkie as President could seek solace and strength and maintain his balance. This would be Edith Willkie's great contribution to the American people."

When Wendell Willkie returns at the end of the day—tired but smiling, a paper tucked under his arm, a man returning eagerly to his wife—Mrs. Willkie immediately drops everything she is doing to be with him. If a reporter or visitor is present, her cry "There's Wendell Willkie" is adequate indication of the abrupt termination of the conference, for all of her love and admiration is at that exclamation and the way she eagerly crosses the room to meet her husband.

Men and women who are interested, which ought to include all of us, will do well to read this article (not an advertisement for Scribner's Commentator). "For of the many influences that mould a man's thoughts and actions, as important and revealing as any are those of his home life and the character of the woman he has chosen." "When a man is up for membership in a club or under consideration as a partner in business or even when he is about to be hired, the one question which is almost inevitably heard is, 'What's his wife like?'"

SOCRATES SAYS

SPARRING

Mr. Ickes, a sparring partner in the Roosevelt Training Camp, evidently is trying to keep the challenger away from the "Champ."

That feat by Ickes that the "Champ" is too busy "with the fight over England" to interest himself in the fight over the United States is exactly what is worrying the voters.

While everyone fully appreciates the position of England in our national defense situation, our Home Front is our first duty of defense and it must be reconstructed now.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

It is about time that the New Deal forget politics and reform and devote itself to real national defense.

Secretary Morgenthau estimates $4,700,000,000 deficit for 1941.

Secretary Stimson estimates that army contracts so far for airplanes since June are $3.

Mr. Knudsen estimates an army of 2,000,000 can be equipped by 1944.

Quoddy Dam, "Florida Ship" anal." Thousand Mile Forests and tap dancing New Dealers are to blame. Mr. Hitler has been at it since 1933 yet New Dealers sat in their own draft in Chicago.

Job-holders want their jobs more than anything else.

WHO IS A DEMOCRAT?

According to the press, President Roosevelt stayed on Jan. 8, 1938, at a Jackson Day Dinner that he voted once for a Republican President because he thought he was a better Democrat than the Democratic candidate was.

According to the views of Washington and Jefferson, and the actions of every other President of the United States, Wendell Willkie is a better Democrat than President Roosevelt is, therefore the nation should see the unique result of a President voting against himself.

No Democrat who has ever held the office of President has ever believed in the third term. No Jeffersonian Democrat believes in it today. The Republican candidate, Wendell Willkie, does not believe in it either. Therefore, President Roosevelt should again vote for a Republican President, as Wendell Willkie is a better Democrat than he is.

UNEMPLOYMENT

The New Deal, through constant attacks, has deliberately scared business. The cries of "Economic Royalism," "Entrenched Greed," "Tories," "vested interests," etc., etc., have finally driven real job spenders out of the Temple of Industry.

The attack on business was done, first, to get everyone possible dependent on the state. This meant votes.

Second, if business was scared enough it would become resigned and stay out of politics for New Dealers felt if business was kept down they could keep up the cry of emergency and keep their jobs.

When Wendell Willkie, "the poor boy who made good" in business and resigned in order to fight so that other poor boys could make good, is elected, real jobs in private industry can result.

A government dole of $15 a week, even if it could be kept up, will be known as the New Deal Abundant "Kite."

THE POOR BOY WHO MADE GOOD

Wendell Willkie will be the next President of the United States:

First, because it is the belief and conviction of millions that he is the "man of destiny." This conviction is strong enough to elect him.

Second, because America never would tolerate a third term. It has all been the conviction of millions that our democracy could not survive if three political generations were in control of one family.

Third, because a third term is "tempted" at a time when one-man governments control Europe and America knows the results. This is also "tempted" as it will be mentioned in history, is too obvious.

Fourth, because Roosevelt will be nationally blamed for our total lack of preparation for the war he faulted before Nov. 5, 1940, America will understand what it has meant to plough up our resources, hinder and retard business, stir up class feelings, and head us toward bankruptcy. Our Home Front is our First Line of Defense.

Fifth, because America wants a change. It wants the return of prosperity, soundness, and business expansion. It is sick of politics, promises, fireside chattering, employment, and the best of his ability and will for the betterment of the County.

THE THIRD COLUMN

As the sixth column and its implications of dictatorship have been interjected into the 1940 campaign, citizens should consider very seriously the interpretation that could be assumed should the third term attempt be victorious.

In the 1936 campaign spending was interrupted as the issue President Roosevelt—upon reelection—thus chose to consider his victory as a mandate to spend still more and he shot the works.

As the 1940 issue will be the third term and the breaking down of this established principle of our democracy, with its implications of dictatorship, it would be but common sense to fear that such victory might be considered by Franklin Delano Roosevelt as another mandate and his political family could then take the position that he had been drafted for one-man, perpetual, and centralized government.

These mandates and drafts, which originally without doubt were simply politics in the raw, are gradually, almost unperceptibly, changing the form of government. The citizens of America do not want bankruptcy. They do not want dictatorship. They want a government that is democratic, that is, one that has fundamental issues. How they vote has been determined by innumerable causes, reasons, and influences; but they will vote for High Command and would continue to interpret victory as a mandate to do whatever they chose.

Therefore, as the fundamental issue in the 1940 campaign is—"Shall There Be Perpetual Control Of Our Government By One-Man Family Rule?" citizens must thoroughly understand that if they elect Wendell Willkie, it could be a mandate for complete, centralized government control.

President Roosevelt may not mean to do this thing to his country. His job holders perhaps only had a selfish interest in the part they took in the "Second Democracy." They had dangers involved in "The Attempt" could be designated as "The Sixth Column" for it could destroy our established democracy quicker than any other column and the temptation for men who like power would be almost overwhelming.

ROBERT W. BEYER
Will Run for County Commissioner

Robert W. Beyer of 45 Myrtle terrace, Winchester, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner. Well known in Winchester, he is the son of Henry G. Beyer, a native of Cambridge, where he graduated from Rindge Technical. He took courses at Boston University and the American Institute of Banking and has had 15 years' banking experience as an associate with the Old Colony Trust Company, the National Shawmut Bank and Estabrook & Co. He is supply officer for the First Corps Cavalry and Supreme Rep. of the Knights of Pythias, of which he has been the Massachusetts head. He has also been active in Eastern Star and Masonic work.

Mr. Beyer makes no political promises. He will, if elected, meet the problems of County business as they arise, the best of his ability and will for the betterment of the County.

TRUCK AND CAR COLLIDE

William V. Richey of 118 Glenville avenue, Allston, reported to the Police that at 9:30 Wednesday morning as he was driving a Buick sedan, owned by the Medford Buick Co., of 16 Myrtle avenue, Medford, from Washington street in to Main street, his car was in collision with a Federal truck, owned by the Shawshen Dairy Inc., of Andover, and being driven north on Main street by James F. Trepanier of 14 Winthrop street, West Medford. Richey said the right front of his car was damaged and that both himself and a passenger, Alan B. Park of 77 Orchard street, Cambridge, were injured. The truck was not damaged, he said.

ART ASSOCIATION TO SHOW CARTOONS

The Winchester Art Association for its first show of the fall season, announces an exhibition of cartoons at the Library Art Gallery commencing Tuesday, Sept. 3. A group of the best known cartoonists will be represented, and the show should be both unusual and well worth while.

CANT BE BOTHERED WITH POLITICS

The following recently appeared in the Gardner (Mass.) News:

Dear Wendell: I acknowledge your challenge to debate. I readily cannot spare the time. From big affairs of state: It's nice of you to do it. But still I must decline. With one eye on the country. The other on the Rhine. Or for that matter, Ickes. Who knows, well, everything. No, no! I can't be bothered with politics. The subjects you'd insist upon myself and my adviser. The New Deal don't they know. And if we lost? Why France? I don't know where we'd go. When, some night, in my study. I'm practically alone. Except for Harry Hopkins. And a handy microphone. I'll do a little more. I'll deal with this and that. I'm sure you won't bother me but of friends chat.

No, Wendell I can't join you. It's sad and I must duck. Go out and let the country. I've spent another buck. Remind them they have the floor. I'll call on Henry Morgenthau AND SPEND A BILLION MORE.

JOE COLTON.

REFUSE WORKMEN BECOME DISCIPLES OF EMILY POST

Now, now lady, that refuse workman is not drunk, overcome with the heat nor even odd.

No, it isn't his doing; the responsibility lies with Jackson B. Hayden, a gentle soul who is officially listed as the town engineer. They are just following his orders to the best of their abilities.

Apparently Mr. Hayden, who is efficiently thorough as an engineer, has a softer side. It may be the heat, or perhaps the humidity, has caused his drawing room qualities to bubble to the surface. At any rate the effects have affected the down-to-earth refuse workmen who wend their way daily through Montclair streets collecting garbage and refuse.

In a manner that recalls Benjamin Franklin, who as Poor Richard, wrote simple homilies for his readers, and Emily Post, whose rules permit the easier association of men with women, and of course with women—Mr. Hayden has laid down eight rules (he calls them commandments) for strict observance by his staff of refuse workmen.

These rules are printed on posters which will henceforth be appended to all refuse trucks. They are, Montclair people will be interested to know, as follows:

"One—The Public Is Always Right. You must avoid disputes and arguments by listening quickly to complaints and reporting them to your superintendent."

"Two—Finders Aren't Keepers. Money, jewels, or other valuables found on the routes are not yours. They must be reported and turned over to the superintendent."

"Three—No Tipping, Please. You must not give extra service to any citizen. You must not take nor expect to receive tips or gifts for such extra service."

"Four—Run Wrecks the Routes. You must not drink intoxicating liquors during working hours, nor appear on the job under their influence."

"Five—A Scratch Today—A Wood-ey Leg Tomorrow. All injuries, however slight, which occur to you on the job must be reported to the superintendent."

"Six—No Dancer in Drinking Coffee From Your Saucer. But bad manners on the road are dangerous. Drivers must be courteous on the road, must obey traffic regulations and report accidents promptly."

"Seven—Drivers Here Do More Than Stare. Each driver must see that his truck is neat and clean, must check tires and report needed repairs daily; a driver must not back his truck without a guide."

"Eight—A Good Driver Is a Good Job. Each truck driver is a man for the truck crew. Drivers must inspect all articles salvaged by helpers. Helpers must follow the driver's orders."

The above article is clipped from the Montclair (N. J.) Times. Winchester resident who is further interested in it through the information that Mr. Hayden, town engineer of Montclair, is the husband of a former local girl, Miss Rebecca Rowe, daughter of Mr. Frank E. Rowe of Vine street.

Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace, off Thompson Street, open daily 11 A. M. to 8 P. M., Saturdays, 11 A. M. to 3 P. M., except Sundays and holidays.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES
Fifteen members were absent from the meeting of Aug. 29. Two of our number are on the sick list this week, namely, President George Carter and Iron Man Nat Nichols. Both of them declare that they will be with us next week and will make up their absences also. We believe them.

In the absence of President George today Vice President Al Bennett presided. This week, namely, President George Carter and Iron Man Nat Nichols. Both of them declare that they will be with us next week and will make up their absences also. We believe them.

John McLean and Harry Mueller announce that their new office is now completely finished and furnished. We since the completion of them on the improved facilities which they now enjoy.

Bill Priest is in attendance at his summer home in Fairwindsport. He is familiar with Rotary club meetings which are held in that area.

We are pleased to learn from first hand evidence that Al Marchant of Boston and Winchester is in a much improved condition as he recovers steadily at the Winchester Hospital.

That soft ball game between the Boston Olympics and the Ten O'Clock Men scheduled for Sept. 7 at the Shore Road field promises to be the outstanding attraction of the fall season in the State and the Ten O'Clock Men are far from being "frank." Tickets at cents are on sale at Wilson's and can be obtained from any member of the Rotary Club. In case of inclement weather the game will be played at a later date. Red Cross will get all the proceeds of this game. Its up to all of us to make those proceeds generous.

Preliminary announcements of the Fall Conclave at Island Spring, Me. were distributed at the meeting today, Sept. 26-29 is the date and six districts comprising most of the clubs in Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut will join forces to make this gathering outstanding in the history of New England Conclaves. The registration fee has been reduced to $3 per person and lowered rates at the Island Spring House from $6 to $8 per person per day, American Plan. All registrations guaranteed through September 18.

Winchester should send a strong delegation to Poland. The situation is commended to those golf enthusiasts who represent the Winchester club as well as to all club members who seek an exceptional opportunity to extend Rotary fellowship.

The current meeting, the last of the summer schedule, was the final session without formal entertainment. Next week, Thursday, Sept. 5 we start fall activities with a joint meeting when we shall entertain the Rotary Club of Woburn at the Winchester Country Club. Our speaker will be Past District Governor Henry P. Porter of the former 31st District who is recognized as the most forceful Rotary speaker in this area. This will be the first joint meeting in which we have participated for many months; it is even longer since we have entertained another club on the home premises. Every Winchester Rotarian will also be invited to act the part of mine host to the visitors from our sponsor club as well as to numerous other visitors and guests who will be present. Sept. 5 is the date—our very next meeting.

Percentage of Attendance, Aug. 22, 1940—82.05 per cent.

YOUR automobile battery should mean just as much to you as a bus company's bus batteries mean to it. After all, you are dependent upon the battery for starting, lighting and ignition.

You certainly have no desire to replace the battery, you want it to give long life. So does the bus company. The difference is that the bus company takes good care of its batteries. The average driver is remiss.

In this particular. Actually, there's not a great deal to caring for the battery. You could probably increase the life of your battery fifty per cent if you cared for it as it should be cared for. A battery must have water in sufficient quantity to cover the plates. Corrosion of battery terminals should be prevented. This is done by greasing the terminals with petroleum jelly. But, first be sure that any corrosion present has been washed off with water.

Next in point of importance is to check as you drive to be sure your generator is charging. The ammeter will tell you whether it is. If it reveals that the generator is not charging, take the car at once to a mechanic and have the trouble remedied.

You can profit also by inspecting the battery cables occasionally. See that they are not rubbing against any surfaces which cause them to wear.

If you are in doubt about your battery's efficiency take your car to a service station and have the battery checked. It may need a recharge or if some of the cells are gone it may be time for you to replace it with a new one. In any event, make it a practice to pay attention now and then to the battery. It's an important part of the car and all too often its performance is taken for granted and its maintenance is sadly neglected.

T. O. M. WON FROM KNIGHTS

In what many believe the best softball game of the league the Ten O'Clock Men won their playoff game from the Knights of Columbus last night on Ginn Field, 4-3.

The game was a pitcher's battle between Bob Harmon of the ancient fellows and Tommy Hannon of the Knights with honors about even. The O'Clock Men, thanks to a three run 5th when the Knights outfield sagged a bit enjoyed a 4-2 lead going into the 7th frame.

A rally yielded one run and the Knights had second and third occupied with one away for a tense situation.

Here Harmon bore down and fanned Boyle for the second out, bringing Mitch Mawn up. Mitch made a great bid to tie it up with a wicked ground-er to Ted Atkinson, guarding second for the old boys. Ted dropped to his knees and stopped the ball with his body, followed with a lightning recovery and quick throw to first that beat Mawn and retired the side.

A good crowd witnessed the game and was kept on edge. Applause for good plays was impartially noted out and at the end of the battle both teams were given a great hand. It was a great game for Harmon to win and a tough one for Hannon to lose. The score by innings:

Innings . . . 1 2 3 4 5 6 7
T. O. M. . . . 0 1 0 0 3 0 x-4
K. of C. . . . 0 1 0 1 0 0 1-3

Batteries—Harmon and Walsh.

TWO OF ITALY'S DESERT COLONIES FEEL FORCE OF BRITISH BOMBS

Libia and Eritrea, two widely separated Italian colonies in Africa, both reported bombed by British air forces, include within their borders more than half the territory under the Italian flag, but both have disproportionately small populations due to harsh conditions of climate and topography, points out a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Libia is Italy's Largest Colony. Twice the size of Texas, Libia spreads over a vast section of North Africa directly across the Mediterranean from Italy, of which it is the largest colony. Libia was made up from the two former colonies of Tripolitania and Cirenaica, won from Turkey in the war of 1911-12. Mostly sandy and mountainous desert, but studded with valuable oases, the country reaches from the Mediterranean deep into the sands of the Sahara, separating Egypt on the east, from Tunisia and Algeria on the west, and thrusting southward between French Equatorial Africa and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Most of the 850,000 inhabitants are Bedouin nomads and traders who move by camel from oasis over a network of caravan routes. Ninety-five per cent of the population lives in the northern third of the land. Tripoli, on the northwestern coast, and Benghazi, in the northeast, are the capitals. From these ports are shipped wheat, barley, oranges, grapes, dates and olives grown in the fertile coastal lands, in the "steppes" region just behind the line of the Sahara. Where irrigated, the land yields fine vegetables. Stock raising is growing in importance, and reforestation clothes many areas with trees. Fisheries and new industries have been promoted.

Eritrea, stretching almost 700 miles along the southwestern western shores of the lower Red Sea, is shaped like a ladle with the narrow "handle" turned southeastward. Of almost exactly the same area as Pennsylvania, it is only 50 miles wider than the thin but swells at its northern end to a width of about 250 miles. Geographically, Eritrea is divided into three distinct regions: the hot, dry, malarial coastal strip, the high, fertile plateau, with a cool climate, and the rolling hill country of the west, falling gradually to the border of the Sudan plain.

Eritrea is fertile and productive enough to support a population of more than 1,000,000 of whom are engaged in agriculture, stock raising, cotton growing, mining, and pearl fishing. Along the coast, the people are mostly Arabs; inland live tribes of the North African Caucasian Hamite peoples, some with a slightly Semitic, some with a Negroid strain.

SOUTHAMPTON WAS BRITAIN'S GREATEST PASSENGER PORT

German attacks on the English Channel port of Southampton are aimed at the international front door of England, points out a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. Southampton is Britain's chief port through which pass normally more than one third of all the travelers to and from England, says the bulletin. For this reason, and because New England's Pilgrim Fathers there embarked on the Mayflower, it is the English port best known to Americans.

Has Aircraft Factories and Shipyards
This thousand year old city has been called the port from which England won the last World War, because seven million soldiers were transported from there to battlefields on the continent. Troop ships have sailed from its wharves since Richard the Lion-Hearted led his Crusaders away in 1190.

Aircraft factories and shipyards of Southampton are special lures to enemy attack. The giant Vickers plant has produced such history-making aircraft as the plane which in 1919 completed the first non-stop transatlantic flight. Shipbuilding there has specialized in fast destroyers that have broken speed records for the British Navy. The port is ordinarily the British base for the transatlantic Clipper planes.

Though 20 English cities are larger, Southampton, with only 174,700 inhabitants, has developed some world-beating facilities for receiving the passengers and freight delivered on its doorstep by merchant fleets of more than 30 steamship companies. It has six miles of quays, 45 miles of railroad sidings, seven drydocks—one of which is the world's largest—and acres of warehouses. Rapid connection to London cut a day from the time required for a liner to reach the capital. It was a German steamship company that started the trend now making Southampton an international-traffic port. Its geographic advantages lie in its sheltered deep water channel and its peculiar double tides, giving it about three hours of high water.

The city's great growth since achieving its railroad link with London one century ago has enveloped, but not destroyed, remnants of the sturdy Norman wall which defended it against French and Spanish invaders in 1538. The two-story gateway, whose 60-foot central arch straddles double-deck street cars and all—was at that time the northern entrance to the walled town. A granite monument near West Quay marks the spot where the Pilgrim Fathers, in August, 1620, after two weeks' stop-over from Holland, climbed aboard the Mayflower and the Speedwell, bound for a pause at Plymouth and then a non-stop voyage to America.

WAR-ESSENTIAL MICA KING IN ITS FIELD

Despite years of research, no all-round substitute is yet in use for mica, one of the vital war minerals in which Uncle Sam was reported to be deficient, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. Invaluable as an electric insulator in such objects as fuse boxes, telephones, airplane spark plugs, electric light sockets, magnetos and radio condensers, mica dramatically proved its qualities of resistance and flexibility during the first World War. Germany, then deprived of her usual supplies, especially felt the lack of it. Today, industrial United States is the largest consumer of this mineral. So great are the Nation's needs that, although it is also the world's largest producer, the domestic sources are insufficient. Additional amounts, therefore, are normally imported from abroad, chiefly from British India, and South Africa. With the present world-wide wars which have rendered foreign sources unstable, the long-studied question of possible substitutes for mica in its chief electrical uses is again receiving attention. So far, no such substitute has been commercially launched, and mica is one of the most promising competitive materials have been developed in research laboratories. An odd fact in connection with this modern industrial mineral is that its ancient alchemical history indicates that it was the first mineral to be mined in North America.

Mamba, Black or Green
A member of the cobra clan, the mamba may be green or black. The black species is the larger, sometimes growing 12 feet. Unlike most cobras, it climbs trees.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

One of the important addresses at the recent National W. C. T. U. Convention in Chicago was that delivered by Fletcher Doherty of California, the author of a new book, "The Amazing Story of Repeal." We quote from his address:

"The public debauchery from the liquor traffic today is far more appalling than that a generation ago. . . . The liquor interests are again using all the methods of deception and intimidation effective in the repeal campaign. . . . They have four powerful organizations, Distilled Spirits Institute and United Brewers' Industrial Foundation represent liquor interests; National Institute of Manufacturers and Distribution, allied industries; Repeal Associates, is the association against the Prohibition Amendment under a new name, with the old leadership. . . . They all agree that the only serious danger is a possible return to National Prohibition, but for strategic reasons they fight local option. . . . The great purge executed by them left few men in public office who dared oppose them. They are now engaged in closing doors of official position to all, great and small, whose subservience is open to question."

"Consider the letter received from Repeal Associates by James A. Farley the day the 1940 National Democratic Convention convened. It issued a stern warning that the convention must not nominate any man who had said he favored National Prohibition and closed as follows: 'In particular, I feel it my duty to remind the delegates that Mr. Correll Hull, while he is a man of many estimable characteristics, was an influential advocate of first great step toward totalitarianism in government—the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution—and while in Congress he voted for it, and in the 1922 Democratic Convention he led the dry forces in fighting the repeal plank.' Faithfully yours, W. H. Stayton. This insolent letter could have been written only by men accustomed to wield despotic political power."

Last September the president of Colgate University, George Barton Cutter, delivered a convention address under the title of "Meet A Prohibitionist." He said: "It is a fact that there are hundreds of thousands of Prohibitionists in the United States, and the disastrous results of repeal are increasing their number rapidly."

Even if alone, I should not feel badly, for occasional non-conformists scattered among His creatures makes God an optimist. They are His hope, usually seers centuries ahead of time. Inscriptions on the prophets' tombs show that they were crucified, beheaded, burned, hanged, at least stoned, lashed, imprisoned, ridiculed. Naturally enough there were some insane to spoil the perfect score. It is hard for a dull-witted to distinguish between seer and insane. I modestly ask for a place in this group, for I venture to prophesy that a century hence no item of history will be so difficult to explain as a people that prided itself on being intelligent and at the same time used that intelligence to become drugged.

I know better men than I who drink much better. Bless you, no, because they drink, but in spite of it. Only a vivid imagination can fancy how good they would be without it, or how bad I should be with it. But it is difficult for one to be enthusiastic about anything with all entries on the debit side of the ledger.

In the "Union Signal" of July 6 are comments of Dr. M. V. Dabney on the close connection between alcohol and pneumonia.

"Alcohol and pneumonia bugs run hand in hand through the human body in winter. Alcohol opens the field for the germs to develop in the lungs. Even sulphapyridine may not prevent death if a pneumonia patient is a chronic alcoholic."

"Alcohol causes the white blood cells to slow up in their normal work of destroying disease germs. It also interferes with the normal functioning of the 'throat valve,' which controls the opening to the stomach and lungs. Then pneumonia germs or some other more readily So alcohol both slows the white blood cells' destruction of the pneumonia germs in the blood and aids their passage into the lungs."

Early Congresses

Congress moved from New York to Philadelphia November 6, 1790; and stayed there until May 14, 1800. The Capitol at Washington was first used by congress when it reconvened in October, 1800.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

WITH broiling and frying chicken isn't any reason why there should not be a chicken on every dinner table either on Sunday or some other day in the week. Certainly there is no more versatile main course than chicken or one that lends itself any more appetizingly to second meal use. Therefore, the wise housekeeper this week will give broiling, frying and stewing chickens first consideration in planning her menu.

Again this week the supply of fresh fruits and vegetables seems to be almost unlimited. Blackberries, raspberries and huckleberries are abundant and very low priced, so pies, tarts, samplings of these berries are all timely dessert suggestions. Watermelon is low in price and full-flavored and nothing makes a more tempting summer dessert than slices of ice cold watermelon. Plums are plentiful this week and make delicious desserts.

Vegetable salads with cold meat or eggs will form an excellent summer meal and with vegetables so abundant and attractively priced a salad can include four or five different varieties without extravagance. The supply of corn is much larger this week than last, green, wax, lima and fava beans are all plentiful and in the low priced brackets and tomatoes are low and have the flavor of midsummer. Carrots and squash are also plentiful.

Beef hinds and forees are even lower in price this week than last and pork remains at a particularly good buy. This is the season for clambakes so if there is to be a picnic in the woods or by the seashore over the week-end do not overlook the fact that clams are plentiful and low in price.

Miss Corn Anthony of the A&P kitchens, suggests the following menus for three Sunday dinners based on the week's market reports:

Low Cost Dinner

Green Peppers Stuffed With Shredded Beef
Creamed Corn
Fried Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Plum Pie

Moderate Cost Dinner

Roast Grapefruit Juice
Loin Lamb Chops
Bread and Butter
String Beans with Cheese Sauce
Fresh Huckleberry Dimples
Ice Tea or Iced Coffee

Very Special Dinner

Tomatoes Stuffed with Cottage Cheese
Broiled Chicken
Cauliflower with Brown Butter
Blackberry Muffins
Peach Shortcake or Whipped Cream
Iced Tea or Iced Coffee

Advertisers Live in

GLASS HOUSES

WHAT they promise in their advertisements, and what they deliver in their merchandise, are right there for all to see.

If they deliver what they promise, they make friends and steady customers. If not they make enemies, lose patronage and finally go out of business.

Those are the cold, hard reasons why honesty is the best policy—especially in advertising.

But the real fact is that advertisers as a class are humanly jealous of their good names. The trade-marks of manufacturers and the published recommendations of merchants are only accorded to products which they can offer you with confidence and pride.

You can trust the ads to lead you to sound values.

LIONS-ECOO DISPUTE

The Lions-Ecco playoff in the Community Soft Ball series ended in a dispute last evening on Loring avenue playground, the teams arranging so long over an infield fly decision that it became too dark to play.

The umpire called the game with the Lions leading 1 to 2 after the first half of the sixth. The Ecco had scored two runs after the disputed play. Reverting to the last full inning, the fifth, the Ecco would win 2 to 0, but the Lions refused to accept this version in view of the dispute and matter has been thrown into the lap of the league president, Mul Oliver for decision.
